CHAPTER FOUR THE STORY

“Every true man stands with uncovered head in the presence of a gentlewoman, who, foregoing personal ease and comforts, drawn by no tie of blood, nor for old acquaintance’s sake, but moved alone by the impulse of common humanity, meets every one with a warm smile, a kind word, a pure look, and a tender hand of sympathy. Such acts lift humanity from its drab and ennui, redeem poor human nature from all its burden of selfishness and sin, and make us thank God we are brothers to such sisters.”

SIGNAL STAFF

The Ouachita Signal

THE legend goes that one night a traveler was passing on the opposite side of the river from ye editor's room, lost, and in utter derision. The dim light of the midnight oil guided him safely to civilization, and thereafter this publication has been designated the Signal, to commemorate this incident. (Since then it has signalized very little.)

Its chief purpose is for the edification of the editor and the benefit of the light and power company, which benefit is derived from excessive lights used by ye scribe.

The motto of the periodical is "The light that casts no shadow." The remarks of the editor on this point must be deleted, because he says his shadow is cast over the typewriter seven nights out of the week, and we call that a real dark spot. Through the sweat of his and his loyal staff's brows, Ouachita students have one of the liveliest publications in Arkansas collegiate editorial circles.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

The Ministerial Association

O the young men training to become ministers of the Gospel there is not a more important organization in the college than that composed of themselves, the Ministerial Association.

Together in these meetings they learn to speak effectively, think clearly, and conduct themselves wisely. In the weekly meetings topics of vital importance are assigned to individual students for study and discourse.

This, as vital as it may be, is not the chief purpose of the association. Together the young preachers tune their spirits to the One Great Spirit, thereby learning to love and grow in true spiritual atmosphere.

Debating Teams

As we go to print the debating outlook is the best Ouachita has had in many days. The schedule contains some of the strongest teams in the West and South. Under the efficient supervision of Professor Whitehouse the teams are being rapidly whipped into form. The schedule follows:

Estel Sikes and Blake Smith against Baylor University and Oklahoma Baptist University, the latter at Arkadelphia.

John Riffey and Joe Barnett meet Utah A. and M. in the local auditorium.

"Jim" Sloan and Hermond Westmoreland meet our ancient rival and holder of the best debating records in Arkansas, the Arkansas State Teachers' College, at Conway.

Paul Morton and Melvin Crowe defend the Purple and Gold against the Henderson-Brown aggregation.

Before many seasons pass we hope to see a department of debating and oration, and thereby give a larger number of men the opportunity of debating and orating.

The Pre-Medical Club began the year with only six charter members. The Club has been doing some extensive work, and now it has a membership of sixteen. The meetings are held each Friday night, at which time interesting programs on medical topics and new scientific discoveries are rendered. The club plays an important part in preparing the pre-medical students for medical school. Here they are taught the use of the X-ray machine, and a scientific study of the human body is made. Professor C. G. Davis, who is the sponsor of the club, has shown great interest in its work and development.

Resume of Football Games, 1924 Season

By JOHN LEE HARRIS

The Union University Game

In each of the nine scenes of the drama of the football season this year the Ouachita Tiger played a consistent rôle of the hero and the victor. The curtain for the first scene was raised on October 3, and brought to view the line of Union University in full array against the wearers of the Purple "O". The Tigers began with a vanquishing attack, and, featuring spectacular playing, remained on the offensive during practically the entire duration of the game. The curtain was lowered with the score 14 to 0.

Mississippi A. and M. Game

On October 11 the Tigers met their formidable opponents, the men of the Mississippi A. and M., at Starkville, and, by using a bewildering aerial attack, won by the score of 12 to 0 over a team in a contest with whom Ouachita never before emerged triumphant. Because of the strategy of Coach Jennings, the marvelous playing of Selph, and the effective fighting quality of the entire Tiger team, a new record was made for "the little college on the banks of the Ouachita."

Little Rock College Game

Played on the A. U. Williams field, the Little Rock College game, October 17, was seemingly a healthy romp for the bounding Tigers. Scoring for the home team began early in the first quarter and continued throughout the game. Although the Eagles made a courageous stand and often blocked the Tigers' attempt at forward passes, they played a losing game from the beginning, and were fairly exhausted when the final signal was given. They failed to advance even once to a position nearer than Ouachita's 25-yard line, while the Tigers made twenty first downs and a score of 39 to 0. Selph, Estes, Graham, and Dildy played stellar rôles for Ouachita.

THE MIGHTY TIGERS

Louisiana Polytechnic Game

The second string men made the trip to Louisiana with the regulars, and composed the complete line-up for Ouachita during most of the game. In the last four minutes of the first half the Varsity went in, ran rampant through the Polytech line, and made one touchdown. In the second half Stroope scored two drop kicks from the 35-yard line, and Elliott, I. Selph, Stevenson, King, and Cooksey, second string men, all played wonderfully smashing games. The regulars played the last three minutes of the contest, but, because of penalties, failed to make another point. The final score was 13 to 0.

Russellville Aggie Game

Probably the most strenuous battle of the football season for the Tigers was the game with the Russellville Wonder Boys, fought on Kavanaugh Field, Little Rock, on Armistice Day. Special trains came from both college towns and literal crowds of people witnessed the game, which was predicted to be really thrilling, but the outcome of which could not be prognosticated with any degree of precision. The Tigers excelled in speed and accuracy in passing, but the Aggie line was formidable. During the first half Selph and Jacoway each scored three points on field goals. In the second the team could not repulse all the drives of the terrible, tireless, tornadic Tucker, and it was then a Wonder Boy grabbed a fumble and raced across the line for the only touchdown registered against Ouachita during the season. They failed to kick goal, and the game ended with a knotted score, 6 to 6.

Hendrix College Game

The fighting Bulldogs of Hendrix College invaded Ouachita territory on November 18, and the score, 20 to 0, at the close of the contest was ample evidence that the courageous canines ostensibly were disappointed in their hopes of victory. The main strength of the Hendrix team was shown in its ability to intercept Selph's dreaded passes. His spectacular 90-yard field run and Shugart's timely completion of a forward pass during the last seconds of play were the outstanding features of the game.

THE MIGHTY TIGERS

State Teachers Game

By using a wise combination of forward passing, end runs and assaults, and line battering, the Tigers, in the State Normal game, October 25, added a score of 34 to 0 to their enviable record. The Normal Bears played well, and twice launched furious attacks which carried them to Ouachita's 10-yard line. Selph, Brasher, Cannon, and Perry, usual backfield men, never before played a better game. "Pee Wee" renewed his line-breaking record by making four of the five touchdowns. Montgomery and Beidler, playing center, were veritable battering rams or invincible stone walls, whichever they might be to best effect. All the Tigers utilized every advantage to score, and won a decisive victory.

Dallas University Game

The Stadium at Dallas University on November 1 was the scene of the contest in which the invincible Tigers defeated the team of the Catholics by a score of 20 to 0. Following the counsel of Coach Jennings, the Tigers won three touchdowns and then resorted to the repelling of the attempted advances of their opponents. Twice Dallas reached Ouachita's 15-yard line, only to be driven back to a less tempting position. Estes, Brasher, and Estep were like eagles in watching the maneuvers of the Dallas men, and each carried the ball for one of the Tiger touchdowns. In the Ouachita offense Perry and Riggins rendered excellent service, while Selph strengthened his reputation as an all-round football star.

Turkey Day Game

After smoldering twelve months under a defeat at the hands of the ancient foe, the Reddie, the Tiger closed the '24 season by taking the most-talked-of game of the year, and again went into his den to purr for twelve months.

The six thousand spectators were unanimous in their decision that it was a battle of he-men. That is what it was until the last half, when Selph's accurate passing and Graham's lucky grabbing spelled defeat for the Reddies, 12 to 0.

THE FAITHFUL TIGERETTES

A Tribute to the Tigerettes of '24

By LEWIS S. PEARCE

IN view of the fact that the Tiger team of '24 was such a remarkable machine, very few people have recognized the efficiency and fight of the "Scrubs." To most people they compose a team separate from and vastly inferior to the mighty varsity of Ouachita College. But little do they know of the true worth of these little and future Tigers.

The scrubs are just as good a bunch of players and sportsmen as the varsity can be; the main difference between them is a matter of experience. The primary purpose in having a squad of football players who fail to attain the football player's goal, a berth on the varsity, formed into a team known by the supposedly ignominious name of the scrubs, is to furnish some one on whom the varsity can practice. However, there have been instances of the tables being turned, and the varsity finding itself with more than it could handle, and actually being forced to exert itself to defend its goal. This, however, does not prove a destructive condition; it is often beneficial to a team to be forced to do its utmost in practice. Be that as it may, the indisputable fact remains that the scrubs are an essential factor in the development of a winning varsity. They are always eager to help out in any way possible. They bear the brunt of numerous scrimmages, and, though buffeted and bruised, they always come back on their toes, fighting to the last ditch. Their loyalty to the school is unquestionable, for how could a group of men get out on the athletic field and fight like the scrubs do without being urged by loyalty? Some may say that a few do it for selfish reasons, that they are merely fighting in hopes of a position on the varsity, but back of it all is loyalty to the school. This is by far the strongest urge to a varsity man.

Aside from their primary purpose, which is to keep the varsity in trim before and between games, the scrubs have another important mission—that is, the winning of games with second teams of first-class schools and varsities of second-class schools. The Tigerettes of '24, besides keeping in practice one of the best varsities ever put out by Ouachita, were also very successful in games with other teams. Led by Captain Ira Selph, brother of our famous varsity quarterback, the team battled its way through a strenuous and short season, defeating the Magnolia Aggies, Monticello Aggies, and their old gridiron enemies, the Henderson-Brown Dragons, tying Horatio High School, and being defeated only by the Hendrix College Bull Pups.

Basketball Outlook, 1925

By NOEL P. TOMLINSON

CYRIL MELTON Captain
ROBERT COLE Coach

With two veterans to assist him and a brilliant array of new material from which to select, Captain "Cy" Melton should pilot a capable cage team this season of 1925. With Jacoway and Cannon as two most dependable guards and Captain "Cy" flashing his spectacular floor work, Coach Cole has left only the task of selecting his forwards. Last year's second string men should make the grade this session after having been heralded as easy winners over most all opponents on their 1924 schedule.

To date games have been booked with the Arkansas State Normal, Hendrix and Henderson-Brown Colleges, and the College of the Ozarks. In order to bring out a series winner, three games are slated with the above teams. It is probable that a number of Y. M. C. A. teams will be booked for games on the Tiger schedule.

Ever anticipated with intense interest, the final series with the Henderson-Brown Reddies will create more excitement this year than ever before. For the past two seasons this series with the Reddies has ended in a deadlock, but the 1925 Tiger is crouching and preparing for a deadly attack. As the Reddie still smoulders under his football defeat, the coming series should be a hat-lifting scream.

So here's to the Tiger basketeers of 1925. Just follow the inevitable slogan of Captain Palma Hunter and his 1924 crew: "Give them the best that you have and the best will come back to you."

BASKETBALL TEAM

Resume of Baseball, 1924

By THOMAS H. COMPERE.

THE 1924 Ouachita nine, state college champions, was one of the best diamond aggregations ever turned out by an Arkansas school. The team quickly absorbed all the baseball knowledge that was meted out to them by Coach Jennings, and at all times played an intelligent brand of baseball. The Tigers won thirteen and lost five games as a season's total. One of the defeats was by the Joplin Western Association Club, to whom the Tigers lost, 5 to 1, although each team got seven hits.

Ouachita opened the season with "Hoss" Montgomery, veteran catcher, as captain, and the following line-up: Perry, Cole, Selph, and Jacoway, in the infield; Nowlin, Blackman, and Parker, in the outfield; Morehead, Jacoway, Tomlinson, and Dardnne, pitchers; while Estes and Melton were utility men.

The first game was a double victory over the College of the Ozarks. Morehead, Ouachita's pitching ace, allowed only three hits, and struck out thirteen men; score, 3 to 1. In the second game Tomlinson was inserted on the mound, this being his first game as a Tiger twirler; score, 4 to 0.

The next game, the opener of the Reddie series, was won by the Tigers, 6 to 4. Morehead struck out nine men and allowed only four hits.

The Joplin Miners copped the next game, 5 to 1. The second Reddie game resulted in a 6-to-1 victory, in which our Tigers slugged the ball, getting thirteen hits. In the next game, behind the magnificent work of Morehead, the Tigers barely eked out a 4-to-3 victory over the State Normal Bears.

The next week the Tigers left home on a six-game trip. The first stop was at Conway, where they divided a pair with the Bears, and slugged their way to victory over the Bulldogs. The first Normal game was lost by the score of 6 to 0, and the latter won, 3 to 2. In the Hendrix game "Slick" Moore, their pitching ace, held the Tigers scoreless for five innings, but the Jennings men then began a bombardment resulting in a 10-to-6 victory. From there the Tigers went to Clarksville, where they dropped a 5-to-0 game to the College of the Ozarks. In Russellville the Tigers played two games with the Aggies, winning the first, 7 to 6, and losing the second, 9 to 5.

The next week Hendrix played the two remaining games of the series here, coping the first, 5 to 4, and losing the second, a fifteen-inning battle, 3 to 2.

The closing games with Henderson were won by Ouachita, 9 to 0 and 3 to 1.

As a fitting wind-up of the successful season, the Tigers shut out the Aggies, 1 to 0 and 20 to 0, thereby establishing an unchallenged claim to the state championship in 1924.

BASEBALL TEAM

Resume of Track, 1924

By NOEL P. TOMLINSON

The year 1924 saw Ouachita, famous far and near for its prowess in football and baseball, make a lengthy stride in a new direction, and become a formidable power on the cinder paths.

Having had only mediocre track teams in previous seasons, the '24 stars were an inspiration to the school, and a mark of admiration to all concerned. To this marked improvement is attributed the earnest endeavors of Sergeant John Maurer. The "Sarg" began by creating zealous interest in the student body, and at the first call to practice innumerable candidates responded. For a nucleus with which to begin there were Captain McCauley, McCollum, Elliott, Anderson, Phillips, Cannon, and Baggett, as letter men, with Melton and Pullig as recognized high school stars. By strict perseverance and dogged determination, of which he can set a worthy example, the "Sarg" developed his 1924 Tigers.

The opener was a dual meet with the Aggies at Russellville. Before the meet was hardly half finished, the elements stopped it with a rainstorm, but the Tigers were leading by the top-heavy score of 44 to 26. Next came a three-way meet with Ouachita, Henderson-Brown, and State Normal as participants. The Tiger speed merchants walked away with the big end of this meet, too, as the final scores read, Tigers 61, Reddies 49, and Bears 25. The Tigers fell only at the hands of the Hendrix Bulldogs, who were led by the phenomenal "Long John" Thompson. This scene was laid at the state college meet held in the Hendrix Stadium. The Tigers were slow in getting under way, and finally were nosed out by the Bulldogs.

TRACK TEAM

*"War is honorable
In those who do their native rights maintain;
In those whose swords an iron barrier are
Between the lawless spoiler and the weak;
But is in those who draw the offensive blade
For added power or gain, sordid and despicable,
As meanest office of the worldly churl."*

Reveille

*"Oh, it's nice to get up in the morning,
When the sun begins to shine,
At three or four or five o'clock,
In the good old summer time;
But when the air is murky,
And it's chilly overhead,
It's nice to get up in the morning,
But it's nicer to lie in bed."*

*“War must be
While men are what they are; while they have bad
Passions to be rous’d up; while ruled by men;
While all the powers and treasurers of a land
Are at the beck of the ambitious crowd;
While injuries can be inflicted, or
Insults be offer’d; yea, while rights are worth
Maintaining, freedom keeping, or life having,
So long the sword shall shine; so long shall war
Continue, and the need of war remain.”*

VIEWS AT FORT SNELLING

When day is done,
Gone the sun from the lake,
From the hills, from the sky; all is well.
Safely rest—God is nigh.
Fading night
Dims the sight and a star
Gems the sky, gleaming night,
From afar drawing nigh,
Falls the night.
