

Ouachita Baptist University

Scholarly Commons @ Ouachita

Ouachita!

Ouachita Alumni

3-1988

March 1988

Alumni Newsletter

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarlycommons.obu.edu/ouachita>

Part of the Organizational Communication Commons, and the Public Relations and Advertising Commons

OUACHITA!

OUACHITA BAPTIST UNIVERSITY • ARKADELPHIA, AR • MARCH 1988

■ "Female and male cattle egrets at nest," one of the thousands of pictures taken by Thase Daniel, '29, of El Dorado, that have earned her the distinction of being among the top 10 wildlife photographers in the world. Her story, together with a selection of some of her internationally acclaimed photographs, appears on pages 6-7.

OUACHITA!

News Makers

E. L. Keith establishes endowed scholarship

An endowed scholarship of $100,000 has been established at Ouachita by E. L. Keith of Bella Vista to assist selected students who demonstrate a financial need and who meet certain academic and Christian citizenship standards.

John Cloud, Ouachita's director of planned giving, said Keith's autobiography makes it clear that, "Like the Apostle Paul, Mr. Keith has known both severe deprivation and great abundance."

Starting as "a Texas farm boy who sold 'possum hides to help his family survive during periods of drought and scarcity," Cloud said, Keith "forged his way to success through hard work, intelligence and a strong faith. Over the years, he owned and operated businesses as a machinist, plumber, builder and electrician and built a remarkable air-conditioning and appliance concern that included many of his family members."

Keith "has been generous to various causes throughout his lifetime," Cloud said, "and enjoys sharing his resources to benefit others." After coming to Arkansas in 1947, Keith built a fish hatchery and trout fishery at Cave Springs. He later added a restaurant, cabins, skating rink, swimming pool and other attractions.

In 1953, Keith bought Old Bella Vista, Cloud said, and began a complete renovation.

"His resorts provided marvelous family entertainment at a reasonable price," Cloud said. "After selling Bella Vista to Cooper Communities in 1964, he started the K-Bar Dude Ranch and Rodeo."

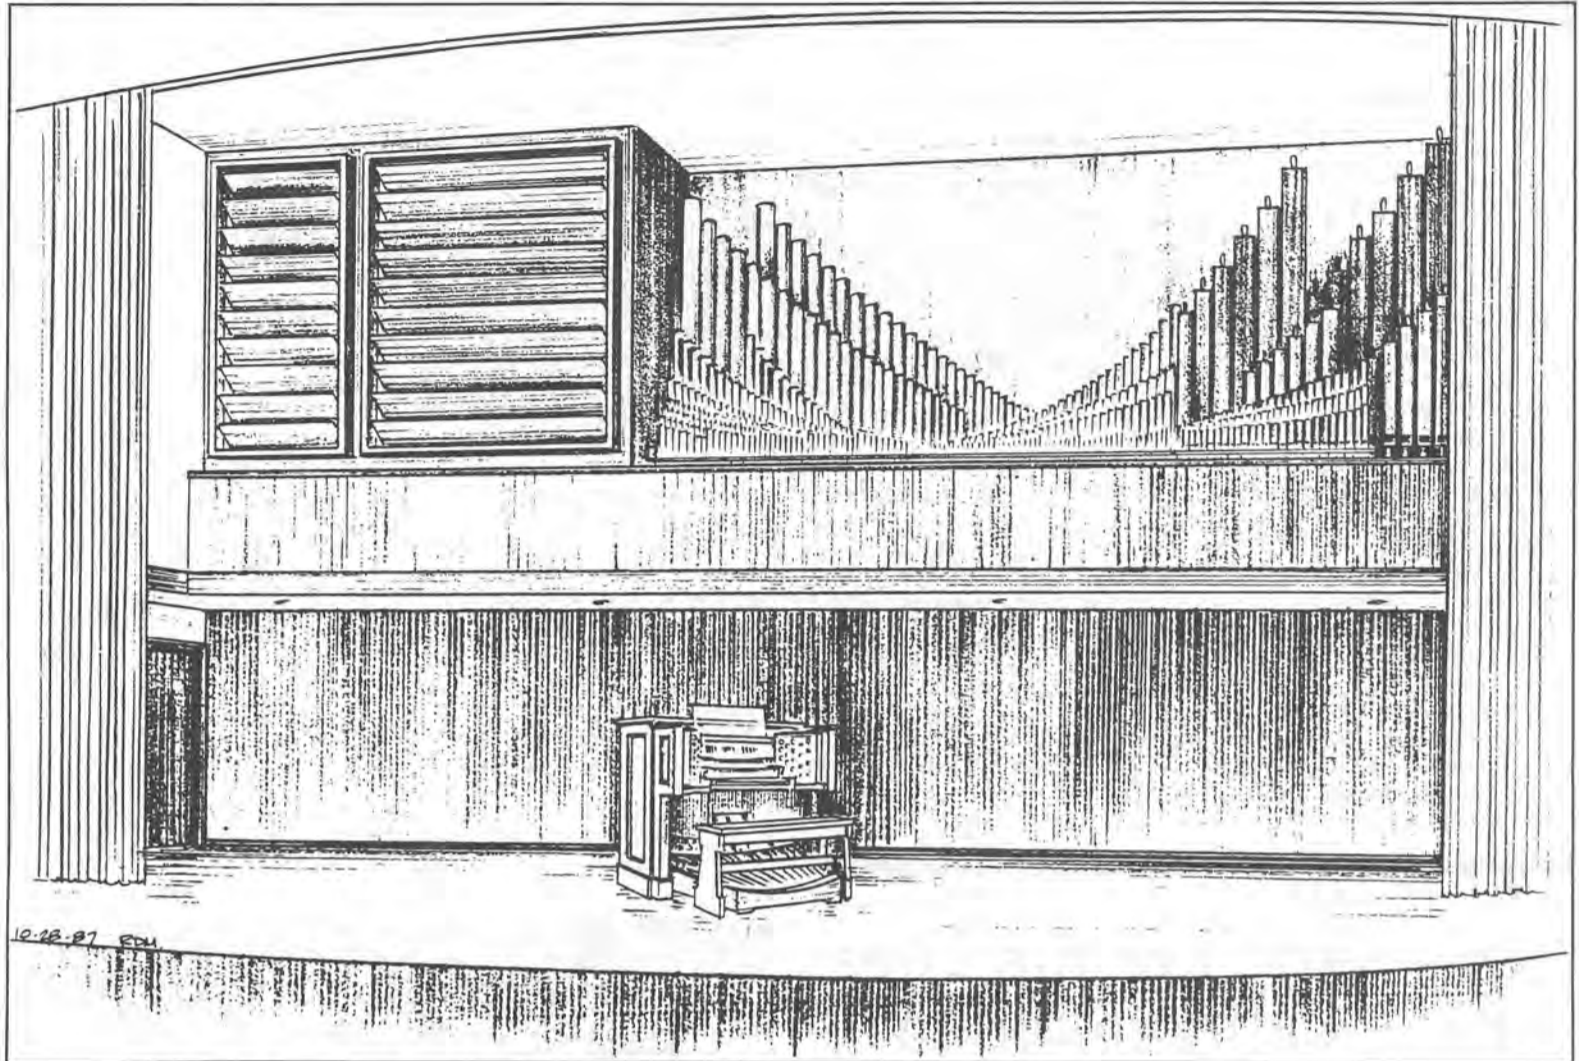

Along the way, Cloud said, Keith has helped start and build four churches, including the Bella Vista Baptist Church. Now 87, Keith remains active by looking after his investments.

E. L. Keith

INSIDE OUACHITA!

- Ouachita a family tradition for Liles, page 2.
- Profiles on Raouf Halaby, Susan Wink, page 3.
- Homecoming gallery, page 4.
- The wildlife photography of El Dorado's Thase Daniel, pages 6 and 7.
- Class Notes, pages 7-11.

■ Architectural rendering of the new pipe organ and how it will appear in the recital hall of Mabee Fine Arts Center.

New pipe organ should be ready by May

Fund drive lacks only $15,000 to reach $215,000 goal

The new pipe organ being constructed at a total cost of $215,000 for Mabee Fine Arts Center by the Reuter Organ Company of Lawrence, Kan., should be installed and ready to play this May, according to Dr. Charles Wright, dean of the OBU School of Music.

Consisting of 34 ranks of 1,989 individual pipes, the new organ was made possible by a pledge of $120,000 from the Roy and Christine Sturgis Trust of Malvern, with the remaining $95,000 consisting of individual gifts, some of which have been designated for the organ fund as far back as 1975.

The Sturgis pledge inspired additional giving from alumni and friends, closing the gap to only $15,000 short of the goal.

"We are confident that some generous donors will provide the remainder," Cloud said.

"Interest in the fund gained momentum last fall, however, when Dr. William E. Trantham, professor of music, told students during a field trip to a local church that Ouachita needed a pipe organ. Lisa Speer, one of his students who also happens to be the daughter of Mrs. Katie Speer of Malvern, a co-trustee of the Sturgis trust, immediately shared the need with her mother. Captivated by the project, Mrs. Speer — an organist herself — and co-trustee Barry Findtually visible and others enclosed in wooden casework. Hidden below the pipework will be the electrical and mechanical devices necessary to the organ's operation. The instrument is played from a console which contains the keyboards and mechanical controls. The console itself will be moveable on the floor of the stage to provide flexibility."

'The new organ was made possible by a pledge of $120,000 from the Roy and Christine Sturgis Trust of Malvern' ley approved the gift of $120,000.

Russell Hodges, instructor of organ at Ouachita, who played a major role in designing the new organ, said it "will be an instrument of visual as well as tonal beauty."

The pipework, he said, "will be attractively displayed on the shelf above the stage with many pipes ac-

In further describing the new organ, Hodges said the pipes are divided among four divisions: the Great, Swell and Positiv, which are played from different keyboards of 61 notes each, and the Pedal of 32 notes, which are played with the feet. Additional mechanical devices make it possible, he said, "to control effectively the wide variety of sounds."

Hodges said the organ will be used in several ways. "In addition to its use as a teaching and performing instrument," he said, "the organ will be used to accompany many singers and instrumentalists, as well as the University choir and other ensembles in concerts each semester."

Other opportunities for use of the organ, he said, include the annual Church Music Workshop and summer music camps, accompanying congregational singing and providing worship music.

"The most important use, however," he said, "will be the training of young organists to become the church musicians of the future."

Completion of the organ will mark the attainment of another Second Century goal set by faculty, staff, students, trustees, alumni and other friends of Ouachita during the Centennial celebration that ended in September 1986.

Dr. Daniel R. Grant announces retirement

Dr. Daniel R. Grant, president of Ouachita Baptist University since 1970, caught a lot of people by surprise in December when he announced to the Board of Trustees that he plans to retire on August 31, 1988. But in every respect, he said, the right time for stepping down had arrived.

Grant, who will turn 65 in August, said he had made the decision because he wanted "to slow down just a little and do some of the things Mrs. Grant and I have been unable to do in recent years."

"I am pleased that I can retire at a time when Ouachita is at an all-time high in academic, physical and spiritual resources and reputation."

Among specific examples cited were that:

- Student enrollment rose dramatically this fall, with a 15 percent increase in the freshman class.
- The entering class of freshmen includes nine Arkansas Governor's Scholars and six National Merit Finalists.
- More than 50 percent of the OBU faculty have doctor's degrees.
- Endowed chairs have been established in business, Bible, pre-medical studies, music and English with others soon to be announced.
- In recognition of Ouachita's

See Search committee, P.2

Dr. Mike Arrington

Dr. Tom Turner

■ Dr. Mike Arrington has been appointed acting vice president for academic affairs and dean of the School of Arts and Sciences. Dr. Tom Turner, who had held those two positions since 1982, has been appointed to the Elma Grey Goodwin and Charles S. Holt Chair of Physics and Pre-Medical Studies. After his return from China last year, Dr. Turner asked for the change in assignments because he had become "fired up," he said, to return to the classroom and to help develop a research program at Ouachita.

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

How do you spell 'alumnus'?

by Dr. Wesley Kluck, M.D.
President, Former Student Association

What does it mean to be an alumnus of Ouachita Baptist University? Many of you have your own ideas, but I would like to share mine with you. Let's look at the word ALUMNUS for our thinking:

- A = ACTIVE. We should all be active in our involvement with Ouachita.
- L = LEADERS. When called upon, we should accept leadership roles in different boards, committees and support organizations.
- U = UNWAVERING LOYALTY. Our support for Ouachita should be constant and consistent.
- M = MISSIONARY. We should be "missionaries" in student recruitment by talking about OBU at our home churches and local schools.
- N = NETWORK. Our influence in helping with the placement of graduating seniors and unemployed qualified alumni should create a strong employment network.

- U = UNDERSTANDING. We should try to be understanding of any problems, by lending a helping hand and not a critical voice.
- S = SUPPORTERS. Our support should be prayerful, financial, political and especially helpful.

Let's make a new year's resolution of renewing our role as an alumnus for the year 1988. Our influence as an organized group of 13,000 in number can have vast and far-reaching effects in promoting our alma mater.

Changing subjects, let me congratulate Mike Kolb, registrar, for his new position as director of placement. Mike has already done many new and exciting things for this year's graduating seniors in the area of job hunting. I'm looking forward to working with him through the FSA in our newly established TIGER NETWORK. We will be contacting many of you soon for help in establishing a strong placement service at Ouachita.

'Chu to China II' raises travel funds for 'Mom' Chu to revisit her homeland

By Agnes Coppenger

The Baptist Women's Council of First Baptist Church in Arkadelphia is sponsoring "Chu to China-II" to enable OBU Dorm Mom Rosemary Chu to visit her homeland this summer.

Mrs. Chu's trip will be provided if she can enlist five members, at approximately $3,200 each, to join the tour to China June 24-July 10 led by Dorothy Sample, former president of WMU-SBC. The tour, which will provide a special service emphasis on "Teaching Gifted Children," will include field experiences, teaching, opportunities to meet with Chinese who share similar interests and observation. Tour extensions can be arranged.

If "Mom Chu" does not realize her goal of five tour members, the Baptist Women are seeking the needed funds, with the help of the AWS on campus, on a low-key basis of 50¢ to $1 each from present students, faculty and staff. Alumni and friends who would like to have a part in the project may send a check to "Chu to China-II," First Baptist Church, 8th and Pine Streets, Arkadelphia, AR 71923.

Persons interested in joining the Centennial Tour are invited to contact Mrs. Rosemary Chu, OBU Box 3719, Arkadelphia, AR 71923, (501) 246-4025.

In 1979 the AWS (Association of Women Students) at Ouachita sponsored the first "Chu to China" project to enable Mrs. Chu and her daughter Jane to return to her home for the first visit since she left in 1950, as a refugee from the Communist takeover the year before. They were not granted visas to mainland China, however, and were sent on an OBU tour of Southeast Asia, including Hong Kong.

The new openness of Mainland China, the urging of her remaining relatives (her Lutheran pastor father and mother are dead) and the Centennial tours observing the beginning of the SBC Lottie Moon Christmas Offering for Foreign Missions have all prompted the First Baptist women to pledge their help in a second-visit attempt.

Mrs. Chu's extraordinary adventures in leaving China, reaching the United States, meeting and marrying Dr. Finley Chu, with their subsequent service with Chinese students in Chicago, their work at Oklahoma Baptist University, their coming to Arkadelphia and their talented daughter, are the stuff of which best sellers are made.

Dr. Chu, who at one time was chairman of business and economics at Ouachita, died in 1967. Since then "Mom Chu" has shepherded Frances Crawford-West dormitory through 21 school years and countless summer camps and conferences.

She loves to cook Chinese dinners upon request, belongs to Baptist Women and a campus dorm-mom Bible study, has been president of her Sunday School class and serves in her church homebound ministry, all of which she deems as an honor.

Jane, who grew up in Frances Crawford dorm, is now in Lincoln, Neb., where she recently completed an additional degree in commercial art. She is serving as director of the Singles Ministry at St. Mark's United Methodist Church and as interim music director.

In 1978, while Jane was at Ouachita, she served as a BSU summer missionary in San Francisco and returned to become Homecoming Queen that fall. In 1979 she was named "Miss OBU" and won the $1,000 Coleman Dairy Talent Award for her piano playing in the "Miss Arkansas" pageant. In 1980 she played at the WMU Annual Meeting in St. Louis and explained how Lottie Moon was responsible for her parents becoming Christians in their native China.

Ouachita: For the Liles, it's a family tradition

By William D. Downs Jr.

Molly Mizell, a freshman accounting major from Little Rock, represents the fourth consecutive generation of the Lile family to attend Ouachita.

The tradition reaches all the way back to the founding of the school in 1886 when J. G. Lile entered as a freshman. Succeeding generations included the late R. A. "Brick" Lile, Class of 1927; his sister, Mary Jo Lile Mizell, Class of 1940; and her son, David Mizell, Class of 1970.

J. G. Lile, who graduated with honors from Ouachita in 1889, later became a faculty member and the school's first endowment secretary. His daughter, Mary Jo Mizell of Little Rock, said recently that she remembered him as being "a tall, strong man, like one of the oak trees he helped plant on the Ouachita campus." Some of those trees, she said, are still standing.

She also recalled him as having a sharp sense of humor and as being "a great story teller and teacher" who frequently spoke at high schools in Arkansas in an effort to recruit new students for Ouachita.

In 1939, the 50th anniversary of his graduation, Mr. Lile delivered Ouachita's baccalaureate address and was awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree by the president, Dr. J. R. Grant.

Her brother, R. A. "Brick" Lile, who died in March 1987, received an honorary doctor of laws degree himself in 1972. The award was presented by Dr. Daniel R. Grant, the son of Dr. J. R. Grant.

R. A. Lile served for six years as a member of the Board of Trustees and chairman of the Board's Endowment Committee. He was designated a Centennial Achiever by Ouachita in 1986.

Mrs. Mizell, who entered Ouachita in 1937, exactly 50 years before Molly, was actually born on campus in a house where Flippen-Perrin dormitory now stands.

Consequently, she said, "I've known Ouachita all my life." In fact, all six of her brothers and sisters who lived to adulthood also attended the school.

Remembering her brother "Brick," she said, "He was such a sentimental person that he would choke up whenever he would talk about Ouachita, his family or the church." He was "a man of vision," she said, who was "brilliant" in mathematics and could seemingly think through three or four problems or ideas at the same time.

Mary Jo Lile Mizell and Molly Mizell visit in front of Lile Hall.

"We were not only brother and sister," she said, smiling softly, "but we were also very good friends."

Mrs. Mizell's husband Walter graduated from Ouachita in 1943. He received his M.D. degree in 1950 from the University of Arkansas College of Medicine.

After graduating from Ouachita, David earned his Ph.D. degree in computer science in 1978 from the University of Southern California, where he is conducting research in USC's Information Sciences Institute.

In addition to David, the Mizells have two other sons. Joe Lile Mizell, who is Molly's father, has a master's degree in computer science. Philip Mizell is an M.D. in the practice of psychiatry in Little Rock.

OSF continues to provide services

The Ouachita Student Foundation, one of the most noteworthy success stories in the school's history, continues to provide a surprising variety of essential services.

Established in 1974 "to promote Ouachita spirit and to raise scholarships for deserving students," the OSF program for 1987-'88 includes:

- a series of 29 programs, "Windows on Ouachita," for prospective students;
- continuation of the popular "Dinners for 20" programs, which invite outstanding alumni to return to campus where they meet with students in their major departments;
- Tiger Tunes, a campus-wide musical "extravaganza" presented last October;
- sending Christmas cards to more than 5,000 prospective students;
- planning an all-new version of Tiger Traks, scheduled for April 22-23;
- raising additional money for scholarships and operating expenses.

The OSF membership includes 39 students, the largest number in three years. Chris Lawson of El Dorado is president. Andy Westmoreland, development officer at Ouachita, is the OSF director.

Search committee appointed to seek next president commitment to serving as "a doorway to the world," he said a foreign language requirement has been adopted for all new students entering Ouachita in the fall of 1988.

Continued from Page 1

• Exchange programs have been established in Japan and China.

• Negotiations are in progress to establish additional study programs in Europe.

• New buildings constructed during his tenure include Evans Student Center, Lile Hall, Mabee Fine Arts Center, McClellan Hall, a new maintenance building, the Eddie Blackmon Field House, apartments for married students, Sturgis Physical Education Center and Riley-Hicklingbotham Library.

• A unique program of cooperation has been established with Hen-

Dr. Daniel R. Grant

erson State University in such key areas as joint lectures, concerts and shared library facilities.

Accomplishments in the Christian dimension, he said, include:

- The selection of Ouachita by the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention for a unique pilot project to send students to Ecuador during spring break this year to work with Southern Baptist missionaries.

• Spring-break mission trips to work with inner-city children in Washington, D.C.

• The development of strong ties with Brazil through AMAR mission projects.

• Three separate mission trips in 1988 to Southern Africa.

• The establishment of a six-week study program in mainland China beginning next summer.

In September, Dr. Grant was elected chairman of a newly organized consortium of Baptist colleges and universities, which will work closely with the Foreign Mission Board, he said, "in responding to calls for help that come from the most inaccessible parts of the world."

A successor to Dr. Grant will be recommended by a presidential search committee that includes William H. "Buddy" Sutton, Little Rock, chairman of the Board of Trustees, ex officio chairman; Tom Ashcraft, Little Rock, chairman of the executive committee, ex officio; Kathleen Burton, Little Rock, chairman of the Board of Trustees during Ouachita's centennial year; Mike Carroll, Fort Smith; Jo Ford, Little Rock; Del Medlin, Cabot; and Lynn Worthen, Arkadelphia.

The responsibilities of the Search Committee as outlined by the Board of Trustees will be:

- to solicit recommendations and applications;
- to secure all appropriate information on the qualifications of those who apply and/or who are recommended;

• to propose the name of one person for consideration and election by the Board of Trustees, along with recommended salary and fringe benefits; and

• to seek God's leadership in the entire search process.

The committee will also be responsible for preparing a statement of desired qualifications to be approved by the Board and advertising for recommendations and applications "both inside and outside the state of Arkansas, including through such media as the Chronicle of Higher Education and selected state Baptist newspapers."

A graduate of Ouachita, Dr. Grant received his M.A. degree from the University of Alabama in 1946 and the Ph.D. degree from Northwestern University in 1948.

■ Dr. Raouf Halaby

■ Dr. Susan Wink

FACULTY PROFILES

Two English professors talk about themselves and Ouachita

RAOUF HALABY

By Jean Wood

When Raouf Halaby packed up and headed for Ouachita in 1965, he wasn't just making the four-hour drive that separated many freshmen from the university. Between Halaby and OBU lay an ocean and a continent.

"I had an advantage over many international students in that I spoke English fluently," said Halaby, "but it still took a lot of perseverance to make it."

Halaby was born in Jerusalem, a Palestinian Arab, but the family moved to Lebanon in 1959 because there were fewer restrictions in that country for Palestinians. Because of the strong British influence in Palestine, Halaby's parents knew English. "When I was four, five and six, my parents would speak English so the children wouldn't understand, the way American parents speak," said Halaby. He began learning English formally in sixth grade at a school in Jerusalem that was mainly for the children of ambassadors, U.N. officials and foreign international businessmen.

Despite Lebanon's relatively fair treatment of Palestinians, Halaby still did not have an equal opportunity to attend college. "There were only two reputable universities in Lebanon, and they were very expensive. They also had quotas for the number of students of each nationality. My chances of getting in were almost zero."

So Halaby took the TOEFL (Testing English as a Foreign Language) exam, making the highest score registered in Lebanon at that time, and came to the U.S. Once here, he realized there was more involved in communicating than sentence structure and vocabulary. "I had to get used to American idioms and the Southern drawl," said Halaby. When Dr. Carl Goodson and his wife had Halaby to dinner, they hospitably told him, "If you need anything, the latch is always on the outside of the door."

"I thought they meant it literally," said Halaby. "I was looking at the door frame for a latch."

Halaby had two major interests at the time he began college — English and medicine. "I didn't do well at all in freshman English," said Halaby. The professor's speech was difficult for him to understand, and "we had to write a term paper. I'd never typed before in my life. My margin was here and here," Halaby said, making a zig-zag design in the air with his index finger. "She was kind to have given me a D; I deserved an F."

Judging by this disastrous start, it should have been Raouf Halaby, M.D., who sat behind the oak desk, not Dr. Raouf Halaby, Ed.D., English professor. But if there's one thing Halaby isn't, that's a quitter.

"I chose to study English because I've always enjoyed reading, writing and interpreting literature. And it was the challenge — that I could do it."

Halaby's tenacity has reaped rewards. Few people ever learn a second language well enough to write creatively in it. Halaby is an exception to this rule. He is constantly working on a new short story or news article. His latest is under the working title of "Legal System Lags Behind Science" and addresses the question of genetic engineering. He has become a regular contributor to the Forum page of the Arkansas Gazette, and his work has attracted the attention of such reputable publications as the Wall Street Journal and the Smithsonian Institution Press.

'Intellect has no confines if one has the desire and will to add some elbow grease.'

"It's great to work with Raouf," said colleague Johnny Wink. "He's always up and energetic, and that can make you energetic too."

That energy comes from Halaby's drive to find out new things. "My curiosity truly comes from my Ouachita experience," Halaby said. "There were many professors who set a good example for me."

Halaby challenges students to become informed and active, to be tenacious in learning. "Americans' opinions are often made for them by the media — a small group of people — rather than people making up their own minds." The United States' size and relative isolation make it difficult for Americans to understand international problems clearly. "Here you see world events second-hand. In a small country, international actions affect people's daily lives. More happens on a firsthand basis. When your country is just a small part of the world, you're forced to see the whole picture."

"Take advantage of OBU's opportunities," Halaby advises students. "For a small school we've got some first class programs — plays, lectures, concerts, exchange and other programs. I'm excited that a student can enroll in a liberal arts program with such a broad-based curriculum."

He challenges his students, Halaby said, "to take advantage of educational opportunities beyond the classroom. If a student has a project or idea he wants to pursue, his professor should encourage him. Intellect has no confines if one has the desire and will to add some elbow grease."

SUSAN WINK

By Gina Eden

Leaning back in her office chair, Susan Wink looks thoughtfully out the window. "You know, I have so many stories," she says, flashing a curious smile and self-consciously smoothing her short, wavy brown hair that snugly frames her face. Her stories are of lonely nights in France, of working in lower Manhattan with a shipping company, of writing her first novel and of first dates with Johnny Wink, a popular professor of English at Ouachita.

Experiencing life is what matters to her. She is content with life because she lives it to the fullest. But the time she spends sharing her thoughts with Johnny are the most meaningful to her.

"We spend hours just listening to each other talk. Johnny is great fun to be married to," she says.

She remembers when they first met. It was at the University of Arkansas in Fayetteville. Though she wasn't sure who he was exactly, she said "yes" when he called and asked her out. "I had to look out the window to see who he was before he came to my door," she says. "We stayed up all night on the couch talking and talking. We knew immediately we would get married." And so, in 1969, they did. A year later they had their first and only child, Gene.

"We adore Gene," she says. "He somehow got all the best of Johnny and me."

Today she and Johnny still do a lot of talking, though they have moved from the couch to a pool table which sits in their dining room. "We love to shoot pool," she says. "But instead of playing against each other, we play against the table." And with a smile that makes her look as though she realizes it for the first time, she says, "You might say it's a symbol of our marriage. We are a true team."

But Susan Wink is also an individual. This Ouachita English professor is not just "Mrs. Wink," but in fact she is "Dr. Wink."

"I worked just as hard for my doctorate as Johnny did," she says defiantly.

Dr. Wink's varied work experience has covered more than academics. She believes that the broad experiences have helped her discover that her talents go far beyond English and good writing. She was a histology technologist for an animal and science department in Fayetteville and was a research assistant in microbiology at the Medical Center in Little Rock. Prior to this she was an assistant for an orthopedic surgeon at the University of Washington in Seattle. In the early 1960's she worked as a PBX operator for a Greek shipping company in New York city. But among the many places she has been, the most meaningful place was France.

After taking every French course offered by Ouachita's Jack Estes, she says, "There was nothing left for me to do but to go to France. I've always loved French literature in translation. I knew it would be even greater in its original form. I wanted something different."

'Life is worth experiencing. But you'll never know if you simply sit back and watch it pass you by.'

And so she left, "not because things were bad, as many rumors had it, but because things were so good," says Wink. During her nine-month stay in the Old Burgundy region of France, she did not see her family. "Although Johnny wrote me every day, it was a difficult time," she says. There were financial burdens, nights of solitude and "some mornings when I just didn't want to get out of bed — knowing I would have to concentrate on every word I said and every word I heard all day long. It wore me out."

Despite the difficulties, it was all worth it, she says. "I learned something very important. My verbal skills and my identity are inseparable. Language is me — my expression of life."

When asked what she would do if she could do anything in the world, she says, "I would take my family and all the other people whom I love, move to France and write novels until I died."

In her 14 years at Ouachita, she has encouraged many students interested in writing. She tells them to keep a notebook — of scraps of conversations with scenes and people. "Start collecting material now by keeping your eyes and ears open until you have time to write," she says. "Don't be afraid to experience life."

She recalls the time right before she left for France. "People were really happy for me. It was as if they were vicariously going too," she says. "Many admire me for what I did. But they would never do it themselves. They are too safe here," she says.

With an intense expression, she leans forward in her chair and says, "Life is worth experiencing. But you'll never know if you simply sit back and watch it pass you by."

Jean Wood and Gina Eden are communication majors at Ouachita. Miss Wood is also the editor-in-chief of the Signal.

McBeth chosen 'Arkansas Hero'

Dr. W. Francis McBeth, Ouachita's composer in residence and the Lenn Goodwin Trimble Professor of Music, was honored this fall as one of 20 "Arkansas Heroes" by the Arkansas Times magazine.

Honorees also included Harold Gottlieb, a Jewish leader in Hot Springs; the Hendrix College Swim Team; Gene Gibbons and Ken Richardson, counselors at GYST House for addicts; Lily Peter; Nancy Steel; former school teacher Evangeline Brown; Jeff Henthorn, head of Citizens Against Landfill in Pindall; David Pryor; John McDonnell, cross-country coach at University of Arkansas at Fayetteville; and Diane Watt, director of adult education for Ashley County.

Richard Brown studies environmental damage

Dr. Richard Brown, associate professor of biology, is conducting a study to determine the damage caused by various agricultural species when they are grown in soil contaminated by the residues of JP-4 aviation fuel. The study, which will involve a number of undergraduate students, is sponsored by the U.S.A.F.'s Office of Scientific Research at Bolling AFB near Washington, D.C.

Two Ouachita grads pass dietetic exam

Two 1986 Ouachita graduates, Stacey Simmons Freeman and Joy Busby Smith, recently passed the American Dietetic Association registration examination to become Registered Dietitians. After graduation from OBU, both completed dietetic internship requirements at the University of Arkansas Medical Science and Veteran's Administration Centers before taking the exam. Both women scored well above the national mean of all students taking the exam.

Mrs. Stacey Freeman, R.D., currently resides in Batesville, Ark., and is employed at the White River Medical Center as a clinical dietitian and assistant director of the dietary department. Mrs. Joy Smith, R.D., has recently been employed as director of dietary in the new Southwest Hospital in Little Rock, Ark.

Three home economics majors are making application for dietetic internships during the spring 1988 semester. They include Charlotte Davis, Tammy Keaster and Beth Polo. Internship announcements will be made in mid-April.

Your Year Is Here!

1988 REUNIONS

The year for the 3's and 8's

COMMENCEMENT May 6-7

- 1900-1938 Gold Tiger Dinner May 6
- Senior Picnic, Grants' Home May 6
- Breakfast and Campus Tour May 7
- FSA Alumni Luncheon and Annual Meeting May 7

HOMECOMING November 11-12

OBU vs. HARDING

- '43, '48, '53, '58, '63, '68, '73, '78, '83
- Reunion Dinner
- Alumni Buffet
- Bloc-seating at game
- After-game Suppers

Mailings with details will be sent to each class. Other interested groups wanting to schedule get-togethers, friends or former students interested in joining any of these class reunions are asked to contact Carbon Sims, OBU Box 3762, Arkadelphia, AR 71923, 501/246-4531, Ext. 576.

News Makers

Doug Brandon provides new furniture at cost

Doug Brandon of Little Rock, president of Brandon House Furniture, has told Ouachita that he will provide furniture and carpeting at cost for the home of OBU's Missionary-in-residence.

His offer includes completely refurbishing the living room, purchasing a new dining room table and chairs, carpeting the living room and purchasing rugs for other rooms.

Roger Harrod, vice president for development, said, "We appreciate the generosity of Mr. Brandon and his staff who worked tirelessly with Ouachita in order to achieve the most for our money."

Mrs. J. E. Berry of El Dorado, who provided the money for the new furnishings, said she had "long been interested in missions and saw this as a way of contributing to the health and welfare of missionaries who are home on furlough."

Foundation honors Winston Beard, '53

Dr. Winston C. Beard, Class of 1953, the president of the Hendrik Medical Center Foundation in Abilene, Tex., has earned the rank of Fellow in the National Association for Hospital Development.

A spokesman for the medical center said the designation "is the highest accreditation for hospital resource development professionals. Of approximately 2,000 association members, less than 10 percent have achieved the rank of Fellow."

Beard, who was chairman of the Division of Business at Ouachita from 1977 to 1979, later served as dean of the School of Business at Hardin-Simmons University before joining the Foundation in 1983.

Library gift honors Arthur Peterson Jr.

A memorial fund for the purchase of books for Riley-Hickingbotham Library has been established in memory of Arthur Peterson, Jr., Class of 1936.

The fund was set up by his sister, Mrs. Gretchen Thomas of Bartlesville, Okla., and his brother, Dr. Robert L. Peterson of Missoula, Mont.

Mr. Peterson served in the Army during World War II as a basic drill instructor and later as a member of the Special Services branch. Most of his adult life was spent as an entertainer in Chicago, where he retired in 1985.

'Emergency fund' assists students

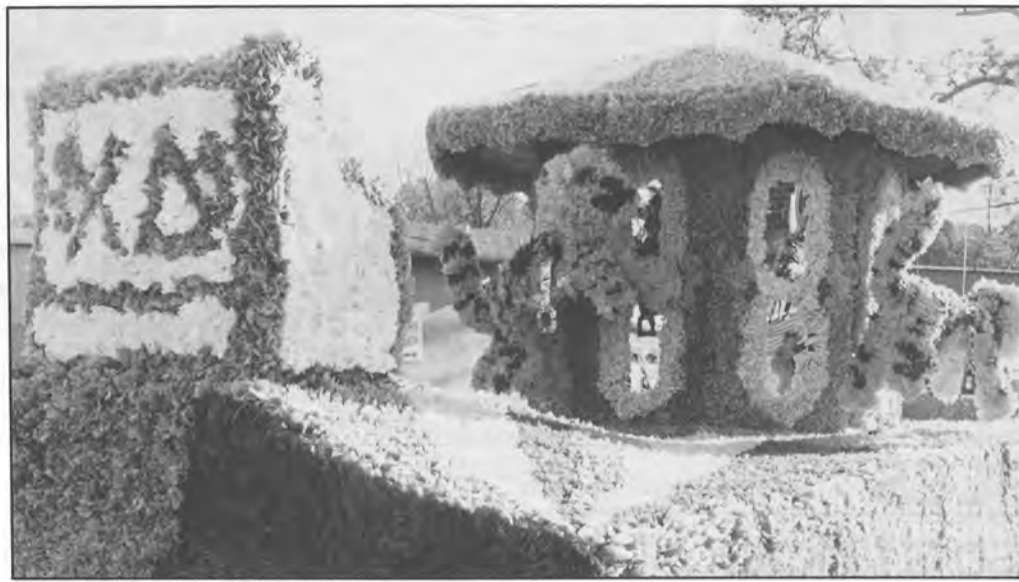

A number of students at Ouachita have been pleasantly surprised during the last few months to learn that a source of additional funds is available to help them meet educational expenses.

The "emergency fund" has been established by Mrs. J. E. Berry of El Dorado "to help students in school who might otherwise have to leave because of financial pressures," Roger Harrod, vice president for development, said.

"For a student who is facing the possibility of having to leave Ouachita because of an inability to meet expenses, Harrod said, this fund was a real Godsend."

Joe Franz, OBU's business manager, said, "It is so much nicer to be able to point to a possible source of help to students who are experiencing financial difficulty rather than having to see them leave school."

HOMECOMING 1987

FLOAT WINNER

After a week of hard work, club members presented their floats for competition during the homecoming parade down Main Street in Arkadelphia. The Chi Delta women's social club won first place with its float theme, "Tiger Spirit Going Around."

THE 2's AND 7's

Homecoming was a time for the 2's and 7's graduating classes to gather for dinner on Friday night. Dr. Daniel R. Grant acknowledges the planning and preparation by FSA President Dr. Wesley Kluck and the entire FSA staff for coordinating the homecoming activities.

MUSICIANS REUNITE

The School of Music sponsored a reunion dinner for graduates and former students. The dinner on Friday evening was followed by a program in Mabee Fine Arts Center.

CLASS OF '82

Members of the Class of 1982 gathered at the home of Andy ('79) and Jeanna ('82) Westmoreland for an after-game supper on Saturday. Jeanna is on the staff of Dawson-Coop, and Andy is a development officer for OBU and director of the Ouachita Student Foundation.

Joe Nix elected ASTA board chairman

Dr. Joe Nix, professor of chemistry at Ouachita, has been elected vice chairman of the board of the Arkansas Science and Technology Authority.

Created by the Arkansas legislature, ASTA is part of Governor Bill Clinton's economic development program to assist the state in the areas of science and technology.

Nix said the group has been funded to support basic and applied research, business incubators (programs at state schools that "give a start" to new technology-oriented businesses before they move out into the state) and to provide "seed capital" for such businesses.

At Ouachita, Nix is also the W. D. and Alice Burch Professor of Chemistry and Pre-Medical Studies.

He recently received a grant of $148,000 from the Vicksburg District of the Corps of Engineers to continue his study of lakes DeGray, Ouachita and Greeson, a project that began in 1974.

Wayne Everett reports on his sabbatical

The fact that Dr. Wayne Everett spent Ouachita's first extended sabbatical studying the reaction of acetic acid with glucose derivative and the dimerization of bovine plasma albumin under the influence of copper sulfate may not be enough to make readers spill their morning coffee.

But when his work at the University of Texas in Dallas is explained in terms of the importance of carbohydrates in the human body, that's another matter.

"I'm interested in studying the structure of molecules that are important to living organisms," said Everett, professor of chemistry and chairman of the division of natural sciences. "By determining those structures, we can then learn why they function as they do in the body, what the nature of some disease processes may be and, ultimately, how to alleviate that disease."

The results of his research may be

Buddy Benson named to NAIA Hall of Fame

Head football coach Buddy Benson, who was inducted earlier this year into the NAIA Football Hall of Fame, said he has stayed at Ouachita for 22 years "because there are so many good things going on at this school and I'm perfectly content to be here."

Benson, who has led the Tigers to 127 wins against 89 losses and only five ties during his career, has compiled the third-highest number of victories among active coaches in NAIA Division I.

Asked if he still had any goals to shoot for, he replied quickly, "Sure. I want to win the conference championship this year and recruit the types of young men with competitive ability who want to obtain a degree and who want to be a part of Ouachita."

Joe Nix poses with his new family in front of their home on Walnut Street in Arkadelphia. His marriage to the former Laura McHaney took place Dec. 27 in Berry Chapel. Laura, who was one of Nix's freshman chemistry students about 13 years ago, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jack McHaney of Pine Bluff. The family group also includes Laura's two-and-a-half-year-old daughter Erin. Mrs. Nix is an anesthetist at St. Joseph's Hospital in Hot Springs.

Wayne Everett says the reason he became involved in so many research projects was "to get things started" for his undergraduate students to pursue when he returned to Ouachita. The seven-month break, he said, gave him time "for reflection and renewal and created new interests in other areas of science that I had not studied before."

quite helpful in the study of proteins and carbohydrates, knowledge of which may be helpful in understanding the functioning of the human body in health and disease.

Everett, who has been at Ouachita for 27 years, said the reaction of acetic acid with glucose derivative "tells us something about the reactivity of the different parts of the glucose molecule," which is the source of most of the body's energy.

He chose to work with bovine plasma albumin, he said, because this predominant protein in cow's blood is similar to that found in humans.

Head football coach Buddy Benson received his NAIA Hall of Fame plaque Jan. 6 in Atlanta from Wally Hood, head football coach at Fairmont State College in Fairmont, W. Va. "I try to instill in our players that winning is a lifetime thing," Benson said, "not only on the football field, but throughout life. I tell them that they have to give everything they've got each day."

Four new members named to OBU Board of Trustees

Newly appointed members of the OBU Board of Trustees include Gene Layman of Springdale, Del L. Medlin of Cabot, Mrs. Glenn A. Burton of Little Rock and Rex M. Terry of Fort Smith.

Layman is a 1956 graduate of Texas A&M and received his master of religious education from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in 1958. He is manager of the furniture department of Layman's Inc. in Springdale. He is married to Anna Mary Richards Layman. They have two sons, David Eugene Layman and Timothy Lawrence Layman.

Medlin is pastor of First Baptist Church in Cabot. He is a 1973 graduate of Ouachita, where he received the B.A. degree. He received his master of divinity from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in 1977 and his doctor of ministries from there in 1981. He is married to Peggy Jean Medlin, and they have three children: Jason, 12; Michael, 9; and Ashley, 7.

Mrs. Burton received her bachelor of arts from Ouachita in 1949. She is a member of Immanuel Baptist Church in Little Rock, where she is a member of the choir, a WMU leader and a Sunday School teacher. She served two terms on the Board of Trustees at OBU from 1981 to 1986 and was chairman in 1986. She is married to Dr. Glenn Allen Burton. They have four children: Allen, Mark, Brian and Sara.

Terry is a 1973 graduate of Ouachita, where he received the B.A. with a major in history. He graduated from the University of Arkansas School of Law at Fayetteville in 1976. Since then he has been a partner of the law firm of Hardin Jesson and Dawson in Fort Smith.

Terry is a member of First Baptist Church in Fort Smith, where he serves as a deacon and a Sunday School teacher. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Western Arkansas Counseling and Guidance Center in Fort Smith and a member of the Fort Smith Civil Service Commission. He is a member of the Sebastian County, Arkansas and American Bar Associations and of the Christian Legal Society.

He was one of the Southern Baptist Convention Outstanding Young Men of America in 1979 and is a former member of the OBU Development Council.

He is married to Ginger Ashcraft Terry, and they have five children: Anna Ruth, 10; Samuel Moreland, 8; David Ashcraft, 6; Abigail Elizabeth, 4; and John Thomas Rich, 2.

Good, Jeffers represent state

Glenn Good, associate professor of physics, and Joe Jeffers, professor of chemistry, at Ouachita were selected by the Arkansas State Department of Higher Education to represent Arkansas in a meeting in Washington, D.C., Dec. 10-11 sponsored by the U.S. Department of Education.

The meeting highlighted exemplary programs in math, science and foreign languages.

Their presentation, entitled "Elementary Science: The Training of Grade Level Resource Teachers," was an outgrowth of numerous workshops in elementary science they have conducted with teachers from school districts throughout southwest Arkansas. The workshops were supported by federal funds administered by the Arkansas State Department of Higher Education.

Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Dryer announce scholarship

A scholarship has been endowed by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Dryer of Mountain Home. The award will be made to a deserving and needy student. The scholarship will be awarded annually in the fall.

Commencement 1988

For schedule of activities on May 6-7, please turn to page 11.

Entomologists honor C. Lamar Meek, '66

Dr. C. Lamar Meek, a 1966 graduate of Ouachita, has been selected the outstanding entomologist in medical/veterinary entomology of the American Registry of Professional Entomologists.

The award was presented to Dr. Meek, a scientist with the Louisiana Agricultural Experiment Station on the Louisiana State University campus in Baton Rouge, at the annual meeting of the registry in Boston on Nov. 29.

Dr. Meek was recognized for leading in the development of environmentally sound mosquito management systems in Louisiana. He has worked extensively on mosquito abatement projects in several Louisiana cities, including Baton Rouge and New Orleans.

A native of Monticello, he received his M.S. degree in 1971 from the University of Arkansas and his Ph.D. in 1975 from Texas A&M University, both in entomology.

Memorial contributions Aug. 19, 1987-Jan. 20, 1988

Miss Mary Agnes Anthony
By: Mr. James M. Anthony
Mrs. Juanita McMillan Barnett
By: Dr. Raynal Barber
Dr. and Mrs. James C. Berryman
Miss Evelyn Bowden
Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Burton
Mrs. Kathryn Jones Clark
Mrs. Marjorie Witherington Crump
Mrs. Katherine Dornblaser
Mr. Nelson B. Eubank
Miss Lois Gardner
Dr. and Mrs. Daniel R. Grant
Mrs. J. O. Hobgood
Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair Winburn
Mrs. Sarah York
Dr. George Truett Blackmon
By: Dr. and Mrs. Cecil Sutley
Dr. Robert A. Browning III
By: Mr. and Mrs. C. M. "Ike" Sharp
Mr. Robert F. Burns
By: Mrs. Malva Burns
Mr. Hugh Cantrell
By: Dr. and Mrs. Cecil Sutley

Mrs. Bonnie Atchison Collender
By: Ms. Justyn Jane Matlock
Mr. Charles Ed Condray
By: Miss Mary Catherine Condray
Mrs. Vernon Shambarger
Mrs. Pearl C. Crippen
By: Mrs. Helen Cannon
Mr. James H. Crittenden
By: Mr. and Mrs. James E. Crittenden
Mrs. Flora McDonald Fulmer
By: Mrs. Cleddy Fay Andrews
Mrs. Violet McRae Giller
By: Miss Evelyn Bowden
Miss Barb Griffin
By: The EEE Social Club, Ouachita Baptist University
Mrs. Neva Griffith
By: Miss Thelma Harcastle
Mr. Travis Jackson
By: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Barr
Mrs. Fannie Moore Lawrence
By: Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Woolsey

Mr. R. A. "Brick" Life
By: Mrs. Pat Lile
Miss Mary Luck
Mrs. Frances Meador Lippard
By: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clark
Mrs. Mary Jo McCorkle and Family
Mrs. Diana Meador
Mr. and Mrs. John E. Meador, Jr.
Miss Mae Whipple
Mrs. Marguerite Murphy Meador
By: Mr. Ralph Cotham, Jr.
Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Cox
Mrs. Marguerite Goodloe
Mr. and Mrs. George A. Hays
Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Jones
Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kirk, Jr.
Mrs. H. W. McMillan
Mr. John Malcolm Moore
Ms. Vicki R. Phillips
Mr. and Mrs. Lanny Tillery
Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Wilkerson
Mr. James B. McBryde
By: Mr. and Mrs. Bob Shivers

Rev. W. L. Muncy, Jr.
By: Mr. Nelson B. Eubank
Mr. Earl Olmstead
By: Mr. and Mrs. Frank David Bennett
Mr. Tom Patterson
By: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Barr
Mr. Arthur Peterson, Jr.
By: Mrs. Arnetta Herbert Williams
Dr. Lon E. Reed
By: Mrs. Elizabeth Reed
Mrs. Shirley Steton Ross
By: Ms. Anne Fox Blakeman
Mrs. Mae Gardenhire Rumph
By: Mr. James H. Rumph
Mrs. Lucille Selgman
By: Mr. Palmer Riggins
Mr. Lloyd Sims, Sr.
By: Dr. and Mrs. L. Jack McHaney
Leon and Mary Sample Sipes
By: Mrs. Hazel S. Guyol
Mr. Harry Marsh Whittington
By: Mrs. Modine Whittington Parker

Mr. William Williams
By: Drs. Ed and Fran Coulter
Mr. Russell Woodell
By: Drs. Ed and Fran Coulter
Miss Ruby Lois Gardner
Dr. and Mrs. Daniel R. Grant
IN HONOR OF:
Mr. Lloyd Anthony
By: Mr. and Mrs. James C. Sanders and Verna
Miss Evelyn Bowden
By: Mrs. Connie Bowie Limbird
Walter and Helen Smith Bruening
By: Mrs. Rosemary Hamner
Mr. and Mrs. Chesley Pruet
By: Mr. and Mrs. Mack Hall
Miss Virginia Queen
By: Mrs. Connie Bowie Limbird
Dr. William E. Trantham
By: Mr. W. C. Brown

THASE DANIEL

Her wildlife photography has earned her acclaim from throughout the world

By William D. Downs, Jr.

In achieving her status as one of the 10 leading wildlife photographers in the world, Thase Daniel of El Dorado has found her subjects as nearby as the wetlands of Arkansas and Louisiana and as far away as Alaska, Africa, Antarctica, the Galapagos Islands, Greenland, Hawaii, India, Nepal, Australia, Mexico, New Zealand, Sri Lanka and South America.

Although she graduated from Ouachita in 1929 with a degree in music (piano and organ) and later taught music at Dodd College in Shreveport, her first love has remained the outdoors, an interest she developed as a girl during frequent hunting trips with her uncle.

Her fascination with outdoor photography, however, began in the 1930s during a trip with her husband, John T. Daniel (Class of 1927), to Estes Park, Col., where she attempted to take a picture of a Steller's jay.

"I saw this gorgeous blue and black bird and took a snapshot of it from about 20 feet away," she is quoted as saying in Wildlife Photography (American Photographic Book Publishing, New York: 1982). "When the prints came back, I looked and looked for it and finally saw this little black bug-looking thing way off in the distance. Right then I decided to learn how to take good pictures and never be that disappointed again."

After receiving a 35mm Leica camera and a 200mm lens from her husband, Mrs. Daniel began to study the work of established wildlife photographers and to take trial-and-error pictures of birds around her home.

Mr. Daniel, who operates a successful automobile dealership in Smackover and whose sister, Elizabeth Daniel McMillan (Class of 1932), lives in Arkadelphia, is obviously proud of his wife's accomplishments.

"I financed her for the first two or three years," he said earlier this year. "After that, she was on her own."

Since that first unhappy encounter with a Steller's jay more than 50 years ago, Thase Daniel has sold thousands of pictures from her collection of more than 20,000 slides to private collectors and to such leading magazines as National Geographic, the Audubon Society, National Wildlife, Ranger Rick, Sports Afield, Field and Stream and other publications.

Adventures along the way have included a two-week expedition by dog-sled across the Greenland icecap (several years after becoming a grandmother), riding an elephant across a river in India to get into tiger country, suffering a broken ankle in an attack by an angry, 600-pound bull sea lion in the Galapagos Islands and being aboard an icebreaker in 1968 that ran aground in the Antarctic.

It was on that same trip that she carried 30 pounds of equipment several miles over a rugged terrain of snow and ice to photograph penguins and Weddell seals. Although the effort left her near exhaustion, she recognized that as part of the price of her profession.

"Years ago," she said in Wildlife Photography, "I decided that if I wanted a picture badly enough, I would have to accept the hardships to get it."

Her favorite time for taking pictures, she said in the same publication, "is very early in the morning, when the sun is at a low slant and the light is soft, when the spider webs haven't blown and the birds and marsh rabbits are in active pursuit of breakfast. I guess I love the outdoors so much because I stayed inside for so many years to practice my music. So I'm just catching up on my childhood, playing around in the open. I love it."

In honor of his long friendship and respect for Mrs. Daniel, Roger Tory Peterson, the author of the famed bird guides, wrote the preface to her book on birds and creatures of the Southern wetlands, Wings on the Southwind (Oxmoor House, Inc., 1984; Birmingham, Ala.).

"Wildlife photographers like Thase Daniel," he wrote, "have done every bit as much as the nature-oriented writers in recent years to make the world aware of our fellow travelers on Planet Earth. In so doing, they have helped lay the groundwork for the environmental movement."

Ouachita! is deeply grateful to the Daniel family for granting us permission to share with our readers a tantalizing few of the thousands of memorable images captured on film by the patient, creative and single-minded genius of Thase Daniel.

Mrs. Daniel's photograph of a jaguar was selected as the cover shot for the book "Wildlife Photography."

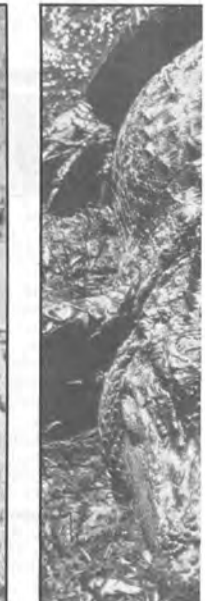

Two young raccoons

John T. Daniel with slides

Mrs. Daniel at work

Alligator in the w...

Great egret stands

■ Mrs. Daniel on photographic expedition to the Arctic

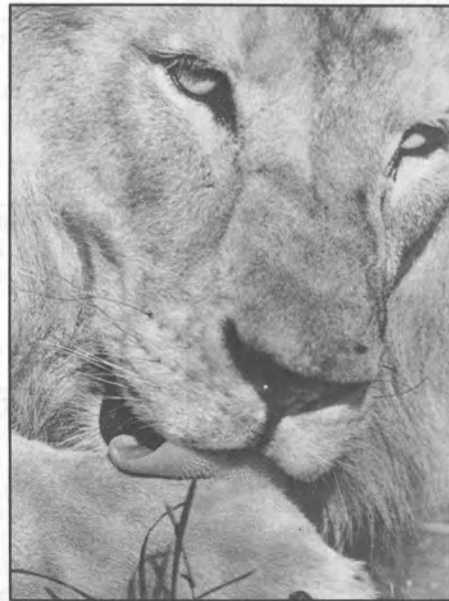

■ Eastern screech-owl with freshly killed prey

■ Eastern screech-owl among possumhaw berries

■ Little blue heron

■ Lion (notice the taste buds)

■ Great egret with young

CLASS NOTES

1932

Paul Elledge and Marie Walston were married Oct. 3, 1987, in Overland Park, Kan. Rev. Elledge noted, "Marie is a novelist (two novels about the Ozark Mountains), Bible commentator (one book about Paul), free-lance writer, Sunday School materials for Baptist Sunday School Board, American Baptist Convention, General Baptists, and writer of daily devotions (Upper Room)."

1934

Dr. and Mrs. James H. Landes celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Dec. 20, 1987, at First Baptist Church in Richardson, Tex.

1940

Dr. Walter Lee Yeldell, Sr., of Greenwood, Miss., formerly of Crossett, died Dec. 5. A retired Baptist minister, he had pastored churches throughout Arkansas and was a former member of the Board of Trustees for Ouachita Baptist University. He was also a former president of both the Arkansas Baptist State Convention and the Arkansas Baptist Pastors' Conference. Survivors include his wife, Kay Boswell Yeldell; a son, Walter Yeldell, Jr., of Little Rock; three daughters, Carolyn Staley (f.s. '67) and Deborah McAfee (f.s. '71) of Little Rock and Lynda Weyrick (f.s. '68) of Temple, Tex.; a brother, Adrian Yeldell of Little Rock; and eight grandchildren.

1941

Marian Farquharson Sugden, now living in Texas, is involved in missions, with trips to Puerto Rico, Brazil and Australia. She also participates in Lay-Renewal Weekends in Texas.

1943

Russell Puckett has joined the staff at Shepherd Hill Baptist Church, Pine Bluff, Ark., as minister of music, outreach and education. His wife is Mary Ellan O'Cain Puckett (f.s.).

1945

Irene Branum of Arkadelphia participated in the missions vespers portion of the Woman's Missionary

■ Conway junior Dina Teague and Corey Gillum, a freshman from Arkadelphia, fold flags in front of the administration building at the end of another day at Ouachita.

Union Conference held at Ridgecrest Baptist Conference Center.

1946

Rev. Amos Greer (f.s.), former Pangburn pastor, was presented a commemorative cup during the 75th anniversary activities of Pangburn First Church Oct. 11, 1987.

■ It was at exactly this spot on a January night in 1955 that Richard Walker (BA '56) gave in to an irresistible urge to propose to his girlfriend, Beatrice Rogers (FS '54-'56), the campus nurse . . . and she said "yes." They were married the following July. One of their sons, Boyd, is a senior at Ouachita. Their older son, Winston, attends Murray State University in Kentucky. The Walkers, who have served as missionaries to Brazil for the last 15 years, are now on leave of absence. They plan, however, to take groups back to the Amazon River area under the auspices of the Brazil Partnership Missions "to accomplish short-term projects in construction, evangelism, medicine and Bible School programs." Their first date, incidentally, was at the Tiger for a pep rally.

1950

Broadman Press has published "Man as Sinner" by Dr. John H. McClanahan. The book is the seventh in a 16-volume series devoted to major doctrines of the Christian faith.

1953

James Stone of Little Rock recently joined Keith Miller Architect and Associates as marketing director of religious projects.

1954

Jo Anne Lindsey Raulerson has joined the staff at Flour Bluff Junior High as an instructional assistant, Corpus Christi, Tex.

1955

Billy G. Williams has joined the faculty in the Department of Business at Henderson State University.

1957

Dr. James K. Brewer delivered a keynote address at the joint convention of the American Society for Medical Technology and the American Medical Technologists in Savannah, Ga., Oct. 14, 1987. Seven southeastern states and Puerto Rico were represented. Dr. Brewer, professor of educational statistics at Florida State University, spoke on "Mediocrity and the Demise of a Profession."

Dr. Brewer is married to Mary Beth Routon ('57) and has been at Florida State University since 1966.

William L. Hinds has been newly elected to the position of Associate Director, Gulf Stream Baptist Association, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. The association currently has 68 SBC churches and missions.

Frances P. Frazier Hinds (f.s. '57) is working with real estate sales.

1962

Bailey Smith has moved from Ft. Worth to Atlanta. The former president of the Southern Baptist Convention will receive major financial support from Rehoboth Baptist Church in Tucker, Ga., a suburb of Atlanta. His office is in Crescent Center Parkway near Rehoboth church.

1964

Robert W. Webb, pastor of First Baptist Church, Maryville, Mo., since 1974, has been named to a two-year term on the Board of Trustees at William Jewell College, Liberty. He and his wife, Deana Marie (f.s. '65), have three children.

Tom and Sandra Dungan (f.s. '64) Sawyer live in Little Rock. Tom works as a representative of Mine Safety Appliances Company. They have one married daughter, a grandchild, Rhett Hatchev IV, and three daughters who attend Hall High School.

1966

Cleve and Linda Davis ('65) Hall recently completed their Ministerial Internship Program, receiving their diplomas at State Camp Meeting. Cleve is assistant pastor of Lexington Park Church, Hollywood, Md., working with the outreach ministries of the church.

1968

Michael Edward Stubblefield of Ft. Smith, Ark., passed the Arkansas Bar Examination in July 1987.

1970

Dale and Gail Tucker, missionaries in Buenos Aires, Argentina, report Dale has taken three trips since their arrival in order to become familiar with Baptist disaster relief and community service programs.

1972

Lynelle Chitwood, Arkadelphia, became the principal of Central Primary School Dec. 7. Her husband, David ('67), is a math teacher, and her daughter, Christi, is a sophomore in Arkadelphia High School.

Cindy Ritcher Walker (f.s.) wrote "Ouachita Baptist University Is Part of the Vision" which was published in the September issue of Royal Service magazine. Cindy is active in WMU work in Louisiana.

1973

Truett King is a new consumer sales representative in the Broadman division of the Southern Baptist Sunday School Board. He has been minister of education in three Arkansas churches. King served for two years as a Southern Baptist foreign missionary in Seoul, Korea.

Del Medlin, pastor, Cabot First Church, and Steve Dewbre ('79) were part of a 14-member team to Manaus, Brazil, where they were involved in assisting the Union Church with a construction project, Vacation Bible School visitation, Sunday School classes, worship services and a revival.

1974

Peggy King Bobbitt has moved to Midland, Tex. Peggy is teaching music and art at Fannin Elementary. Her husband, Danny, is operations manager for Federal Express.

Kathy Vining Moore has joined Coleman Dairy, Inc., of Little Rock to develop in-house training programs for management and to direct activities in public relations and marketing.

James Sidney Scott, Jr., (f.s.) of North Little Rock and George R. Wadley, Jr., (f.s.) of Searcy passed the Arkansas Bar Examination recently in Little Rock.

Dr. Marsha Ann Ellis Smith and William Robert Smith are living in El Paso, Tex. Marsha is Associate Student Union Director/Bible Teacher at the University of Texas.

Donald S. Tackett has been named executive vice president at the Bank of Malvern. Don has been with the bank for 10 years and is secretary to the bank's board of directors. He and his wife, Cathy, have one daughter, Autumn, age 1.

1975

Kathy Willis (formerly Wilcoxon), teacher in Round Rock, Tex., has been awarded an International Teaching Fellowship and moved Dec. 31, 1987, to Adelaide, Australia, for one year to teach kindergarten. She is accompanied by her husband, Patrick Schmidt.

J. D. Dunnigan now lives in Tallahassee, Fla. He works for Boise Cascade in the office products division. J. D. and wife Judy have a son and twin daughters.

■ Dressed in their new uniforms, members of the OBU Marching Band leave A. U. Williams Field after performing at halftime during the Ouachita-Henderson football game, which Ouachita won 18-7. Persons interested in contributing to the uniform fund should contact Craig Hamilton, director of bands.

1976

Charles (Chuck) and Debbie Overton have moved to Lebanon, Ky., where Chuck is pastor of Woodlawn Baptist Church.

Clifford Bruce Tippit received a doctor of ministry degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary Dec. 18, 1987.

1977

Michael (Mike) and Vicki Allison express their desire for friends to know of the birth and death of their third child, Kellen Richard, Aug. 25, 1987. They have two other children, Aaron, 5, and Caryn Lynn, age 4. Mike is the principal of Franklin County R-15 School, and Vicki is the librarian and teaches English in Sullivan, Mo.

Len Thomas Lowman is pastor of Counseling Ministries, Fellowship Bible Church, Little Rock. Len's wife, Sherry, is a homemaker. They have one daughter, Lindsey Catherine.

Suellen Wilcoxon Smith of Cleveland, Miss., teaches kindergarten at the Presbyterian Day School. Her husband, Joe, is a farmer, farming about 4,800 acres. The name of their farm is "Zumbro," meaning water close to land. They have two children, Ross, 6, and Searcy, 2.

Regina Lindsey Stewart has been promoted to vice president for Medicare Services within the restructured Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Arkansas mutual insurance company.

1978

Charles Thomas (Tommy) and Lynne (Kinnaman) Wasson live in North Little Rock. Tommy is vice president of PK Interiors (contractors), and Lynne is a homemaker. Both are members of Park Hill Baptist Church. They have three children, Emily, 7, Thomas, 4, and Jennie Rose, 2.

1979

Gene and Barbie (Watson) Brunner have moved to Edmond, Okla., working with five TCBY stores. Their son, Collin, is 3.

Mark Cassidy has been named vice president of client services for Sunmark Co. of Little Rock. Cassidy coordinates client relations for the 1,000-employee personnel and benefit management firm in his new position.

Susan Grafton is now in Rawlins, Wyo. She is director of planning and development and executive director/secretary of the Carbon County Economic Development Corp. Susan is active in her local church, serving as WMU director and Sunday School teacher.

1980

Kim Holstead Benedict lives in Berlin. Her husband, Cal, is the executive officer of an infantry battalion. Kim is actively involved in allied wives and German-American wives organizations. Kim has two girls, Alyssa and Hayley.

Jeff Davis is teaching sixth grade children of Army personnel in Baumholder, Germany. Davis will be there two years.

Emmett F. Price completed his tour of duty in the Army Aug. 1, 1987, and is working for the Army as an Intelligence Operation Specialist. He travels to five areas, Ft. Bragg, N.C., Munich, Seoul, Tokyo and Panama City, Fla. He and his wife, Beth (f.s. '79), have three children, Becca, 6, Julie 4, and Karen, age 2½.

Phil Rickels has been promoted by Frost and Co. to manager of the tax department. Phil has been with the Little Rock firm since 1983.

Bosco and Jana ('81) Selchow live in Douglas, Ariz. Bosco is teaching physical education at Huber Junior High School, coaching varsity football and coaching junior varsity baseball at Douglas High School. Jana is the librarian at Douglas Junior High School. Their daughter, Meghan, is 3.

1981

Ken Bunch began serving Oct. 4 as pastor of First Church, Greenbrier. He is married to the former Susan Beshires ('81). They have one child, Rachel, age 1.

David M. Strain, a Harvard University doctoral candidate, is teaching in the English Department at Henderson State University on a one-year appointment. He received an M.A. from the University of Arkansas.

Greg and Sue (Nutt) Smith, missionaries to Costa Rica, have arrived on the field to begin language study (address: Apartado 100, 2350 San Francisco de los Rios, San Jose, Costa Rica). They were appointed by the Foreign Mission Board in 1987.

Kent Westbrook joined Fones Brothers Distributors, Little Rock, as controller. He has a master's degree in accounting from Arkansas State University and is a certified public accountant.

Jeanna King Westmoreland joined the Dawson Co-op staff as the Gifted and Talented Coordinator. Her master of education degree from UALR is in that area. Prior to this appointment Jeanna taught fifth and sixth grade. She is married to Andy ('79), development officer and director of Ouachita Student Foundation.

John E. Amromare has recently been named editor of Sunday School literature for the Nigerian Baptist Convention. He continues to write for the "Nigerian Baptist."

1982

Terry Fox is serving as pastor of Gardendale Baptist Church in Corpus Christi. Terry has formerly served as pastor of both Arkansas and Texas churches. He is married to the former Barbara Humphrey. They have two children, Tialena Joy and Timothy Gene.

Jay Franklin Shell of Little Rock recently passed the Arkansas Bar Exam.

Mitchum W. Tapson recently began serving as pastor of Mount Carmel Church, Cabot, coming from Hilltop Drive Church in Irving, Tex. He is married to the former Linda Wallace of Pine Bluff, who has been teaching music at First Baptist Academy in Dallas. They have three daughters, Leslie, 13, Julie, 9, and Emily, 8.

1983

Steve Plunkett has been pastor of Sunset Lane Church in Little Rock since Dec. 6, 1987, coming there from First Church, Branch. Steve and his wife, Brenda, have two children, Christopher and Jessica.

Gary Wise received a master of divinity degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in May. He is presently serving as pastor of Smithville Baptist Church, Smithville, Ark. Gary and his wife, Elizabeth Kreis ('84), have twin daughters, Rebecca and Rachel, one year old.

Paul E. Williams graduated in May from UAMS Medical School. He has begun a three-year residency program in Little Rock at the VA and University Hospitals. His wife, Cheryl Bass ('83), just began her fourth year as an elementary special education teacher in the North Little Rock School District. She is working on her graduate degree in education administration. Both are active members of Geyer Springs Baptist Church and are expecting their first child in April.

1984

Deanne Campbell Ayers graduated from Baylor University School of Law Nov. 14. She is currently associated with a Dallas law firm.

Terri Lynn Tollett of Fayetteville and Mark Jeffrey Whitmore of Little Rock have passed the Arkansas Bar Exam.

1985

Karen Williams and Phillip Kirk Bullington ('82) are living at Los Alamos, N.M., where he is minister of music and youth at the First Baptist Church and she is employed as a research assistant in the Bio-Medical Research Laboratory at Los Alamos. Karen's name will appear as co-author in three scientific publications, "The Journal of Nuclear Medicine," the "Journal of the American Society for Photobiology" and the "Journal of Experimental Biology."

Jeffrey Marion Bennett received a master of arts in religious education degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary on Dec. 18, 1987.

Gerald Harkins, journeyman to Senegal, has begun his two-year term of service as a community center worker (address: BP 3330, Dakar, Senegal). Gerald was employed by the Foreign Mission Board in July 1987.

Alan Johnson of Pontiac, Mich., is working at Pontiac Fiero Plant as an engineer. He is responsible for designing, programming, implementing and maintaining computer systems relating to material and industrial engineering activities at the plant.

Jon Rice has started his second year at Carnegie-Melton University Graduate School. He is assistant designer for the Main Stage Production. Brenda Leigh Rice ('86) is working with an appraisal company as a computer operator/programmer. They are active in their local church with Brenda serving as officer and teacher in the BYW. She and Jon are also a part of the ministry to transplant patients through their church and hospital.

Steven Hapi Wanje received a master of arts degree in communication from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary on Dec. 18, 1987.

Beth Yates is attending Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary to work on her master's degree.

1986

Bryant Moxley presented a piano recital Nov. 23 in Mabee Fine Arts recital hall. Moxley is a student at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky., where he is a candidate for the master of church music degree.

A. Paul Price of North Little Rock is currently a student at the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences College of Nursing to graduate in May 1988. He received a scholarship from Arkansas Children's Hospital. His wife, Nora, is a title policy writer for Fidelity Abstract Company in Benton.

Michael A. Shull is employed by Baird Kurtz and Dobson, certified public accountants, as a staff accountant. Shull is in the firm's audit department.

Teresa Ann Stout is living in Dallas, Tex., where she is employed by Art and Fashion Institute of Dallas. Teresa is a public speaker for the firm.

■ A tree service employee works from the top down in removing the century-old oak tree that stood in front of Evans Student Center. The tree, which was dying of disease, has been replaced by a fresh young oak.

How about a tuition gift certificate?

Ouachita offers a means by which you may begin making payments for a future Ouachita student's education at today's rates.

Our policy statement on the tuition gift certificate is as follows:

1. Education gift certificate(s) may be purchased at current rates in increments of 1/10 of a semester's charges. The certificate can be used for tuition for a future semester.
2. The certificate must be held for at least one (1) year before it will be honored.
3. The certificate may be transferred to another person upon written request of the purchaser.
4. Refund of principal only is also allowed upon written request of the purchaser and return of the certificate(s).
5. Upon the recipient's 25th birthday, the certificate (unless transferred, refunded or redeemed) will become a tax-deductible gift to Ouachita Baptist University.
6. The certificate is a non-interest bearing instrument.

If you would like to obtain more information regarding the tuition gift certificate or would like to purchase a certificate, contact the Ouachita Baptist University Business Office at (501) 246-4531, Extension 583.

Gregory Wayne Weaver of Jonesboro, Ark., received the master of arts degree from Arkansas State University.

1987

David Allbritton of Pine Bluff is the recipient of a Rice-Judson Scholarship given annually by Southern Baptist Theological Seminary on the basis of outstanding leadership.

Terry Melson Castleberry was featured in a series of articles in the Newport (Ark.) Daily Independent newspaper Aug. 17, 18, 19 and 20. Terry is office manager for Dr. Jerry Frankum in the Newport Hospital. Columnist Harryette Hodges had this to say: "So unusual is 23-year-old Terry that several people suggested I write about her!" Her husband, Steve ('86), works for the Daily Independent.

Clayton Scott and Daphne Hill Crider live in Newport Beach, Calif. Clayton is TCBY division manager, and Daphne is a graduate student.

Susan Girard has joined the sales staff of the Fayetteville Hilton as corporate sales manager.

Scott Hobbs, journeyman to Scotland, has arrived on the field to begin his two-year term of service as an associate minister (address: 11 Willowdene Crescent, Stranraer DG9 OHE, Scotland).

James and Tenna Taggart Pirkle are working with the Abundant Life Christian School in North Little Rock. James is a teacher/coach, and Tenna is a teacher.

Clinton Scott Sroufe is minister of music at Southside Baptist Church, Damascus, Ark., and teacher at Scotland High, Scotland.

Scott Edward Stewart is in Kobe, Japan (near Osaka), working as a conversational English and P.E. (swimming) instructor.

Joan Donahue (M.A. '87), Arkadelphia, won second place in the open division as Arkansas' National Award Winner in Economic Education. Also cited for excellence in teaching the subject of economics was Charlotte Pillow (B.A. '73, M.S.E. '80), West Elementary School, Batesville, Honorable Mention, Primary Division, by the Joint Council on Economic Education.

1988

Bradley A. Rogge is serving as pastor of Forest Tower Church at Hensley. Rogge will graduate in May from Ouachita with a degree in pastoral ministries. He and his wife, Marilyn, have two children, Stephanie, 5, and Steven, 3.

Gregg Watson was licensed by Monticello First Church recently to the preaching ministry. Watson is a senior at Ouachita.

MARRIAGES

1950

Dianne Bradshaw Duerson (f.s. '50) to Bill Liebensperger, Columbus, Ohio.

1961

Laura McHaney Gilleece (f.s. '76) to Joe Nix, Dec. 26, 1987, Berry Chapel.

1974

Dr. Marsha Ann Ellis to William Robert Smith, Nov. 28, 1987, Malvern, Ark.

1976

Crystal Waters to Clifton Douglas Mangrum, Jan. 16, 1988, Hendersonville, Tenn.

1979

Capt. Allan Wayne Wall to Joy Lynne Black, Dec. 26, 1987, Stuttgart, Ark.

1981

Mark Edward Elliott (f.s.) to Angela Jill Denny, Satellite Beach, Fla.

1982

Joe Edward Bunch to Laura Ruth Gibson, Dec. 19, 1987, Van Buren, Ark.

Charles Watkins Strickland to Stacy Lynn Sides, Sept. 5, 1987, Anchorage, Alaska.

Amy Elizabeth Tucker (f.s.) to Stephen Charles Summers, Jan. 2, 1988, Dumas, Ark.

Dale Ada Yeary to Thomas O. Davidson, May 16, 1987, Bryan, Tex.

1984

Leslie Diane Berg to Scott Joseph Pastore, Jan. 16, 1988, Nashville, Tenn.

Deborah Broussard to Michael Scott Mitchell, Dec. 5, 1987, West Memphis, Ark.

David Alan Moore to Lynda Gay Casstevens, Jan. 2, 1988, Ft. Worth, Tex.

Karen Warren to Tommy Garrick, Aug. 8, 1987, North Little Rock, Ark.

1985

Julie Carol Benafield to Stephen Eric Bowman ('86), Sept. 5, 1987, Little Rock, Ark.

Tammy Jean Stalnaker to Charles Edward Davis, Oct. 24, 1987, Little Rock, Ark.

Karen Patricia Williams to Rev. Phillip Kirk Bullington ('82), Nov. 7, 1987, Arkadelphia, Ark.

1986

Mary Jane Byrum (f.s.) to Kevin Scott Tefteller, Aug. 22, 1987, Carlisle, Ark.

Staci Jane Peeler (f.s.) to James "Eric" Guthrie (f.s.), Dec. 18, 1987, Little Rock, Ark.

Stephen Edward Snider to Elizabeth Ann Graves ('87), Aug. 22, 1987, Hope, Ark.

1987

Terry DeWitt to Charlotte Talk-

Springdale junior Nick Tyler is served ice cream during rush week's traditional Beta Beta Ice Cream Party.

ington, Aug. 1, 1987, Arkadelphia, Ark.

Darlene Joan Durham to Rami Alie Bahsoon (f.s. '86), Aug. 15, 1987, Ft. Smith, Ark.

Daphne Elaine Hill to Clayton Scott Crider, Sept. 26, 1987, Searcy, Ark.

Robert Alan Pinkston to Sharon Kay Smith, Dec. 26, 1987, Berry Chapel.

Ross Sawyers to Lisa Campbell ('86), Grant Prairie, Tex.

Rhonda Lynn Weaver to Ralph Edward Saunders (current student), Dec. 19, 1987, Benton, Ark.

ney James, Aug. 25, 1987, Independence, Mo. Abby Joe is 2.

Bob and Linda (Moore) Kean, Christopher Robert, Jan. 14, 1987, Colorado Springs, Colo.

Leigh A. and Genna Hargis, Alexander Leigh, Nov. 24, 1987, East Camden, Ark.

1974

Danny and Peggy (King) Bobbitt, Emily Jane, Jan. 7, 1987, Midland, Tex. Sister Amanda Beth is 7.

1975

Dr. Jim and Beverly (Johnson) ('76) Hankins, Jodi Ann, Jan. 10, 1988, Arkadelphia, Ark. Brother Chris is 4½.

Robert Wayne and Virginia Ellen (Yohe) Moore, Elizabeth Susan, April 6, 1987, Chicago, Ill.

Tim and Martha (Nobles) ('74) Smith, twins, Katherine Helen "Katie" and Joseph Hunter "Hunter," Sept. 7, 1987, Ft. Worth, Tex. Sister Anna Grace is 6.

1976

Walter and Suzanne (Moore) Hill,

Lance Jeremy, Oct. 22, 1987, Conway, Ark. Wesley is 6, and Laurie is 3

1977

Len Thomas and Sherry Lowman, Lindsey Catherine, Dec. 11, 1987, Little Rock, Ark.

1980

Jim and Darla Burleson, James Weston, July 15, 1987, Hermitage, Tenn. His sister, Ashley, is 4.

Bob and Carla (Carswell) Beard, Abigail Elaine, Oct. 25, 1987, Virginia Beach, Va. Sister Hannah is 2.

1981

Kevin and Cathy Crass, William Arlen, Oct. 26, 1987, Little Rock, Ark.

Alan and Elaine (Vickers) Hardwick, Sarah Frances, Nov. 17, 1987, Little Rock, Ark. Sister Rebekah is 3½.

1982

Rick and Linda (McClain) Porter, Seth Richard, Aug. 25, 1987, Hot Springs, Ark.

1983

Bobby and Michelle (Compton) Chadwick, Jonathan David, April 23, 1987, Kilgore, Tex.

Gary and Elizabeth (Kreis) ('84) Wise, twins, Rebecca Jane and Rachel Elizabeth, March 8, 1987, Ft. Worth, Tex.

1986

A. Paul and Nora Price, Muriel Leigh, Sept. 10, 1987, North Little Rock, Ark.

Lynn and Jill (Grant) Tolleson, Lynsey Ruthann, Aug. 21, 1987, Little Rock, Ark.

DEATHS

1912

Linnie (Glover) Kilpatrick, Little Rock, Ark., Dec. 8, 1987.

1918

Mrs. Marvie S. Page (Gladys West), Honolulu, Hawaii, Jan. 2, 1988.

BIRTHS

1972

Jim and Lidia (Hatton) Newman, Catherine Carlene, Oct. 20, 1987, Ft. Worth, Tex. Jay is 8½, Jordan is 6½, and Jared is 2.

1973

Dr. J. R. and Kim Duncan, Whit-

There is a very good reason why the usually dignified Margaret Wright, chairman of the department of accounting, is wearing a leather jacket and sitting with a rather bemused expression on a motorcycle. Dr. Tom Auffenberg, associate professor of history, had challenged his Arts in the Humanities students by telling them that he would give them "bonus" points if they succeeded in getting Mrs. Wright to do all of the above. The students received their points.

■ Ouachita linebacker Mark Morris celebrates the Tigers' 18-7 win over ravine-rival Henderson State University last fall. Morris, a senior from Hamburg, was named All-AIC and to the NAIA Division I Football All-American second team.

1919
 Duchess (Cain) Wayne, Oct. 6, 1987.
 Lillian S. Hemphill, Little Rock, Ark., June 13, 1987.

1922
 Mrs. Violet (McRae) Giller, El Dorado, Ark., Dec. 9, 1987.

1928
 Wilford W. Horne, Sapulpa, Okla., Jan. 4, 1988.

1930
 Christine Gregson, Jonesboro, Ark., July 31, 1987.

1931
 Miriam (Allgood) Echols, Arkadelphia, Ark., Oct. 8, 1987.

1932
 Mrs. Marguerite (Murphy) Meador, El Dorado, Ark., Sept. 17, 1987.

1933
 Charles E. Condray, Jr., Cheverly, Md., Dec., 18, 1987.
 Francis (Meador) Lippard, Dalton, Ga., Nov. 20, 1987.

1937
 Arthur Peterson, Jr., Waco, Tex., Dec. 31, 1987.

1940
 Dr. Walter Lee Yeldell, Sr., Greenwood, Miss., Dec. 5, 1987.

1942
 Charles Brent Hamlin, Visalia, Calif., May 19, 1987.

1943
 Margaret (Whittle) Luck (f.s.), Rosston, Ark., Oct. 1987.

1944
 John E. Hawkins, Texarkana, Ark., Oct. 27, 1987.

1947
 Dr. Robert H. Benton (f.s.), El Dorado, Ark., Nov. 27, 1987.

1948
 Dr. Wyley J. Elliott, Little Rock, Ark., July 4, 1987.

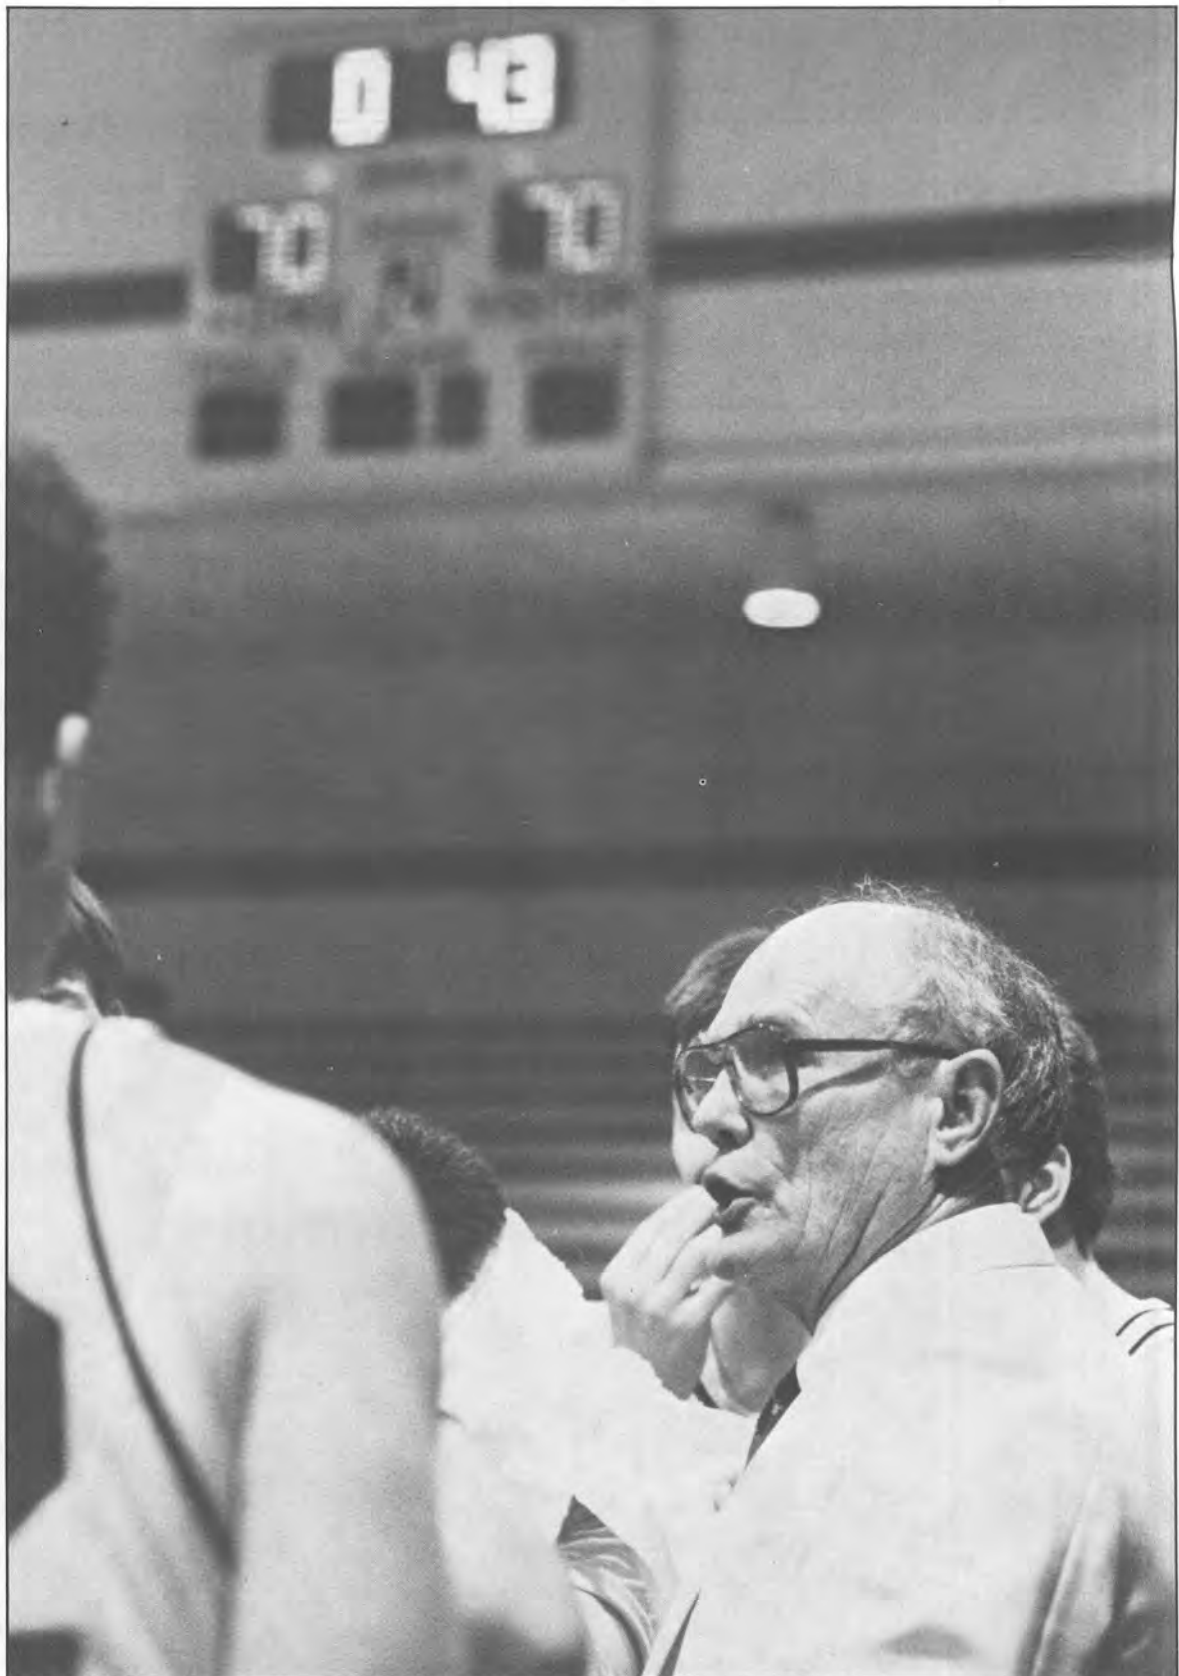

1949
 Dr. John T. Midkiff, Walnut Ridge, Ark., Sept. 28, 1987.
 Curtis Elm Pennington, Benton, Ark., Nov. 9, 1987.
 Dr. Elcan Walker, Lemoore, Calif., Nov. 18, 1987.

1957
 Polly (Compton) Carrington, Tyler, Tex., Sept. 13, 1987.

1967
 Thomas Cole, Jonesboro, Ark., April 17, 1987.

■ Berry Chapel rises above the eight-and-a-half-inch snowfall that both paralyzed and fascinated Arkadelphia in early January.

■ With only 43 seconds remaining in the overtime period and the score tied at 70, head basketball coach Bill Vining, Sr., yells instructions to his players as they battle the Henderson Reddies down to the wire. Senior Kyle Hensley hit a free throw with 13 seconds remaining for a 71-70 Ouachita win.

COMMENCEMENT 1988

May 6-7, 1988
 Activities

- Friday, May 6
 4:30 p.m. • Senior commencement rehearsal, Physical Education Center
 5:30-7:00 p.m. • Picnic supper for graduates, Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Grant, 904 N. 26th St.
 7:00 p.m. • Gold Tiger Dinner (Class of 1938 and all classes preceding, and friends, by reservation), ESC Banquet Room. Gold Tigers receive two guest tickets. (additional $6.00)
- Saturday, May 7
 9:00-10:30 a.m. • Gold Tiger continental breakfast and campus van tour, Alumni Room, Birkett Williams Cafeteria (Cone-Bottoms entrance)
 9:30 a.m.-2:00 p.m. • Registration, Evans Student Center forum area
 all day • Gold Tiger reunion headquarters, Evans Student Center Formal Lounge (main floor)
 10:30 a.m. • Baccalaureate, Mitchell Hall — Dr. Lewis I. Myers, Director of Cooperative Services International, Foreign Mission Board, SBC
 11:30 a.m. • FSA Commencement Buffet and Annual Meeting, ESC Banquet Room (by reservation), Gold Tigers, Class of '88, former students, friends
 2:00 p.m. • ROTC Commissioning Ceremony, Mabee Recital Hall
 2:45 p.m. • Commissioning Reception, Mabee Gallery (everyone welcome)
 4:00 p.m. • Commencement, Sturgis Physical Education Center Arena
 8:30 a.m.-noon Key administrative offices open
 8:30 a.m.-4:00 p.m. Bookstore (open)

OUACHITA TOUR

Sponsored by Former Students' Association

7-DAY ALASKA CRUISE. June 22-29. Vancouver-Anchorage with optional extensions from Anchorage. 20% discount on cruise fare plus other benefits. Early booking required. Write today.

TO: Dr. Cecil Sutley, FSA Director of Travel Services, O.B.U., Arkadelphia, AR 71923.

Please send full information on the Alaska Cruise you will escort June 22-29, 1988.

NAME _____ TEL. () _____

ADDRESS _____

CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

FUTURE OUACHITONIAN?

CLIP AND RETURN AB

TO: DIRECTOR OF ADMISSIONS COUNSELING

FROM: _____

NAME _____ PHONE _____

ADDRESS _____ CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

Below are listed students from my area who are seniors in high school that I think would be interested in Ouachita. I would like for the Admissions Counseling Staff to contact these and cultivate their interest. Return this form to:

Director of Admissions Counseling
OBU Box 3776, Arkadelphia, AR 71923

Name Address City St. Zip Phone H.S. Attending

_____	_____	_____	_____	_____	_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____	_____	_____	_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____	_____	_____	_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____	_____	_____	_____	_____	_____

KEEP IN TOUCH

If you're moving up or moving out, somebody wants to know . . .

Name _____
(include maiden name)

Spouse _____
(include maiden name if alumnae)

Address _____

City _____ State _____ Zip _____

Telephone _____ Class Year _____

News for "Alumni" section:

Return to:
FSA Office, OBU, P.O. Box 3762, Arkadelphia, AR 71923

OUACHITA!

OUACHITA BAPTIST UNIVERSITY
ARKADELPHIA, ARKANSAS 71923

ADDRESS CORRECTION REQUESTED

Nonprofit Org.
U.S. POSTAGE
PAID
Arkadelphia, Ark.
71923
Permit No. 34