

If Only that You Knew

Anonymous

et al.: If Only that You Knew

I guess I can't miss something that's never taken place I try to hide my pain but you can see it in my face

Every day I wake up and hope that you'll believe and I pray night and day that one day you'll receive

My mind is still filled with memories that we share I hope that one day
I can express how much I care

I close my eyes and rewind things that are now just a chapter in our past and I've noticed whenever I'm with you I never cease to have a blast

You never gave me false hopes;
I guess I put those in my own head I guess I'm like an open book because every part of me is read

It's so hard to let go of a love you still hold so near But I'm not sure i can hold on too much longer the pain is just too severe.

I try to convince myself my feelings for you will let me go Yet I still have feelings that I should really just let her know

You're already aware of what you mean to me but I can't let you know about my pain or what I want us to be

But how do you tell someone that you love them more than words can express?
How do you tell them this without seeming like you obsess?

You're everything that's good to me you're my motivation You're the hope that takes away my fears and my frustration

You may not feel the same I guess I'll never know.
Yet I'll come so close to telling you the next time we say hello

Then I'll freeze again pretend that I forgot When I know deep down inside you probably know that I did not

The pain nearly swallows me whole thinking of letting go of your hand I'm sorry it has to be this way this is not what I had planned.

So I'll continue to pray and hope for the very best that God's plan is me for you and that belief is just the test

Well I guess for now I'll have to force my heart to detach myself from you But still I wonder what you'd say
If only that You knew.
