

community

Senior Ben Baxter gathers his team to help participate in Tiger Serve Day. Serving God while serving the community was an intricate part of Tiger Serve Day. Working with elementary schools, students served as mentors and tutors throughout the year. On Wednesdays, the plaza was filled with children and their Big Brother or Big Sister. Spotlight on Arkadelphia gave students an insight into local businesses. Serving and being served placed the school and community in motion. photo by T. Robertson several conversations with Charlee about all aspects of life," he said. "I thought that we were always feeding Charlee the things of life, when in fact, she was really feeding us."

Charlee Morrison, a senior from Benton, who had battled cancer since the age of 13, died Monday, October 30, at UAMS in Little Rock. Her death was caused by complications with the cancer. These problems resulted in the failure of Charlee's lungs and kidneys, along with the shut-down of other vital organs. Students will not likely remember the way that Morrison died, but the way she lived. "Charlee's serious health conditions caused a reevaluation of how we live our days that God blesses us with," said junior Kim Kern.

Her professors had similar feelings. "Charlee was a remarkable student, always prepared, persistent and positive," said Mrs. Margaret Wright, associate professor of accounting. "I never heard her complain even though she was feeling bad. She never asked to turn in an assignment late even though she had a good reason to do so."

Dr. Richard Mills, chairman of the sociology department, also remembers the committed Morrison. "I had

While traveling to her hometown of Heber Springs on Feb. 23, junior Vanessa Seals was involved in a head-on collision. She and the driver of the other vehicle both died instantly.

The death of the 21-year-old junior Christian ministries major touched much of the campus because of her involvement in so many activities. A member of the Campus Activities Board and intramural sports teams, Seals also stayed involved in campus ministries through the BSU Big Sister program and being a campus Bible study leader. As a freshman, she was honored with the Mrs. J.R. Grant Freshman Woman Award, and in the summer of 2000 Seals traveled with the BSU on a mission trip to Africa.

"She put everything she had into ministry. Everything that she did was ministry," said junior Jeremy Nottingham, who came to know Vanessa while working together in Africa.

"She told me two weeks ago, 'Jenny, this is not my home,'" senior Gina Williams said. "I just don't feel like I belong here. My home is in heaven, and I'm just ready to go be with Jesus."

"I just praise the Lord that she is there. Her prayers are answered," declared senior Jenny Ratliff. "She stayed up all night with me while I was doing homework, even until 4 o'clock in the morning. How many of you do that for your friends? I wouldn't, but she was so dedicated and so loyal," said Ratliff.

retiring faculty and staff

Six Ouachita educators were honored at a reception on the occasion of their retirement from the University. Those retiring: Dr. William Cook, the Elma Cobb Professor of Bible; Dr. Wayne Everett, the Charles S. and Elma Grey Goodwin Holt Professor of Chemistry and Pre-Medical Studies; Dr. Tom Murphree, professor of health, physical education and recreation; Mary Root, academic coordinator of Student Support Services in the TRIO Program; Dr. Paul Root, director of Student Support Services in the TRIO Program; and Bob Sanders, adjunct instructor in the Frank D. Hinkingbotham School of Business. The six educators represent a total of 102 years of service to Ouachita. Everett joined the faculty in 1961 and was the second longest serving faculty member, having served under four presidents.

my thoughts in motion

Sitting here thinking about what to write, it seems unreal that four years ago I was the new guy in the office. From day one, I was befriended by the other staff. That has been the best thing about being on staff and serving as editor. The friendships couldn't have been better. And the ones that have been there are those that have been in the trenches we call Mabee 116.

Laura, thanks a million. You have been a huge help since your freshman year. Your friendship and support are priceless. I couldn't have done it without you. Remember, the Ouachitonian isn't the Ouachitonian without the people. Never forget these things: the Memphis tattoo trip, River Fest and "YOU DON'T KNOW ME!"

Kristen, my long-lost sister. You have been the BEST friend any person deserves. I am glad you chose Ouachita over Baylor...who wants to be a bear? Thanks for the many, many wonderful and fun times we have shared. Your hard work and dedication to the book has made it that much easier. Don't worry, if we don't have jobs by now, we might want to consider becoming full-time students.

Paul, my yearbook brother. Thank you, thank you, thank you! You have kept me sane and have been an inspiration in several areas of my life. You made me sure to make me tell you what was up gave me an outside perspective on many things: 3rd Floor of Anthony. As far as I am concerned, we were tied in our wrestling match.

Peggy, you have dedication. Who else would have done the people section for three years. I deeply appreciate your dedication to the section and to the book. Thanks for always volunteering for the stories and having them in on time. If every staff had a person like you.....

Deondra, you have been my comic relief. Whatever kind of day either of us were having, we found mutual humor in the simplest things. I'm glad that you joined us last year and wished you could have been on staff sooner. Thanks for helping out and taking the not so fun story. Good luck!

Kathryn, my cohort in physical science. You always have a great, big smile and have a positive attitude. Thank you for taking a section by yourself. Also, thanks for always volunteering for a story. Sorry you have such a hard time with saving stories on disk. Maybe it will get easier. Keep focused and go with God.

Charity, the saxophone queen. Too bad you never pulled out the sax and played for us in the office; you only kept it there. Your willingness to learn and work makes you a super person. I am glad that you came aboard and continued the wonderful world of yearbook. Adios, mi amiga!

Alaina, the quiet one. I thought it was going to take a miracle to get to know you but you surprised me. You are fun and outgoing and that makes you YOU. Thank you so much for taking the people section. It isn't the easiest but you did great.

Sarah, the governor's daughter. I guess you were overly protected by your bodyguards that they didn't allow you to come down to the office. Just kidding! Thanks for staying with us. Good luck in all you do and don't forget the important things: Wal-Mart chats in the middle of the afternoon, remember?!

Practicum and volunteers, the unsung heroes. Words can't express the gratitude I owe you. You have made this year so easy for me. Don't think you aren't important, you are! Your willingness and dedication made putting things together that much easier.

Travis, Ben and the photo staff. You have been the best!! You helped capture the year and helped us show it. Thank you for your hard work. Travis, you made my job less stressful and I never once worried about having a photo. Thanks!

Deborah, my second mom. You have done your best to keep me in line. You never showed doubt or fear that the book wouldn't be finished on time. Instead, you supported me and give me encouragement. I hope the 20th book after your Ouachitonian makes you proud!

Mama, Daddy and the fam...You are and will be my biggest supporters. Without you, I wouldn't be at Ouachita producing this great book. You give me encouragement in everything I do. Your constant love helps me to be who I am. Without it, I could never had made it through the valleys. I dedicate this book to you.

And to my heavenly Daddy, this is your handiwork. You have blessed me with a loving family, great school, wonderful friends and the ability to produce a great book.

Thanks to any and all who had a remote contribution to the Ouachitonian. This has been an adventure which I would not trade for anything.

in motion

Breaking away to make a touchdown, T.K. Zellers smiles at another completed pass. The BSU Powerhouse intramural team advanced to nationals, where it placed eighth. Finding ways to become involved in campus organizations, excel in classes, take part in sports or stand out above the rest, the university and its students were always in motion.
