Dr. Bridges to Relinquish Duties August 31; Ralph Douglas Is Named Interim Secretary

THE STATE BOARD of the Arkansas Baptist State Convention, polled by mail on the resignation of Dr. B. L. Bridges, general secretary and treasurer of the Convention, as presented by Dr. Bridges on July 16, has voted to accept the resignation with regret, it was announced by T. K. Rucker, Forrest City, chairman of the State Board, at a meeting of the Board's Executive Committee in the Baptist Building on Thursday of last week.

Dr. Bridges had asked that his resignation become effective as of August 31, but the Board requested that he continue to serve until the annual meeting of the Convention in November. At the request of Dr. Bridges, made to the Executive Committee, he will relinquish his duties on August 31.

The Executive Committee named as interim general secretary and treasurer to serve until Dr. Bridges' successor is chosen, Dr. Ralph Douglas, associate general secretary.

"We are calling upon the pastors of the state and the members of their churches to carry the Executive Committee of the Executive Board in their hearts in prayer, as we assume the great responsibility of finding God's man to serve as Dr. Bridges' successor," Chairman Rucker said in a statement to the Arkansas Baptist.

"The Committee is a group of dedicated men who are taking their responsibility seriously and prayerfully and covet your prayers that we may find God's will and God's man for this responsible place," he continued.

The following resolution was voted by the Executive Committee:

"Be it resolved that the Executive Committee of the Executive Board of the Arkansas Baptist State Convention express our feeling of surprise in Dr. Bridges offering his resignation at this time and regret that he could not continue in service at least until the convention in November.

"Be it further resolved that we express our utmost confidence in him and his leadership across the years. We also want to express the love and good will of the Executive Committee of the Executive Board for Dr. Bridges, who has led so faithfully and pray that he may continue to have as fruitful a ministry in the future as he has to the present time."

Any who wish to propose names for consideration for the position are invited by the Executive Committee to send the names to Chairman Rucker. All proposals should be signed.

Concord Notes

Al G. ESCOTT, pastor of Bluff Avenue Church, Fort Smith, will observe his 18th anniversary as pastor on October 15. Plans are being made to dedicate on this occasion a new educational building that will contain 4,500 feet of floor space. It will house all the church offices, three adult classrooms, rest rooms and drinking fountains. The building is being constructed of blocks with buff, mission brick finish. It has central heating and air conditioning. The building is valued at $50,000.

A SEMINARY extension center will be established in Fort Smith to serve Concord and adjacent associations in Arkansas and Oklahoma. A committee to work out the details is composed of Al G. Escott, Mason Bondurant, Jim Chatham, Walter Watts and Harlan Abel.

THE EXCELSIOR Church has under construction a two-story educational building which will house several Sunday school classrooms, dining room and kitchen. L. L. Gilliam is in his fifth year as pastor. — Jay W. C. Moore, missionary.

Following his graduation in 1951 from Ouachita College with majors in English and speech, Tedford served Ouachita briefly as BSU director and public relations director.

He received the M.A. degree in speech in 1953 from Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, and remained two additional years to complete all requirements for the Ph.D. degree except his dissertation.

His doctoral dissertation is entitled "An Investigation of Public Address as Taught by the Training Union Movement of the Southern Baptist Convention."

Ordained in 1949 by the First Church, Arkadelphia, he served as pastor of the Jessville Church, near Hot Springs, for three years. While a student at Louisiana State University, he was associate pastor of two Baptist churches in Baton Rouge.

Mrs. Tedford is the former Miss Ann Presswood of Texarkana. The Tedfords are residing on the seminary campus with their son, Thomas David, one and one-half years old.

Men For Christ

THE BAPTIST Brotherhood slogan, "A Million Men for Christ," is more than a catch phrase — it is something of marching orders for a large segment of the men of our Southern Baptist churches.

Not only does the Brotherhood seek to enlist every man who is a church member, but it also places a strong emphasis upon every Christian's job — soul winning, as portrayed in the Home Mission Board photo on this week's cover.

One of the great needs of our churches is more consecrated men. When one takes into account the large preponderance of women in the typical Baptist church service, one is made to ask, Where are the men? Why are they not here in large numbers?

Dr. George Schroeder, executive secretary of the Brotherhood department of the Southern Baptist Convention, along with his associates, is making a positive approach to the problem of enlistment and evangelism. Under the direction of the Brotherhood department, the first National Conference for Southern Baptist Men is to be held in Oklahoma City, September 18-20. This will attract men from all over the nation and should make a tremendous impact for good upon the leadership in local churches. Preachers and laymen alike are urged to attend.

● CENTRAL CHURCH, Pine Bluff, Ben Wofford, pastor, recently received 16 new members in a revival led by Evangelist Jesse Reed and Singer Mark Short, Sr. Fifteen were received by baptism and one by letter. Three surrendered for special service.

Put your state paper in your church budget.

● PEE DEE CHURCH in Stone-Van Buren-Searcy Association has set a record during the past ten months which should be an inspiration and challenge to all rural churches in Arkansas. In this brief time, the church has called a pastor full time, built and dedicated a new house of worship, tripled both Sunday school and Training Union enrollments and added 58 new members to the church roll.

The church's upward trend began last summer when Richard Earl Carroll from Marianna, Fla., went to Stone-Van Buren-Searcy Association as a summer student missionary under the direction of the Department of Missions and the Home Mission Board. Pee Dee Church at that time was pastorless and Brother Carroll served the church as interim pastor in connection with his mission duties. He conducted a Vacation Bible School, completed a census of the community and, as a result, saw the Sunday school increase from the forties to sixty-four and also witnessed six professions of faith and over a dozen rededications.

In September, the church called Rev. Earl Marr for full time, and he moved on the field. He has seen a new church erected and dedicated and 58 additions to the church membership. The new church building was dedicated June 16, with Rev. H. C. Smith of El Dorado and an associational missionary, J. D. Seymour, preaching in the special service.

A revival meeting followed with Rev. Glenn Marr of Shreveport, La., as evangelist. There were 24 professions of faith and eight joined by letter during the week. There were ten awaiting baptism, making a total of 34 for baptism, which was held in a mountain stream on June 30.

The Pee Dee community has really experienced a spiritual uplift, and the church is already thinking of a pastor's home. Pastor Marr is happy in his field of service and the church is high in its praise of his work. —C. W. Caldwell, Superintendent of Missions.

Money in the Second Quarter

By BEN L. BRIDGES, Executive Secretary

Arkansas Baptist State Convention

If there are any errors in this quarterly financial report, please hasten to call our attention to them so that we may make the corrections. When we call attention to the fact that we did not reach the full goal for the budget in the second quarter, we face a fact that does not make us jubilant but ought to help us in making us more diligent and more earnest and more determined to make up the deficit in the weeks that are just ahead—Let us analyze the situation in a few words:

Our budget for 1957 is $1,497,771.95. In order to satisfy this enlarged budget, we need to receive each month the amount of $124,814.62. This would amount to about $374,444.00 for the quarter. We did not do that well. We actually collected $330,976.64 for the entire quarter. For the first half of the year we needed $677,300.40. This is not as much as we received for the corresponding period last year with a smaller budgetary goal. For these first six months this year we lacked $2,057.91 getting as much as we got for the same period last year. This isn't good. Our receipts were not sufficient from the very beginning this year to cover our needs and June perhaps was the worst month of all.

The $677,300.40 that we actually received in undesignated money for the first six months of the year was 45 per cent of the total budget figures for the year. If we run on the same figures during the last half of the year we will have collected only about 90 per cent of the total budget for the year. While we collected 45 per cent of the year's budget during the first six months of this year, yet last year for the same period we had collected 51 per cent of the budget for the entire year. For the first six months this year we needed $748,885.98 and we actually received only $677,300.40.

Why This Deficit?

Just why the receipts have been much smaller this year is not certain, but we can speculate a little bit and say that we had a terribly hard, rainy spring and this being an agricultural state largely made it impossible for agricultural success. Our farmers have been discouraged. This is not only true in the agricultural pursuits, but it rained so incessantly that many unprotected businesses were forced temporarily to suspend their operation because they could not obtain value received for the money that they were forced to spend. Then, too, there were many rainy Sundays which diminished the attendance at the churches and this in turn cut in on the contributions and churches here and there failed to collect enough money to satisfy their budgets and to support missions.

Then, too, we have had two or three special collections. There was the Annie Armstrong Offering for Home Missions; then the appeal for $100,000 for the Negro college; and, again, the appeal for ministerial relief for our old preachers. These appeals were glorious in their blessings, and so worthy; but we must understand always that special appeals do hinder the Cooperative Program gifts.

There are some things that we should remember and emphasize at this particular time:

First, our deficits can be overcome both in the churches and in the state budget, and it behooves us to "lay on MacDuff" and let nothing come between us and victory.

Second, we feel that there should be more praying about our work and about our stewardship than we have been doing.

Third, let each church please analyze its financial condition and make extra efforts to give the necessary money to finance the work in the church and missions that reach to the end of the earth.

Fourth, let us be a little more sacrificial and give more liberally and expect God to make it possible for us to win the victory during the last half of the year.

Personally Speaking . . .

Pay-Day Someday

TO HUNDREDS of thousands of Southern Baptists, "Pay-day Someday" is a synonym for Dr. R. G. Lee, pastor of Bellevue Baptist Church, Memphis.

A dramatic and powerful sermon on the retributive providence of God, "Payday Someday" has been preached hundreds of times by Dr. Lee and has been an annual event in his sermon calendar for many years at Bellevue.

MR. McDONALD

As I look back upon my experiences during two weeks of Training Union Assembly at Ridgecrest recently, "Pay-day Someday," delivered by Dr. Lee near the close of the second week, is the experience that stands out above everything except the life dedication of scores of young people and older people.

For many of us among the more than 3,000 who were in the Auditorium and the Auditorium annex, this was the first time to hear the noted sermon. An hour long, it seemed but a few minutes' duration. But it brought each one of us to face eternity itself. Never have we heard a more powerful sermon on the wages of sin.

Based on the Old Testament account of the murder and robbery of Naboth by Ahab and Jezebel, the burning meaning of the sermon is expressed by Dr. Lee in the words:

"Pay-day — someday is written in the constitution of God's universe. The retributive providence of God is a reality as certainly as the laws of gravitation are a reality.

"And to Ahab and Jezebel, pay-day came as certainly as night follows day, because sin carries in itself the seed of its own fatal penalty."

Recently published by Zondervan Publishing House, Grand Rapids, Mich., "Pay-day Someday" is on its way to becoming a best-seller. The book store at Ridgecrest is reported to have sold its entire stock — 2,000 copies — in less than a week.

Surely no one can hear or read "Pay-day Someday" without being made aware of the necessity for repentance and the wisdom of full commitment to Christ.

Edwin L. McDonald

Paul's Preaching and Policies For the Present

Part III. Salvation as the New Life in Christ

Salvation, which according to Paul, is achieved in Christ, made actual in men by faith, finds expression in the daily life and conduct of the Christian. "Work out your own salvation with fear and trembling. For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure." (Philippians 2:12-13) Paul is saying that the Christian has the responsibility to work out what God has already worked in namely, the experience of salvation.

DR. BARNETTE

The Christian has salvation-life. He is a re-created man. "Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new." (2 Corinthians 5:17). And since we were buried with Christ by baptism into death and like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, "even so we should walk in newness of life." (Romans 6:14)

Paul saw the power of the new life in the Holy Spirit. The new life in Christ is the result of the action of the Spirit. (I. Corinthians 14:45) And Paul says that "If we are alive by the Spirit, by the Spirit let us walk." (Galatians 5:25) To walk by the Spirit is to manifest the fruit of the Spirit which is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, generosity, fidelity, meekness, and self-control. (Galatians 5:22-23)

So central is the Spirit in the preaching of Paul, that he makes Him the source of the Christian's gifts, faith, behavior, virtues, victory over evil, and an assistant in prayer. The Spirit is a Person dwelling in the heart, comforting, guiding, cleansing, interceding, and undergirding the whole Christian life. He is the divine dynamic who energizes the Christian and enables him to work out the salvation which God has worked in him.

FORT WORTH (BP) — The Southern Baptist Radio and Television Commission is planning to spend $100,000 from its capital needs budget to produce TV films next year. Director Paul Stevens secured approval of the Southern Baptist Executive Committee for the budgetary transfer. The Commission has its offices here.

The Radio and TV Commission is in its third year of production of 30-minute color and black-and-white television films based on the parables of Jesus. The parables are cast in modern settings and have been widely telecast.

Paul regarded love as the principle of the new life. Agape or love was the central ethical principle in Pauline morality. The heart of his ethics is Romans 5:5: "The love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us." Love as Paul conceived it is radically different from any other kind. It was no mere sentimental or emotional feeling, but the kind of love that moved God to give His Son for our salvation. The role of love in the moral life of the Christian is everywhere in evidence in Paul's letters. "All the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." (Galatians 5:14) Love is the ethical ideal for the Christian in every sphere of his existence, the family, the racial situation, the state, the economic order, and the international situation. Love is the highest way and never fails.

Editor's Note: Dr. Barnette is associate professor of Christian Ethics at Southern Baptist Seminary, Louisville.

Paul saw the place of the new life in the Church. The sphere of the new man in Christ is in the Church. Paul calls it by many names: the Household of faith, the Body of Christ, the Fellowship, the temple of God, the People of God, and the Ecclesia. Christ is the head of the church (Colossians 1:18); the Church is His Body (Ephesians 1:23). Christ is the Savior of the body (Ephesians 5:23). It is made up of those "in Christ." To be in Christ is to be in the Church. Someone has pointed out that we may be saved singly but we cannot live in Christ solitarily. Paul knows nothing of Robinson Crusoe Christians. The mission of the Church, according to Paul in Ephesians, is to bring all things in Christ the universal Redeemer. Its ordinances are baptism and the Lord's Supper, symbols of the death and resurrection of Jesus.

MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA — The Alabama Conference of The Methodist Church has voted down the proposed amendment to the Church's constitution which would permit racial integration within geographical jurisdictions. A circuit judge, speaking against the amendment, said that if it were adopted "half of the next General Conference of The Methodist Church will be made up of Negroes."

● THE VACATION Bible School at James Fork had an enrollment of 64, with three professions of faith and 30 rededications.

Counselor's Corner

By Dr. R. Lofton Hudson

IS HUSBAND TO BOSS WIFE?

QUESTION: My husband and I don't agree on what we should give to the Lord. He just won't give the tenth and won't give very much at all. We own our home and have a very good income. The Bible says that the man is head of the house; in other words, that he is supposed to be the boss. What am I to do?

ANSWER: You cannot solve your personal, spiritual problem until you get straight on what the Bible teaches.

Where in the Bible does it tell wives to obey their husbands? It says, "Children, obey your parents in the Lord" and, "Servants, be obedient to them that are your masters," but nowhere does it tell wives to obey their husbands. This is a false doctrine, propagated by a masculine society and is untrue to the New Testament which says that in Christ there is "neither male nor female."

It does tell woman to subordinate herself to her husband, to seek his leadership, to encourage him to be the head of the family under Christ. The pattern is Christ and the Church. But does Christ boss the Church? Does he lay down rules or edicts? Or does he lead the church in love? (Read Eph. 5: 21-33 and Col. 3:18).

Woman is supposed to subordinate herself to the man. She is made up that way. But when this becomes the husband's laying down the law about where the money is to be spent, man becomes ridiculous. Such matters ought to be decided in a democratic manner by discussion and good judgment.

It will take more than quoting scripture to ever get woman back in slavery, thank God.

Does this answer your question?

A Prayer for my Pastor— Our Father, let me be a pillar of strength to help hold him up and not a thorn in his flesh to sap his strength, nor a burden on his back to pull him down. Let me lift his hands without placing shackles around them. Let me give him my help that he may devote more time in working for the salvation of others and less time in gratifying my vanity. Let me work for him as the pastor of all the members and not compel him to spend precious hours in bragging on me. Let me be unselfish in what I do for him and not selfish in demanding that he do more for me. Let me strive to serve him and the church more and be happy as he serves me less and the church and others more.—Robert S. Kerr, United States Senator.

Foreign Missionaries Join in Year of Prayer

AT ITS JULY meeting the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board adopted recommendations urging all its missionaries to share "to the fullest possible degree" and to encourage all churches and conventions on the mission fields to make 1958 a year of prayer for world evangelization and 1959 a year for special emphasis on evangelism. This action was in keeping with that taken by the Southern Baptist Convention in annual session in Chicago in May.

Dr. Baker James Cauthen, executive secretary, said in his report that it is the desire of the Foreign Mission Board to do everything possible to promote 1958 as a year of prayer both at home and throughout the world. "In particular, we need to pray that God will continue to lead many young people to give their lives for missionary service," he said.

New Appointees

Five missionaries were appointed at the July meeting of the Board, bringing to 70 the number of appointments made during 1957.

The new missionaries are Ebbie Kilgo (Mrs. Clyde J.) Dotson, Alabama, for Southern Rhodesia; James P. Gilbert, Mississippi, and Dorothy Smith Gilbert, Tennessee, for Ecuador; and Russell R. Morris, Colorado, and Betty Lane Morris, Texas, for the Near East.

Secretaries Abroad

Four of the Board's secretaries are now traveling overseas.

Dr. J. Winston Crawley, secretary for the Orient, left the States June 26 to visit the work for which he is responsible. Dr. George W. Sadler, who retires at the end of this year from his present position as secretary for Africa, Europe, and the Near East, is now attending to mission business in Africa and Europe.

Rev. Elmer S. West, Jr., secretary for missionary personnel, is visiting countries in Latin America with regard to personnel needs; and Rev. Fon H. Scofield, Jr., associate secretary and audio-visual aids, is on a photographic mission to Southeast Asia for materials to supplement the 1958 mission study.

Dr. Frank K. Means, secretary for Latin America, has just returned from visits to Venezuela, Colombia, Costa Rica, Mexico, and the Bahamas.

Crawley Visits East Pakistan

Dr. Crawley's report, written after visits in India and East Pakistan, dealt largely with the beginnings of Southern Baptist work in Pakistan. He wrote:

"Our first missionaries to Pakistan, Rev. and Mrs. Troy C. Bennett, are now settled at Faridpur. They have had valuable help from several Southern Baptist couples who are in Dacca in connection with various American Government projects.

"We expect to have two more couples joining the Bennetts in East Pakistan in the fall. They will have one full year of language study before assuming work responsibility and then will continue language study as they gradually increase their load in the work.

"Meanwhile, we face a special need and opportunity in Dacca City, where there are about 15,000 college and university students. We shall want to develop a program of student-center evangelism there."

shoddy workmanship. It is meant to imply that the aims of secular and Christian music are completely different.

Music which has no object but the glorification of the choir director and exhibition of choral virtuosity has no place in a worship service. Neither does music which offends the cultural element of the congregation by its poor musical quality. We have received from the generations of the past a wealth of music which is worshipful, artistic and simple, well within the abilities of the average church choir.

How can a music program best express the intention of the scripture? By providing opportunity for every Christian to sing by a constant training program emphasizing the great Christian hymns; by providing a program of choral training in which each age group can participate in a choir; by building a music program which is a ministry of spiritual worship and a direct, obedient expression of the command of the scriptures.

GEORGE C. HERNDON, a former Navy chaplain and college professor, has been named associate registrar at the New Orleans Seminary, according to President Roland Q. Leavell. Mr. Herndon has been teaching assistant at the University of Southern California, University of Kentucky, and was head of the English department at Louisiana College, Pineville. He has the M. A. degree from the University of Kentucky, the Th. M. from Southern Seminary, Louisville, and is working on the Th. D. in homiletics at the New Orleans Seminary.

The Ten Virgins

Matt. 25:1-13

This is the story of ten persons of unquestioned character, ten persons with the same ambitions and with the same end in view. Ten persons who did exactly the same things up until the coming of the bridegroom except for one and only one thing. Five of the ten took extra oil, the others did not. The takers of the extra oil were classed as wise, the others as foolish.

What was this extra oil? It turned out to be the "one thing needful," (see Luke 10:42) for entrance with the bridegroom. If we are to understand the words "I know you not," Matt. 25:12, then we must know that the extra oil was an acquaintance with the bridegroom. The extra provision that the five wise virgins had made was that of getting acquainted with the groom. To know and to be known of him is to assure entrance. That is the readiness required whether he come soon or late. That is the extra oil and that causes the light to shine at the crucial moment.

"And this is the will of him that sent me, that everyone which seeth the Son and believeth on him, may have everlasting life; and I will raise him up at the last day." Jno. 6:40

"My sheep hear my voice and I know them, and they follow me; and I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish." Jno. 10:27, 28

"I know whom I have believed and am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day." 2 Tim. 1:12

"And be found in him, not having my own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith." Phil. 3:9

To know Jesus and to be known of him is the extra requirement, without which no one can enter in. It is good to be good and pure, but reliance upon that alone is fatal.

—W. B. O'Neal, Batesville, Ark.

The Kind of Music Program We Need

By David P. Appleby

Assistant Professor of Theology and Piano

Golden Gate Seminary

WHAT KIND OF music program do Baptists need today? We need a music program which will minister to every church member. A program which will minister to every church member must be a program in which the hymn has central emphasis as an expression of praise, as a witness of Christ's redemptive work, as a means of teaching the great Christian doctrines of sanctification, consecration, and the fellowship of believers.

The music of graded choirs can be most useful in giving beauty and in adorning the worship services, but it must be art for the sake of worship, not art for art's sake.

This is not meant to imply that choral music should not be artistic. No child of God wants to offer God a piece of

Fanatical Mob Attacks Baptist Mission

Joel and Amos Carefa went to attend our new mission at San Pedro Lagunilla on May 30. They were not able to arrive, however, at the home of the believer where the service was to be held. Several hundred fanatical Catholics met them in the street and prevented them from going to the mission. The mob was armed with bottles of gasoline, stones, clubs, daggers, machetes and even fire arms.

The mob was formed by the priest of the town who had told the people that our missionaries were communists paid by the United States. The leaders shouted for blood, and for a moment it seemed that our workers would be sacrificed by the blood-thirsty mob.

Fifteen or twenty men who have either accepted the Gospel, or are deeply interested in it, wanted to go for their guns and shoot it out with the mob but were persuaded not to do so by the Carefa brothers.

A taxi from the near-by town of Compostela happened to come by and the two Baptist preachers were forced with blows to enter the car and were sent away with the threat they would be killed if they ever returned.

On the first Sunday in June the pastor of the Baptist Church in the state capital, Tepic, and I went to investigate the matter. We found the believers determined to be faithful to the Lord. A committee of the leaders was organized to go to Tepic to protest before the state and federal authorities and to ask for protection.

The Grand Masonic Lodges of the states of Nayarit and Jalisco are also protesting and trying to help our people. Many people here are praying. If the priests should succeed in running us out of that town of 5,000 people, it would only mean that they would try to run us out of every town and that we could not open new work in any place.

Will you who read this please enlist as many in your church and other groups in daily prayer for our brethren whose lives are in danger in this town? When mobs attacked our missions last year in Cd. Guzman and in Zapopan, Jalisco, we made this same request. Our papers published the requests and many church papers reprinted it. Dozens of people wrote that they were praying and God heard the prayers. In both of these towns our work is going well and the persecution has ceased. July and August, however, is Vacation Bible School time on our field and we hope to have at least a hundred schools in these three states where we only have eleven churches. These schools arouse the ire of the priests and they resort to mob violence. Please pray also for our Vacation Bible Schools.

REMEMBER THAT "ROME NEVER CHANGES." CATHOLICISM WOULD DO THE SAME IN THE UNITED STATES IF IT COULD. WIN AMERICA TO CHRIST NOW!

Wynne Church Opens Mission

FOR SOME YEARS Wynne Baptist Church has realized the need for an arm of the church in the western part of the city. Encouraged by gifts of money for lots and materials for building, they began in January the construction of a beautiful frame building with an auditorium and Sunday school rooms to accommodate a departmentized Sunday school.

The Chapel opened on April 7, with 89 in Sunday school, 65 in Training Union, and the house was full for both preaching services. There was one addition to the church by letter and one by baptism. Pastor Boyd Baker was responsible for the preaching at the mission for several Sundays, as well as at the church, until Rev. Gerald Perry, a junior of Ouachita College, was secured as mission pastor, and began his work June 1.

"Our purpose was to enlist more people in the service of the Lord," says Pastor Baker, "and we have been remarkably successful in achieving this goal. Both congregations are radiantly happy. The Chapel is exceeding all our expectations in attendance and offerings. It is going to fill a real need, and will substantially strengthen the Baptist cause in Wynne."

The first month's average attendance per Sunday was 80 in Sunday school, 50 in Training Union, with about 100 in morning preaching services and about 7 in the night services. There have already been 18 baptized at the Chapel. Several have joined by letter. Attendance at all services at the church and chapel show an increase of 15 per cent to 20 per cent over the record of the church alone for 1956.

There are a dozen other cities like Wynne, larger and smaller, that can — and direly need to — duplicate the fine work of this good church. Let the cities of Arkansas do their part in multiplying our needed missions and churches. — Leo B. Golden, City Missions.

God's Wondrous World

By THELMA CARTER

Rivers never rest or sleep. Night and day they travel to their destination. Have you ever wondered where and why?

One look at a United States map, and you'll be amazed at the hundreds of streams, rivers, and lakes that dot its landscape. Our water resources are very important. Without water, we would be unable to raise crops and animals or exist ourselves!

One cannot help but think of David's Psalm of praise: "Thou waterest the ridges thereof abundantly: . . . thou makest it soft with showers: thou blessest the springing thereof." Psalms 65:10.

Water surveys reveal that we have 47,661 square miles of water area in the United States with 91 million acres of wet or swamp land. Added to this is our great underground reservoir of water.

With all this water, it would seem we would have more floods than we do. And, we would if it were not for our natural drainage systems.

Did you know the Mississippi-Missouri River — the longest river in the world — serves as a drainage system for the heart of our continent? Countless rivers and streams flow into this great river. (See accompanying map.)

A look at a world map will show the Rocky Mountain chain forms a divide between two great ocean drainage systems — the Gulf-Atlantic and the Pacific — toward which the continent of the United States slopes!

Only a divine Creator could have directed such a gigantic world-wide water system — with drainage, abundance of water, and disposal at His command!

Twice Blessed

By KAY CAMMER

Mother says her day begins
An hour earlier, 'cause we're twins;
And every time we get in trouble,
She's twice as mad, because we're double.

We never mind a little fuss,
For every time she looks at us
Her eyes become a gentle blue—
Mom's love is double 'cause we're two.

I wish I might have seen Him,
Wish He might have smiled at me,
As He stood so calm and quiet
On the shore of Galilee.
I wish I might have helped Him
With the pain He had to bear,
While He looked into the future
As He stood so peaceful there.
But that was not meant for me,
Those days are far and dim,
What I must do is follow
The path laid out by Him.

Ruth, A Foreigner Who Found A Welcome

By DR. REL GRAY

August 4, 1957

Ruth 2:8-13; 4:13, 17

IT IS GRATIFYING to feel that one is welcome. On the other hand, it must be very disturbing to feel unwanted. Ruth of Moab, a foreigner to the natives of Bethlehem, was graciously received by Naomi's people.

Dr. Gray

To appreciate this lesson, it is necessary to take a brief look at the background and the setting. These are the last days of the final period of the Judges. The village of Bethlehem is visited by famine. The Midianites possibly were raiding, looting and burning the fields. Driven to consternation, one of the families resolves to immigrate. This family consists of a man, Elimilech, his wife, Naomi, and their two sons, Mahlon and Chilion. They came into the land of Moab seeking the necessities of life. This is a major transition, even though the distance is short. Israel and Moab were separated by a difference of religion. To the Jew no land was so distant as the land of foreign worship. He measured all distance by the distance from his God. It was, therefore, a tremendous journey.

In the new and different land, the immigrant family failed to prosper. The happiness of the home was suddenly interrupted by the death of the husband and the father. The two sons took wives, natives of the foreign country and adherents of the alien worship. Soon, the two sons fell victims of death's strong hand, leaving Naomi apparently desolate. Husband and children were gone; poverty was extreme. Living among strangers, her heart and spirit were broken. She felt that the God of her fathers had deserted her for her desertion of Him. (God has various ways of speaking to his children when they have strayed away.) Naomi felt she must go back: back to the old soil, back to the favor of her God. This she must do alone without burdening others.

After much consideration, Naomi calls the two daughters-in-law, Ruth and Orpah, to bid them farewell. They are released from all ties and obligations. She suggests to the daughters-in-law that they return to their own homes, find new husbands and begin life over. The two girls protested; however, Orpah decided to take the advice of her mother-in-law and kissed her good-bye. Ruth made the opposite choice, determining to go with her mother-in-law to Bethlehem, making a clean break with the land of Moab, the old idolatry, the old habits and traditions, with everything in life in the old land. She was whole-heartedly and unreservedly embracing the new land. (When one becomes a follower of Jesus, there must be a clean break with the old life and an embracing of the new.)

Ruth accompanied Naomi to Bethlehem. They arrived at the time of the barley harvest and the season suggested to Ruth a chance to display her sincerity. Voluntarily she sought work to provide food for the two. Although a foreigner, she was well received in the town.

It was the custom of the country that those without a means of living be permitted to glean in the fields. They could pick up the scattered grain left by the reapers. Ruth went into the fields to glean. She came to the field of Boaz, and this man of wealth showed her great kindness. Especially was he gracious to her after hearing of what she had done for the mother-in-law. Ruth was gracious also in that she conducted herself according to the customs of the adopted land.

The courtesy extended Ruth by Boaz developed a friendship that led into a courtship and, finally, a marriage. To this union was born a son by the name of Obed who became the father of Jesse and the grandfather of David, the great king of Israel. Jesus was born in the line of David; therefore, this foreign woman stands in the line of the human ancestry of Jesus. As we observe the characteristics of Ruth to see why she was so well received, we can find many traits which helped her to find a welcome.

Ruth was Adjustable

There were many adjustments to be made in this new life for Ruth. New people, new language, new customs, and a new religion required quite an adjustment. Because she could adjust, this good woman found a hearty welcome.

Before leaving Moab, Ruth had determined within her heart that the adjustment would be made. She had said, "Entreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee: for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge; thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God; where thou diest, I will die, and there I will be buried: the Lord do so to me, and more also, if ought but death part thee and me." (Ruth 1:16, 17)

Many people are misfits because they have not acquired the art of adjusting to immediate surroundings. Baptists move into new communities, and because of the lack of ability to adjust, they feel they are not welcome in the church.

It was the experience of the writer to have two different families to visit in the same service in a former pastor's home. During the week following, he visited in each home. It was very interesting to note the reaction of each family to the worship service of the church. One family expressed the thought that the church was cold and unfriendly and they did not like the people there. The other family was enthusiastic in their expression of the friendliness of the people and the spirituality of the church. Needless to say, the people who found the church to be friendly became excellent members and church leaders. The other family did not. Surely, it was not the church but the attitude of the visitors.

Ruth, a foreigner, found a welcome in Bethlehem because she was willing to adjust.

Ruth Was Attentive

Many families have mother-in-law trouble, but this was not the case with Ruth and Naomi. Ruth loved Naomi; and Naomi loved Ruth. Because of this feeling one for the other, Ruth was attentive to the needs of her husband's mother. This attention did not go unnoticed. Boaz heard about the sacrifice of Ruth, and the people in Bethlehem knew of the attention given Naomi by Ruth. Ruth was more than a daughter-in-law. She was a companion and friend. The name Ruth means "Companion" or "Friend".

Ruth Was Attractive

My mother used to teach me that "Pretty is as pretty does." Ruth must have been a very beautiful woman, because she did beautiful deeds. She had more than physical beauty; she possessed an attractive attitude. The circumstances of life were accepted without complaint. Laziness was not in her vocabulary, because she was willing to glean in the grain fields to earn an honest living. She did not become bitter, as did Naomi, but she remained humble, kept a sweet attitude, and worked hard. Therefore, this foreigner found a welcome, and was greatly appreciated.

Do we love the people of the world? Do the people, that are foreigners, feel a welcome in your midst?

What can you do to help the foreigner find a welcome in your church?

"BUSY HANDS HAPPY HEART"

Many old people are lonely, unhappy, and constantly meddling in the family affairs of their children—all because they have nothing to do. An article in the August Home Life tells how some senior citizens have solved this problem in ways that have proved a blessing to all.

Home Life deals directly with the problems today's families must face. It should be ordered with other literature for every family in your church.

SOUTHERN BAPTIST COLLEGE

Expenses at Southern are lower than state colleges charge. Much lower than other private schools.

Christian principles are a reality at Southern. Drinking, dancing, gambling and such worldliness not tolerated. No college has higher moral standards. Strictly Baptist and warm religious atmosphere.

Southern is approved for teacher training, veterans training under all GI bills, training of Vocational Rehabilitation students and foreign students from all over the world.
