Ouachita remembered

As in every other war fought during Ouachita's century-plus history, many of our graduates and former students were fighting for their country during the recent Persian Gulf conflict.

One of these students, 2nd Lt. Morris Mayers, '89, in a letter postmarked Saudi Arabia, told President and Mrs. Ben Elrod, what Ouachita meant to him.

"I know there is not a day that goes by," he writes, "that I don't think of something that I learned while at OBU. There are many faces that flash in my mind that I thank God that I met them, and that I met them at OBU. The people there, as you well know, are a different breed. And 99 percent of the people are the best you will ever meet."

It's at this point, however, that Mayers says that he wants to send a "challenge" to the students at Ouachita.

"You have the chance to touch a lot of lives there," he writes.

"My challenge is that each student take his or her life on a day-by-day basis. We know not what the future holds for us. We can do nothing about the past — it is only the present that we have control of.

"I never thought that a little over a year after I left school that I would be here standing ready for war. It made me really think to see if I'm really prepared in all aspects of life — physical, mental, spiritual and social.

"Thanks to OBU, and the people there, I am ready for anything that is put before me. There are a lot of people I would love to thank but I don't have their addresses. Just tell everyone thanks for what they have done. Even though they may not know me, I have learned a lot by just watching.

"Keep up the good work there. When I have kids, you can bet that they will have the opportunity to go to OBU."

Mayers was an All-AIC offensive guard, a 1988 football captain and a member of the track team.

Ouachita No. 1

That's the word from a news item that appeared in the "Morning Briefing" section of the Los Angeles Times on Jan. 1, 1991.

Trying (not very hard) to make sense out of a confusing football season last year, a writer for the December 1990 issue of the Amateur Athletic Foundation SportsLetter was quoted as follows:

"The (Colorado) Buffaloes lost to Illinois (23-22), who (sic) lost to Arizona (28-16), who lost to Oregon State (35-21), who lost to Nevada Las Vegas (45-20), who lost to Southwest Missouri (31-24), who lost to Division I-AA Northern Iowa (20-17), who lost to Western Illinois (24-22), who lost to NAIA Division I Arkansas Monticello (18-11), who lost to NAIA Division I Ouachita Baptist (41-15) ... Well, you get the picture."

Sounds good to us.

Alimov, minister of higher education, join with Ouachita's Dr. Ben Elrod and Dr. Daniel R. Grant in the Ministry of Higher Education in Tashkent.

Second exchange program established in Soviet Union

The signing of a formal agreement in October with the minister of higher education of the Republic of Uzbekistan has led to the establishment of a second exchange program between Ouachita and the Soviet Union.

As the "flagship" college of Co-operative Services International Education Consortium, Ouachita is responsible for coordinating the Uzbekistan program and for recruiting students from the 36 colleges and universities that are members of the CSIEC, a branch of the SBC's Foreign Mission Board.

OBU President Dr. Ben M. Elrod led the 14-member delegation representing five Baptist universities, which included Ouachita, Baylor University, Belmont University, Samford University and Mississippi College.

"The trip to the Soviet Union was a remarkable experience for each member of our delegation," Elrod said. "In the space of two weeks, our eyes were opened to the overwhelming opportunities and problems which exist in that country."

Elrod said he was pleased that "Ouachita is at the forefront of efforts among Southern Baptist colleges and universities in opening the Soviet Union to our students. The programs that we are now putting into place will have a positive impact on hundreds — perhaps thousands — of our students and faculty in the years to come."

Two Ouachita faculty members, Dr. Robert Allison and Dr. Donald Anderson, will serve as the University's first exchange professors in the Soviet Union. They will teach in the Tashkent National Economic Institute's 1991

Summer Business School in Uzbekistan. Allison, the George Young Professor of Business, is chair of the department of business. Anderson is the Harvey Jones Professor of Business and Transportation.

Trey Berry, academic affairs assistant for Ouachita's International Studies Program, said the primary purpose of the trip to the Soviet Union was to sign the agreement with Uzbekistan. Objectives also included visiting other Soviet colleges and universities, and checking on the progress of OBU students studying at Kazakh State University in the Republic of Kazakhstan.

Other Ouachita representatives accompanying Dr. and Mrs. Elrod and Berry were Dr. and Mrs. Daniel R. Grant, and Dr. and Mrs. Hal Bass. Grant, who served as president of Ouachita from 1970 to 1988, is president of the CSIEC. Bass, professor of political science, is chairman of Ouachita's International Studies Committee.

In addition to visiting Moscow University and Tashkent University in Uzbekistan, the CSIEC delegates signed an agreement of cooperation with Samarkand University in Samarkand, the ancient city of the ruler Tamarlane.

OUACHITA IN ENGLAND

A one-semester exchange program was established in January between the drama departments of Ouachita and the Bretton Hall College of the University of Leeds in West Yorkshire, England. The program will begin this fall.

■ COMMUNICATIONS DEPARTMENT — Thanks to a $400,000 gift from the Harvey and Bernice Jones Foundation of Springdale, the department of communications is in a new 12,000-square-foot headquarters in Mabee Fine Arts Center. The facility includes a television studio (above), photography lab (lower left), a desktop publishing lab (lower right) provided by the Roy and Christine Sturgis Charitable and Educational Trust of Malvern, classrooms and offices.

Frances Crawford, 94, Ouachita legend, dies

Miss Frances M. Crawford, 94, whose 50 years of service to Ouachita as a registrar, administrative assistant and alumni director had made her a campus legend, died May 1.

OBU President Dr. Ben M. Elrod, who was vice president for development at Ouachita at the time she retired in 1977, said, "Miss Frances Crawford loved Ouachita more than any person I have ever known, perhaps because she knew more Ouachitonians than anyone else.

"In so many ways," he continued, "Miss Frances was a symbol of the strength and purpose of Ouachita. She grew up in the shadow of the campus, she received her education here, and she devoted her entire career to this institution."

Speaking of Frances Crawford's death as "the end of an era," Elrod said, "Ouachita will never know a closer or dearer friend."

A sense of satisfaction

President's Corner

Cliff Harris
President
Former Students Association

While it does not seem possible, I am about to wind up two years of duty as president of the Former Students Association. Effective May 11, I'll be turning over the gavel to Phil Hardin, a 1974 Ouachita graduate who has been serving as vice president of the FSA.

The past two years have been enjoyable for me, and I hope that Ouachita has—in some measure—benefited from my involvement. Throughout all the deliberations of the Advisory Board of the Former Students Association, I have tried to keep alumni interests at the heart of our planning. I want all of our alums to have a great feeling about Ouachita, and one of the best ways to achieve this goal is through the existence of a strong and active Former Students Association.

There are several things that bring me a great sense of satisfaction about what the FSA has been able to accomplish in recent years. The establishment of interest groups such as the Friends of the School of Music, the Tiger Gridiron Club, the Lawyer's Council, the Track Alumni, and the Business Advisory Council are a few examples of alums who are brought together by common interests. In addition, we've seen tremendous growth in the effectiveness of the Tiger Network, now more than 800 members strong.

Perhaps the greatest legacy of the "Harris Administration" will be the emergence of an event which is being slated for next spring. The FSA will host a special "Alumni Weekend" in which all graduates will be invited to return to the campus for a series of special events for and about alumni and their interests. While Homecoming is primarily a student event presented for alumni, this new weekend will be an alumni event presented for alumni. You'll be hearing more about this from Phil Hardin and the other members of the FSA Advisory Board.

With each passing year, I realize more and more what Ouachita has meant to my life. I'm thankful for the hundreds of alumni of Ouachita Baptist University. Like many of you who are reading this column, I want to retain and to cherish the unique experience that I found at Ouachita. I hope that some of my efforts during the past two years have brought us closer to that goal.

Thank you for your support. Phil, good luck. You'll be the president of the best alumni association in the country.

Dr. Sarah Varnell establishes scholarship

Dr. Sarah Varnell of Riverside, Calif., has established in honor of her late husband the Gerald Varnell Endowed Scholarship Fund with a gift of $100,000. The fund will provide annual scholarships to selected student-athletes in the OBU football program who meet certain requirements, and is renewable as long as the recipients remain eligible to compete.

Gerald Varnell, who died in 1989, was a Ouachita student-athlete in the mid-1930's, participating in several varsity sports, including football, baseball, and track. He retired from an executive position at Sunkist products in California.

"This gift will offer additional strength to our athletic program while honoring the memory of a distinguished alumnus of Ouachita," said OBU President Dr. Ben M. Elrod. "I am grateful to Sarah Varnell for remembering Ouachita in this way."

Dr. Varnell is a 1936 magna cum laude graduate of Ouachita who received a bachelor of science degree. She earned a master of arts degree from the University of Tulsa, a master of education degree from the University of Southern California, and a Ph.D. degree from California Coast University.

Over a span of 48 years, she taught mathematics on the high school and college levels. The Southern California Education Commission honored her as the Outstanding Teacher in Riverside. The California Parent-Teacher Association presented her with an honorary lifetime membership.

Varnell remains very active in the education field, serving as the financial secretary of the Riverside Chapter of the California Retired Teachers Association.

In the 1981 OBU Alumni Campaign, Varnell served as the chairperson of the class of 1936.

"It is reassuring to acknowledge the gift of Sarah Varnell in support of our athletic program," said OBU athletic director Bill Vining. "By her generous contribution she is affirming the tremendous role that athletics can play in the process of educating young adults."

■ COMMENCEMENT 1991 — Mrs. Bernice Jones of Springdale, a long-time friend and benefactor of Ouachita, was awarded an honorary doctor of humanities degree during commencement exercises on May 11. OBU President Dr. Ben Elrod (left) and Jack Frost, her financial adviser, participated in the ceremony.

■ FINAL CURTAIN — The Ouachi-Tones perform during their last appearance in May. "Ouachita Sounds", a new mixed-voice group, will primarily perform Broadway and pop music along with contemporary Christian music. The 18-20 member group will be directed by Mrs. Mary Shambarger and Dr. Sim Flora.

Ouachi-Tones present final concert ending 25 years of entertainment

A 25-year-old Arkansas musical institution came to an end in May when the Ouachi-Tones, female vocal group from Ouachita, were disbanded as the result of the resignation from the organization of its founder and director Mrs. Mary Shambarger, associate professor of music at OBU.

Mrs. Shambarger will continue to serve as coordinator of voice and voice instructor at Ouachita, as well as her teaching responsibilities in the areas of music education and vocal pedagogy.

"Mary Shambarger and the Ouachi-Tones have served this university in an extraordinary and exemplary way throughout these 25 years," said Dr. Charles W. Wright, dean of the OBU School of Music. "We will miss the group and will certainly miss Mary serving in this way."

Since their inception, the Ouachi-Tones have performed in secular and sacred music programs in: Canada, Panama, Puerto Rico, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, the Bahamas and West Indies, England, Scotland, Romania, Mexico, Germany and Austria, in addition to appearances all over the United States in churches and before civic, governmental and business groups. They are regarded as one of Ouachita's and the state's favorite musical ambassador organizations.

"We will miss the group and certainly miss Mary serving in this way."

"I have nothing but the highest praise for the young women who have participated over the past 25 years in making the Ouachi-Tones one of the premier performing groups in the state," said Dr. Ben M. Elrod, president of OBU. "I am grateful to Mrs. Shambarger for the tender love and care she has provided over the years to each one of these young ladies."

The Silver Anniversary Pops Concert was held Saturday, Jan. 19, in Mitchell Hall Auditorium at OBU. Many former Ouachi-Tones returned to campus to attend the final "Tones" concert. The following Ouachi-Tones attending were: Gail Gray Allen, Karen Allred, Susan Allred, Elise Arrington, Beverly Smith Babb, Paula Woodall Benson, Cathy Berryman, Jan Rogers Bishop, Donna Connelly Blackwood, Jonna Price Bradley, Vicki Martin Burnett, Amy Anderson Cheyne, Kina

McGrew Clayton, Carol Hargis Cobb, Anne Coppenger, Amy Crouch, Kim Cunningham, Deana Doss Day, Holley Henson Dickenson, Julie Hendrix Dodge, Melinda Dodds Dunston, Shari Deaver Edwards, Angie Tipton Elrod, Donna McCoy Evans, Becky McIntyre Fletcher, Joy Crouch Freely, Cecilia Overton Giese, Ginger Murdoch Gilbert, Susan Shambarger Goss, Donna McKenzie Gosser, Leigh Anna Gosser, Terri Miller Greenway, Teresa Coleman Gourley, Margie Stobaugh Halbert, Lora Nelle Johnson Humphrey.

Elderhostel students to study poetry, trees, humor of Christ

A group of senior citizens from states across the nation will be on the Ouachita campus, June 2-8, for a unique educational program titled Elderhostel, according to Dr. Richard Mills, Elderhostel program director at OBU and chairman of the OBU department of sociology.

Elderhostel is an educational program for older adults who want to continue to expand their horizons and to develop new interests and enthusiasm.

"This program is designed for older citizens on the move, not just in terms of travel, but in terms of intellectual activities as well," said Mills. "Elderhostel and other programs throughout the world are committed to the belief that retirement does not represent an end to significant activity for older adults but rather a new beginning filled with opportunities and challenges."

Mills said there would be three courses offered at OBU this summer during the Elderhostel program.

■ "Poetry in Motion" will present the origin and evolution of the sonnet, and will culminate in the writing of sonnets by the participants;

■ "Trees of Arkansas" will teach participants to identify approximately 300 species of trees.

■ "The Humor of Christ" will analyze the character of Christ's humor, and observe ways in which Christ's humor is employed in controversy, parables and short dialogue.

The Elderhostel participants will be housed in a university dormitory and will eat their meals at Birkett Williams Cafeteria.

Ouachita was one of the first two schools of higher education in the state to sponsor the Elderhostel program in the summer of 1980.

The national Elderhostel program began in 1975.

Mrs. Estelle Selph endows scholarship

Mrs. Wilma Estelle Selph of Malvern has established an endowed scholarship at Ouachita to assist students from Hot Spring County. The $5,000 award from Selph will be matched with a $15,000 grant from Exxon Corporation for a total of $20,000.

Selph has made two earlier gifts to the school, in cooperation with Exxon: $5,000 that was also triple-matched by the corporation in 1985, and $1,950 in 1983 to the School of Music that was triple matched.

The 1985 contribution established the Robert Ira Selph Endowed Scholarship in memory of her late husband. The 1983 gift set up the Music Faculty Enrichment Endowment Fund at Ouachita.

"The generosity of Mrs. Estelle Selph and the far-reaching educational policies of Exxon are again providing strong encouragement to those of us at the University," said OBU President Dr. Ben M. Elrod.

Sutton: A man who walks 'with his God'

■ "Buddy Sutton exudes quiet strength, a leadership quality that is unusually effective. The unusual progress of Ouachita in recent years is due to many factors, but the strength and commitment of our trustees and the chairman have been extremely important in our advancement.

Buddy is as close to an ideal chairman of the board as anyone can possibly be. He provides leadership through strength of character, ability, and commitment. His performance is a model for trustees of any institution. He is sensitive to the mission of Ouachita, and always leads in light of that. His service to Ouachita and the Kingdom of God is incalculable."

-Ben M. Elrod, President, Ouachita Baptist University

■ "Buddy Sutton and I became law partner's in the late 1950's. Thus, for a generation, I have had the opportunity to observe his professionalism both as a law partner and more recently as his corporate client. He is always prepared, fair, and brilliantly effective. Equally important, he is devoted to family, church, friends and worthwhile civic endeavors. Our friendship is very important to me."

-William H. Bowen, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer (ret.) of First Commercial Corporation.

■ "Buddy is one of the most dedicated professional persons I know. He is outstanding and without peer in representing his clients, supporting his church, and having compassion for the less fortunate. He is a great asset to Arkansas, and I consider it a privilege to know him."

-Winston Bryant, Attorney General of Arkansas

■ "I think of two words that characterize Buddy Sutton: leadership and servanthood.

Buddy has been blessed with many gifts: a keen mind, the ability to communicate, and a sense of humor. He uses these gifts to relate to people in his role of leadership. He is a natural leader who has become a great leader because he has dedicated himself and his talents to doing God's will.

Whatever he does...whether it is trying a case, teaching a Sunday School class, chairing a board or committee, or spending time with his family and friends...he does well. He truly "serves the Lord with gladness" and this comes across to all of us who know him and work with him. My family is blessed to have him as a friend; Baptists are blessed to have him as a leader."

-Kathleen Burton, Former Chairman, OBU Board of Trustees

■ "My vocabulary is too limited to describe Buddy Sutton's life, professionalism, influence, and devotion to Christ, his family, church and denomination. Therefore, I have taken the liberty to use the verses of Scripture and a statement of President Theodore Roosevelt in an attempt to describe him.

"And Saul went home...and there went with him a band of men whose hearts God had touched." I Samuel 10:26 "...there was not among the children of Israel a goodlier person than he from his shoulders and upward he was higher than any..." I Samuel 9:2

God has touched Buddy's heart and spiritually he stands head and shoulder above the people.

April 10, 1899, President Theodore Roosevelt said, "The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood, who strives valiantly... who does actually try to do the deed; who knows the great enthusiasm; the great devotion and spends himself in a worthy cause; who, at the worst, if he fails, at least he fails while doing greatly."

"Buddy is numbered among these noble men."

-John Finn, Executive Director, Christian Civic Foundation

■ "Buddy Sutton is the personification of Christian integrity. His well-deserved reputation for honesty and decency go back to his roots in our mutual hometown of Hope, Arkansas, where he has always been highly esteemed and continues to be fondly remembered by those who knew him in his early years. This past year, I've had the privilege of working with Buddy in the Citizens Against Legalized Lottery. He has no equal in leadership skills, and he is one of those rare individuals whose authority comes not from the volume in his voice but by the strength of his character. He is the "Hope Diamond" in the Lord's crown jewels."

-Mike Huckabee, President, Arkansas Baptist State Convention

■ "Arkansas Baptists are extremely fortunate to have a man like Buddy Sutton as a part of our life. Mr. Sutton demonstrated an unusual willingness to be of help in every area of our life. This has been demonstrated in his local church, at Ouachita Baptist University, and in various state activities. Within a nine-month period of time, Mr. Sutton led in a remarkable fashion the Billy Graham Crusade and the campaign to oppose the lottery amendment. Both were statewide activities and extremely successful."

-Don M. Moore, Executive Director, Arkansas Baptist State Convention

William H. 'Buddy' Sutton: The 'Hope Diamond in the Lord's Crown Jewels'

A Profile by William D. Downs Jr.

■ OBU Board of Trustees Chairman William H. "Buddy" Sutton in his office in Little Rock.

By just about anyone's standards, W.H. "Buddy" Sutton, chairman of Ouachita's Board of Trustees and a senior partner in the Little Rock law firm of Friday, Eldredge and Clark, is a high achiever. At 59, he is not only one of Arkansas' most respected attorneys and civic leaders, but a deeply committed Christian and a devoted family man as well.

Not bad for an ex-Razorback football player who decided to study law in the mid-1950s because he didn't know what lawyers did.

True story.

"I entered the law in a mysterious process," he said, grinning broadly in his 22nd-floor office with its panoramic floor-to-ceiling view of Little Rock. "I don't really know why I decided to be a lawyer, but I do remember watching Joseph Welch, a lawyer during the McCarthy hearings, and thinking that he was the kind of lawyer I would like to be—not the kind who waved his arms and shouted a lot, but one who brought a little kindness into the courtroom."

Remembering earlier role models such as James Pilkinton, Lyle Brown and Albert Graves, who practiced law in his hometown of Hope, Ark., while Sutton was still in high school, he said he had pretty well made up his mind to follow their example and become "sort of a lawyer associated with politics and leadership in a small community."

But once Sutton began practicing law, all of that changed.

"I loved it," he said.

He also learned that the truly great lawyers were not the high-profile, front-page personalities who were usually associated with politics, but "the ones you never read about in the newspapers," he said. "The William J. Smiths, the Hershel Fridays, the Ed Wrights and the Pat Mehaffys."

Sutton, who specializes in civil trial litigation, now handles 15 to 20 cases at any given time, far fewer than the 70 to 80 cases he juggled as recently as 10 years ago. When he isn't in court, he is largely involved with management responsibilities, client relations and lawyer training. He also heads the firm's litigation section, meaning that he meets each Monday morning with his 20-member litigation team to discuss pending cases. Six members of the firm's legal staff are Ouachita graduates: John Dewey Watson, '63; Kevin Crass, '81; Tab Turner, '81; C. J. Hall, '82; Guy Wade, '85; and David Wilson, '87.

Making things work

Not surprisingly, Sutton derives great satisfaction from his profession.

"A good lawyer," he said, "has a big role in making things work. Most people don't realize that if a business or a government agency has an idea, they can't just say 'Let's go.' There has to be someone to put it all together, to seal it, to make it legally acceptable, to show those people who have the ideas and the resources the methods they can utilize to accomplish their goals."

While making "things" work is a big part of what he likes about the law, Sutton also enjoys "the balancing act" that attorneys must perform.

In civil trial litigations, for example, "I'm on one side or the other of suits that primarily involve money," he said. People who get hurt by defective products often deserve to be compensated. But the big money damages can also ruin the industry. So it's important that there are good lawyers on both sides of the cases so that a proper balance can be maintained."

So far as his civic work is concerned, Sutton said the four activities that have meant the most to him include leading the successful attack last year against a legalized lottery in Arkansas, being state chairman of the Billy Graham Crusade in Little Rock in 1989, and serving on the Board of Directors of the Baptist Medical System and the Board of Trustees at OBU.

"Ouachita's calling and service is so high," he said, "that I would be proud to be a part of it at any level. It's a joy to be on the Board, to see what's being done, what's going on in the lives of young people."

The school, he said, is training young men and women "who have an awareness for the Lord, who will take their places in the world and carry with them the values that have been sharpened for them for the rest of their lives."

A deacon at Immanuel Baptist Church in Little Rock where he has taught Sunday School for 31 years, Sutton also puts his Christianity to work in the courtroom.

"I feel a very strong obligation," he said, "not to forget that people on the other side of the controversy are people to be loved even while you oppose them."

When the conversation got around to his wife Peggy, whom he met in the second grade at Hope, Sutton said, "It was love at first sight. She is a great source of happiness. Some couples go in different directions after they have been married for a while, but it didn't happen that way for us."

Why?

"I give credit to the Lord and to Peggy," he answered. The Suttons have three children: Rebecca, '76, who is married to Dan Kirkpatrick, '75, a Little Rock advertising executive; Richard, who with his wife runs a livestock and poultry farm at Hope; and Wesley, '85, a stockbroker with Prudential-Bache in Little Rock.

Aspire to something

His advice to college students today who, as Sutton once was, may be uncertain about what to do with their lives was to "aspire to something."

First of all, they have to aspire to something, he said, noting how so many people never get around to setting goals for themselves. Consequently, they go through a lot of wasted years.

Second, they have to work very hard at whatever they choose to do.

"It may be traditional stuff," he said, "but it never varies from the truth."

Sutton, he said, "is one of those rare individuals whose authority comes not from the volume of his voice, but by the strength of his character. He is the 'Hope Diamond' in the Lord's crown jewels."

Class Notes

Rev. Paul Elledge was cited recently by the Kansas City, Kansas Association, the Kansas-Nebraska Convention of Southern Baptists, and Emmanuel Baptist Church of Overland Park, Kansas, on the sixtieth anniversary of his ordination to the ministry.

He was ordained by First Baptist Church in Fordyce, Arkansas, where his late father, W. I. Elledge, was pastor.

Elledge's ministry has included pastorates in several states, Director of Missions for the Kansas City, Kansas Baptist Association, several foreign mission assignments, and writer for the Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Woodrow Harrelson of Jonesboro was selected by the Tiger Network as co-Member of the Year for 1990. The honor was given to Woodrow for helping Ouachita recruit students.

Dr. Jack O. Yeager was honored by the Alabama Senior Citizens Hall of Fame on September 23 at the Montgomery Civic Center. At the ceremony, Yeager was inducted as a member of the Hall of Fame and presented a Golden Eagle Medal of Honor. The state Senior Citizens Hall of Fame was created by the Alabama legislature to honor citizens who have made significant contributions toward enhancing the lives of Alabama's elderly.

Yeager is a former governor of the Alabama District of Kiwanis International.

Rev. Paul Aiken was featured in the Snellville Citizen article, "Reverend Aiken Continues to Minister." Dr. Aiken, of Lithonia, Georgia, is pastor emeritus of the First Baptist Church of Snellville. His ministry these days consists mostly of visiting friends from the Kirkwood Baptist Church in Atlanta, where he was pastor for 18 years. He also performs wedding and funeral ceremonies. In addition, he serves as a chaplain for the Snellville Police Department. Rev. Aiken still enjoys his favorite hobby — riding horses.

1938

The administrative suite at Baptist Memorial Medical Center has been named in honor of Dr. R. H. Dorris, who was instrumental in having the hospital located in North Little Rock in the 1950's. Dr. Dorris was chairman of the North Little Rock Municipal Hospital Commission from 1958 until 1990. Dr. Dorris has been a member of the Baptist Medical System Corp. since 1964. He recently announced his retirement from that board.

Faunt Smith of Camden, Ark., recently received a copy of Dr. R. C. Pettigrew's book of poetry, Green O'Clock. Dr. Pettigrew said, "Since my retirement a number of years ago I have been getting great pleasure from working almost every day on writing my poetry. My heart is in this activity now as much as it used to be in my classroom teaching." Faunt said, "That says much to those of us fortunate enough to have been in any of Dr. Pettigrew's classes."

Jim Shaw shared his book, Coast Guard Yarns, with Faunt Smith, describing his career during World War II. Mr. Shaw was a United States Coast Guard Commander. He has also written a book, My Parents, about his early childhood, and has given a copy of the book to Ouachita.

1940

Dr. H. E. Williams was honored Sept. 12 in anniversary celebrations as founder of Williams Baptist College. The convocation featured the name-change ceremony from Southern Baptist College to Williams Baptist College. Dr. Williams established the school in Pochontas in 1941 when he was 27 years old. The campus was moved to Walnut Ridge in 1946, where he served as president of the junior college until 1973.

Dr. Andrew Hall accepted an invitation to teach a January term at Barbados Baptist College in the eastern Caribbean. He taught "Pastoral Ministry."

Dr. Nell Mondy was one of the two participants from the U.S. who was invited to attend the Second Triennial Conference of the African Potato Association and Workshop that was held last summer in Reduit, Mauritius. Dr. Mondy presented a paper the last day of the conference to the representatives from 26 countries including Scotland, England, Australia, the Netherlands, and most of the African countries.

Glenn Baker completed 38 years of continuous service as a minister of education in Florida churches on March 15, 1990. He is presently in his second tenure at First Baptist Church in Perry, Florida.

After working for Lockheed Missiles and Space for 25 years, Dorothy (Guy) Edwards retired. She received a degree in gerontology from San Jose State University in 1989 and will receive a master's degree in Christian education at Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary in May 1991. She plans to join the Mission Service Corps and serve as a senior adult director/minister at local associational and state levels.

Dr. Dan and Betty Jo (Oliver) ('47) Grant were hosts for the after-game fellowship held in their home Homecoming weekend. Those who registered for various activities of the 1990 Homecoming were: Irene Branum, Dale Cowling, Joyce (Shryock) Cowling, Charleta (Beindorf) Garner, Betty Lou (Stanfill) Hampton, Doyle Lumpkin, Gene Martin, Donald "Chuck" Meador, C. H. Seaton, Bettye Jane Tiffany, Bob and Sara (Biggs) Wells, and Jesse (Gladden) West.

Doyle and Marie (Hardwick) ('44) Lumpkin returned from Germany in April, having served as Foreign Mission Board volunteers. After an extended trip to the Northwest and Canada, they lived in Little Rock. They live now in San Angelo, Texas, and are living at the Baptist Memorial Retirement Village there. Their address is: 902 N. Main #134, San Angelo, Texas, 76903.

Bettye Jane Tiffany retired earlier this year after 31 years with local schools. Her most recent position was Sierra Sands Unified District Curriculum Director. She said she has enjoyed every minute of her multi-faceted career, which began as a teacher in a juvenile detention center in Kentucky and continued through her 25 year tenure at Murray Junior High School, as both a teacher and an administrator, until she moved into the district position. Bettye lives in Ridgecrest, California, and was on campus Homecoming Weekend for her 45-year reunion.

Lois Powell Anderson of Texarkana, Texas, was selected by the Tiger Network as co-Tiger Network Member of the Year for 1990. The honor was given to Lois for recruiting students for Ouachita.

Dr. J. D. Patterson held the annual tour of the campus Homecoming weekend. Participation in the tour continues to grow each year.

Charles M. Lowry has retired after 23 years with the Louisiana Baptist Convention. He served as director of the Discipleship Training Department for five years and 18 years as director of the Church Programs Division. Effective January 1, 1991, Charles was named director of the Center for Evangelism and Church Growth at New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary. The center was established for pastors and staff members to come for information and inspiration.

Dr. Harrison and June (Summers) ('49) Pike have retired as missionaries from Belem, Brazil, in Oct. 1990. They are living in Bella Vista, Ark.

Virgil and June (Howell) Waggoner were on campus February 6 for the Senior Class Luncheon held in Evans Student Center Banquet Room. Mr. Waggoner was the guest speaker for the event. He spoke on values, tips for successful living, and enjoyment of occupation.

Dr. Jack Farris recently had published his fifth novel, "Keeping the Faith," and gave Ouachita a copy of his new book. Farris and his wife, Anna (Gallagher) (f.s. '49) are retired and living in Lockesburg, Ark.

1950

The after-game fellowship for the class of 1950 was hosted by Lil (Strickland) and Mel Wasson on campus Homecoming weekend. Those registered for the various activities for the weekend were: Grover and Billie (English) Adams, Velda (Pogue) Barnard, Delter Cook, Calvin B. Craig, James E. Crittenden, Willis B. Graham, John S. Holeman, Jr., Ernest R. Lindsey, John H. McClanahan, Vivian (Bachman) Mosley, Bobby G. Newman, Leroy Nix, Betty Lou Orr, Bertie (Beck) Roberts, Dewey Stark, James D. Tabor, Sr., Sam J. Talbot, Jim C. Warnock, Ila Marie Westerman, Emil Williams, and James T. Wright.

1953

Rev. Al Sparkman began serving September 23 as pastor of Crow Mountain Church, a mission of Second Baptist Church in Russellville.

1955

The after-game fellowship for the class of 1955 was held at Billy and Norma (Stephens) ('71) Williams' home. Members of the class who attended were: Marion Allred, Luther Brewer, Carroll D. Caldwell, Bob Eubanks, Gracie (Brown) Fulford, Marianne (Morrissett) Gosser, Kay (Haynes) Hardwick, Joe Hubbard, Gerald and Ruby (Martin) Jackson, Lil (Burnett) Jobe, W. Eugene Keeland, Kenneth and Helen (Overton) Presswood, Dennis and Nona (Hankins) Schultz, Edward and Charlene (Clements) Smith, Marilyn (Mooney) Stark, Jerry R. Stratton, and E. Lamar Watkins.

1956

William H. Rogers has moved to Abilene, Texas, where he is the owner and operator of Chick-Fil-A Restaurant in Abilene.

1957

Farris 'Purvy' Purviance is Operations Manager for Crime Stoppers International in Albuquerque, N. M. His wife, Korkye, is editor of The Caller, the CSI news magazine. Purvy retired in 1984 as Chief of Security for the Air Force Weapons Laboratory at Kirtland AFB, N. M., ending 33 years of civilian and military service which started with Ouachita's ROTC.

1958

Veda (Brown) Gaines (f.s.) is the education secretary at Park Place Baptist Church in Houston, Texas. She and her husband Paul have four grandchildren. Paul is employed by Shell Oil Company and hopes to retire in the near future. They plan to live in Hot Springs.

Rev. Milburn M. Hill retired November 25, 1990 after pastoring Southern Baptist churches for more than 36 years and was honored with a reception at First Baptist Church in Ward where he was ordained to the ministry. He has served churches in Arkansas, Louisiana, and Alabama.

The after-game fellowship for the class of 1960 was hosted by Ed and Betty Lynn Snider on campus Homecoming weekend. Members of the class who registered for the various activities were: Dewey F. Kircher, Mary Ann (Thornton) McKinney, Bill and Rita (Bradley) Neal, Dale and Norma (Cox)

THE DECADE OF P

University sets campaign goal at $22.6 million by end of 1993

A comprehensive campaign to enhance Ouachita's ability to prepare young men and women for positions of leadership and service in the 21st century is seeking a base goal of $22.6 million and a challenge goal of $26.7 million.

The seven objectives of the campaign, which will continue through December 1993, include: faculty and staff development, curriculum development, student enrollment, student development, the Christian dimension, program enrichment and buildings and grounds.

OBU President Dr. Ben Elrod said the campaign will give all the former students and friends of Ouachita throughout the world an opportunity to link up with others for a common goal.

The theme of the campaign, "Preparing leaders for the 21st Century," was chosen, he said, because it reflects the qualities of Ouachita graduates that make them unique.

"These are uncommon young people who are creative, competent and compassionate," he said, "and are characterized by personal dignity, intelligence, integrity, a world vision and a vital Christian faith."

Dr. Bill Cook, Ouachita's vice president for development, said the campaign is placing a high priority on endowment because such income "provides the foundation for financial security."

Increasing the endowment, he said, "will strengthen the future of the University by generating funds for scholarships, faculty and staff development, academic program enrichment and maintenance of facilities."

The Decade of Progress Campaign goal will be achieved, Cook said, through a series of campaigns among the Board of Trustees, Development Council, faculty and staff, alumni, friends and foundations.

Although the primary emphasis of the campaign will be on three-year cash pledges, Cook said other ways to participate include: Appreciated marketable stocks or securities; closely held securities; real estate; life income plans such as charitable remainder unitrusts and gift annuities; charitable lead trusts; remainder interest in residence or farm; corporate matching gifts; gifts in kind; and bequests and revocable trusts.

Gifts to the campaign are tax deductible to the maximum amount allowed by law.

TOTAL BASE GOAL

ADDITIONAL CHA

TOTAL CHALLENGE

■ HONORS PROGRAM — Dr. Everett Slavens and Dr. Bill Steeger (center) lead a Carl Goodson Honors Program seminar on South Africa.

■ WRITING LAB — OBU English professor Susan Wink assists a student during a class in the Katie Speer Writing Lab.

FACULTY AND STAFF DEVELOPMENT

- Endowments to assist in attracting and retaining outstanding personnel.
- Improved benefits.
- Purchase of new equipment.
- Additional funds for research, travel, and sabbatical leaves.

■ ART CLASS — Two students work on assignments for a painting class in the Fine Arts Center studio.

CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT

- Greater emphasis on critical thinking, writing and research in all academic areas.
- An increase in library endowment to greatly expand the resources of Riley-Hickingsbotham Library.
- Additional strength for Ouachita's rapidly expanding international studies program continues to make Ouachita a "window to the world."
- Additional strength for the Center for Studies in Old Washington, the Confederate States of America during the Civil War.

Elrod endorses campaign goals; challenges donors with 'vision'

From the President

Ben M. Elrod
President
Ouachita Baptist University

Something unique is occurring: In a manner unprecedented for more than 100 years, the many members of Ouachita's extended family — students, faculty, staff, Trustees, alumni, Development Council members — are coming together to make Ouachita one of their highest giving priorities.

What could be accomplished if all of Ouachita's constituency made this kind of logical, systematic approach to their giving? This bulletin provides a detailed list of many of the good things which can come to be when success is achieved in the Decade of Progress Campaign.

Actually, there is strong evidence that such a harmonious effort has already begun. One gift of $5,500,000 is providing for a wonderful new auditorium. Another gift of $500,000 has made possible a new indoor tennis center, one of the best in the state.

My challenge to you is to let the next generation view us as we will want to be remembered: Men and women, instilled with a vision of an institution transformed from strength to greater strength, and committed to leaving the legacy of a Ouachita powerful enough to endure to the end of time. I can think of no greater work for God or man.

STUDENT ENROLLMENT/DEVELOPMENT

- Increase scholarship endowment to attract and retain quality students.
- Expanded programs in academic, career and personal counseling.
- Development of a career guidance and placement program.
- Establishment of a campus-wide telecommunications program.

■ SPRING STROLL-- Three students use the pedestrian bridge that connects the north campus with the main campus at Ouachita. The bridge was constructed in 1975 by the Mabee Foundation.

■ UNIVERSITY LANDMARK—Berry Chapel has stood since the early 1960s as one of the most recognizable symbols of Ouachita's commitment to Christian as well as to academic excellence.

CHRISTIAN DIMENSION

- Increased scholarship endowment for ministry-related vocations.
- Expanded programs for the Baptist Student Union and the Center for Christian Ministries.

PROGRAM ENRICHMENT

- Additional operating funds in the University budget to accelerate completion of Decade of Progress goals.

BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

- Construction of a new auditorium.
- Indoor tennis center.
- Renovation of five dormitories.
- Conversion of Cone-Bottoms Hall into a conference center.
- Upgrading of athletic facilities.
- Endowment of the building maintenance program.
- Construction of a new administration building.

■ New Auditorium

■ New Administration Building
