Clerk and Treasurer.
Appendixes.

Appendix A. We report an increase by baptism, 311; by letter, 182; by restoration, 66; total, 509.

Two churches have asked for the next session of this body, to-wit: Fair View and Corinth. We recommend that the request of Fair View church be granted.

J. H. Donham,
Chairman.

Appendix B. We recommend for the use of our brethren, "The Holy Bible," "The Arkansas Baptist," "The Baptist," published by Elder J. R. Graves, Memphis, Tenn., and the Sunday school literature published at Atlanta, Georgia.

R. C. Rhoden,
Chairman.

Appendix C. We beg leave to submit the following report, to-wit:

Whereas, Inasmuch as there is a tendency among the different sects to pervert the Holy Scriptures and teach for doctrine the commandments of men; and,

Whereas, We, as Baptists, are greatly in need of an educated ministry to defend the gospel and teach it as it was delivered to the saints; we, therefore, recommend that our people send their boys and girls to the Ouachita
College, and assist the faculty in the erection of the new building with their prayers and money, and that the last page in our minutes be donated to said college as an advertising medium; that we earnestly recommend that all of our young ministers attend "The Ouachita College," or some other Baptist Theological College.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSHUA HALBERT,
Chairman

Appendix D. We find that the sum of fifty-nine dollars and seventy-five cents has been sent up by the churches for Associational purposes.

Respectfully submitted,

D. A. THOMAS,
Chairman

Appendix E. We beg leave to make the following report, to-wit:

WHEREAS, The Bible is God's law and our guide to a knowledge of Christ, therefore, we, as Christians, should not only study it ourselves but teach it to our children and others.

We urge our brethren to take a greater interest in the Sunday schools in the future than they have in the past. We believe that the Sunday school is the place to teach our children the grand truths of the Bible, and that it has been the means of bringing many to a knowledge of the truth as it is in Christ Jesus.

We find that only about forty per cent. of the churches in the bounds of this Association have Sunday schools.
We should train our children in the Sabbath schools in the distinctive principles of our church and place in their hands good Baptist literature.

We recommend the American Baptist Publication Society for sound Sunday school literature; and the Harvest Bell No. 3, published by Elder W. E. Penn, as a Sunday school song book.

May God help us in this work, and may we have a grand report of Sunday schools at the next meeting of this body.

Respectfully submitted.

J. A. P. BINGHAM,
Chairman.

Appendix F. We, your committee on Destitution beg leave to submit the following report, to-wit: We find that at least one-half of the territory in the bounds of this Association is destitute of Baptist preaching—said destitute places comprise the territory situated west of the Saline river, and in that part of the territory from Hurricane creek to the Arkansas river.

We therefore recommend, that the Missionary Board of this Association employ from among the Baptist preachers in this Association, Missionaries to preach in said destitute places; that a stipulated price be agreed upon according to the time; that when a Missionary has been employed and territory assigned him, that no other Missionary be sent into that territory so assigned to said Missionary; that said Missionaries when employed and territory assigned them, be requested to visit the same, and at the best and most convenient places establish stations and collect all they can for the support of the Missionary work, and that said Missionaries make a report of their work to the Secretary of the Missionary Board—giving the number of sermons preached; the amount of money collected; number of churches organized; number of persons baptized, and that said reports be made at least once each quarter in the year, and that the Missionary Board, after receiving the report of any Missionary, pay him the amount due him after deducting the amount collected by him in the field. If any Missionary should collect more than the amount of his wages he shall pay the excess over to the Secretary of the Missionary Board when he makes his report.

And that said Missionary Board do and perform generally every and all acts in their sound judgment as will be conducive to effectually putting into operation in this Association a true and healthy Missionary spirit.

We further recommend, that said Board, immediately after the adjournment of this Association meet and organize, so as to put into operation the ideas in this report as soon as possible.

We also further recommend that pledges be taken from the churches, members and friends of the gospel to be paid every three months to the Secretary of the Board.
All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOEL RUSHING,
J. A. HALBERT,
W. J. NIXON,
R. C. RHODEN,
D. M. CLOUD,

Committee.

Appendix G. Your committee on Ouachita College would report: That we are glad to know that this noble college is meeting with grand success.

The institution is now in its second year with a good faculty and about two hundred students, with the number constantly increasing. Quite a number of young preachers are in attendance and a great many more are expected to attend. But this college is still in its infancy, and needs the support and prayers of all our people.

The great want at present is a new building of such dimensions as will meet the wants of this rapidly increasing school. To meet this want, the Board of Trustees have placed in the field Elder J. B. Searcy, D. D., as Financial Agent to raise funds for this college. He has already met with great success. Over seventeen thousand dollars is now subscribed for this college besides its real estate and present buildings.

Your committee recommend that we give Brother Searcy and this college all the encouragement we can in the way of contributions and students.

We also recommend that all our Sunday schools join the "Brick Brigade" by paying a nickle each, to put a brick in the college.

Respectfully submitted.

E. F. APPLING,
Chairman.

Appendix H. Your committee beg leave to report as follows: That our State Missions are in a better condition than ever before, and are becoming more organized, and doing more work.

Our destitution, however, is still alarming, and an increase in contributions is still in demand. This demand could be easily met if our members would give something as the Lord prospers them.

The State Mission Board has recommended a Mission book to be used in our churches—a copy of which is herewith exhibited.

Your committee recommend that this book be adopted and that our churches use it, and appoint a committee to visit each member of the same and try to get them to enroll their names in said book and contribute some amount for Missions, if only one cent a month, or a larger amount. The money so contributed to be placed in the Treasury of the church to be used as a "Missionary Fund."

R. L. KIRKLAND,
Chairman.

Appendix I. Your committee on Temperance report as follows: The time has come when the church of God should give forth no uncertain sound in regard to this question. There is no middle ground, and we urge upon the brethren the importance of teaching by precept and example an entire disuse of liquor as a beverage.

J. J. BEAVERS,
Chairman.

CIRCULAR LETTER.

THE INSPIRATION AND UNITY OF THE SCRIPTURES.

"All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness." II. Timothy, iii., 16.

The Scriptures have been highly valued by the saints in all ages of the world; they have been perused and re-perused with devout interest by the people of God.

Job, who lived many centuries before the coming of Christ, said, "I have esteemed the words of His mouth more than my necessary food;" and David said of the statutes of the Lord, "More to be desired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold; sweeter, also, than honey or the honey-comb." Are the declarations of Job and David extravagant? By no means; and why? Because all Scripture is given by inspiration of God.

The Bible is not of human origin; if it was, it could not have escaped human imperfection, nor could it with propriety be adopted as the standard of faith and practice.

The world is under infinite obligation to God for the Bible; it is the Book of Books; it gives light to those who sit in darkness; it is a lamp to the feet of the traveler to eternity; those who are guided by its direction, go safely to the mansions of glory. As the Bible contains; truth without error, it might be supposed that its doctrines would forever escape perversion (for truth should never be perverted), but, alas! owing to men's depravity, they sometimes pervert the Word of the living God—pervert it to their ruin; they extract poison from the balm of Gilead. This is a dangerous process; and as it is more common than many imagine, I think it proper to refer to some Scriptural truths which men pervert to their own destruction.

The Purposes of God.—Jehovah is a being of purpose. It is His purpose to "bring many to glory;" it is His purpose to punish with everlasting destruction all who know Him not, and obey not the Gospel of Jesus Christ. How often do we hear it said, "If it is God's purpose to save me, I shall be saved— if not I shall be lost, therefore, I need not concern myself about the matter." This is horrible. No sensible Calvinist, however strongly he may believe in election and predestination, adopts this view; for Calvinists say that God ordains means as well as ends. God never decreed an end without decreeing the means for its accomplishment.

Another fact is to be taken into consideration: God's purposes are His rule of action, not ours; His Word is our rule of action, and we are not to trouble ourselves about His purposes.

It is manifest that those who take such a view of the Divine purposes as encourages them to continue in sin, pervert every Scripture that has the remotest bearing upon the subject.
There is no doctrine in the Bible whose legitimate influence is to make sinners satisfied with their condition. The sinner who comes to the conclusion that because God has purposes, and because salvation is of grace, that he will make no effort to secure his salvation, is on the way to hell; there is no hope for him while he continues in this state of mind—let him yield to this sentiment till death and his soul will be lost.

I aim not to enter into an explanation of the philosophy of the Divine purposes; I only mean to say that if any man justifies his inaction in the work of salvation by persuading himself that if he is to be saved he will be saved, and if he is to be lost he will be lost, and, therefore, he will do nothing, he is perverting the Scriptures to his own destruction.

The very passages which act as so many stimulants to effort, are made by the perverting process to perform the office of opiates. But, alas! God's Word is thus perverted.

The Free Agency of Man.—Salvation by grace is consistent with human agency—with free agency; both doctrines are clearly revealed, and if I cannot reconcile them it furnishes no argument against their truth. If I cannot explain how Jesus was delivered to death "by the determinate counsel of God," and yet the Jews took Him with wicked hands, crucified and slew him, still both facts are plainly taught in the Word of God.

Many pervert the doctrine of human agency; they suppose if they have anything to do with their salvation, that thing, whatever it is, must be meritorious; they say, if we cannot be saved without repentance, faith and lives of holiness, there must be merit in these things, and we will rely in whole or in part on their merit for salvation; and here they pervert the doctrine of human agency, for, however actively we employ our agency, there is nothing meritorious in what we do; we are unprofitable servants when we have done all we are required to do. This fact utterly divests our best performance of all claim to merit; we must rely on grace from first to last.

He who finally stands justified, sanctified and glorified before the throne of the Majesty on High, will say with devout emphasis, “By the grace of God, I AM WHAT I AM.”

There is nothing in the doctrine of human agency, properly understood, to prevent, but everything to induce, reliance on grace for salvation; hence, whoever takes the opposite view, perverts and even caricatures the doctrine.

Who does not see that if men persuade themselves that the Scriptures authorize a dependence on works for salvation, that they pervert the doctrine of human agency to their destruction? Whatever keeps the sinner from surrendering himself unreservedly to Christ will infallibly secure his destruction. Thus does it appear that man’s agency, clearly as it is taught in the Bible, when misapplied and perverted, leads to the ruin of the soul; hence, perverting the Scriptures has a fatal connection with destruction.

The Benevolence of God.—There is a numerous class of Scriptures which refer to the love of God; they are precious portions of the Divine record; they are full of consolation to the saints, but many sinners pervert them; they are severed from their appropriate connections, and by these means exert an injurious influence.

Sinners have learned from the Bible that God is good, that He is merciful, that He is love; hence, they infer that He is too good to punish them for their sins. They admit that they are sinners, but they think that God is gracious and that they shall not surely die. What would be thought of the clemency of an executive that would allow no criminal to be punished? Would not a proper regard for all the interests of the commonwealth prompt the adoption of a different course?

God is the Supreme Executive of the moral universe. He could not fail to punish the guilty without injuring the best interests of His moral empire. God, to be good, must be just, and to be just He must punish the guilty—those who deserve punishment—and if the guilty were not punished, the intelligent universe would never have an adequate conception of His hatred of sin or His determination to sustain and vindicate the majesty of His law. God governs His rational creatures by an appeal to their hopes and fears; the everlasting bliss of heaven is an everlasting appeal to their hopes; the doctrine of eternal punishment is an eternal appeal to their fears, the legitimate tendency of which is to deter from sin.

Important purposes are doubtless answered in the government of God by the punishment of the guilty; and, therefore, when sinners conclude that He is too good to punish the ungodly, they pervert the Scriptures, which say, "These shall go away into everlasting punishment—shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord and the glory of His power."

Every one can see that those who believe that God is too merciful to punish His creatures, cannot be awakened to a sense of their danger; they believe there is no danger; when admonished to flee from the wrath to come, they are unmoved, for they say there is no wrath; believing there is no hell they make no effort to avoid it.

Those who consider the torments of hell temporary, cannot feel the full power of the motives of the Gospel. Future punishment is divested of most of its terror when dissociated with eternity and duration.

Do you not see that those who pervert the Scriptures which speak of God's love to man, so pervert them as to deny His punitive justice, pervert these Scriptures to their own destruction?

They strangely take encouragement to sin from those passages of the Divine Word which indicate how sin may be forgiven; they make the gospel of salvation a gospel of licentiousness; they make sin a trifle in view of the awful scene of Calvary; they pour contempt on the whole remedial scheme of mercy.

The Law of Faith and Baptism.—The Savior, just before his ascension, gave command to His disciples to go and teach all nations, make disciples and baptize them in the name of the Father, Son and the Holy Spirit. But, alas! how often do we have in place of baptism of the intelligent believer in Christ, the moistening of the forehead of an unconscious infant; and by the perverting process they make void the commandment of Christ, given in the commission to baptize those that believe.

Who is it that cannot see, if infant baptism was unanimously practiced, that believers' baptism would soon be done away? Will the Savior approve of that act which has a tendency to set aside His positive command? Surely not. "But in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrine the commandments of men." Matt., xv., 9. And again, "Whosoever, therefore, shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven; but whosoever shall do and teach them the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven." Matt. v., 19. "If any man's works shall be burned, he shall suffer loss, but he himself shall be saved; yet so as by fire." 1. Cor. iii., 15. As fire shows the difference between gold and wood, or silver and stubble, so the day of judgment will show the difference between the teachings of different men.

When will those who have departed from the truth return to it? When will they cease to teach for doctrine the commandments of men? When will they cease to pervert the Word of the living God, and have respect to the recompense of reward?

The Design of Baptism.—The notion that the Savior was baptized to initiate Him into His priestly office, is a perversion of the Scriptures, and was only invented to escape the force of the example of the Son of God in favor of immersion. The Savior received only one "mode" of baptism, therefore His example cannot be plead in favor of three "modes." In Heb., ii., 17, the apostle said: "In all things it behooved Him to be made like unto His brethren, that He might be a merciful and faithful High Priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of His people." He required His disciples—His brethren to be baptized; He, therefore, left His example to stimulate others in the discharge of duty; He required all, in becoming members of the church, to be baptized, and He did not, therefore, violate His own law in becoming Head over all things to the church.

Several things should be observed in connection with the baptism of Jesus. He came to John the Baptist, the only person in the world then authorized to administer baptism. He did not receive "alien" baptism. In order to be baptized, He went down into the water of the river Jordan; after His baptism he came up out of the water; while in the water, He was buried in baptism. In Romans, vi., 4, Paul says: "Therefore, we are buried with Him through baptism into death; that, like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we should walk in newness of life." In order to avoid the force of this passage, some have assumed the absurd position that burial in baptism refers to conversion. This would involve the gross absurdity of the conversion of Jesus Christ, thereby making Him a sinner like other men.

Other modern critics contend that the burial in baptism here mentioned has reference to "Holy Spirit baptism," and they at the same time admit that water baptism should be of the same mode as Holy Spirit baptism; therefore, according to their own admission, water baptism must be a burial, or an immersion, in order to be of the same mode as Holy Spirit baptism, which they admit to be a burial, or an immersion; hence, it is a point made out that Jesus Christ, whom we are commanded to follow, was immersed; or buried, in baptism; and as He only received and commanded "one baptism," those who have not been immersed have neither received "Christian baptism" nor followed the example of Jesus in His ordinance. How great will be the loss of those who have perverted the sacred ordinance of God to suit their own peculiar notions, eternity alone will reveal.

The design of baptism absolutely requires a burial, or an immersion. Baptism is sometimes spoken of as being for the remission or washing away of sins. Acts, xxii., 16. Ananias said to Saul: "And now why tarriest thou; arise and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord." Some have fallen into the egregious error that baptism is literally for the remission or washing away of sins. It is evident, however, that we only wash away sins in baptism in the same sense that we eat the flesh and drink the blood of Christ in the supper.

Jesus said of the bread, "This is my body," and of the wine, "This is my blood," and the Catholic in his superstition takes the language of Jesus literally, and therefore, worships the bread and wine as the actual body and blood of Jesus; and in like manner some Protestants have taken these passages literally which speak of baptism as being for the remission of sins, therefore, they depend on baptism as the condition of the actual pardon of sins. They have fallen into the same error on this point into which the Catholics have fallen on the communion question.

The truth is, that we only eat the flesh and drink the blood of Jesus emblematically in the supper, and likewise sins are washed away emblematically in baptism.

The idea of baptizing a child of the devil in order to make him a child of God, is a gross perversion of the Scriptures, and those who thus pervert them do so to their own destruction.

Alas! what perversion of the Scriptures; what perversion of the Word of the living God. It is a master stroke of policy on the part of Satan to induce the perversion of the Scriptures. He cannot accomplish a great deal in this age, and in this part of the world, by making bold and reckless infidels.

There is a general theoretic belief that the Bible is true; this belief is difficult to displace. What then is to be done? Satan very well knows. He seeks to influence those who admit the inspiration of the Bible, to pervert its truths—to pervert its doctrines. Accomplishing this object, he as infallibly secures his purpose as he would do by inducing a positive denial of the inspiration of the Scriptures; hence perverting the Scriptures is a most, destructive process.

The most valuable things are susceptible of abuse and perversion; this arises from man’s depravity. The perversion of the Scriptures is a very common thing; the process is going on in every part of the land. God’s Word is perverted; it is handled deceitfully. This process is not confined to those who make no profession of Christianity. Alas! how many who call themselves the children of God, are doing these things?—how many a pulpit is desecrated because its occupants pervert the Scriptures? What heavy contributions are levied on the press in this work of perverting the Word of God!

Will it be said that persons thus engaged, do not believe that they are perverting the Scriptures? Suppose they do not, does this help the matter? A man may believe that he is not mixing poison with his food, but if he does the effect will be the same. The utmost sincerity cannot prevent the mischievous influence of error.

Destruction is a word of awful import; its meaning is appalling; it comprehends all that is signified in the loss of the soul—the wrath of God, the torments of hell!

How many who will read this letter are, by perverting the Scriptures, working out their own destruction? Poor sinners, be warned while it is called to-day; let not a rich blessing conferred upon you by the God of heaven, prove an awful curse. Let not that Word which should guide you to heaven, be so perverted as to lead you to hell. Let not the Source of Light envelop you in darkness; if you do how great will be the darkness!
