ARKANSAS BAPTIST APRIL 23, 1959

REV. AND MRS. Harold T. Cummins, newly appointed missionaries to East Pakistan, stand before the Foreign Mission Board's new headquarters building in Richmond.

Arkansan Appointed For East Pakistan

HAROLD T. Cummins, a native of Calion, was appointed with his wife for missionary service in East Pakistan at the semiannual full meeting of the Foreign Mission Board in Richmond in April.

At the present time Mr. Cummins is pastor of 1st Southern Church, Benicia, Calif., and a teaching fellow in the missions department of Golden Gate Seminary.

He was formerly interim pastor of Kaumana Drive Church, Hilo, Hawaii; assistant pastor of 1st Southern Church, Healdsburg, Calif.; a summer missionary to Hawaii for the Baptist Student Union of California; and a radio announcer in Morehead City, N. C.

He attended Furman University, Greenville, S. C., and received the bachelor of arts degree from the University of Southern California, Los Angeles, and the bachelor of divinity degree from Golden Gate Seminary.

Mr. Cummins is the son of a Baptist minister. He said that while he was a summer missionary in Hawaii his work in the churches there and his friendship with the missionaries led him to ask himself, "Is God calling me for mission service?" Feeling that this was the case, he made a public commitment for foreign missions the following spring.

Mrs. Cummins is the former Betty Noe, a native of Highlandville, Mo. She received the associate of arts degree from Southwest Baptist College, Bolivar, Mo., the bachelor of arts degree from Oklahoma Baptist University, Shawnee, and the master of religious education degree from Golden Gate Seminary.

She has been young people's secretary for the Southern Baptist General

World Brotherhood

By LOIS LEIGH World Brotherhood would come to man In its most perfect state If people would but heed God's Word And open wide the gate To understanding and to love,

A helping hand extend;

And God would smile and shower down His blessings without end.

Convention of California, with headquarters in Fresno, a typist in Berkeley, and a substitute teacher in Benicia. While a student she was employed by the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board during four summer vacations, working at the International Student Center, Berkeley, in Vacation Bible schools in California, and among Spanish-speaking people in Texas and in Tucson, Ariz.

Mr. and Mrs. Cummins have two daughters, Catherine Leilani, two and a half, and Elizabeth Faye, one.

They were among the 16 new missionaries appointed at the April meeting of the Board, bringing the total number of active Southern Baptist foreign missionaries to 1,308.

Florida Considering Clergy Confidence Bill

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. —(BP)— A bill has been introduced here in the Florida Legislature which would give clergymen immunity from testifying in court about information given them in confidence.

The bill, introduced by Rep. Mack Cleveland of Seminole County, said: "Any clergyman, priest or rabbi shall be incompetent to testify concerning any confidential communication entrusted to him in his professional capacity without the permission, in writing, or in open court, of the person entrusting such communication to him."

Indecision

AN ACQUAINTANCE recently related how a friend wrecked her husband's car. Seems she came to a fork in the road and could not decide which way to go. She "piled up" the car against a tree in the neutral ground.

If you laughed at that, it was not YOUR wife.

Many a life has been wrecked, or at least stalled, because of indecision. How many families never serve the Lord because they cannot decide whether or not to attend Sunday School until it is too late to go!

Elijah faced this problem with the children of Israel (I Kings 18:21). "How long halt ye between two opinions?" It seems the spiritual zeal of Israel was at a low ebb because the Jews could not decide whether to worship Baal or Jehovah.

This was no new problem, however. Over 500 years before this, Joshua said, "And if it seem evil unto you to serve the Lord, choose you this day whom ye will serve . . ." (Joshua 24:15).

This is not to imply that a person is safe, spiritually, just because he is sincere and zealous. He can be sincerely lost. Saul of Tarsus was zealous!

But even Jesus had a word of commendation for the one that would decide upon one position or another and be zealous in it: "I would thou wert cold or hot" (Revelation 3:15).

The force of all these Scriptures indicates that to remain in indecision is to be ultimately rejected. It may be trite, but it is true: "He who hesitates is lost."

A politician was recently reported t have said, "I may have been oftenwrong, but never in doubt." Indecision would seem to be hardly more virtuous than outright error!—Robert L. Hartsell, South Side, Ft. Smith.

Luke B. Smith Elected To Foreign Board Staff

LUKE B. Smith, pastor of Highland Hills Church, Macon, Ga., was elected assistant secretary for missionary personnel for the Foreign Mission Board at its semiannual full meeting in Richmond, Apr. 7-8. He attended Clemson (S. C.) Agricultural College for one year and then transferred to University of the Georgia, Athens.

from which he graduated with the bach-

elor of science degree in chemistry. He prepared for the ministry at Southern Seminary.

Mr. Smith chose chemistry as his college major because he had plans for becoming a medical doctor. He explains his call to the ministry as follows: "One day, as I was thinking about the amoeba which we were studying, it suddenly dawned upon me with a startling quickness that our God is a magnificent Creator. All that I had learned in the sciences began to fit together and I could see that the great wisdom of God was responsible for the harmony and the unity of the universe. It was then that I knew that I must serve God as a preacher."

Mr. Smith and his wife, the former Janie Willoughby, a native of Macon, were seeking missionary appointment when it was discovered that a borderline health problem in the family made the advisability of foreign service questionable.

In an effort to increase its missionary staff from the current 1,307 to 2,-000 by the end of 1964, the Foreign Mission Board has been confronted with the necessity of enlarging its personnel department. While working with Mr. Smith on appointment procedure the Board discovered that he is eminently qualified for the position on the headquarters staff.

French, Vatican Pact Hinted

FRENCH PRESIDENT Charles de Gaulle's projected visit to Rome, unofficially scheduled for some time in May, has stirred rumors in Rome of a new concordat between France and the Vatican. Church circles have said it is no secret that the establishment of an understanding between the French government and the Holy See has long been a fervent wish of the popes. The last French concordat was that signed between Pope Pius VII and Napoleon Bonaparte in 1801. The concordat reestablished the Church in France, but it was repudiated by the French government in its law of the Separation of the Church and State in 1905.

JAMES LUCK, chairman of the Division of Fine Arts, Ouachita College, will lead the Ouachita Choir when the group sings at the Southern Baptist Convention in Louisville. Miss Polly Nation, Pine Bluff, completing her sophomore year as a music education major, will be accompanist. The Ouachita choir was one of four groups selected to bring special music for the Convention. The choir's itinerary includes Little Rock, Searcy, Memphis, Columbia, Tenn. Knoxville, Louisville and Evansville, Ind.

Dr. Ray Summers On Southern Faculty

DR. RAY Summers, professor and author, has been elected professor of New Testament Interpretation at the Southern Seminary.

The professor of New Testament at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, where he has taught since May, 1938, will join the Louisville faculty on June 1, according to President Duke K. McCall.

A graduate of Baylor University and Southwestern, where he received master and doctor of theology degrees, Dr. Summers has done special study at Garrett Biblical Institute, the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, and the University of Basel, Switzerland.

Dr. Summers is author of The Life Beyond, published recently by Broadman Press. Other books include Essentials of New Testament Greek and Worthy Is The Lamb. He has written Sunday School lessons for Adults, Texas Baptist Standard, Sunday School Lesson Exposition, and the Adult Teacher.

Ohio Employs First Associational Worker

COLUMBUS, O. — (BP) — Ohio Southern Baptists are employing their first associational missions superintendent. He will work with an association of churches in the cities of Middletown and Hamilton, O., and adjacent areas.

The executive board of the State Convention of Baptists in Ohio, approved appointment of Doyle Deney, Columbus, Ind., minister. He will be supported equally by the association, the state convention, and the Home Mission Board of the Southern Convention.

Harvey English, a native Mississippian who has been teaching school in West Virginia, was employed by the board to direct mountain missions extension work at Bolair, W. Va. He will be supported cooperatively by Ohio and the Home Mission Board.

English will be pastor of Calvary Church, Bolair, and help establish missions and churches in the surrounding area.

The Grandest News

HE LORD is risen indeed (Luke 24:34).

Here is the great cornerstone of the Christian faith. Roll this stone away and our structure crumbles.

Roll this stone away and Joseph's new tomb is no longer empty. Gone will be the angels and the empty graveclothes and in their place will be a corpse. Christianity, if this stone be rolled away, will be as the other religions of the world which can point out the graves where their founders lie buried.

Roll this stone away and all our preaching is vain. For if Christ be not risen the people of all the world are dead in trespasses and sin and there is no remedy, no way of escape.

Roll this stone away and the tantalizing taunts hurled at Jesus as he was dying on the cross become true: "He saved others, himself he cannot save!" The appeal of the pentinent thief, "Remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom," becomes an empty and hopeless prayer. The charge of blasphemy preferred against Jesus by the religious leaders of the Jews is sustained and substantiated.

Roll this stone away and all our loved ones who have died trusting in Christ are hopelessly locked in the dust of their tombs and we Christians, having not even hope in this life, are of all people most miserable.

But let these words breaks upon your hearts anew: "The Lord is risen indeed." Here is the climax of the greatest story ever told—the story of God's love for a lost world. Of the sacrifice of his only begotten son that all who believe on him should not perish but have everlasting life. Here is the banner headline for every newspaper in every land: "The Lord is risen indeed." Publish it in English . . . in French . . . in Italian . . . in Chinese . . . in Japanese . . . in Russian . . . in the tribal languages of dark Africa . . . in every dialect and every language in all the world. For this is the good news of the gospel to every man, woman, and child who ever lived, who lives today, or who shall be born into the world: "The Lord is risen indeed! He is really risen!" Through Him we are redeemed!—ELM

The Big City

SOME THINGS I learned or mused while riding or trying to ride subway trains in New York City:

All my knowledge of the nooks and crannies of Bunker Hill, the flat-woods and the Lone Gum community, over in Pope county, proved of very little transfer value in finding my way in the Big City.

The expression, "man's inhumanity to man," must have been started by some fellow who had been caught in the 5 p.m. scramble to get aboard the sub cars.

People in New York are awfully dumb. I had to ask three different ones for directions before I was able to board my train!

I got on at Broadway and 7th Avenue --or, rather, under that address. You have to go down into a sort of cellar to get on---that may be one reason they call it a subway.

Well, for 15 cents I got a little coin with holes in it—they call it a "token" —and this unlocked a stile and let me in I rambled all over the place without finding anything that looked like a train. The first thing I knew I had walked through a stile on the other side and was having to buy another token to get back in! I thought that was awfully extravagant, but the fellow selling tokens on that side would not let me crawl under the stile.

When I finally got on, I got to worry ing about how to get off. Whoever was running the train was not even in the same car I was riding in, and so I could not get any directions from him. I asked a fellow passenger with a kindly face how I could know when we got to 137th Street. He was a lot of help. "They stop," said he.

"Yes," I said, "but how'll I know it's my street?"

Then he showed me the big signs they have at each stop, giving the street That's an awful nice thing somebood thought up. It saves you from having to count the streets as they fly by. And, too, streets are sorta hard for moles to count.

I learned that a fellow from Lone Gum can pass for a foreigner in New York. After hearing me talk in my native Arkansas tongue, a Greek who had been in the states several years wanted to know what country I was from! Them foreigners!

My only counsel to other clodhoppers who might be going to the Big City—b sure your guardian angel knows about your trip!

ARKANSAS BAPTIST

What of Tomorrow?

By CARL A. CLARK (Professor, Pastoral Ministry and Rural Church Work, Southwestern Seminary)

DRIVING ALONG the highway recently I noticed a nice tractor sitting in a farm yard. Off to one side growing up in weeds was a group of old farm implements. I noticed a walking cultivator, horse drawn planter, and a horse drawn mowing machine. This picture became a symbol to me of the progress in farm areas in recent years.

It meant to me that some farm methods and implements have become ebsolete. Newer methods have replaced the older ones.

A question forcefully pressed itself upon my mind: Can some of our church methods also be obsolete and should they be replaced by more current methods?

Interdependence

Rural life is becoming more completely interrelated by urban life than ever before. With communications between urban and rural people interpersonal relationship between the two groups are more common. This interrelationship is perhaps both political, social, economic, and yes, even religious.

The farmer is dependent upon the petroleum industry for gas and oil, upon the electrical industry for electrical power and upon manufacturers for tools and implements.

Industry in turn is dependent to a large extent upon the rural areas for labor. In this way the city and the country are interdependent.

This is also true of city and rural churches. Rural areas furnish the people for the denomination in a rather significant proportion. Urban churches furnish finances in large proportion.

We need some new churches in rural areas for the future but the primary need is to improve the quality of our churches and to train the personnel who operate those churches.

The big opportunity in the city is to reach new people with an evangelistic and missionary effort. One is largely a quantitative program reaching more people whereas the other is largely a qualitative program developing what we now have.

Planning

American people are now conscious of the need of planning. Churches also will become conscious of the need of planning for the future. No business can operate without utilizing adequate business management methods. Likewise no church will function as it should without stressing planning for the future. The church that does not plan does not grow. In many cases, it dies.

Flexibility

To me this implies a willingness to change on the part of the pastor and the people in rural churches. The church that is not willing to change is soon going to be obsolete and out of date.

Church leaders must be alert enough to distinguish the areas that are important from those which are relatively insignificant.

Too many churches and too many pastors are operating on an emergency basis or what some have called "crash programs." They have not planned far enough ahead to implement their program on a long range basis. A church needs to realize that the matter that is most pressing is not always the matter that is most important. It should be flexible enough to plan for the future in such a way that it can accomplish those things that are most strategic and at the same time not omit those things which may be urgent.

Rural people are no longer isolated. Rural churches are no longer isolated from movements around them or from the total denominational program. The rural church cannot afford to get behind the times. It must keep up. And to do so it must look to the future.

When an automobile manufacturer brings out a new model he shuts down the plant for "retooling." Could it be that rural churches occasionally need to "retool" for future progress?

If we minister to the people of tomorrow we must be effective in ministering to the people we have today. We must see in our boys and girls the church of tomorrow. Are we dedicated to making the churches of tomorrow adequate for the needs of life in that generation?

Frank Merriro Masters, Baptist Leader, Dies

MAYFIELD, Ky. —(BP)— Dr. Frank Merriro Masters, 88, former president of Oklahoma Baptist University, Shawnee, Okla., and Baptist leader in several other states, died here Apr. 3.

He was a graduate of Southern Seminary in 1897. He held pastorates in Louisville and in San Angelo, Tex., prior to 1900.

He was also pastor in Oklahoma and served as administrator at two other educational institutions. He was president of Oklahoma Baptist University, 1914-19; president of Bethel Boys' College in Kentucky, 1931-33, and adviser of administration at Georgetown (Ky.) College, 1934.

He was field secretary for the Baptist convention in Arkansas, 1919-22, and corresponding secretary for the Arkansas State Mission Board, 1922-28.

Dr. Masters had been a member of the executive board, Baptist General Convention of Texas; a member of the Foreign Mission Board, Southern Baptist Convention; president of the Baptist Pastors' Conference in Oklahoma, and a member of the Kentucky board of missions.

"The History of Baptists in Kentucky," which he had written, was published in 1949.

The Power that Revives

EVERYONE HAS a desire for power. This desire is a part of the human drive with which God has endowed us. The majority of people use this gift for the advancement of their own interests. All too few of God's children seek the power he offers them. "Ye shall receive power," he promised. The promise is freely given, but it cannot be received without cost.

The disciples of Jesus had to pay the price of obedience. "Tarry ye . . . until ye be endued with power from on high." Obedience is difficult when we are commanded to wait. We want to be going places and doing things in search of something we can count or measure.

Another price we must pay for this power from on high is prayer. Real prayer is the most costly function of the Christian. In it God reveals to us so much that we have to give up. Rather than surrender, we refuse to pray.

A third price for this power is unity in fellowship. The Holy Spirit infilled the disciples at Pentecost when "they were all with one accord in one place." Disruption in the fellowship of our churches reveals the lack of the Holy Spirit in our lives.

"Pentecostal power" will be ours when we are willing to pay the price of personal obedience, submissive prayer, and united fellowship. Then only will we have revivals, because we ourselves will be revived—A. C. Miller, Christian Life Commission.

Dr. Bayless Observes 8th Anniversary

DR. C. GORDON Bayless, Central Church, North Little Rock, observed his 8th anniversary Apr. 5.

During his pastorate, the church has received 673 additions, with 295 coming by baptism. An additional 900 members have been added to sister Baptist churches during revivals that Dr. Bayless has held during this time.

Central's resident membership has increased from 405 to 670. Gifts have totaled $301,644 during this time, and the church has completed an educational building costing $23,000 and constructed an auditorium at an approximate cost of $128,000.

• MRS. HUGH Strait, 1st Church Warren, recently received the Sunday School Workers Citation. A recent item erroneously listed her husband as re-ceiving the award.

FIRST CHURCH, Cabot, has awarded contract for installation of air conditioning in the auditorium and educational building. (CB)

A TOTAL of 44 decisions were registered at a recent prayer service at the Arkansas Boys Industrial School, Pine Bluff, Chaplain E. A. Richmond reports. Nine more boys made decisions on the following Sunday.

Filmstrip to Be Released

"LOOKING AT Louisville," a souvenir filmstrip of the convention-city, has been produced by the Home Mission Board for release during the Convention. Home of beautiful horses, Kentucky blue grass, world center of Braille printing, Southern Baptists' oldest seminary, the nation's oldest municipal university, Louisville is a city of tradition. Although denominational work has been long-established in this city, Louisville holds some of Southern Baptists' most exciting mission challenges. Looking at Louisville, in color, will be available at the Baptist Book Store at the Convention for the special price of $2.

Businessmen Take Over Baptist High Operation

FULL CONTROL of Baptist High School in Little Rock has been trans ferred to a board of seven businessme by the trustees of Ouachita Baptist College meeting in Arkadelphia, Dr. Ralph Phelps, Ouachita president, announced.

"When we established the high school last October in order to provide temporary schooling for senior high students who apparently were not going to have any public schools opened to them this year, it was our intention to withdraw our relationship from the school after we had done all that we could to put it on a sound basis," Dr. Phelps states. "Now that the school has been granted a class "A" rating and is functioning satisfactorily, we believe that control of it would be more effective if in local hands completely."

Since last November when Ouachi trustees asked them to accept responsibility for the school's financial operation, the seven prominent Little Rock citizens have been actively engaged in this phase of the school's program while the college has supervised the academic program. The new action placed the academic program as well as the financial setup under the local group control

H. L. Winburn, former member of the Little Rock School Board and at present on the city directors board, is chairman of the seven who now become trustees for Baptist High School. Other members are B. T. Harris, Frank. Shamburger, John Shamburger, A. B. Witherington, Charles Bolton, and Bert Treadway.

Ouachita indicated that the college would be available to assist in an advisory capacity if needed, Dr. Phelph pointed out.

Other trustee action included approv al of a record annual budget of $971, 558, adoption of a five-year building program calling for an expenditure of $1,257,500, and election of faculty members for the coming year. The proposed building program includes three new dormitories and additional housing for married students. The trustees also voted to buy additional property near the present campus for future expansion sion.

Sees Answer to Prayer

"WE HAVE seen the answer to our prayers this year," writes the Harrison ke family from Vitoria, Espirito San-Brazil, in a year-end letter to friends in the states.

The letter says in part:

"Our greatest need for more trained national personnel to help develop our work has been met in three definite ways. First, God has sent us three seminary-trained pastors. Second, He has laid upon the layworkers the desire to study better methods. Fred Hawkins (Director of the Brazilian Sunday School Department) was with us Dec. 6-12 and directed the first Sunday School Clinic in our state. Thirty-six churches were represented with an average attendance of 592. Then the desire for the development and deepening of cpiritual knowledge has been implanted in the hearts of our present workers. Last year twelve pastors and layment took advantage of our Extension Course, that lasts for a month, for those who cannot attend seminary. Though the course will not begin until February, eighteen have already expressed the desire to attend.

"The work continues to grow. Two new churches were organized this year. and two more will be organized in January. Our state had two simultaneous revival campaigns that resulted in 10 churches and 4 mission points participating with 249 decisions. Next year there will be a campaign in each of our three associations.

"Early this year we realized that the twenty-five girls at our state Baptist orphanage were receiving more physical nourishment than spiritual food. Therefore, we requested that each of our churches pray for one particular child. The results? The first child received in the orphanage ten years ago graduated on Dec. 13 with a teaching certificate. She will teach in the annex school of one of our isolated interior churches this year. Another has dedicated her life and plans to attend training school in Rio de Janeiro. Also, during a recent revival led by the president of our state convention, nine girls gave their hearts to Jesus. Yes, we have seen answers to prayers this year.

"But God has manifested His power in our home too. Harrison had the unsurpassed joy of baptising seven year old Donna. Six year old David and four year old Danny help her to witness to the neighboring children."

 FIRST SERVICES in Midway Mission, sponsored by 1st Church, Forrest City, were conducted Apr. 5 with 18 in Sunday School and 23 at the night service. The mission is located 3.5 miles south of Palestine. A profession of faith was recorded on the opening day. W. A. McKay, former pastor of the Palestine Church, is leading in the work. (CB)

Graham's Evestrain Back

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (EP) -A recurrence of his eye trouble seized Billy Graham on the eve of final services in New Zealand. The evangelist is reported to have left a meeting in Wellington quickly because of extreme fatigue April 7. Associate Evangelist Leighton Ford said there is no suggestion that Graham is sick, but that he is a bit exhausted from the crammed itinerary and packed meetings of his Australian campaign. "Billy was warned." Ford said, "that overwork may cause a recurrence of his eye trouble. He probably will rest up a while before returning to the United States in mid-June."

Whereas an average of 3 per cent of the evangelist's audiences have responded to his invitation in America, reports indicate that a record of up to 8 per Nowhere in the world are the forces of destiny moving more rapidly than in Africa. Christianity, Mohammedanism and Communism are alike going all out to capture the continent. With disquieting clarity, "Breath of Freedom" succeeds in making clear the basic struggle now raging for the African mind.

A few short years ago Africa was ninety per cent illiterate. Most of the natives who could read had been taught by Christian missionaries. Today literacy is increasing by leaps and bounds — and the Communists are furnishing most of the reading matter. The Scripture distribution campaigns of the Pocket Testament League, of which Alfred A. Kunz is international director, take on added significance because at the moment this is the largest single effort in the whole of Africa to place the Word of God in the hands of Africa's teeming millions.

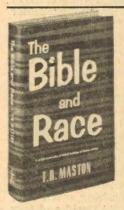

"Breath of Freedom," in 15 minutes of dramatic full color action, takes the audience from Johannesburg and the Kimberly diamond mines northward to Belgian Congo, Ghana and Nigeria, revealing the intense battle for souls in which the forces of Communism and Mohammedanism outnumber those of Christianity. Africa today presents an unparalleled opportunity for Christian missionary enterprise. However it is just as great an opportunity for the enemies of Christ, as the film clearly shows. Every church should see "Breath of Freedom" as a means of arousing Christians of America to the urgency of the African task and the need for expanding every Christian missionary and educational program.

DR. HUDSON be restored in this gossippy town? I'm so brokenhearted that I feel the weight of the world on my shoulders and heart.

ANSWER: There is nothing so vicious as a wagging tongue. Naturally small towns are worse about gossip than big cities. They know each other better and have more time to talk. Besides they are usually more frustrated and their anger causes them to punish others for what they would like to do thenselves.

In the minds of those your husband will never be the same again. You can count on that, but the Christian people will rejoice more over your husband's repentance than the hypocrites gloated over his downfall. Real Christians will even help him to feel restored. He will need it, too!

How can you face the wagging tongues? First, join your husband in his gin. I mean, help him to bear it like it was your own. This is what Christian marriage ought to mean. Help him not to become bitter over gossippy people.

Children's Nook The Happy Swing

By GRAYCE KROGH BOLLER

SALLY AND Joe swung on the garden gate. They were looking for someone to play with. They wanted to share the new swing Daddy had put up for them last night.

"There is Mary," Joe waved. "She would like to swing."

"That new girl is sitting on the step," Sally noticed. "She looks lonely." "Her name is Nancy," Joe said. "I

"Her name is -Nancy," Joe said. "I heard her mother call her this morning. Hi, Mary! Want to swing?"

"Oh, yes!" Mary came running down the street, and the three friends hurried to the big tree where the swing was.

"We ought to invite Nancy over to swing, too," Sally planned.

"Oh, let's not!" Mary took the first turn without even being invited. "If you ask her, we will get less turns. Besides, maybe we won't even like her."

"But she's lonely," Sally protested. "And how can we find out whether we like her or not if we don't try to be friends? You'd want someone to be friendly if you were new, wouldn't you?"

Mary kept on swinging, pushing with her feet to go higher. She did not answer Sally's questions. Sally looked at her for a moment. Then she looked back at Nancy, still sitting on the step by herself. Sally turned and ran back to the garden gate.

"Nancy!" she called, waving and smiling a friendly smile. "Come on over and play! We have a new swing!"

Nancy looked up with a big smile. After looking both ways up and down the street to make sure no cars were coming, she ran across, smiling at Sally as she came.

"We have a new swing under the maple tree," Sally explained, putting her arm around Nancy as they skipped back to the swing. "Do you like to swing, Nancy?"

"Oh, yes! and we don't have a swing," the new girl smiled.

"Hello," Joe greeted her kindly, but Mary just looked cross, especially when Joe asked her to give Nancy a turn in the swing.

Nancy had hardly begun to swing when Mary said, "It's my turn now, Nancy. You've had it long enough."

"But Sally hasn't had a turn yet," Joe broke in. "Besides, Nancy has only just begun to swing. You have to wait your turn, Mary. After Sally, I get a turn."

"Well, you invited me to swing," Mary flounced, "and if you aren't going to let me swing, I'm going home."

Mary walked slowly down the path when the others did not answer. Joe looked at Sally, who looked as if she would cry. "I'm sorry," Nancy slid off the swing sadly. "If I hadn't come, Mary would not have been cross."

"Don't you mind her," Joe comforted. "Sally, it's your turn. Want to swing her, Nancy?"

After Sally had had a fair turn, Joe sat in the swing. Mary did not go out the gate. When no one called her back, she slowed down and finally stopped. As the others played and laughed, she walked slowly back toward the swing. She stood by another big tree and watched.

When Joe had finished his turn, Nancy turned to Mary and smiled, holding out her hand.

"Come on, Mary; it's your turn again. I'll push the swing so that you can go real high."

"Thank you!" Mary was happy to be wanted. She ran over and Nancy helped her into the swing and then began to push gently.

"Nancy is good," Sally thought. "She is thoughtful and fair and loving and kind. Perhaps we can teach Mary that that is the nicest and happiest way to play."

Hi-Fi Frog Chorus

By THELMA C. CARTER

YOU CAN'T miss a hi-fi frog chorus if you happen to be near a pond or swamp in the springtime. If you look closely at the margin of a pond, in the pondweed, water grasses, and bulrushes, you will probably see one or more frogs or toads, croaking and trilling with their built-in loud-speakers. You will laugh at their bubble-blowing antics and wonder how such loud sounds can come from such small creatures.

If you have field glasses and can study the bubble-blowing of a frog, you will be amazed to see the frog pumping his tongue up and down, inflating two air sacs, one on each side of his neck.

A frog's voicebox is near the top of his throat. As he pumps his tongue up and down, air is forced into the thin sacs of skin. When the air is released from the air sacs, out comes the sound or croak.

Sound is increased and made clear and true on phonographs, radios, and television sets with the aid of manmade speakers. Imagine! our Creator gave the lowly frog a built-in loudspeaker that is a miracle in itself.

Unbelievably true is the fact that the sound equipment of the frog — windpipe, voice box, and vocal cords — is similar to that of birds and even to the soundmaking equipment of human beings.

God's creation of all living things is Joyful enthusiasm is one of the notable aspects of the Christian religion. Its expression, in the style of delivering sermons, varies widely. But the central theme is always the same . . . the wonderful promise, old but ever new, of forgiveness and salvation.

Sunday School Lesson When Success Comes

By TOMMIE HINSON

(Pastor, First Church, Paris)

I SAMUEL 16:1-18:16 April 26

JUCCESS IS a magic word. Everyone wants it! The athlete, the business man, the student, the preacher, all have deep-seated desires to succeed. Success will come to This lesson some. seeks to condition the heart so that when it does come the individual will be humble and strong enough to face the problems and perils of popularity.

MR. HINSON

Like almost everything else, success can be either good or evil. Much depends upon the person. Basic nature, and relationship to God and others, will determine one's response; whether it will be good or bad.

This lesson deals with David's success. It is the kind of thing every young man ought to study as seriously as possible.

Success and Suspicion

Already Samuel had announced God's rejection of Saul and had, in a private ceremony, anointed David as God's choice to take Saul's place as ting. The feeling Saul had, realizing he was about to lose all, must have been terrible. He was suspicious of evervone and soon proved to be doubly jealous of David.

Upon the return of David following his victorious contest with Goliath, the milistine giant, the women of Israel came from "all cities of Israel" playing musical instruments and singing a new song: "Saul hath slain his thoutands, and David his ten thousands."

At this point suspicion turned into the green-eyed monster called jealousy. Saul said they have credited to David tens of thousands and to me they have escribed but thousands. "And what can he have more but the kingdom?" was his jealous observation. Saul knew that because of his disobedience God had taken the kingdom from him, but he was not ready to give it up to anyone.

"And Saul eyed David from that day forward." This was the look of suspicion and jealousy. So serious did this condition grow that one day as David layed his harp for Saul, the king took a javelin (spear) and attempted to pin David to the wall with it. Saul was costless, nervous, fearful, and quick tempered because he saw someone else succeeding and felt himself failing.

1. David moved up from guiding sheep to guiding people. We must be faithful in the smaller before we will be called to do the greater.

2. From his anointing to his recognition was a long rough road for David. He behaved wisely. How do we act on that same road?

3. Qualities seen in Saul or David can bring defeat or victory to any man today.

4. Are you successful? Have you thanked God today and asked for His presence to keep you humble and sweet spirited?

Dealing with those who are suspicious and jealous over the success of others is most difficult. Christians must always react with repeated forgiveness, true humility, and genuine kindness.

Success and Humility

"And David behaved himself wisely in all his ways, and the Lord was with him." To behave wisely and walk humbly in the midst of cheers and success is real character. Many men could not stand such success, and it is little wonder that God doesn't give it to them.

When Saul offered David his oldest daughter, Merab, to be his wife, David said: "Who am I? And what is my life, or my father's family in Israel, that I should be son in law to the king?" (I Sam 18:18). What modesty! And every indication is that it was genuine and sincere.

One of the perils of popularity and success is how to keep a "level head" when everything is going in our favor. David faced and conquered this problem and left us a wonderful example.

Michael Angelo was found walking in solitude amid the ruins of the Coliseum. When asked why he was there the great artist answered, "I go to school that I may continue to learn." He must be very foolish who cannot tell us something; or more likely, we must be very foolish not to be able to learn from him.

What giant tree has not giant roots? If it doesn't have such roots it will not long stand. Let us never forget that humility is the giant root and strength of lofty success.

Success and Spirituality

David remembered God. He did not climb to the top with the help of God's assistance only to forget the Heavenly Father. His life, "A man after God's own heart;" and his Psalms, many of which made their way into the Volume of Inspiration where they will be eternally preserved, are indications that he did not forget the spiritual in the midst of his success.

A good man was Sunday School superintendent for a rural church in Texas. His wife was pianist. They lived on a small farm and enjoyed a very limited amount of prosperity. One day it was discovered that his farm had rich deposits of gravel beneath it. A super highway being built nearby made the gravel even more valuable. Within weeks he sold thousands of dollars worth of gravel. But the sudden success was not good for him. Soon both had resigned their church jobs, and they attended only when it was convenient. Success must always be accompanied by spirituality or its end result will be tragic.

Every man who enjoys a measure of success, no matter how small, should hear echoes like this: "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above and cometh down from the Father ... This will tend to develop a spirit most needful for anyone who enjoys a full share of God's blessings.

The Secret of Success

David told Saul that God had delivered the lion and the bear into his hands as he kept his father's sheep, and that he would deliver this uncircumcised Philistine also. Not for one minute did David doubt that God would help him.

The real secret of David's success was faith and courage; not only to face Goliath, but also to restrain himself under the jealous outrages of Saul. This secret of success has not changed. Any man who desires inner success must experience an encounter of faith with Almighty God. He must be willing to say with John the Baptist: "He must increase; but I must decrease."

Many men who are successful in the eyes of their city or community, are inwardly living in utter confusion, regret, and instability. These men need a sincere faith in Christ as Saviour and Lord of their lives.

Jesus said, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you" (Matt. 6:33).
