A Word from the President ...

If you have a few minutes, I'd like to ask your opinion, please.

Our enrollment topped the 1,700 mark this fall, an all-time high for the number of degree-seeking undergraduates on the campus. Our residence halls are at 98 percent capacity, our student apartments are full, and the chances of finding a good parking place on campus are about equal to finding a space close to the front of your neighborhood Wal-Mart.

As Dan Grant used to say, "These are good problems to have."

My question is . . . How many students should we attempt to serve?

You know very well the elements of the campus we consider to be important: a friendly, eager student body; a well-prepared and caring faculty; a climate of trust and concern; high academic standards; and an environment in which we recognize the Lordship of Jesus Christ in all areas of life. Theoretically, these goals may be accomplished regardless of the number of students. In practical terms, however, many of us have long felt that one of Ouachita's greatest assets is that the institution is small enough to promote a strong sense of community.

Twice before in our history, we have achieved enrollments very close to our current level, first in the mid-1960s and again in the early 1980s. Each time that we have hit these peak numbers, we have then begun a five-year retreat, ending exactly 29 percent below the crest. Each decline brought elements of painful readjustment for the members of the institutional family.

History would seem to inform us that we have not done a very good job of attempting to stand still. I've begun to believe over the past two years that, with sufficient investments in adding faculty and in building more student housing, we could accommodate a student enrollment of 2,000.

Am I dreaming? Help us address the question by writing to me at OBU Box 3753 or by sending an email message to me at westmorelanda@alpha.obu.edu. Please know that I will welcome your comments.

As always, thanks for your prayers for Ouachita.

tractive but plain-Jane campus up to the level of a gorgeous Sunday-go-to-meeting-Jane campus.

The transition has taken many years and is still in progress a step at a time, each step a result of creative vision, love, energy and resources. All of these attributes in one package describe Katie Speer, a trustee of the Roy and Christine Sturgis Charitable and Educational Trust of Malvern, Arkansas, who has joined a few other great benefactors over the years to transform the face of Ouachita.

If ever there is a "Friends of Ouachita Hall of Fame," then Katie Speer will be among the charter members. Her participation in Ouachita's progress involves almost every aspect of the campus. For nearly two decades she has been one of Ouachita's most loyal and dependable sources of dreams and, through the Trust, the wherewithal to make the dreams come true. The scope of her

Some of the more common re-frains voiced by visitors to the Ouachita campus are "you have one of the most beautiful campuses we have ever seen" and "this is what a college should look like." Uplifting words, these, especially to those who labored long and hard to take an at-participation is remarkable — and wonderful.

Her projects at Ouachita, funded by the Trust, have come to pass in diverse and serendipitous ways. As often as not, Katie would visit the campus and see a need, then contact someone about the possibility of her meeting that need in some fashion. To give an example, a few years ago the area in the ravine in front of Frances Crawford Hall was nothing more than a muddy drainage area. Inadequate parking was a constant problem on campus, and with no money in the budget to provide more spaces the administration was compelled to assign that area for overflow parking. It was a mess. One day Katie drove by, saw the problem and called up to say she wanted to put an asphalt parking area there, but not just a run-of-the-mill parking area.

Today at the site is the landscaped "gazebo" parking lot, protecting sixty or more vehicles while serving as a classy eye-catching introduction to the campus for prospective students and their families. During the Christmas season the gazebo becomes a lighted goodwill beacon for all to enjoy.

Then there were the "signs." A few years ago Katie let us know, as delicately as possible, that the entrance signs were not as noble as they could be. Suffice it to say that the old signs were functional but unappealing. After Katie worked her magic Ouachita was heralded thenceforth by Williamsburg-type brick signs of a quality commensurate with the entire campus. She also provided the funds for the directional and building signs which help visitors find their way around.

Perhaps the most striking transition of all by the hand of Katie Speer and the Sturgis Trust is the Katie Speer Pavilion and Gardens, the area on the river below O.C. Bailey Hall and Evans Student Center best known in time past for its bugs, poison ivy, briars and floods. Katie saw great potential in it, despite the sporadic flooding, and the result is a lovely and peaceful park-like retreat. The pavilion accommodates many needs, including weddings, showers, picnics, music events, and services. A world apart from the busy campus only yards away, this unique get-away is a charming addition to the campus.

The number and scope of Katie's Sturgis Trust projects at Ouachita are amazing. At one juncture Katie wanted to honor in some manner Roy and Christine Sturgis whom she had served many years as a financial assistant and bookkeeper. The Sturgises loved and trusted her so much that they named her trustee of Mrs. Sturgis' testamentary charitable trust. Through the Trust, Katie helped pay off a substantial debt on the physical education center, thereafter renamed The Roy and Christine Sturgis Physical Education Center as a tribute to this couple whose ample resources will continue to bless others in perpetuity.

To know Katie, simply look at her handiwork through the Trust. The Katie Speer Writing Lab houses state-of-the-art computers for the specific purpose of helping students develop their writing skills. This lab was perfectly appropriate considering that Katie has written—and illustrated with photographs and drawings—two books of poetry and devotionals. In the Department of Religion she provided another computer lab for the training of ministers. Katie was the major contributor on the Cone-Bottoms renovation project, naming the president's suite of offices for Roy and Christine Sturgis. She has donated a significant portion toward the cost of the Berry Bible Building renovation and addition, still in the planning phase. Through the trust, she has given substantial sums for library books and equipment, as well as providing a "needs" fund for the history department and the Tiger Tram to transport folks around the campus.

The new flag plaza and fountain is a Trust project too, yet another testimony to Katie's eye for beauty and serenity. As with many of Katie's projects, this one has an immediate appeal to visitors, with particular emphasis on prospective students and their parents. Katie is one of Ouachita's best recruiters.

One more anecdote: Katie is married to Clyde. They have a daughter, Lisa, a 1988 Ouachita graduate who holds a Ph.D. from Ole Miss. When Lisa was a student at Ouachita she happened to be in a class conducted by Dr. William Trantham, a well-loved and respected music professor who is now retired. During one class period, Dr. Trantham mentioned that Ouachita's campaign to purchase a pipe organ had stalled at the half-way point, representing scores of individual gifts, and he bemoaned the fact that the outlook for raising the remainder looked dim indeed. Lisa reported the conversation to Katie. Before long, thanks to Katie and the Sturgis Trust, there was enough in the kitty to order one of the finest pipe organs in the region, another "natural" considering that Katie is the organist for her church.

What motivates Katie Speer? Obviously she loves young people and Christian-based education, particularly at Ouachita. To quote Katie, "Ouachita is a beautiful University, with people who are warmhearted, friendly, and caring for one another. Once you have come to know Ouachita, your heart will want to remain forever." Ouachita's president, Dr. Andrew Westmoreland, expressed Ouachita's gratitude for Katie's friendship in this way: "Many of the focal points of Ouachita have come about as a direct result of the involvement of Katie Speer. She understands that the campus ought to reflect our appreciation for the beauty of God's created universe, and—through her own ideas and through the support she has provided through the Sturgis Trust—she has helped us to do that. The poets among us see these things better than many of us, and I'm grateful to Katie for expressing poetry in the physical and intellectual development of the campus."

Ouachita is a manifestation of the love, beneficence, and work of people like Katie Speer, to whom we express our deepest gratitude.

Pruet School of Christian Studies established

Dr. Andrew Westmoreland, president of Ouachita, concluded the institution's 113th commencement ceremony Saturday, May 13, with the surprise announcement of a $3 million pledge and the establishment of the Chesley and Elizabeth Pruet School of Christian Studies.

Westmoreland told the 2,500 graduates, parents, friends and faculty members gathered in Bill Vining Arena that the Pruets had made the pledge recently, and the Board of Trustees had voted last week to name the School of Christian Studies for them, effective immediately.

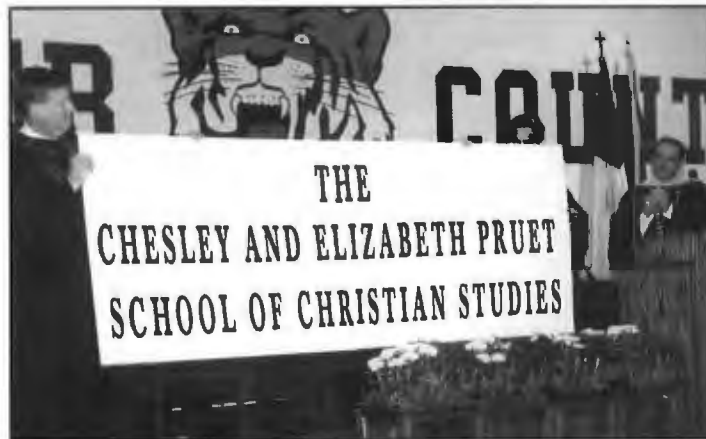

"For many years, Chesley and Elizabeth Pruet of El Dorado have been among the very best friends of this institution," Westmoreland told the audience. "They have participated in every important fund-raising campaign of the past 30 years... As evidenced by the fact that they chose not to be present for this announcement today, the Pruets are selfless people, but their generosity is legendary."

As an owner-operator of several companies, Chesley Pruet is a leader in the oil, gas and ranching industries. He is a national trustee of the Boys Clubs of America, a past president of the National Cowboy Hall of Fame in Oklahoma City, and the co-founder and chairman of the National Committee for the Performing Arts—John F. Kennedy Center. Elizabeth Pruet is in her third term as a member of Ouachita's Board of Trustees.

"The formation of the School structure and the subsequent reorganization of our curriculum allowed us to start dreaming. This endowment allows us to begin to fulfill our dreams of ministry in this place."

• Dr. Scott Duvall

Dean of the Pruet School of Christian Studies

Ouachita's School of Christian Studies was created Jan. 1, 1999 elevating the former division of religious studies. Dr. Scott Duvall, dean of the School, said the support can take the academic program to a higher level.

"The formation of the School structure and the subsequent reorganization of our curriculum allowed us to start dreaming," said Duvall. "This endowment allows us to begin to fulfill our dreams of ministry in this place.

"We have felt that we had the faculty, students, structure and curriculum in place," said Duvall. "Now, our financial support is reaching the same level of excellence."

Duvall said 265 students major or minor in one of the School's three departments: biblical studies and theology; Christian ministries; or philosophy and ethics. He said the increased financial support will help students and faculty members in a variety of ways.

•Scholarships: The Pruet Presidential Scholarship and several other scholarships are expected to have a major impact in the recruitment and retention of students.

•Student and faculty development: Academic opportunities for students and faculty will be enhanced, including travel to conferences and the possibility of hosting academic conferences on campus. Professional development of faculty also will include research grants and funding for resources, such as computer hardware and software.

•Library resources: Upgrading the holdings in religious studies at Ouachita's Riley-Hickingham Library also is a priority. Most of the new purchases will be books, although some software will be included.

•University community: The good fortune of the School of Christian Studies will have a positive effect on the entire campus. Its faculty already teaches two courses required for all students as part of the School of Interdisciplinary Studies. Duvall also sees a connection to the rest of campus through a large number of religion students who have a double major or minor, coupling Christian studies with other academic areas. In addition, he sees the potential for new seminars created across disciplines.

•Christian community: Reaching out to Christians, especially Baptists, outside of Ouachita will expose students to new learning opportunities while addressing real-world problems. Duvall said there were many ways to connect theory and practice. One of the first steps may be the creation of an academic journal for ministers and lay people. "Our job would be to take the theories and ideas of the academic side and translate them into language that is accessible."

"The generosity of the Pruets will create new opportunities for academic and spiritual growth, and that will be true whether a student goes into full-time or part-time ministry," said Duvall. "All of us are called to minister to others. We want to help our students see how their academics can make them better ministers."

Sturgis Trust provides scholarships

Officials of the Roy and Christine Sturgis Charitable and Educational Trust of Dallas, Texas, have announced a $500,000 pledge to Ouachita. The funds will be used to endow scholarships for students enrolled in Ouachita's Frank D. Hickingbotham School of Business.

Bater Bates, senior vice president of the Bank of America of Dallas and a member of the grant selection committee, Bill Ellis, vice president of the Bank of America of Dallas and committee member, Cindy Miller, Arkansas consultant for the Sturgis Trust, announced the grant during a presentation to Dr. Andrew Westmoreland, president of Ouachita, on the campus in Arkadelphia. Bates presented a check for the first installment of the pledge.

"We are pleased with the quality of education at Ouachita, and we are especially proud to support the outstanding students in Ouachita's Frank D. Hickingbotham School of Business," Bates said. "We believe that Roy and Christine Sturgis would take great pride in knowing that these scholarships will benefit Ouachita and its students for many years. We look forward to seeing the Sturgis scholars as they become the future business leaders in Arkansas and throughout the country."

Westmoreland expressed appreciation for the grant and explained its importance to the university's growing program of business studies. "The Sturgis gift is another major step in helping us provide quality, affordable education for our students. Our students and faculty in the Hickingbotham School of Business join me in thanking the trustees of the Sturgis Trust of Dallas for this vote of confidence."

The Sturgis pledge is the latest addition to a $10 million campaign for the Hickingbotham School of Business. The campaign, launched last August, has already generated gifts and pledges in excess of $7.8 million.

The Roy and Christine Sturgis Charitable and Educational Trust of Dallas, Texas, was created under the will of Christine Sturgis in 1981. Bank of America of Dallas serves as Trustee. Mr. and Mrs. Sturgis lived for a time in Arkadelphia and spent most of their lives in Arkansas, where they were very successful in the timber, lumber, and sawmill industries in the area. They had no children, but were interested in educational opportunities for youth, as well as programs of health, social services, medical research, and the arts. The Sturgis Trust of Dallas made total grants of $3 million in 1999, including $2 million to 26 organizations in Arkansas and $1 million to 31 organizations in Texas.

ENDOWED SCHOLARSHIPS

The Larry and Molly Kircher Endowed Scholarship Fund

The Larry and Molly Kircher Endowed Scholarship Fund has been established by Larry and Molly Kircher of Bald Knob, Arkansas. The purpose is to provide scholarship assistance to full-time students enrolled at Ouachita. Recipients must be a junior or senior with a grade point average of 2.5 or above and have a demonstrated financial need. Students meeting the prescribed guidelines will receive preference in the following order: students from White County, other students from Arkansas, then students from outside Arkansas.

The Herman Foy "Red" Riddle and Jenine Raicoff Riddle Endowed Honorary Scholarship

This scholarship was established by Dr. Richard D. Wilhelm to honor his beloved friends and adult Christian role models. First priority will be given to students pursuing a major in Christian Music Education/Ministry; second priority to business majors; and third priority to a major in Christian Ministry or Missions.

REED

Dr. Trey Berry, associate professor of history and director of the Pete Parks Center for Regional Studies, and Dr. Doug Reed, professor of political science and director of the Maddox Public Affairs Center, delivered a paper at the 2000 Southwest Social Science Convention. The paper was titled "Preserving the Past: A Comparative Study of the Antiquities Laws of Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas."

presented by the Baptist Association for Student Affairs (BASA) at its recent conference held at Campbellsville University in Campbellsville, Kentucky.

Dixon is a charter member of BASA and last year they renamed their Educator of the Year award the "B. Aldon Dixon Educator of the Year" award. It is presented annually to a leader in the field of student affairs within Southern Baptist Convention higher education circles.

The Lifetime Achievement Award was the first ever presented by BASA and honors Dixon for his commitment to students and to Christian higher education as well as for his "outstanding contribution to the student affairs profession."

Dr. Craig Hamilton, professor of music and director of bands, conducted the orchestra and taught courses for a summer session at Glorieta Baptist Conference Center in Glorieta, New Mexico. Hamilton is the conductor of the Ouachita Symphonic Band, which released its second CD in August.

Ackermans serve University as Missionaries-in-Residence

Rob and Patte Ackerman have been named as Missionaries-in-Residence at Ouachita for the 2000-2001 academic year.

The Ackermans are career Southern Baptist Convention (SBC) missionaries who have been serving as church starters among the Lugbara people in northwest Uganda.

They were appointed as missionaries in 1989. The couple served in Ethiopia from 1989 through 1998 as mission administrators, mission business managers and church starters. While in Ethiopia they worked among the Amhara and the Kembatta peoples.

Rob Ackerman is a native of Elmhurst, Illinois and a graduate of the University of Illinois-Champaign-Urbana. He attended Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, Texas. Patte Ackerman is a native of Chicago. She is a registered nurse who completed her studies at West Suburban School of Nursing in Oak Park, Illinois.

The Ackermans have three children. Bethany is a college student at Wingate College in North Carolina, while twins Melody and Krista, are in tenth grade.

The goals of the Missionaries-in-Residence Program at Ouachita are to offer Ouachita students an opportunity to become acquainted with the lives of career SBC missionaries; provide a "bonding" mechanism for the many children of career missionaries attending classes on the Arkadelphia campus; relate to students who are desiring to invest some part of their lives in various forms of missions work; to provide an opportunity for the missionaries to teach courses along the lines of their career backgrounds; and to offer the churches and other organizations in Arkansas an opportunity to hear of the experiences of the couple in ministering in a foreign land.

The Missionaries-in-Residence Program at Ouachita is directed by Ian Cosh, assistant to the president for community development and chair of the campus religious life committee.

"We are delighted the Ackermans have joined us this year as missionaries-in-residence at Ouachita," said Cosh. "They bring with them a wonderful spirit, outstanding qualifications, and a true desire to serve. I am convinced they will relate well to our students, faculty and staff, as well as to the other publics of the university."

Groups, organizations or churches interested in scheduling the Ackermans to speak may contact the Campus Ministries Office at Ouachita at (870) 245-5536 or e-mail at ackermanr@obu.edu. • Mac Sisson

Service awards presented to 29

Twenty-nine faculty and staff members representing 480 years of service to Ouachita were recognized by the institution with service awards at the annual Faculty/Staff Banquet on Friday, August 18.

The awards were presented by OBU President Dr. Andrew Westmoreland.

"These members of the Ouachita family represent an outstanding legacy of service and honor to the goals of Ouachita Baptist University," said Westmoreland. "Their investment is recognized and applauded for what each has done to help the school in educating our students."

One faculty member, Dr. Wilbur Wayne Everett, the Charles S. and Elma Grey Goodwin Holt Professor of Chemistry and Pre-Medical Studies, was recognized for 40 years of service. Another, Dr. Charles A. Chambliss, professor of education, was honored for 35 years of service. B. Aldon Dixon, vice president for student services and associate professor of biology, received recognition for 30 years of service.

Three other individuals shared the spotlight for 25 years of service to Ouachita. They were: Janice Ford, assistant professor and government documents librarian; Randy Garner, assistant to the president for enrollment management and director of alumni affairs; and Mac B. Sisson, assistant director of public relations and director of the news bureau and sports information office.

Twenty-year awards were presented to Eddie J. Ary, assistant professor of finance; Dr. Lewis A. Shepherd, assistant to the president for special programs; and Kevin Sullivan, maintenance staff.

Eight individuals were honored for 15 years of service. They were: Charolette Allison, executive secretary to the president; Dr. Stephen C. Hennagin, associate professor of mathematics and computer science; Lisa Hill, business manager; Dr. Dennis Scott Holsclaw, professor of theatre arts; Ken Miles, assistant to the vice president for student services; Sherri Phelps, director of human resources; Dr. Douglas Reed, professor of political science; and Ruby Williams, maintenance staff.

Tiger Serve Day honored

The Keep Arkansas Beautiful Commission awarded first place in the 2000 Beautification/Community Improvement Category to Ouachita's Tiger Serve day.

Tiger Serve Day, a program of the Ben M. Elrod Center for Family and Community, is a day of university volunteerism. Students, faculty and staff form teams of approximately eight people and choose a community need to serve. Past projects include painting homes, hauling trash for the elderly, and cleaning homes for the disabled. The Center hosts one Tiger Serve Day each semester.

The Keep Arkansas Beautiful Commission was authorized by the Arkansas Legislature in 1997 to preserve the natural beauty and quality environment of Arkansas through activities and programs to prevent litter, encourage recycling and to promote enhancement of the state's scenic values.

Ouachita received the honor at the first Keep Arkansas Beautiful Awards Ceremony held recently in Little Rock. Governor Mike Huckabee and First Lady Janet Huckabee spoke and presented the plaques.

"Everyone Ouachita student, professor and staff member who participated in Tiger Serve Day can take credit for this honor," said Ian Cosh, assistant to the director for community development and director of the Elrod Center.

Class of 2000 honored at spring commencement

Spring commencement exercises at Ouachita were held Saturday, May 13 in Bill Vining Arena in the Roy and Christine Sturgis Physical Education Center with 190 students receiving their bachelor's degrees.

Saturday's activities began with a baccalaureate service at 10:30 a.m. in Jones Performing Arts Center. Dr. Bruce Tippit, pastor of First Baptist Church in Jonesboro, was the speaker.

Tippit has served as pastor of five other churches throughout Arkansas and Texas. He is currently a member of the Institutional Review Board, the Concern Committee and the Ethics Committee at St. Bernards Regional Medical Center; Downtown Rotary Club; and the Jonesboro Church Health Center.

Tippit was honored at the commencement luncheon with the Purple and Gold Heart Award for his service to Ouachita, including a two-year term as president of the Former Students Association.

OBU Distinguished Alumnus Awards were also presented at the luncheon. Those receiving the honor were 1963 Ouachita graduate Dr. Boo Heflin, chair of the Old Testament Department and associate dean of the School of Theology at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, Texas, and 1967 OBU graduate Johnny Heflin, Chairman of the Board at Bird and Bear Enterprises in Little Rock. Both are sons of Mrs. Lynn Heflin of Little Rock, and the late Jay Heflin.

Boo Heflin graduated from Central High School in Little Rock in 1959. He holds a bachelor of arts (1963) degree from OBU, and master of divinity (1966) and doctorate of philosophy (1971) degrees from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

He completed post-doctoral studies at Cambridge University in Cambridge, England, Texas Christian University in Fort Worth, Texas, Oxford University in Oxford, England, and the Institute of Holy Land Studies in Jerusalem, Israel.

He has also served as interim pastor at 15 churches throughout Texas, Arkansas and Hawaii and has been the keynote speaker at numerous foreign, national and statewide lectures and conferences on religious doctrine.

He is the author of five books and numerous journal articles, Sunday School lessons, book reviews and video tapes. He is a member of several professional societies including the Religious Liberty Council, Alpha Chi Honor Fraternity, the Anglo-American Society (Honorary Fellow) and the Southern Baptist Historical Society.

Johnny Heflin also graduated from Central High School (1963). He received a bachelor of arts (1967) from Ouachita Baptist University and a masters in business administration (1969), degree from the University of Arkansas.

Johnny Heflin formerly served as president of Terminix, Inc. He then became Chairman of the Board for both Bird and Bear Enterprises and Bird and Bear Investments.

Johnny Heflin is a member of several professional organizations, including the Terminix National Council, Arkansas Pest Control Association and the National Pest Control Association.

He is involved in numerous community activities. He is Chairman of the OBU Board of Trustees, the Baptist Health Board of Trustees and the Arkansas Tennis Patrons' Foundation. He is a member of the boards of CARTI and the YMCA of Metropolitan Little Rock.

Both Boo and Johnny Heflin gave short commencement remarks on Saturday afternoon to the class of 2000.

Also honored at the commencement luncheon were two faculty members who retired this year from the Ouachita faculty.

Emeritus faculty status was conferred by the OBU Board of Trustees on Jack Estes, professor of modern languages, and Dr. Ralph Ford, professor of education. Estes served on the Ouachita faculty since 1965, and Ford since 1968. The two joined University Committee Chair Dr. Charles Fuller as commencement marshals, leading the processional for the Class of 2000.

The Division of Natural Sciences hosted a reception for the public on Saturday in honor of Dr. J. D. Patterson of Searcy and Dr. Tim Knight, the holder of the Patterson Endowed Chair of Biology at Ouachita.

From Chidester to Ouachita and on to Yale, Lyles reaches goals with visual impairment

Matt Lyles, a member of the class of 2000, hasn't let a visual impairment impede either his positive outlook on life or accomplishing life-altering goals.

This fall, he takes another step of faith as he enters Yale University as a graduate scholarship student at Yale Divinity School studying for a master of arts in religion degree with a concentration in liturgy. His goal after the two-year program at Yale is to stay at the Ivy League university or possibly attend Notre Dame University and study in a doctor of philosophy program in liturgical worship.

Lyles was raised in Chidester, a small town of about 300 people in southwest Arkansas. At the age of four, he developed retina blastula, or cancer of the eyes. In order to keep the cancer from spreading, his parents opted to proceed with removal of his eyes, resulting in his blindness. His eyes were replaced with hand-painted prosthetics.

Lyles was one of the first physically challenged visual students to enter the Chidester school system, which has now merged with Camden Fairview School District. He learned Braille from one of his teachers who had to take courses in Texarkana in order to teach him.

Although mainstreaming blind students into public schools, he said, was not popular in the early 80's, Lyles felt that it helped him deal with his disability. "It is good for blinds to mix with sighted people so that they become more comfortable in society."

During his high school

years, Lyles became interested in learning how to play the organ. His church organist, Victoria Harden, not only taught him how to play but also how to believe in himself. "She made me believe that one person can make a big difference," Lyles recollects.

It was during his high school years that a recurrence of cancer was found in Lyles left shoulder. He spent almost a year in Arkansas Children's Hospital in Little Rock battling the disease. The decision was made to remove his left shoulder, which eliminated the immediate danger of the cancer. After this difficult time in his life, Lyles believed that he was spared for a purpose, "I realize how precious life is," says Lyles.

After surviving so many struggles, Lyles graduated seventh in his Camden Fairview High graduating class of 300 students. His academic prowess title also earned him the opportunity to be a class salutatorian.

His decision to attend OBU was fairly easy to make because of its close proximity to his hometown and the "excellent reputation of the school," he said. The admissions representative who worked with him, Kathy Berry, was also very informative and answered each of his questions. He received an academic scholarship and a scholastic excellence scholarship.

Lyles felt very fortunate to have the help OBU has offered him. The Student Support Services Office offered "tremendous" support by having students read to Lyles so that he could survive academically. He also had a Braille and speaking machine, which is a piece of equipment that allows Lyles to take class notes. He then gave the machine disk to his professors so that they could print the information off the Braille format.

The cafeteria workers at Ouachita also helped Lyles in any way that they could. Although he likes to be independent, he does appreciate the daily support they offered when he went through the meal lines.

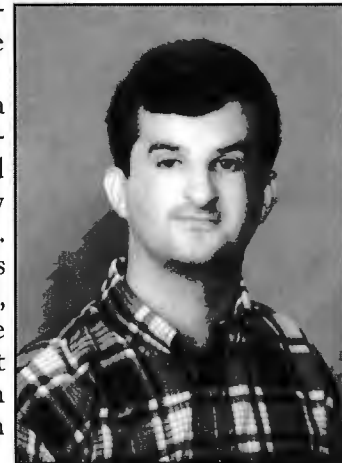

Lyles, who graduated from OBU in May, has a music and theology major with a minor in history. His fall study at Yale will focus on how faith and architecture inspire art. He is the fifth OBU religion major to be accepted to Yale Divinity School.

His long term goals include teaching religion at a college or university.

Recently, Lyles was voted by the Ouachita faculty as Senior Ouachitonian Man.

In order to prepare for his big move to Connecticut, he took courses this summer at Louisiana Tech University in Ruston, Louisiana. In these courses, specifically designed for blind students, he advanced his computer skills, learned how to safely travel alone in cities, and received tips on how to pack.

Lyles readily awaits all of his upcoming opportunities. Although his parents are somewhat nervous about his departure, he assured them, "We'll all be okay."

Campus BRIEFS

◆ Students earning academic awards for the 1999-2000 year were honored Annual Academic Awards Banquet. University Awards and awards by academic divisions and departments were presented.

Senior Ouachitonian Man and Woman were Matt Lyles and Allyson Greenwich. The Overall Academic Achiever was Aaron Hawley.

Other University Awards included: Alan Bagley, Carl Goodson Scholar; Heidi Klarhorst, Ben Elrod Scholar; Benjamin Peacock, Honors Council Scholar; Ibrahim Garba, Pew Scholars Pew Summer Seminar participant; Amy Bridges, Rotary Club Service-Above-Self Award.

The Mrs. J. R. Grant Memorial Awards were presented to Jacqueline Talbert Bolding and Tara Loyd. The Betty Oliver Grant Endowed Awards were presented to Cindy Gwekwerere and Katie Stueart.

◆ The 1999 "Ouachitonian" yearbook received first place in general excellence as the best college yearbook in Arkansas at the annual Arkansas College Media convention held recently at the University of Central Arkansas in Conway. Second place went to the University of Central Arkansas, and third place was awarded to the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville. The "Ouachitonian" yearbook also earned the Sweepstakes Award for earning the most individual awards.

The editor of the yearbook was Jennifer Hillman Goode of Almyra. The faculty adviser was Dr. Deborah Root, director of development publications and assistant professor of mass communications.

Students assist faculty in Scientific Research

Twelve Ouachita students and faculty members had the opportunity this summer to team-up in research programs all designed to broaden the expanse of scientific exploration and knowledge.

The $50,000 stipend-based Waggoner-Patterson Undergraduate Research Program was sponsored by longtime Ouachita supporters Dr. J. D. Patterson of Searcy and Virgil and June Waggoner and the Waggoner Foundation of Houston. Patterson is a 1947 graduate of Ouachita, and the Waggoners are 1948 graduates.

"Their gracious gifts have brought a new level of excitement to our academic area," said Dr. Joe Jeffers, chair of the division of natural sciences and the W. D. and Alice Burch Professor of Chemistry and Pre-Medical Studies.

Jeffers said aside from the inherent classroom research skills being utilized in the conduct of the research projects, there is the element of collaboration between students and faculty that is "invaluable" to the learning experience.

"It is an exciting opportunity for our students and faculty members to work alongside each other on a one to one basis," said Jeffers. "It is very important in the pedagogical process to have the opportunity to develop a respect of the trial and error techniques often associated with scientific research."

"The students get to see how a hypothesis is developed, think through the possibilities, obtain results, and analyze the data," Jeffers added. "It is also important to note that through the life of the research projects, participants meet with others in the scientific field, thus providing opportunities of interaction and growth. I think, too, success begets success."

... there is the element of collaboration between students and faculty that is "invaluable" to the learning experience.

Jeffers said the research participants will have the opportunity to showcase their work at professional meetings during the school year.

The projects chosen were reviewed and selected after review by both on-campus and off-campus panels of science educators. The OBU research grants included awards to:

—Dr. Terry Sergeant, assistant professor of mathematics and computer science, for a study titled "The Feasibility of a Transparent World Wide Web Proxy Cache." Sergeant was assisted by Joshua Franklin, a senior computer science/history major from Portland, Oregon;

—Dr. Tim Knight, associate professor of biology and holder of the J. D. Patterson Chair of Biology, for a study titled "Determination of the Toxicity of the Herbicide 'Round-Up' to Vibrio fischeri and Eisenia foetida." Knight is assisted by Grant Bennett, a senior biology/chemistry major from Hot Springs;

—Dr. Marty Perry, assistant professor of chemistry, for a research topic titled "Molecular Dynamics Simulations of Cathepsin B: A Collaborative Study with R. Lila Compadre." Perry and Compadre, associate professor in the department of pharmaceutical sciences at the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences in Little Rock, are co-conducting this bio-medical research project on the protein that is involved in a variety of physiological and pathological processes, including inflammatory and neoplastic diseases. Michael Reading, a junior biology major from Little Rock, is the student assistant;

—Dr. Joe Bradshaw, assistant professor of chemistry, for a research topic titled "DNA Modification by Novel Water Soluble Metalloporphyrin Systems." Metalloporphyrins of this nature have been shown to be tumor-specific and thus have potential as tumor therapy agents. Bradshaw is assisted by James Kitchens, a senior biology/chemistry major from Lewisville; and Torin Marracino, a senior biology/chemistry major from Lewisville;

—Dr. James Taylor, assistant professor of biology, for a research study titled "Cell Wall Modification of Developing Plant Cells in Response to Coriolis Force and the Disruption of Normal Gravitational Effects." The nature of the study revolved around the importance in future space travel of the growth and maintenance of plants in space. Taylor is being assisted in his research by Nathan Livers, a senior biology major from Benton; and

—Dr. Joe Jeffers, for a research program titled "The Life and Work of Frederick Sanger: Two-time Nobel Laureate in Chemistry."

Ouachita ranked high by U.S. News & World Report

ACADEMIC RANKING No. 11
BEST FINANCIAL VALUE RANKING No. 2
among 131 regional liberal arts colleges in the south

Ouachita Baptist University has been named one of the top fifteen in academics and the number two best financial value among regional liberal arts colleges and universities in the south, according to U.S. News and World Report's 14th annual college rankings.

"America's Best Colleges," the college rankings guidebook published by U.S. News, listed Ouachita as eleventh in academics among the 131 regional liberal arts schools in the south. For Ouachita, it was the fifth consecutive high placement since moving into the category five years ago. Among the colleges and universities listed as best values, Ouachita's No. 2 finish was its highest since placing No. 1 in 1996.

"We're pleased to be included in the rankings again this year," said Dr. Andrew Westmoreland, president of Ouachita. "The U.S. News rankings guidebook has become a popular reference for families looking at potential college choices. While it cannot measure every important aspect of quality and value in colleges and universities, it is good to see that Ouachita performs well in their statistical and reputational measurements. It's evident that Ouachita's reputation for excellence is growing."

"America's Best Colleges" is the best seller among college rankings guidebooks in the country, providing facts and figures on more than 1,400 schools nationwide. Its annual survey, chief among several sources of information about each college or university, had a 94 percent return rate in 1999. The U.S. News rankings are the result of a combination of statistics in six general categories: academic reputation, retention of students, faculty resources, student selectivity, financial resources, and alumni giving. Jeff Root

Enrollment over 1,700

A large freshman class and an increase in retention have resulted in a record number of undergraduates enrolled for the fall semester at Ouachita, according to Dr. Andrew Westmoreland, president of Ouachita.

Ouachita's head count is 1,714, up 4.6 percent from 1999 figures. The on-campus population is up 6 percent to 1,664. The growth continues a general pattern at Ouachita, where enrollment has increased more than 36 percent since 1991.

"It's exciting to see that an increasing number of students are interested in coming to Ouachita," said Westmoreland. "Our faculty and staff have worked very hard to achieve positive results in both recruitment and retention, and we're seeing the fruit of their labor."

Summer snapshots from around the world

NAMIBIA, AFRICA • The BSU sponsored a mission trip to Namibia, Africa, where students worked with youth development programs in area colleges and schools. The group conducted a Discipleship Now program and performed in a drama called "Freedom." The group worked with Bryan and Donna Bullington, who are Southern Baptist Convention career missionaries in Namibia.

BELIZE • Eleven students from the biology department traveled to Belize, a Caribbean state on Central America's eastern coast, to study the tropical rain forests and the various plants and animals of the region. They also were exposed to lectures on Belize's lifestyles, culture and folklore. The group had the opportunity to explore Mayan ruins, coral gardens, extensive caves, exotic marine life, and the western hemisphere's largest barrier reef. The group stayed in Chan-Chich Village while in Belize.

EUROPE • The Ouachita Wind Ensemble went on a 12-day performance and sightseeing trip to Europe. The itinerary was stops in Rome, Amsterdam, Salzburg, Prague, Florence and Vienna. The group was directed by Dr. Craig Hamilton.

BIBLICAL SITES • Twenty-two students and faculty members spent three weeks visiting biblical sites in Israel, the West Bank, and Jordan. The final week was spent participating in an archaeological dig.

Tennis team captures third at nationals

The Tiger tennis team beat Valdosta State University 5-1 to secure third place in the 2000 NCAA Division II Men's Tennis Championship Tournament in Pensacola, Florida.

It was the best finish ever by a NCAA Division II team in Arkansas in the national tournament. Coach Craig Ward's Tigers, representing the Lone Star Conference, finished the year with their best record ever with 25 wins against only two losses.

"I am extremely proud of what our team did at nationals," said OBU coach Craig Ward. "They played their hearts out against some excellent competition. I could not have asked for anything more."

The Lander University Senators were seeded fourth going into the Pensacola tournament and the habitual national crown chasers from Greenwood, South Carolina won their eighth straight Division II men's title on Saturday turning back third seeded Hawaii Pacific University from Honolulu, Hawaii, 5-2. It was their 13th overall national title after winning the last five NAIA titles for which they competed.

The Tiger Tennis team began post-season tournament play by winning the Lone Star Conference Championship and being ranked #1 in the NCCA Midwest Region. Named All-Americans were Martin Linkhorst and Daniel Vejman.

The team was also honored as an Academic All-

America Team with a 3.56 overall GPA. Academic All-Americans were Johan Eriksson, Linkhorst and Vejman.

regional honors by the Intercollegiate Tennis Association (ITA) and "Tennis" magazine.

Daniel Vejman, an OBU junior management major from Sollentuna, Sweden (Rudbecksskolan), was named by "Tennis" magazine as the recipient of its Arthur Ashe Leadership and Sportsmanship Award for the Midwest Region of the NCAA Division II.

The Ashe Award went to a player who exhibited outstanding sportsmanship and leadership as well as scholastic, extracurricular and tennis achievements.

Ouachita's Raul Bermudez, a sophomore liberal arts major from Caracas, Venezuela (San Ignacio), was named the national ITA National Player to Watch. He was the NCAA Midwest Region finalist for the honor.

The Player to Watch Award went to the player who has had an outstanding season, but has not won a national singles title. The player's sportsmanship and character were also considered.

Spears named soccer head coach

Men's and women's teams to compete on varsity level

Rod Spears has been hired as the university's new men's and women's soccer coach. The OBU Lady Tiger soccer team started play for the first time last fall, with the men to join the varsity line-up this fall. Spears will both coach and teach in the department of health, physical education and recreation.

Spears has coached high school soccer for the past 18 years having most recently taught at Longview High School. He has also taught in the Marshall (TX) Independent School District.

Spears holds a bachelor of science in education degree earned in 1979 from Mississippi College. He and his wife, Deborah, have two sons, Ryan, 20, and Robert, 19.

This fall, OBU competes in the NCAA Division II Gulf South Conference (West Division). • Mac Sisson

Swimming Hall of Fame Honors four OBU athletes

The Arkansas Swimming Sports Hall of Fame honored four Ouachita swimmers and divers at its annual awards dinner held Saturday, April 29, at the Bess Stephens YMCA in Little Rock.

Four Tigers Sharks and Lady Tigers Sharks were acknowledged for their accomplishments in the sport of collegiate swimming and diving for the 1999-2000 school year.

John Berry, a junior fly and freestyler from Houston, TX (Langham Creek), was presented the Male Swimmer of the Year Award. He was named earlier this year as the NCAA Division II Male Swimmer of the Year.

Berry competed this summer in swimming trials for the Olympic Games. He won three events at nationals—the 50 yard freestyle in a record setting performance of :19.84; the 100 freestyle with a school record of :44.46; and a school record :49.26 in the 100 yard butterfly.

At the ceremony in Little Rock, sisters Kelly and Tracy Krueger of Double Oak, TX (Marcus) were presented the Female Co-Swimmers of the Year Award. Kelly is a junior fly and IMer while Tracy is a backstroker and IMer.

Ouachita's Andy Scott, a senior diver from Mineral Springs, was presented the Male Diver of the Year Award. Sally Alfred, a sophomore from Marshall, TX, was presented the Female Diver of the Year Award.

The Tigers Sharks and Lady Sharks won the New South Independent Swim League Championships this season. The Tiger Sharks then went on to finish seventh while breaking nine men's school marks in the NCAA Division II National Swimming and Diving Championship Meet in Buffalo, NY. The OBU women established four new school standards.

Both teams are coached by Jim Dann. • Mac Sisson

Sports Briefs

Golf

The Tiger golf team finished last among 10 teams in the 2000 Lone Star Conference Men's Championship Golf Tournament held at the Texas Star Golf Course in Euless, TX.

Coached by OBU Athletic Director David Sharp, the Tiger linksters completed the tour with 987 strokes (326-335-326), 88 strokes behind the leader, the University of Central Oklahoma with an 899 (308-301-290).

The top two Tiger golfers were junior Beau Bishop of Arkadelphia (82-84-78) and sophomore Kris Seyler of Manila (83-81-80), who both carded 244s, which put them in a tie for thirty-eighth place. Randy Southerland, a freshman from Lonoke who had been medalist for the Tigers for the past two tournaments, reported back to the clubhouse with a forty-fourth place score of 249 (80-84-85). Ouachita's Jeff Maneth, a sophomore from Cabot, had scores of 81-86-83 for a 250 and forty-sixth place. Finally, OBU's Brent Walker, a junior from Fayetteville, placed forty-ninth at the conference tournament with scores of 86-90-86 for a 262.

Swimming & Diving

The Ouachita Baptist University Tiger Sharks swimming and diving team was ranked seventh in the final College Swim Coaches Association of America/NCAA Division II Men's Swimming and Diving Rankings of the year. The Tiger Sharks, the only Arkansas team listed in the Top 10, also had several individuals and relay teams ranked among Division II leaders.

Ouachita was listed behind California State University-Bakersfield, Drury (MO) University, University of California-Davis University, University of North Dakota, and the University of Missouri-Rolla.

The Tiger Sharks and Lady Tiger Sharks, coached by Jim Dann, both won the 2000 New South Independent Swim League Championships. The Tiger Sharks recently finished in seventh place in the NCAA Division II Swimming and Diving Championship Meet in Buffalo, NY.

In NCAA Division II's final national individual and team categories, the Tiger

Sharks' John Berry, a junior from Houston, TX (Langham Creek), led the nation in two events—the 50 yard freestyle with a time of :19.84, and the 100 yard freestyle with a clocking of :44.35. The Texas swimmer finished the year with the fastest time in the country in the 100 yard butterfly with a time of :49.26. Berry had also qualified for the Olympic trials in the sprints this summer in Indianapolis.

The All American swimmer is a member of the OBU 400 medley relay team that had the third fastest time in Division II with a time of 3:24.96. Also on the team are Chris White, a sophomore from Memphis, TN (Kirby); Jesse Mullinax, a senior from Texarkana, AR (Texas High); and Moss Duvall, a sophomore from Shreveport, LA (Caddo Magnet). Berry has helped lead OBU's 200 free relay squad to a sixth best national clocking at 1:23.70. On the 200 team, along with Berry, are Kip Schneider, a freshman from Houston, TX (La Porte); Ray Miller, a junior from Texarkana, AR (Texas High); and Mullinax.

The Tiger Sharks' 400 free relay team composed of Berry; Joel Jackson, a junior from Edmond, OK (Edmond Memorial); Schneider; and Duvall laid claim to the nation's seventh best finish in the event at 3:06.33. Ouachita's 800 free relay quartet of Berry, Jackson, Duvall, and Ty Jordan, a freshman from Shreveport, LA (Captain Shreve), swam to a time of 6:55.33 and placed ninth in the fastest times among Division II athletes. OBU's 200 medley relay team of White, Mullinax, Duvall and Schneider closed the year with the nation's ninth fastest time with a clocking of 1:34.32.

In other individuals bests on the OBU team, Mullinax finished with the eighth fastest time in the 100 yard breaststroke with a time of 2:08.50.

Ouachita's Duvall was the eighth fastest swimmer in the U.S. in Division II in the 200 butterfly with an electronic timing of 1:52.85.

In women's Division II rankings, the Lady Tiger Sharks were not ranked in the Top 20 national teams, although several team members had times listed in the top 20 performances. The Lady Tiger Sharks finished in 27th place at the conclusion of the National meet.

Katie Turner, a freshman from McPherson, KS, had the fourteenth fastest time in the 1,650 yard freestyle with a clocking of 17:43.94.

The Lady Tigers' 800 free relay team finished the year in sixteenth place with a time of 8:05.07. Team members are Tracy Krueger, a junior from Double Oak, TX (Marcus); Kelly Krueger, a junior from Double Oak, TX (Marcus); Turner; and Shannon Leathers, a senior from Texarkana, TX (Texas High).

Baseball

Three Tiger baseball players were named to the 2000 Lone Star Conference North Division All-Academic Baseball Team.

The three players were shortstop/pitcher Adam DePriest, a sophomore mathematics major from Mena; pitcher Ronald Glass, a senior accounting major from Ashdown; and pitcher Billy Adams, a senior mathematics major from Sherwood (Sylvan Hills).

The academic team consists of student-athletes who have maintained a cumulative grade point average of 3.20 or higher while earning a varsity letter for that season. Students are required to have successfully completed 24 hours of college credit at their institution to qualify for the honor.

Pictured is an artist's rendering of proposed renovations to A. U. Williams Field. Renovations are scheduled to begin at the end of the 2000 football season.

President
Former Students
Association

As I sit in my office and listen to the sounds outside—the band practicing “Yellow Submarine,” football shoulder pads crunching together, and cheerleaders yelling “Go, Bobcats, Go”—I fully realize that school is about to begin.

Think back fifty years, thirty years, or even to last year and remember your first day of class. You might remember kindergarten, junior high, high school, or Ouachita. I attended school for many years and have been in education for twenty-seven years. The anxiety and anticipation is just as real today as it was years ago. I still spend a sleepless night right before the first bell rings.

Now, I focus on Ouachita. I feel so blessed to have spent four years in that special world. The education I received prepared me well for my life's vocation. I had instructors who cared about me and helped shape my life. I made friends who hold a special place in my heart. The Christian focus guided me as I made decisions that have controlled my life.

Many of us have encouraged others to attend Ouachita. I know that Hope is sending one of the best groups of students that I can remember. I want to issue a challenge to each of us to stay in contact with the students from your hometowns and encourage them through the first hard semester.

How long has it been since you have come home to Ouachita? Ouachita homecoming is October 28. Activities begin on Friday the 27th with a Golf Scramble and a Reunion Dinner. On Saturday, there are organization drop-ins and a campus cookout at noon. Kick-off is at 2:00 p.m. with the Tigers playing the University of West Alabama. Following the game there are after-game fellowships for reunion classes. Remember to order your Tiger Tunes tickets early for your choice of Thursday through Saturday nights. Please come and support the Tigers and enjoy the festivities of the weekend. I hope to see you there!

I thank you for electing me as your President. I am truly humbled. Before closing, I have been asked to tell you a little about myself. I graduated from Ouachita in 1973 after having completed Hope High School. My husband, Bill, also graduated in 1973. We have two sons—Adam, a junior in college, and Reyn, a sophomore in high school. I am Assistant Principal at Hope High School and am an avid Bobcat fan!

I look forward to working with you this year and would love to hear from you. My e-mail address is jbrown@hhs.swsc.k12.ar.us.

Ouachita Baptist University is seeking comments from the public about the College in preparation for its periodic evaluation by its regional accrediting agency. The College will undergo a comprehensive evaluation visit March 5-7, 2001, by a team representing the Commission in Institutions of Higher Education of the North Central Association of College and Schools. Ouachita received initial accreditation in 1927 and has been continuously accredited by the commission since 1953. The team will review the institution's ongoing ability to meet the Commission's Criteria for Accreditation and General Institutional Requirements.

The public is invited to submit comments regarding the college:

Memorial service held for victims of plane crash

A memorial service for the victims of American Airlines flight 1420 was held June 1 at the Riverfront Park in Little Rock. Survivors, families and friends gathered to remember those who lost their lives in the June 1, 1999 crash at Little Rock National Airport. Wreaths were placed in the Arkansas River in memory of the victims.

Passengers on the plane included members of the Ouachita Singers, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Fuller and family, and Dr. Dave Ozmun.

Ouachita Singers who was also on the plane. The Fuller's 14-year-old daughter, Rachel, died of her injuries on June 16, 1999. Her mother Cindy, and sister Sarah (center photo), placed a wreath in honor of Rachel.

Dr. Charles Fuller (right photo), professor of music and director of the Ouachita Singers, spoke at the service.

ASSOCIATE
FOR ESTATE AND GIFT PLANNING

Occasionally I stop preaching and go to meddling, and the reader may think the following discourse falls into that category. With no individual in mind, and nothing personal intended, here I go.....

In Development we often hear comments like this one: "The only time we ever hear from Ouachita is when they want money." Certainly we do have a number of campaigns, mail-outs and drives to raise funds, and it may appear to some folks that we are preoccupied with the quest for money. For example, one of our most visible efforts is the Ouachita Scholarship Fund drive, designed to provide scholarship assistance to our students. Each gift from an alumnus carries a bonus with it: when considering grants, many foundations look to see if the alumni are loyal donors before they make a decision. Significant alumni participation is evidence that the college is doing something worthwhile.

To Ouachita's wonderful and generous donors, this is an affirmation; to those who aren't donors, an appeal. The lovely and unique place we call Ouachita would not be here if not for thousands of loyal donors through the years, nor would there be consistent high rankings for our school in a national magazine as one of the best values in education. Without gifts, many of the 1,600 students on campus each year would not be able to attend because the cost would be prohibitive. If you are an alumnus, you may have reflected on the fact that your sojourn at Ouachita was a

Estate Tax Repeal: Boon or Bust for Philanthropy (and Ouachita?)

Congress has voted to abolish the estate tax, and with it, the charitable deduction for bequests and devises. The House of Representatives and Senate passed legislation this summer aimed at phasing out the tax over the next decade. Although the President has stated his intention to veto the measure, the estate tax train appears to be headed for the precipice.

Many "experts" assert that universities like Ouachita, along with hospitals and other non-profit entities, stand to lose billions of dollars in bequests if the estate tax is thrown out. In contrast, many believe that there will not be much impact, if any, because money that would have gone to the government will be in the hands of potential donors.

Donors who itemize will still benefit from the income tax deduction generated by lifetime charitable gifts.

On the other hand, the use of Charitable Remainder Trusts (CRT) would be more likely if a complementary measure is incorporated dealing with capital gains. Currently, a beneficiary of appreciated estate property receives a stepped-up basis equal to the date-of-death value; thus, an immediate sale triggers little if any capital gains tax. If the estate tax is abolished, the basis on such growth assets will be the same as the decedent's basis. When such property is used to fund a CRT, all capital gains taxes are avoided.

What motivates people to give? If the answer is primarily tax benefits, without a doubt the absence of estate taxes will cause a reduction in estate gifts. If the answer is love for others and a desire to leave a permanent legacy, then there will be little, if any, impact on gifts through estates. I believe strongly that the latter explanation describes Ouachita donors. Reflecting on the wonderful friends who have provided estate gifts during my tenure here, including over $4 million in the last two years alone, very few, if any, were made because of the existence of the estate tax. A significant percentage of bequests to Ouachita come from estates which are not subject to estate tax. In our materials we always tout estate tax avoidance as a bonus to wealthy donors for making a bequest, but it is just a bonus, not a reason for giving.

Helping Without Hindering: Special Needs Trust

Conundrums and catch-22s abound when dealing with federal agencies and programs. In particular, the rules governing Medicaid assistance are complicated, the violation of which can lead to some egregious consequences.

Take for example a real-life event involving two sisters, one eligible for and benefitting from Medicaid (Jane*), and the other fairly well off (Joan*). Joan decided to give Jane a few shares of stock to help her out a bit, an act of love which triggered some unexpected problems. Upon learning about the stock gift, the Medicaid office notified Jane that she had too many assets to remain on the Medicaid program. To regain her eligibility, Jane had to spend the stock proceeds on a "qualified" expenditure, leaving nothing in the way of discretionary funds.

Joan had no idea she would jeopardize Jane's Medicaid provisions by making a simple gift. In her estate plan Joan had included a substantial provision for Jane,

... a Special Needs Trust allows a parent or sibling to enhance the life of a loved one without disqualifying the beneficiary for critically needed federal and state assistance.

and she wondered if this was the right thing to do considering the stock gift fiasco. She voiced her concern to an estate planning attorney who explained to Joan the concept of a "Special Needs Trust" (SNT) to solve the problem. In an updated will Joan incorporated the SNT, to be activated by the executor at Joan's death.

SNTs are designed to provide "special needs" over and above what Medicaid provides. If drafted correctly, the trust enables the trustee to distribute funds for certain defined needs without jeopardizing Medicaid eligibility. The trust provisions include a directive that no funds will be distributed if Medicaid eligibility is affected negatively. A safety-valve provision can also be added that directs the dissolution of the trust itself if it is deemed to be a stumbling block to Medicaid eligibility. If the trust is dissolved, or the beneficiary dies, the remainder may be passed on to individuals or to a charitable entity.

Often a trust fits perfectly into an estate plan to accomplish certain goals, for example to provide support for a spendthrift child without giving him or her access to the principal. In many cases, a Special Needs Trust allows a parent or sibling to enhance the life of a loved one without disqualifying the beneficiary for critically needed federal and state assistance. • John Cloud bargain because of those who helped you by making "current" gifts, bequests, and cooperative program gifts. The named buildings, scholarship funds, and endowed chairs attest to a minute portion of the army of donors who have made Ouachita what it is today.

As the Bible teaches, giving is a two-way street; everybody benefits, even way down the line. So when you get that envelope, or when I ask you to include Ouachita in your estate plan, I hope you will consider it a privilege, not a burden. Ouachita and her students are worthy of your loyalty and support.

Ouachita's Endowment Policy Updated

In a recent meeting the Ouachita Board of Trustees voted to update the endowment policy to make it comparable to that of other private universities of similar size in our region. To endow a chair of instruction will now require a minimum of $1 million; for an endowed scholarship fund, $25,000; and for an endowed lectureship, $100,000. These revisions were made necessary because the cost of goods and services are so much higher than they were when the last increase was implemented.

The endowed chair of instruction is the most prestigious endowment fund at Ouachita, named for the donor or donors and lasting for perpetuity. A "chair" is designed to generate the funds to pay for and equip a distinguished professor in a particular field. The minimum amount required will go a long way toward meeting these needs every year, though not in full. Most funds will grow because the amount of income Ouachita uses each year, 5%, will normally be less than the total income. Some donors have the wherewithal to provide more than the minimum required amount from the start.

An endowed scholarship fund is permanent also, producing income for scholarship awards as directed by the donor.

Some endowed scholarship funds are substantial enough to provide significant assistance to ten or fifteen students each year. Others may provide fewer awards, but they are no less vital to the recipients. Alleviating the expense, say, for books, makes a difference to the student and his or her family who are struggling to make ends meet. All endowed funds are named for the donor.

An endowed lectureship fund helps pay the honorariums and fees for guest speakers on campus. Exposure to a variety of people and ideas is an important part of the education process. There are other types of endowments also, for example to maintain a building or to provide library resources, some with minimum investments and some without. All are important.

An endowment fund may be established during the donor's lifetime or through an estate provision. Families often set up endowed funds in honor or in memory of loved ones. Several alumni and friends have given life insurance policies to Ouachita that will someday pay out to start an endowed fund. Every premium payment is a tax-deductible gift. We hope you will consider directing a portion of your estate to Ouachita for an endowment fund that will permanently generate blessings for others. Endowed funds are gifts that keep on giving. • John Cloud

 FOR DEVELOPMENT

The fiscal year that ended on May 31, 2000 was another great year in contributions. Every individual, foundation, church and business listed on this page and the following ones has enabled Ouachita to continue offering a quality education at a reasonable cost to our students and their families. Our students come from around the world and will help to shape the future of our world. Thank you for helping us educate the next generation of Ouachitonians.
