Jan 15th
1851.

Dearest Julia.

Many thanks for your first sheet, but sheet after which "came to hand" the early part of this week even if it was so small I was delighted to get it.

I have nothing new to say except that the Pages left Monday for home, oh! me but I wanted to go with them, ouch! but I felt sadly when I saw them go.

Maria is now boarding here & evidently don't think it but is an exceedingly pleasant

Dear girl I love her very much indeed.
I suppose Mrs Page & Hope will be with you all at home by the time this letter reaches you, dont forget to go & see Pauline's crew if she is a young-lady she will expect you to come & see her as she had heard a great deal of you from me & had been very sweet & kind to you & the nice.

Mr Throp's agent was here just before he left, to see us & was so sweet & kind (I told him to give Mrs Whit mother) several messages for the boys at home.
Do you hear any-thing of

Love & all as usual
Sweet
Mrs
Page

Deary now! dear darling I hope he is well & I wish to find my love to his little cousin at aunt Low's, how do you like them? of course especially you could not do other with relatives as they are to Deary.

By the way, I wish why don't aunt Low write me, have I done any thing lately to make her angry or feel badly? or is it my excuse "want of time", now please answer this question, you never do, any that I put in my letters, aunt says Charley used to complain terribly when she was on both of that same thing. never answering her which you are going to send me.

I am so much obliged to the kind Mr. Marshall questioned.
Tell Mr. Marshall that it is for given I wrote him a long long letter some time ago on the 20th of November according to my little book or that I have never received an answer in return. I directed it to "Care of Mr.
R. Marshall Esq" but he etc was that right? or should I have put Richmond ^{Virginia} side 49?

I have learnt a great many new songs & pieces and think my voice is improved very much & am so glad for I try to profit by the advantages which I have here.
