We had our own way of adapting to the changes

(Cont. from page 299)

interest in the hostages as we participated in a special Noonday service, wore yellow arm bands and rang the chimes 52 times as a special tribute.

Although we may have felt isolated inside Baptist-supported rules and regulations, Dr. Grant's message on February 3 in Mitchell Auditorium explained how closely we were effected by government budget cuts as $100-$200 was subtracted from work-study salaries.

Yet, it seemed as if the consistency of Ouachita's style helped balance the turmoil of national crises.

(Cont. page 303)

BECAUSE OF OUR LOCATION, we can't help but associate closely with the merchants and citizens of Arkadelphia. With the theme of "Under the Big Top," the homecoming parade provided Judy Blevins a chance to talk with the kids.

OUR STANDARDS ARE HIGH ACADEMICALLY which might have meant reworking an accounting problem or understanding the principles of graphics. Mrs. Betty Berry explains a design problem to freshman art major Rosanne Ginetti.
We responded with style
(Cont. from page 303)

With an enrollment of only 1600 students, Walt's provided a place to gather and enjoy our "family" atmosphere. Tiger Traks and Tiger Tunes contributed to our unity as we worked toward the common goal of raising scholarship money. Pledge week, although still controversial, involved a larger pledge class than in recent years. And the BSU illustrated its continuing concern for ministry by concentrating all the spring break missions team efforts in areas of St. Louis.

(Cont. page 304)

OUR STYLE OF ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE isn't hard to find. And even though it isn't in his field of chemistry, sophomore Mick Murphy participates in a classroom discussion.

SITTING ON THE FAIRGROUND FLOOR covered with sawdust, long, cold nights and a lot of team work went into building floats. Chi Delta Mary Jane Lowman begins the process of stuffing pompoms.

MANY MONTHS OF PREPARATION went into the making of another successful Tiger Traks weekend. But bicycle team members Kirby Bagett and Wayne Fawcett experience a frustrating moment.
It's Our Style

Our style can be described in many ways both from Christian and academic perspectives. But when the chimes ring and repeat familiar hymns, it's nice to know style still means commitment to simple things.

It proved to be a year of confusion—St. Helens erupting, a heatwave growing into a drought, and campaign promises churning into conflicting issues. And although they helped shape us as an institution, commitment to Christian principles is the difference, because that difference is our style.