Ouachita

Ouachita, we sing thy praises,
Thy beauty, thy power, thy fame!
Each loyal heart upraises
A cheer to thy glorious name!
O—U—A—C—H—I—T—A!
Here's good luck to Ouachita,
May all her skies be gay!
Give a cheer for Ouachita,
A loud hip-hip-hooray,
O—U—A—C—H—I—T—A!

Ouachita, thy sons and daughters
Will carry thy flag unfurled,
For none can e'er surpass thee—
The queen of the college world.
O—U—A—C—H—I—T—A!
Here's good luck to Ouachita,
May all her skies be gay!
Give a cheer for Ouachita,
A loud hip-hip-hooray!
O—U—A—C—H—I—T—A!

The Class of 1922

OFFICERS

L. B. SMITH . . . . .	President
MARY ELLA ROBBINS . . . . .	Vice-President
WALTER ROWLAND . . . . .	Secretary
AUDRA YOW . . . . .	Treasurer

It is with a spirit of sincere pride that we point to the history and record of the Class of 1922, but with this a feeling of sadness comes, when we realize that we are finishing the last remaining work and the curtain is falling upon the last act of our college life. Reluctantly we attempt to sum up in words our stay in Ouachita College, feeling that our actions during that stay have portrayed us far more accurately than words can, yet we do not hesitate to say that we feel our class to be one among those of which Ouachita may be justly proud, and we cite our record as proof that the efforts of the entire class have been successful in upholding the ideals and cherishing the traditions of our Alma Mater and in maintaining the high standards characteristic of its work.

The class is broad in the scope of its capacities and talents. Every activity of college life has been a challenge to its strength and its desire for striving and achieving during the four years of its life, and the class has given itself to these activities with a zeal and enthusiasm that have carried each member to the pinnacle of success in his particular branch of endeavor. Athletics, oratory, school publications, and the many other phases of college life, attest by their high standards of excellence the supreme quality of the class from which they have recruited their ranks of workers.

We are a large class—not the largest, but comparing creditably in strength with the best—yet we are few compared to the many of our freshman year; we have survived the trials that caused many of our number to fall by the wayside; we have fought our way to the top of the ladder of college success. Now that our struggle is over, we must make way for those who are to follow where we have led. We are loath to break the ties that have bound us so securely to our college home, but we must go; we cannot stay to usurp the honors which rightfully belong to others. Fields of endeavor and usefulness are calling to us and we must enter, striving to acquit ourselves as creditably as we have in the college years that are ended.

HE Junior Class of 1922, in endeavoring to uphold the well-established records of former classes of equal rank, has succeeded not only in sustaining that reputation, but also in marking the pathway of junior college life this year with many signs of merit. To look backward over the years of freshman timidity and sophomore wisdom is to realize the weight of responsibility which years of gradual attainment have brought to the Junior Class.

The juniors, however, spend no time in reflection of past glory and achievement, as their eyes are ever turned to the goal of their ambition—senior rank. With perseverance and optimistic attitude, they strive to reach the end of the long way that they have been traveling, and they expect the next year, as it spends its course, to acknowledge their rights and distinction as Ouachita seniors.

The Junior Class of 1922 is represented in every phase of college life. Excellent work has been done by these representatives on the literary staffs, athletic field, and in the class room. As the juniors assume the dignity of seniors, they realize fully the responsibility of their rank, but they welcome it with proud determination.

Since time immemorial the Sophomore Class in all the various institutions of our country has been characterized by sophistication. Strange to say, the Sophomore Class of this year has departed far from the normal and realizes that "Ignorance is what we ain't got nothing else but." Since the realization of one's dearth of knowledge is the prerequisite to all education, the sophomores are well on their way to a glorious success.

Several among us have already taken their places in the hall of fame. They are noted not only for scholastic and literary ability, but have won wide recognition on the athletic field. Several are already wearing the "O," which is an emblem of the highest that can be achieved along that line.

When we reflect upon our college career, we find that we have passed the second mile-post of our journey with very much pleasure and very few regrets. We look forward with the hope of accomplishing great things in the next two years that will make Ouachita proud of her Class of 1924.

In the fall of 1921, just as always happens, there came a new crowd of freshmen. And, like the freshmen of the past, they were green, but willing to learn. Even in the time of a few months much development is already noticed. Freshmen appear in every activity of college life and are making their mark there.

Each freshman came to Ouachita with a hope and a determination to succeed. With these things in mind, the motto, "Determination is the foundation of success," was chosen. With determination as a basis, success is sure to be the result.

"Preps"

There is always some advantage which preps have over all other classes—they have more to look forward to. "Hope springs eternal in the human breast," and though we look at the end from afar, yet we see the goal, and so plod and climb.

We have not yet reached the prophetic age, and hence lay no claim to great distinction in the near future. We have our little "wagon hitched to a star," however, and are making progress as it makes its cycles in the sky.

We have the talent to do great things some day, and inspired by our motto, we are going to make it our proud boast of the upper-classmen that once they enjoyed the fellowship of the preps of '21-'22.

The Alpha Kappa Society has the distinction of being the oldest society in Ouachita, having been organized in 1886, the year in which the college was founded. Originally it was for juniors and seniors only.

Since its birth the Alpha Kappa Society has been steadily increasing not only in numbers but its individual members have shown marked development along executive and literary lines.

Neglect of duty and improper decorum have never found their places in the Alpha Kappa hall. The method of business procedure has always been commendable. Every follower of the "Green and Gold" takes the motto, "Beauty and Truth," as an ideal not only for the work of the society but as a guiding light which aids in solving the many problems of daily living.

The Alpha Kappas of today strive ever to uphold the ideals that were so dear to our sisters of yesterday, and, if possible, to lift higher that standard, which will serve as an inspiration to the Alpha Kappas of the future.

The Corinnean Literary Society, the second daughter of Ouachita's literary society family, was named for Corinna, the Grecian poetess, who was famous for her beauty. From the time of her christening the Corinnean Society has endeavored to emulate that goddess mother in the spirit of glorious and beautiful womanhood.

The first ideal of the society is training. In the programs every girl is given an opportunity to cultivate poise and self-possession. In business meetings she learns parliamentary usages and acquires efficiency. Each girl has a share of responsibility and each receives social development. The motto, "Purity and Womanliness," is highly expressive of the Corinnean ideal and standard, and that every member may imbibe that spirit is the aim and fundamental purpose of the society.

In the thirty-two years of her existence the Corinnean Literary Society has accomplished much toward the realization of this ideal. As daughters of Ouachita, the Corinneans carry this society spirit into their college life and endeavor to make their individual and cooperative efforts count as the best and highest wealth to their Alma Mater.

With the immortal words, "Nil Cedendum," emblazoned upon their hearts and minds, the old members of H. L. S. began this, the thirty-fourth year of the society, with the definite aim of making it the most prosperous one in its history. Knowledge, combined with fixity of purpose, cannot be denied, and this aim is fast becoming a reality.

To the new man society doesn't mean so much, but to the old Hermesian the love we feel for that society cannot be measured or comprehended. Next to our Alma Mater, we love our society, and the memory of Hermesian Hall, its spirit of fraternity, its joys and sorrows, will go with us through life.

Many new men have recognized the worth of the Hermesian Society, and, having cast their lot with us, are fast becoming imbued with the Hermesian spirit. Much could be said of this Hermesian spirit, which never knows defeat, but always pressing forward to higher and nobler things, has assisted many old Hermesians to a success in the drama of life.

There are athletic organizations, there are fraternal organizations, but the best organization for the development of the parliamentarian is the literary society. It is inoculated with the principles of usefulness. It is synonymous with work and preparation for service. The Philomathean Literary Society came in answer to the need for public speaking and parliamentary rules; it came in answer to the need for well-rounded men and true citizens. When the muse of history records the pages of the struggles and development of our young orators it will write the name, Cornelius B. Cooper, winner of the intersociety oratorical contest.

The spirit of Philomatheanism does not die with the expiration of the college career, and in after-life they are found holding the best positions in almost every vocation, still pursuing, still achieving, always dominated by the spirit instilled in them in college days.

This has been a very successful year for the Philomathean Society. The unflinching spirit and zeal of our members has shown that the Orange and White shall not be lowered by the followers of the incomparable motto, "Unless what we do is useful, our glory is vain."

Intersociety Oratorical Contest

The culmination of society activity, enthusiasm and rivalry comes on Thanksgiving night, when the annual intersociety oratorical contest is held. Society life plays a great part with the Ouachita student, and the contest is the biggest event of the year.

This year was no exception, and the auditorium was filled on Thanksgiving night with society members and friends. The usual yells and songs filled the air until the student manager rapped for order and introduced the speakers of the evening.

The first speaker was Mr. Patrick Murphy, Hermesian, whose subject was "World Dominion by Man." He was followed by Mr. Cornelius B. Cooper, Philomathean, who used as his subject, "Differentiation, Progress, and the Spirit of Youth."

Then came that heart-breaking, nerve-racking wait until the faculty representative came out and announced that the Philomatheans had won.

The Ouachita Signal

The weekly newspaper of Ouachita College is the Ouachita Signal, with which is incorporated the Ouachita Ripples, a former monthly issue of the student body. The present paper is issued by an editorial staff elected from the four literary societies, Hermesian, Corinnean, Philomathean, and Alpha Kappa. By special agreement the editor-in-chief is elected alternately by the two boys' societies.

The assignments of work to the members of the staff are so arranged as to cover every activity of college life. The college spirit and warmth of fellowship of Ouachita College breathe upon every one of the eight pages of the paper.

The college newspaper plays an important role in every college and aids materially in increasing student enthusiasm and interest. It is a valuable asset to the college in keeping in direct touch with the alumni and ever holding before them the high ideals of their Alma Mater. May its usefulness increase each year.

The Baracca Class continues to exercise a strong Christian influence in our student body. It is one of the most helpful and spiritual movements that the college boy has the privilege of participating in. It coöperates with the college in developing its members into well-rounded men, mentally, physically and spiritually.

We are indeed fortunate in having Dr. Charles D. Johnson, of the English Department, with us again this year as teacher. We feel that our Christian ideals have been greatly strengthened by his sincere and faithful teaching.

If there could be such a distinction as an aristocratic Sunday school class, Mrs. McNutt's class might boast of such a distinction. For Mrs. McNutt has been the faithful teacher of this class for many years, while the members are very much attached to the class through the happy and earnest associations since the beginning of their college life three and four years ago. Our aim is to effectively learn and practically apply Bible lessons learned from Sunday to Sunday, carried out by an efficiently organized class.

This promises to be the most fruitful year in the history of the association. The spirit is one of coöperation and helpfulness.

We are proud of our past record, but we are striving by the help of our King to do greater things in the future. The members are all young men, full of zeal, determination and loyalty for the cause which we represent.

A number of our members are doing pastoral work over the state. Reports from these fields show that they are fully awake to all of the causes which we as a denomination foster.

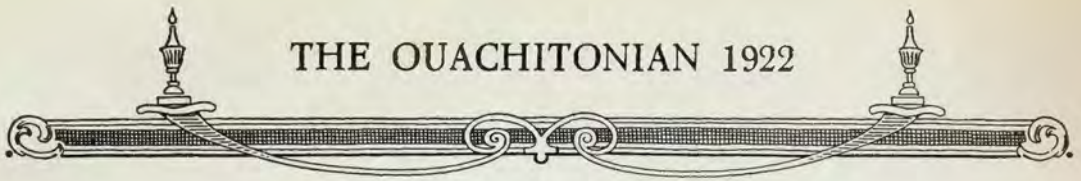

Our task is great. The moral depression that has swept over the land makes our task more arduous; but we are determined to win. The harder the task, the more we will depend on the Lord. Like Paul, "I can do all things in Him that strengtheneth me."

The ministerial students are realizing the importance of being trained for this work. The call of the cross seems to be urging us to do what Christ said, "As the Father hath sent me into the world, even so send I you."

The members of this organization are the sons and daughters of former Ouachita students. Ouachita spirit, handed down from parent to child, is preserved with almost religious enthusiasm. Every member of the club strives to attain the highest standard of scholarship and to maintain always irreproachable deportment, in order that the ideals of the fathers and mothers may be realized in the Ouachita of today.

The choicest good times of the year are planned for the Sons and Daughters by Mrs. Blake, the sponsor, who holds a big place in the heart of every member of the club.

The Debating Council is the exponent of the development of forensic talent among the students of Ouachita College. Through this organization intercollegiate debates are planned and carried out with the strongest colleges of the South. We are proud of Ouachita's record as a school that fosters scholarly debating and oratory. Some of the institutions with whom we have debated and over whom we have won victories are Baylor University, Union University, Hendrix College, and Louisiana College.

The advance of civilization is no longer upon one foot, but the better half has come to the front; women now are regular debaters in our college, thus preparing themselves for professional life.

That our record shall continue in its growth is the cherished hope of all its supporters.

Intercollegiate Debates

The intercollegiate debates into which Ouachita enters year after year form a nucleus of argumentative and dramatic art. No more highly developed intellectual activity can be found in the college than that which of necessity characterizes the debating teams as they measure units and knowledge with teams of like timber from either standard colleges or universities.

Since the custom which said only men could engage in intercollegiate debates was broken three years ago by Miss Dexter Rivers, now Mrs. Thos. G. Burns, Terrabe, Iowa, by winning a signal victory over Union University, other girls have won places on the regular teams and subsequently have won honors. Again this year, following the lead of these women who have distinguished themselves, Misses Hazel Jones and Josephine Rowell have won places as Ouachita's representatives in this coveted quest.

The debates this year are with Baylor University at Ouachita; Union University, Jackson, Tenn.; and either Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., or Oklahoma Baptist University, Shawnee, Okla.

The debaters, arranged in teams, are as follows:

Baylor University—C. B. Cooper, C. H. Elliott.
Oklahoma University—F. H. Ward, Day Campbell.
Union University—Hazel Jones, Josephine Rowell.

Town Boys' and Girls' Club

The town boys and girls have never been organized to any great extent, but their presence has ever been known in the college circles. There has been some talk this year of electing a president "to beard the doc in his office" and ask for a holiday or a picnic, but at the present writing no such officer has been selected. But, seriously, we would have a wide range of selection (should we choose a male in this age of woman's suffrage), for we number in our ranks such personages as Coy Shugart, Otis Galloway, Pat Murphy, and "Red" Pearce, who, by their charming personalities and other attributes, have won a place in every true Ouachitonian heart.

The purpose of the Dramatic Club is for the development of the individual in an appreciation for real dramatic work. This year the club is studying the Little Theater Movement, which is the most professional of amateur work.

Throughout the year one-act plays and scenes from long plays are presented for public approval.

All students in Ouachita College are eligible to membership in the club, but it is composed mainly of expression students, who gain much by the study of drama and dramatists.

At the beginning of school several of the boys who had the idea they could sing got together and started a movement toward the organization of a glee club. Prof. Mitchell was approached on the subject, and he more than met us halfway. He got the "gang" together and worked with them long and faithfully, and the discords we are guilty of were never of his making. When the work first started it was found that only a small per cent of the boys had had any musical training whatever, and only a few knew whether they sang contralto or bass; but, by earnest endeavor, the handicap was overcome to a great extent. It was with fear and trembling that we made our initial appearance, but after the crowd "roared and threw up its hat," we grinned inwardly and said, "Caruso didn't have such a bad life, after all."

This year marks the second year of the Pre-Medical Club. It was not due to the lack of students interested in this field of study, but rather 'tis a lack of perfecting the organization. The year has been a very successful one. Topics and current medical magazines are discussed in meetings that are held bi-monthly. The organization is indebted very greatly to Professor Carl G. Davis for the interest and for the courtesy he has shown in it.

Orchestra

Nothing can be more conducive to a liberal education than a close relation in some way with music, that charm of all charms. For the students who are engaged in the study of piano, organ or violin, a practical opportunity is offered in the College Orchestra to put theory into practice. To those students who are not taking Conservatory work and who would probably not take the time to study music there is presented the possibility of learning to perform on different instruments in a skillful and entertaining manner.

This excellent training is made possible largely through the ability and patience of the director, Miss Carleton, who continues to grow in the favor of all those interested in good music. The programs which are rendered during the course of the year are looked forward to as a treat by the students and the townpeople alike. And the prospects for a successful year in this branch of college activities are unusually bright.

The Reserve Officers' Training Corps

It has long been common knowledge that our country, the United States of America, would be practically helpless if it depended upon its standing army entirely to protect it against foreign powers. Therefore, the War Department has established the Reserve Officers' Training Corps throughout the country at various selected colleges. These units send into private life every year men trained so that in the case of an emergency the Federal Government can call them into active service to lead its armies in the field.

Ouachita College has had some form of military training in her curriculum since 1896, when the college authorities realized the benefit the country, the college and the men would receive from such training. The present organization was established in 1919 just after the Students' Army Training Corps was demobilized, and much credit should be given to those army officers who have labored so faithfully to keep the standard of the unit high.

In establishing the Reserve Officers' Training Corps at Ouachita, Milton's definition of an education seems to have been accepted. He said: "I call a complete and generous education one that fits a man to perform justly, skillfully and magnanimously all the offices, both public and private, of peace and war."

THE OUACHITONIAN 1922

COACH MORLEY JENNINGS

Since Morley Jennings came to Ouachita in 1912, he has established a standard of athletics which not only develops the physical qualities of the individual, but instils manliness, self-reliance and clean sportsmanship in the lives of his athletes. His teams are superior to any in the state association because of his method of instruction. Although this has been a strenuous year, it has been one of his best. He is a man of strong personality, which makes itself felt on the athletic field and as well commands the respect of all who know him. He hails from Mississippi A. & M., where he was a star in all branches of athletics. He has been a member of the major league for several years, and is now under contract with the Minneapolis club. May his future years in Ouachita be as successful as the past ones have been.

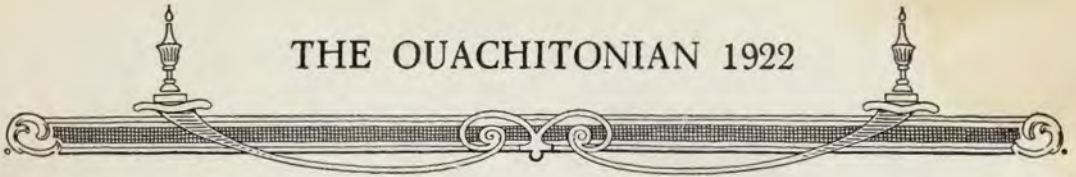

*CARRIE MAY LYTLE
1921 FOOTBALL "SPONSOR"*

FOOTBALL SPONSOR AND ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

COY G. SHUGART, Captain . . . . . Center

"Shug," by his hard, consistent manner of playing, has acquired much prominence in the football world. Being an all-state man for four years, of which he was selected captain this season, is certainly an enviable record. Under his leadership the Tiger team of '21 ran in perfect harmony and once more copped the state collegiate championship.

ROBERT COLE, Captain-Elect . . . . . Halfback

Breaking into the line-up last year with a crash, Cole has improved by leaps and bounds until he is now generally conceded to be one of the best backs Ouachita has ever produced. His work in all phases has been flawless. For these reasons he was selected as all-state material.

FRANK TURBERVILLE . . . . . Halfback

"Tubby" is one of the best backs in the state. Although not selected on the all-state team, he justly deserved it. He is not a spectacular player, but of the steady, consistent, driving type. His defensive work is superb, as he is a hard and sure tackler. "Tubby" ran the team from halfback position and did most of the kicking after touchdowns. He has two more years, and even greater things are expected in the future.

THE OUACHITONIAN 1922

LUCIEN ABRAHAM . . . . . Guard and Tackle

Lucien is the last of the Abrahams, and, like his predecessors, has played excellent football. Although hindered by injuries, he has always been in there, wrecking the hopes of opponents and adding that scrap and fighting spirit so valuable to a football team.

RUSSELL BENSON . . . . . Tackle

As a tackle with the Jonesboro Aggies, Benson became well known over the entire state. His work with the Tigers the past season has been even more notable. Though not selected on the mythical eleven, we know of no reason except that only two tackles can place. We predict a berth for him thereon in future seasons.

WILLIAM MONTGOMERY . . . . . Center

"Hos" is another promotion from the Tigerette squad. He "sorter likes" his football and always gives 'em his best while in there. His passing has been steady and accurate, and his defensive work on a par with the state's best center. The job will be steady for him in future seasons and "Shug's" position will be well filled.

NEIL CARGILE . . . . . End

Another player upholding a standard previously set by an older brother. Neil has certainly given his best in this season's "grid" battles, which, along with natural ability to play football, won for him a position on the mythical eleven.

WILLIAM WALTON . . . . . Quarterback and Half

Bill's grim determination, fighting spirit and football ability have won for him many admirers among the football followers. He is an excellent broken-field runner, passes well and plays a good defensive game. He has two more years in which to uphold the Tiger standard, and promises to be one of the state's best during that period.

GEORGE GRAYSON . . . . . End

"Jelly" is the one example of rapid development on the Tiger squad. He donned his togs this season with a rigid determination to win the coveted "O." A hard man to down on defense, an excellent receiver of passes, and always there to down his man on punts.

SAM DARDNNE, JR. . . . . Guard and Tackle

"Sammie" first loosed the bonds that held him so closely to the environment of "Coy," and has since then displayed a knack for mixing it—mixing it against the Tigers of last season won him a position with them this season, and he has continued the same fighting style of play against other opposing teams.

JOHN DUFFIE . . . . . Tackle

Mac's aggressiveness and pushiency occasioned his being shifted to tackle early in the season. Breaking up interference was his hobby, and every inch of ground gained over him was well earned. On offensive he was one of the chief factors in the success of the Tiger backs in gaining ground.

EDGAR DARDNNE . . . . . Guard

"Young Red" hails from Columbia Military Academy, where he had assumed a star role in the athletic department. Changing locations seemed to be an added incentive to acquire more honor in this line. He found his place at the guard position and showed well both on offense and defense.

ALYMER CANNON . . . . . Fullback

"Bang" broke forth in Arkansas football several seasons ago while playing on the Arkadelphia High School team. This season he transferred his scene of activities to A. U. Williams Field, where he played good, steady football. Three more years with the Tigers and he should be listed among the best.

ROBERT BRATT . . . . . Guard

Bratt came to us from Duluth, Minn., where he had acquired many honors on the gridiron. He began the season at halfback, but because of a wealth of backs he was shifted to the guard position. He is the made-to-measure type, and this, coupled with added experience, should make him a valuable man to future Tiger machines.

PALMER HUNTER . . . . . Tackle and End

Hunter came to us from Russellville Aggies and from the first demonstrated his ability. He played end at the first of the season, and was shifted to tackle the latter part. At both positions he was always a strong part of the Tiger wall. With his weight and knowledge of the game, he will continue to make one of Ouachita's dependables in the future.

THE OUACHITONIAN 1922

DALE SCOTT . . . . . Substitute Guard

Scott's lack of experience was the principal hindrance to his placing as a regular. The games he participated in he performed creditably. Another season with the same old punch and Dale should be a regular.

WALTER ROWLAND . . . . . Captain Tigerettes

Walter directed the Tigerettes as captain for the past season. He learned all his football at O. B. C., and his late start in this sport probably prevented his winning the coveted "O." As captain he was an excellent leader, giving his best every minute of the contests.

ALBERT ARNOLD . . . . . Substitute End

"Sap" played some with both varsity and seconds. After acquiring some experience at Arkadelphia High School, he is now aspiring to a berth on the Tiger squad. With added experience he should make a good man in the future.

FOOTBALL

Review of 1921 Football Season

THE past season in many respects has been the most successful one in several years. In the games where the supreme tests were made, the Tiger team, coached to perfection, came out very much victorious. In other games, where the odds were entirely too heavy against it, this team displayed such fight and ability that it was highly respected.

Starting with a wealth of new material, but with a lack of experienced men, Coach Jennings developed one of the best teams in Ouachita's history. Even though the work toward development was strenuous and the daily grind monotonous, the spirit of the men was unusually good.

By way of summary, games won totaled 5, lost 3. Points by Tigers 177, opponents 69. No team in the Arkansas Athletic Association scored a point against the Tigers, which proved their great defensive strength. The season opened at the A. U. Williams Field with the defeat of the Magnolia Aggies, 48-0. By holding the Tigers to a 20-0 score the previous season, the Mule Riders entertained high hopes of humiliating them. One quarter of play was enough to prove the superiority of the Tigers. By this game Coach Jennings was able to get a line on the qualifications of his new men.

Next came the tilt with the Mississippi A. and M. at Starkville. Though outweighed and conscious of the fact that they were battling one of the South's best, the Tigers displayed such fight and aggressiveness that the first half ended 6-0 in Ouachita's favor. The Aggies, by wearing them down in the last quarter, scored three touchdowns and the game ended 21-6.

The following game was doped to be one of the football classics of the season: Tigers vs. Razorbacks at Little Rock. The game was purely defensive until the last quarter. O. B. C.'s crippled backfield allowed the university to complete several forward passes which proved the undoing of our defense, and they acquired 28 points. Cole's work in this game was the big feature of individual playing.

The Conway Pedagogues offered the opposition for the following week. Estes' team proved a big disappointment to the fans, and the Tigers rolled up a score of 58 points. The Tigerettes were given an opportunity against them in the final quarter.

Next the Tigers played Little Rock College in the "City of Roses" and won, 16-0. Lack of teamwork in this game kept the score low.

The following week came the real setback of the dope. The game at Ruston with the L. P. I. was added to their win column, 20-0.

Then came the period of strenuous training for the two major games of the schedule, and the result was evident when the Tigers, on Armistice Day, literally mowed down all the opposition the Hendrix Bulldogs could bring into play. The score stood 35-0. The Tigers fought as one machine and each player was the star of the game.

On "Turkey Day" this wrecking crew crowned their brilliant work by their defeat, 14-0, of the Henderson-Brown Reddies. They showed, both on offensive and defensive, such a drive and stability that there could be no argument as to their superiority. Thus ended the active part of the 1921 season, but the talking circles are still vibrant in their praise of the Tigers.

"Tigerettes"

The scrubs of '21, although the games in their win column are not numerous, deserve much credit for their rapid development and the valuable assistance they rendered to the varsity. Starting out with a wealth of material in so far as size and number was concerned, but with a woeful lack of knowledge and experience, they came through with a good team before the season closed.

Much credit is due Coach Dwight Crawford for this improvement. His persistent effort and helpful assistance were greatly appreciated.

From the Tigerette squad a great number of the Tigers come, and by this year's seasoning several of them have acquired sufficient experience and shown such aggression that their promotion seems to be dependent only upon the arrival of the next season.

Basketball

GREAT amount of interest has been exhibited the past season by the followers of the indoor sport. With the return of four veterans of last year's quintet prospects were exceedingly bright from the beginning of the season. New material, and substitutes of last season had a chance to display their ability in the R. O. T. C. contests. Coach Jennings was enabled to get a line on his material. The team through the entire season has played at times brilliant, but always consistent basketball. Every member of the team gave forty minutes of hard, determined effort each game, and this, coupled with the team work perfected through Coach Jennings' efforts, was the chief determinant of the Tiger's success.

Galloway, "Ikey," Forward. The goal seems to have a magnetic attraction for the ball when Gally shoots. This can be explained only by his speed, hard work, headwork and accuracy. As captain of this year's team, he has made an excellent leader. His work the past season has established the fact more forcibly than ever, that he is the state's best forward.

Chambers, "Mug," Forward. Mug is another forward much respected by opposing guards. His passes are swift and accurate, his teamwork on a par with the best. Chambers has one more year with the Tigers and it promises to be exceedingly bright.

Montgomery, "Hos," Center. "Hos" seems to like his athletics. After winning his "O" in football and baseball he turned his attention to the indoor sport and has made the team an excellent center. Though not fast, he is always in there fighting, and for this reason is found in practically every play.

Hunter, "Sloppy," Center. Another center of the consistent type. He is a good passer and plays a steady game. This is Hunter's first year with the Tigers, and he has shown well.

Cole, "Bob," Guard. Bob's quickness and knack for breaking up the opponents' team work make him a valuable man in the vicinity of the opposing goal. He has one more year and much is expected of him during that period.

Turberville, "Tubby," Guard. "Tubby" plays basketball as he plays every branch of athletics, putting his best in the game. He works the floor well, passes hard and accurately, and is a good shot. He also plays a good defensive game. He will be back next year.

Much credit is due the three "Substitutes," Bayers (forward), Bratt (guard), and Benson (center and guard). These men performed their duties in an excellent manner every time they were called upon and much is expected of them next season.

S. Anderson, "Sullie," Forward. This is Sullie's second year with the team. Although a sub last year, he has proven to be a valuable man this year. He has shown considerable speed and skill this season. We expect great things of him in the future. He has two more years at Ouachita.

1922 Baseball Prospects

As we approach the baseball season of '22 optimism keen and well founded is our one outstanding characteristic. Though probably football to the taste of the collegians is more popular, a winning baseball team is quite as big a drawing card, and always receives unreserved support in its season. Indications point to one of the best in the history of Ouachita for the coming spring, and enthusiasm should be rife among the student body and other supporters.

An added indication toward a great season is the fact that other teams of the A. A. A. are to be represented by fast clubs, and that others with whom games are scheduled are equally as strong. The fight for the State Collegiate Championship should be one of the closest and hardest fought in several seasons.

With an aggregate of nine letter men, composed of three pitchers, four infielders, and two outfielders, Coach Morley Jennings has a strong nucleus around which to build an excellent team. Several new men and substitutes of last year are slated to perform well, and the selection for each position promises to be from a group of keen competitors.

There is one vacancy in the outfield. Rowland and Abraham, however, bid fair to hold down the wings of this territory. Walter, playing his fourth year on the squad, is captain. Twice he has been selected on the All-State Nine, and should be a strong contender this season. He is without doubt the most accurate fly chaser the Tiger squad has had in many years. Lucien in right field is also consistent in his fielding and should swing the bludgeon with more success in future games.

The infield certainly has a strong frame-work on which to build. Montgomery displayed his wares as a receiver last spring and is expected to place among the state's best this season. The initial sack will be covered by Turberville, whose ability is conceded. He is strong in every department and his swings from the left should be a big factor in the team's offense. Galloway at second can be depended upon to cover well that vicinity. He has an abundance of speed and is a very sure fielder. Harry Slade is again on hand to cavort around the hot corner. Though not speedy, he is accurate and led the squad in batting last season.

Three of the old moundsmen will again be seen in action. Sam Dardne, Jr., whose pitching proved so effective last spring, will probably do the bulk of the twirling. Campbell and Cargile are counted on to add several games to the win column. Promising new additions to the staff are E. Dardne and Sanders.

Other material from which Jennings will complete his team is: Infielders, Gunn, Riffey, Ogles, Bryan, and Coleman; outfielders, Walton, Benson and Irwin.

Et Tu Willie

Little Willie killed his sister,
She was dead before we missed her.
Willie's always up to tricks.
Ain't he cute? He's only six.

Willie, in an elevator,
Fell and wasn't found for six months later.
All the neighbors said, "Gee whiz,
Isn't Willie a spoiled kid?"

Into the cistern, Little Willie
Threw his little sister, Lilly.
Father said, while drawing water,
"Gee, it's hard to raise a daughter."

Little Willie, in an aeroplane,
Went up in the air and came down again.
He fell so fast and hit so hard
He quickly was reduced to lard.

Little Willie, in best of sashes,
Fell in the fire and was burned to ashes.
By and by the room grew chilly,
But no one cared to stir up Willie.

Little Willie from the mirror licked the mercury all off,
Thinking, in his childish error, it would cure the whooping cough.
After the funeral, Willie's mother laughingly said to Mrs. Brown,
"It sure was a cold day for Willie when the mercury went down."

Willie on the railroad track,	Here lies Little Willie,
Didn't hear the engine squeal.	Whom we shall see no more.
Now the engine's backing back	For what was $H_2O$
Scraping Willie off the wheel.	Was $H_2SO_4$ .

Mule in the barnyard, lazy and slick.
Willie, with a pin on the end of a stick,
Slips up behind him, sly as a mouse.—
Crepe on the door of Little Willie's house.

In Memoriam

Glee Club—Gleeful, but intermittent, has been the life of Ouachita's Glee Club. Always fastidious, it insists upon observing Rests. In previous years it rose to heights supreme, only to sing its swan song. Yet let us not weep, but rather let us comfort ourselves in our only hope, "The Glee Club is not dead, but sleepeth." Too true it is, the good die young. Inexorable fate doomed this organization before it even existed, for such an undisguised combination of melody fairly invited destruction. Although this is an age of trusts, it seems that vocalists should avoid combinations; "Great souls, like stars, should dwell apart." This organization has left to carry on its work, a paragon of talent—the howlers of the dining hall veranda, who make no tours either to Gurdon or Malvern, but remain among us to shed their cadences about their fellows.

THE M. M. COHN COMPANY

LITTLE ROCK, ARKANSAS

SOUTHWESTERN BAPTIST THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY
AND
MISSIONARY TRAINING SCHOOL
SEMINARY HILL, TEXAS

A theological and missionary institution for preachers and for women preparing themselves for mission, church, Sunday school, B. Y. P. U., W. M. U., and evangelistic work in the home and foreign fields.

We have a great faculty of forty consecrated men and women; a student body in the middle of the term 1921-22 of nearly 700; a great spiritual, evangelistic atmosphere; abundant opportunity in all branches of theological and practical work in the Kingdom of God; departments of Religious Education, Missions, Gospel Music, Correspondence, Woman's Missionary Training, and in all theological studies, strong, virile and far-reaching.

We take this opportunity to thank the business men of Arkadelphia and Little Rock, Arkansas, for their liberal support in helping us to publish this annual. We also thank the faculty and students of Ouachita for their hearty co-operation. We hope that our efforts have met with the approval of everyone, and that you will subscribe early for the 1923 Ouachitonian.
