Life Begins At Age 98

FORT WORTH, Texas (BP)—Life begins at 98, according to Mable Adams of Glen Rose, Texas, who completed MasterLife evangelism training last year and recently led a teenager to faith in Christ while studying Evangelism Explosion through First Baptist Church of Glen Rose.

Mrs. Adams spoke at the Jan. 20 morning session of the Texas Baptist Evangelism Conference in Fort Worth's Tarrant County Convention Center.

When Adams' pastor, Arthur N. McAninch Jr., invited her to join MasterLife I about two years ago, she said, "Oh, Brother Art, at my age I have trouble memorizing Scripture."

"But she memorized every Scripture and really did well," McAninch said.

MasterLife is a discipleship and witnessing program sponsored by the church training department of the Southern Baptist Sunday School Board.

After completing MasterLife, Adams enrolled in the Evangelism Explosion seminar at her church. She and some other women went together to do evangelism visitation and stopped at a home where some teen-age girls were having a slumber party.

Adams shared the message of salvation, and a girl about 13 years old prayed and received Christ as her savior.

"I don't see why people as they grow older don't do something like this because it stimulates the mind so," said Adams. "We grow old in mind before we grow old in our bodies.

Adams admits she is excited about giving her testimony at the conference but she says: "It shall be the Lord's doing. It shall not be mine."

GOOD NEWS!

IT'S UPLIFTING

Courage for the New Year

Deuteronomy 33:24-25

Courage for the journey must have concerned Moses deeply in delivering his farewell address. How could he fortify Israel for the conquest of Canaan? Only a sure word from the Lord could counteract the pessimistic report of the 10 spies. Moses exhorted each tribe to be bold in the face of enemy opposition. It was in some ways his last will and testament. Let's make three observations based on this text.

God does not remove the difficulties of life. The primrose path of life has never been promised to Christians. Asher was one of the 12 tribes belonging to the chosen nation. Still they had to fortify themselves for difficult days. The battles of Canaan would be real.

For the faithful servant, there is no ivory tower of security. Certain victories which are essential to the spread of the gospel can only be won through sacrifice.

God does not conceal the difficulties of life. As expressed in the familiar adage, "To be forewarned is to be forearmed." Moses made no effort to rally the spirit of the Israelites with a shallow optimism. This might seem kind on the surface, but it would actually be cruel. Both the cagle and the ostrich must endure the storm. Whether true or false, the ostrich has gained the reputation of burying his head in the sand. In this way, he seeks to escape the inevitable. What about the eagle? Often times when he senses the storm is coming, he files directly into the path and battles against the tempest. We follow the daring Lord who set his face steadfastly toward Jerusalem, the storm center of his life.

Our Lord does not believe in diluting the truth. He recruited men in a peculiar manner, offering his servants a cross and a crown. We may frown on such a straightforward approach, preferring to win adherents with glowing attractions. Such discipleship will not last.

God does not ignore the difficulties of life. The benediction of Moses on the tribe of Asher included a promise, not just a prediction. Think of the magnitude of assurance in the words: "As thy days, so shall thy strength be." There is something better than a lighter load for our pilgrimage. One great preacher of the nineteenth century said he prayed not for a lighter load but for a stronger back.

Paul did not survive the excruciating abuses of his enemies through fitness but faith. His motto was, "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me" (Ph. 4:13). From God we thus derive providential strength.

Do you have the courage to live for Christ? God says the resources are adequate to see you through. Step out on faith and win the victory.

Verbal Garbage

J. EVERETT SNEED

Fortunately the people who collect litter and trash are gaining more status. It is certain they deserve it, as they are hard working people who perform a useful service. Their improved status is long overdue. Tragically, however, the collectors of verbal garbage are usually accorded a higher status than they deserve. To solve this problem, Christians need to refrain from gossip and disseminating garbage.

None of us would think of picking up garbage and recycling it through our bodies as food. Nor do we keep it in our houses for long periods of time. We keep it in garbage bags until it can be picked up and dumped into the garbage pit. With regular household garbage, there seems to be no mistaken identity. We recognize it for what it is and treat it accordingly.

Yet good people hear verbal garbage and often pass it on for something reliable and acceptable. The question arises, "How do we determine what is authentic truth from verbal garbage?" Obviously it is not always easy to tell the difference. Some of the following guidelines may be useful in separating verbal garbage from truth.

First, "scoop" type information should always be treated suspect until it is confirmed. The news media often obtains information before it is generally known, but a good reporter makes every effort to authenticate his information prior to dissemination.

Second, one may be able to determine verbal garbage by asking, "Why is this information being shared? Is the individual who is giving this information a friend or foe of the person he is talking about?" It is, of course, difficult to discern motives, but there are cases in which the intentions are rather obvious.

All of us collect more good things about our friends than we do about those who are enemies. But bad stories often can be tracked back to an unhappy experience which has left emotional scars. It also is obvious that we are more eager to believe and to tell damaging things about people whom we dislike.

Finally, a way to detect a verbal garbage collector is to count the number of times he passes on "dirt" regarding others and the number of people he knows unkind things about.

The Bible has a great deal to say about the sin of judging others. James, for example, warns, "Speak not evil one of another..." (Ja. 4:11). The verb "to speak evil" usually means to speak evil of someone in that person's absence, to criticize, to insult, to slander someone when he is not there to defend himself. This sin is condemned throughout the Bible.

The sin of gossip also is condemned by Peter and Paul. Paul lists it among the sins which are characteristic of unregenerated pagans (see Ro. 1:30). Peter uses the same Greek word (katalalia) but it is usually translated "evil speaking" (see 2 P. 2:1).

There are few activities in which the average person finds more delight, and few which are more devastating. Gossip can destroy the reputation of individuals who are not present to defend themselves. Hence, there is a necessity for repeated warnings in the Scripture. Actually, when one is speaking evil of another, he is breaching the royal law of loving one's neighbor as himself. Obviously a man cannot love his neighbor as himself and speak evil about him.

When we speak evil of another, we are infringing on the prerogative of God. The Bible is clear that no human being has the right to judge another. The right of judgement belongs to God and God alone.

One of the tragedies of dissemination of garbage is that its damage can seldom be recalled. Once a false impression/has been placed in the minds of others, it is difficult at best to repair the damage.

The dissemination of garbage is one of the worse sins that besets Christians, Devout Christians are not given to violence and would say that they wish to harm no one. But, almost without thinking, an individual can pass on verbal garbage which can destroy the usefulness of another. This pitfall becomes even more likely when individuals are involved in disagreement or debate.

Verbal garbage may be no more than a rumor, partial truth, inference, or implication, or it may be truth that puts someone in a bad light. Whatever it is, when we receive it and pass it on, we should consider why we are doing it. We should ask, are we doing this to help or to hurt?

Most of us have heard repeatedly the old adage, "If you can't say something good about a person, don't say anything." It is very difficult to improve on this advice.

All of us would do well to remember and to ponder the words of Jesus as he said, "Judge not that ye be not judged. For with what judgement ye judge, ye shall be judged: and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again" (Mt. 7:1-2).

You'll Be Glad To Know

Gifts for world missions through the Cooperative Program passed $12 million in 1987! Thank you for being conscientious about the continued support of the programs and ministries Southern Baptists do together. This is an increase of 3.36 percent over last year's giving. Neighboring states, Texas and Oklahoma, are receiving significantly less than in 1986. The Texas Convention fell $2.5 million short of their budget or 2.7 percent.

Our increase of 3.36 percent is the smallest increase in giving in 15 years. It is the first time gifts to the Cooperative Program have not kept pace with inflation. What is the impact of these trends? The following ministries will be hindered significantly: 3,800 foreign missionaries, 3,700 home missionaries, six seminaries with 12,000 students, Family and Child Care Ministries, Arkansas Baptist Foundation, Ouachita Baptist University, Southern Baptist College, and 12 programs of local church assistance.

Our years of neglect in preaching and teaching about individual responsibility for world evangelization is catching up with us. Years of failure to keep our church members informed about the Cooperative Program achievements is coming back to haunt us. While some areas of our economy have been hard hit, the reports of our churches' receipts indicate they have continued to receive good increases from their members, but have not sent a corresponding increase to support world missions. Selfishness is as unbecoming to a church as it is an individual. The facts are that most of our people do not give a tithe and most of our churches do not give 10 percent to world missions. The facts are that most businessmen on budget and finance committees look to missions as the first place to cut if finances become strained. This is only because they do not know the vast and tremendous ministries accomplished through the Cooperative Program. We can do better, can't we?

Letters to the Editor

Different Purpose

I read Michael Rochelle's recent letter "Hope in Las Vegas," with mixed emotions I can appreciate my Christian brother's experience as a young man in Las Vegas with the compassionate Southern Baptist church and pastor that ministered to him in his time of need. This should be the primary purpose of every Baptist church at any time.

However, I would like to remind the readers of that letter that they not lose sight of the primary purpose of our SBC visiting Las Vegas in 1989 and that is to hold our annual series of meetings. This is quite a different purpose than ministry of the churches which are already established there. I have yet to read of any concrete plans for mass evangelism or large revival meetings to be held in conjunction with this convention. Several weeks ago Mr. James Sawyer of Searcy wrote to the Arkansas Baptist voicing his objections to the convention being held there in 1989. I could not agree more. It seems quite hypocritical for our pastors and leadership to admonish their congregations of the evils or gambling, drinking, immorality, etc., while at the same time are making plans to hold their convention at a place where all of the above not only exist abundantly but are thriving!

In holding our convention there, will we be ''strengthening the hands of the evildoers'' as is stated in Jeremiah 23:14 or Ezekiel 13:22? What do you suppose the $13 million plus income from this convention will be invested in? Think about it.

As a final note I would ask—Do our Southern Baptist pastors have enough courage to survey by written ballot their respective congregations as pertains to this issue?—Beverly Strain, Greenbrier

An American educator. Dr. Charles S. McKenzie made this observation about one of Communism's early leaders: "Nikolai Lenin once urged his followers to work to politicize the church if they wished to neutralize its influence in society. observation regarding the way that party related to the churches in stating "They purged the churches whose interpretations were different than ours, and we were silent. Then, they purged, the churches whose interpretations were only slightly different than ours, and we remained silent still. Finally, they purged the churches whose interpretations were similar to ours, and there was no one left to speak for us."

We must remember that we as Southern Baptists originally came together under the primacy of Scripture and liberty of conscience.

Georgicann Darter, recently distinguished in the field of Arkansas adult education, has taught many adults to read. Let all of us use this ability to study to show ourselves approved unto God, reading especially the word of God and then other materials which would assist us to be the soul winners God intended.

Food & Fellowship

Entertaining Visiting Ministers

VIRGINIA KIRK & JANE PURTLE

The prophet Elisha was invited to have meals with a rich woman and her husband each time he came through the Shunem area. Finally his hostess said to her husband, ''I am sure that this man who comes so often is a holy man. Let's build small room on the roof, put a bed, a chair and a lamp in it and he can stay there whenever he visits us'' (2 K. 4:9, GNB). Perhaps we should follow the example of this Shunammite woman. The rewards that came to her and her husband were wonderful. If you have forgotten this story, reread it.

Most churches have people each year conduct revivals, conferences, seminars, banquets, etc. Usually those visitors stay at a local motel or hotel with the church paying the expenses. Many would prefer to stay in a home where privacy could be assured, along with the opportunity for rest and study. For the church there is the extra bonus of saving money on the expenses of the meeting.

Members who have grown children and an "empty nest" have extra bedrooms and baths to offer. Comfortable surroundings, breakfast, and fellowship, if desired, are available.

It has been a blessing to our family to have visiting ministers and singers as guests in our home. Our lives have been enriched in many ways. A well-known choir director/pianist gave a living room concert for our neighbogs and friends. Another famous singer left an autographed copy of one of his books. A minister from a large Gulf Coast church arrived with an ice chest of fresh oxysters which he prepared for us. We have a lovely piece of matted calligraphy done by a Texas choir director. This summer we plan to visit another Texan who stayed with us. We have made lasting friendships, and it has been an honor to know these folks.

Our recipes this month are dishes you might serve a visiting minister for breaskfast. The first is a simple form of baked apples—easy, quick, and suitable for breakfast, lunch, or dinner. Serve hot or cold.

Pink baked apples

Peel and quarter 6 to 8 baking apples Mix in pan: I tablespoon cornstarch ½-¼ cup sugar ¾-1 cup water a little margarine

Bring mixture to a boil. Add 2 or 3 drops of red food coloring and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Pour over apples in baking dish. Sprinkle with nutmeg (optional). Bake in 350 degree oven until soft. Sprinkle with a few nuts (optional) and miniature marshmallows (optional) the last 5 minutes of baking.

Baked eggs with cheese

2 cups cheddar cheese, grated 6 eggs ¼ cup milk salt and pepper to taste 1 tablespoon chopped parsley or parsley flakes

Sprinkle 1 cup cheese on bottom of 8x8 greased baking dish. Make six indentations in the layer of cheese. Break an egg into each one. Sprinkle with salt, pepper, parsley and milk. Top with rest of cheese. Bake 25 minutes (less for softer eggs) at 375 degrees.

Virginia Kirk, professor emeritus at Arkansas College, is a member of Batesville First Church. Jane Purtle teaches at Lon Morris College in Jacksonville, Texas. They have enjoyed cooking together for several years.

Early Reflections

A New Beginning

The New Year lies before us unsoiled and unspoiled; 365 days of golden opportunity. None of us knows what the year 1988 will hold. However, we must seize hold of each situation and make the most of what is handed to us. The opportunities are ours but we must be willing to be open and dare to take the risks.

One of my models for strength comes from the late DeWitt Wallace.

DeWitt Wallace had a idea for a publication containing condensed articles that would help people lead happier, more useful lives. He had little experience and no money. As heasought help no one gave him any encouragement. Publishers would say, "No good, it won't work." Yet Reader's Digest is one of the greatest publishing successes of modern times.

The New Year affords an opportunity to take a hard look at ourselves and make sure our spiritual resources are sufficient for the demands of the coming days of tests and trials. Unless we are fortified from within by the power of God, we shall be destined to waver and fall before the unmerciful test of this New Year.

First, we must realize that Jesus is Savior, Master, and Lord of our life and that he is as up-to-date as the New Year we face.

Second, we need a sense of the importance of time.

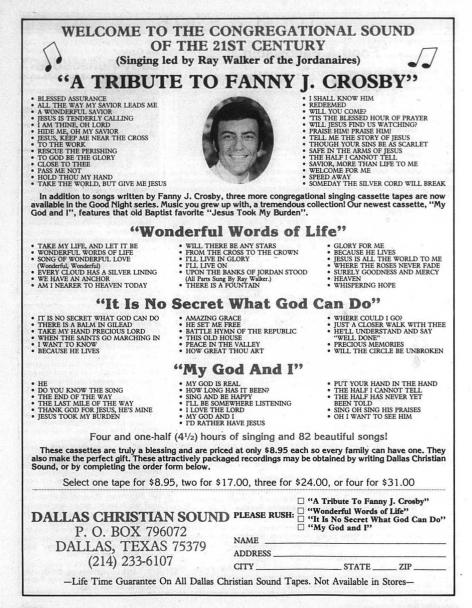

We must spend quality and quantity time in prayer. Take time to read God's Word, to witness for Christ, to help those in need, to spend time with our loved ones, to cultivate a sunny disposition.

Third, as we grasp hold of 1988, we need a fresh appraisal of life's values and then live each day with those values in our mind's eve.

Finally in this new begining, we need power. The world has never been more ripe for harvest. There are challenges on every hand; but we need a new infusion of spiritual energy, a new infilling of the Holv Spirit.

Let us not be afraid of the unknown but let us take each step into this New Year boldy and unafraid, willing to say, "With God's help, I can and I will."

Ben Early is director of public relations/alumni affairs for Southern Baptist college in Walnut Ridge.

LOCAL & STATE

Fellowship Organized

Royal Ambassador counselors from across the state of Arkansas met and organized a fellowship group on Saturday, Jan. 23.

The counselors heard Karl Bozeman of the Brotherhood Commission in Memphis, Tenn., and were updated on new materials for Royal Ambassadors and High School Baptist Young Men. They also discussed the upcoming State Congress and camps.

Participants voted to make the fellowship meeting an annual event and scheduled a second meeting for Jan. 14, 1989.

Facility Workshop

A "Central Arkansas Church Facilities Management Workshop" will be held at First Church, Little Rock, on Thursday, Feb. 25 from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. The workshop is designed to aid facility managers and those supervising and working in church building maintenance, custodial, and housekeeping work.

Sponsored by the Central Arkansas

Chapter of the National Association of Church Business Administrators, the workshop will feature experienced leaders who view facility management as a ministry. Workshop subjects will include the cleaning of critical areas and landscaping.

Cost of registration is $20 per applicant, and the registration deadline in Friday, Feb. 19. To register, call Ross Pyeatt a) 374-9284.

Russia Tour Planned

The Amon Baker European Mission Chorale has been invited to tour the Soviet Union July 5-19 in connection with the 1,000th anniversary of evangelical Christianity in Russia.

The invitation, issued by the All Union Council of Evangelical Christians-Baptists, will allow 50 chorale members to perform in concert in Russian churches, the firstever such invitation, according to Amon Baker, director of the chorale and associate pastor/minister of music for Riverside Church, North Little Rock.

The chorale will tour with Ron and Pat Owens of Fort Worth, Texas, and they also will be accompanied by the Ladies Handbell Choir of First Church, Osceola, under the direction of John Dresbach.

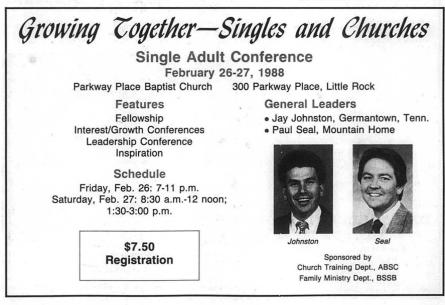

"This will be a ministry of encouragement to the Russian churches, which are hungry for fellowship with Christians from outside their country," said Baker, who will be making his sixth tour to Europe with this trip.

A few spaces for the tour remain open. Interested persons may contact Baker at 57 Flintwood, Little Rock, AR 72207; phone 225-1054.

Today he is being acclaimed for discovery of a promising new treatment for sickle cell anemia, a genetic blood disorder that strikes primarily black people and residents of the Mediterranean region. He gives credit to his Baptist heritage.

Fadulu, a professor of microbiology at Texas Southern University, Houston, discovered the sickle cell treatment while studying the healing properties of twigs used by his fellow Africans as "chew sticks" for oral hygiene. Some people say he accidentally made the discovery when drops of blood were mixed with the saliva he was studying. Fadulu says it was "the work of the Lord." He observed that the blood retained its red color when it came in contact with the extract from chew sticks. Red blood cells normally turn brown as they lose ox-Sickle ygen. diseased blood loses oxygen faster than normal cells. The treated blood apparently held oxygen long-

"I have always felt God has a purpose for my life," Fadulu said, "and I must be humble and open to see the work of God." He believes God led him in the chew stick study, not merely to discover how the sticks contributed to oral and dental hygiene, but to reveal the sickle cell treatment.

Turning to OBU president Bob Agee, appearing on the same episode, Fadulu said, "I speak for thousands of others like me when I say 'thank you OBU and Southern Baptists for what you have done."

After 17 years of 460 million people worldwide who are subject to sickle cell disease.

The compounds Fadulu discovered are present in minute quantites in the wood commonly used for chew sticks

As a boy Fadulu adopted for his special scripture verse Revelation 21:4, "And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying." He said he was saddened by the wailing cries of mothers whose little children died from the effects of sickle cell anemia, and he praved for the day when a cure could be discovered. He believes that day finally has arrived.

M^{oy}Great Australian Adventure

WHY AUSTRALIA?

AUSTRALIA IS MORE THAN JUST THE WORLD'S LARGEST ISLAND. IT IS A CONTINENT OF INCREDIBLE CONTRASTS AND GEOGRAPHICAL SUPERLATIVES. PLUS, THE WEATHER IS GREAT, THE PEOPLE ARE FRIENDLY, AND YOU TRAVEL IN A VERY SAFE ENVIRONMENT.

1988 is Australia's Bi-centenary year, with the biggest celebration being World Expo 88. It will also be the largest single event in Australia's history, making 1988 the ideal time to visit down under.

THE GREAT BARRIER REEF

This natural wonder of the world stretches for more than 1200 miles along the eastern coast of Northern Queensland, making it the largest coral reef in the world. Our tour follows this enormous colorful spectacle, enabling you to visit six Islands, staying two nights each on Daydream Island, and John Brewer Reef, where the world's first offshore floating resort is now open. You will also have the opportunity to explore the Reef at other points along the coast. Maybe even try your hand at big game fishing.

MAJOR HIGHLIGHTS:

OUTBACK AUSTRALIA

No visit to Australia would be complete without a visit to the fascinating outback. This unique area with its vast semi-arid landscapes is the home of many majestic rock formations, magnificent gorges, chasms and canyons, including the world's largest monolith — Ayers Rock. Because of its sparse population of just 150,000 people in an area twice the size of Texas, it is considered the last great frontier of the world.

SYDNEY

Three nights in Sydney, Australia's largest city ensures the perfect balance to your Great Australian Adventure. Sydney is home to the Harbour Bridge and Opera House that bear its name, the Opera House being one of the seven modern wonders of the world'. Sydney also boasts one of the world's largest and most beautiful harbours.

McKERLIE'S TRAVELFRIENDS

McKerlie's Travelfriends, the organisers of these tours, have been conducting extended motor coach tours throughout Australia since 1966. In addition to all the features you would expect on a package tour, like quality accommodation, delicious meals and a reliable modern motor coach, the McKerlie's (a Baptist family), have added the personal touch and include Daily Devotions, opportunity to attend church services on Sundays, courtesy, consideration, attention to details, good humour and real value for money.

A Church for Everyone Week of Prayer for Home Missions

March 6-13, 1988

Annie Armstrong Easter Offering Goal: $37.5 million

Church for Everyone" already has taken on meaning for many Southern Baptists. For lay leader Dru Graves (far left), a church for everyone means providing a church experience for migrants, such as Vacation Bible Schools for migrant children in Beaufort, S.C. Katherine Stewart (left) defines "a church for everyone" as translating worship services for the deaf at First Baptist Church, Alexandria, Va. Home missionary Dal Woong Chung (below) pastors a Korean congregation in Baltimore, Md., giving Koreans in that area a church of their own. D.D. Alexander (below left), a church extension missionary, makes sure that "a church for everyone" includes blacks in Inglewood, Calif., as he pastors the Holy Tabernacle of God Baptist Church.

Nomination Planned

San Antonio's Harris Will Bring Jackson's Name

by Toby Druin Texas Baptist Standard

Texas Baptist Standard

DALLAS (BP)—George Harris, pastor of Castle Hills First Baptist Church in San Antonio, Texas, told the Baptist Standard, newsjournal of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, last week he will nominate Richard Jackson for president of the Southern Baptist Convention when the convention meets in the Alamo city June 14-16.

Jackson, Harris said, would be "good for fundamentalists, good for moderates, good for all."

"Harris, acknowledging he has been identified with the "conservative group" in the SBC controversy but denying he has ever been with them politically, said he feels Jackson, pastor of North Phoenix Baptist Church, and a loser to Adrian Rogers for the presidency last year in St. Louis, is the man to "bridge the gap" and "end the feuding" in the controversy-plagued denomination.

Jackson, contacted by the Standard at his church in Phoenix, said simply, "That's fine with me," when told of Harris' intention.

He said he had talked with Harris about a month ago and Harris had asked if he thought he would be nominated again.

"When I said I probably would (be nominated), he talked about the possibility of him doing it," Jackson said. "Nobody knows me better than George — we've been friends for more than 30 years — so I said if he knew me as well as he does and is still willing to do it, then it would be okay."

Jackson is a role model of how to build a solid church, Harris said, noting the North Phoenix church was averaging about 600 in Sunday school when Jackson went there as pastor in 1968. It now averages almost 5,000 and it "has not been built on frills or fads," said Harris.

North Phoenix baptized 1,206 in 1987 and gave $1,062,000 to the Cooperative Program, both figures believed to be tops in the Southern Baptist Convention.

A Look At Ordination

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—"Ordination in Baptist Heritage" will be the subject when the Southern Baptist Historical Society and the Historical Commission, SBC, convene for their joint annual meeting April 25-27 in Nashville.

Conference leaders, selected to represent a variety of viewpoints, include: Historical Society President Lee N. Allen of Samford University, Birmingham, Ala.; Jann Aldredge Clanton of St. John's United Methodist Church, Waco, Texas; W.C. Fields, retired director of public relations for the SBC Executive Committee: G. Thomas Halbrooks of Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary, Wake Forest, N.C.: Dorothy Kelley Patterson of Dallas, Texas; Penrose St. Amant, retired president of Baptist Theological Seminary, Ruschlikon, Switzerland: Bill Stancil of the Baptist Sunday School Board: and G. Hugh Wamble of Midwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Kansas City, Mo.

The annual meeting is open to the public. For registration information, contact the Historical Commission, SBC, 901 Commerce St., Suite 400, Nashville, TN 37203; phone 615-244-0344.

Editors Work For 1991 Debut

by Jim Lowry Baptist Press

DALLAS (BP)—Consulting editors for a new 40-volume Bible commentary to be published by Broadman Press met in Dallas in mid-January to begin the process of selecting writers and recommending details to move toward a 1991 debut.

The six consulting editors, meeting with General Editor Michael Smith, frequently spoke of the willingness and enthusiasm of Southern Baptist scholars who have been approached regarding their interest in participating in the project.

The commentary project, which began with authorization from Southern Baptist Sunday School Board trustees in February 1987, may include as many as 50 writers and more than 24,000 manuscript pages of biblical and theological translation and interpretation, Smith said.

Smith said Broadman expects to release about 10 volumes of the commentary each year after the initial release in June of 1991.

CLC Focus On Citizenship

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Christian citizenship will be the topic of concern when Southern Baptist church leaders and lay persons gather in Washington, D.C. for a national seminar on "Addressing the Nation's Agenda: Christian Citizenship '88."

The meeting, sponsored by the Southern Baptist Christian Life Commission, will be a the Mayflower Hotel only a few blocks from the White House.

N. Larry Baker, executive director of the Commission, said the seminar will deal with the special challenges and opportunities of Christian citizenship in an election year.

"The seminar will help church staff, lay persons and other denomination leaders discover effective ways to address moral issues which are currently on the national agenda or which should be on the agenda," he said.

Major speakers enlisted to date include Jean Galloway Bissel, circuit judge, United State Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, Washington, D.C.; Ginny Britt, executive director, Crisis Control Ministry Inc, Winston-Salem, North Carolina; Newt Gingrich, Republican congressman from Georgia; William H. Gray III, Democraina, and a leading spokesman on African policy; and Jerry R. Kirk, president, National Coalition Against Pornography Clincinnati, Ohio.

Registration is $35 per person and $17.50 for spouses of registrants and for students. Additional information, including details about special rates at the Mayflower Hotel, is available from the Christian Life Commission, P.O. Box 25266, Nashville, TN 37202-5266.

LESSONS FOR LIVING

Convention Uniform

Deciding Life's Direction

by Jerry Wilcox, First Church, Trumann

Basic passage: Matthew 16:13-26

Focal passage: Matthew 16:13-21

Central truth: The church is created in confession of faith.

A common error is that of equating the kingdom of God with the church. There is a close relationship between the kingdom of God and the church, but they are not identical. Whereas the kingdom is the sovereignty of God, the church is the fellowship of persons made one people under that sovereignty. God's kingdom in one sense is absolute, over all that is. There are rebels who reject his rule, but God is not thereby dethroned. He remains God and King, whatever man's decision.

On the other hand, the New Testament is chiefly concerned with the Kingdom of God as his rule over willing subjects who yield to his sovereign claims. The church, the body of Christ, is God ruling over his community of people.

The question arises for every kingdom person: "But who do you say that I am?" It is not enough to be knowledgeable about the opinions of others. There comes a time when one must cease discussing possibilities and assume his own stance. Faith requires the courage to assume a position in the midst of conflicting ideas.

Peter's insight that Jesus was the Christ (the Messiah) was a direct revelation from God.

Peter's answer went far beyond popular opinions. Jesus was more than a prophet. He was the Son of God. This was Jesus' long awaited answer. Faith's true answer comes from no human source.

Faith is neither irrational nor absurd. It does not contradict the truth of reason or of nature. But it must go beyond the reach of human intellect and insight. It is an insight given by the Father.'

One may argue convincingly that the church was born on the Day of Pentecost. But it was Peter's confession that made the church become a possibility.

The fact that the kingdom calls for decision is emphasized in the New Testament by the employment of the term "time" which designates "the time of crisis" at the "last times." Jesus declared, "the time has been fulfilled (Mk. 1:15). In the presence of the kingdom, man is compelled to make a decision.

Life and Work

Christian Attitudes

by Earl Humble, First Church, Osceola Basic passage: Exodus 20:13; Matthew 5:21-26, 43-48

Focal passage: Exodus 20:13; Matthew 5:21-22,43-48

Central truth: People are worth more than any other part of God's creation.

The Sixth Commandment states in the KJV, "Thou shalt not kill," and the NIV has, "Thou shalt do no murder." That NIV has the correct translation is shown from othe words of Jesus in Matthew 19:18, which reads as the NIV has it, in our Lord's quotation from Exodus 20:13. Some may say that killing and murder are the same since the victim is just as dead either way. Not only does the Bible make such distinction, but modern laws do also.

(1) Let us note first, the worth of persons. Only people are made in God's image. No lower animal is said to possess a soul or spirit, nor are they responsible to God in a moral sense.

People are worth much to God. Not only are we made in the image of God, but a great price has been paid for our redemption. Jesus paid with his own blood for our sins (1 Pe. 2:24). God not only made us, but he remakes us in the redemptive process. His ultimate purpose is to conform us to the image of his Son (Ro. 8:29).

Not only is human worth of significance in divine-human relations, but we are of great worth to each other. Even outside Christ there is a commonality among us. Even non-Christians have a certain dignity, and they deserve our respect and redemptive love. Where can we stop loving? Can we set a limit at the boundaries of our kind? God loves the whole worth and so must we if we are to follow him.

(2) Note, secondly, the welfare of persons. Jesus talked of our loving our enemies as a sign that we are children of God (Mt. 5:44-45). Loving those who love us is easy, and one does not have to be God's child to do that. Loving the enemy, however, calls for something beyond human resources. Our fallen nature resists loving an enemy, and those who insist on ohating the enemy are giving weight evidence that the carnal nature is control.

James says, "If a brother or a sister is without clothing and is in need of daily food, and one of you says to them, "Go in peace, be warmed and be filled, and you do not give to them, what use is that?"

Bible Book

Back to Bethel

by James W. Bryant, Grand Avenue Church, Fort Smith

Basic passage: Genesis 27:46 to 36:43

Focal passage: Genesis 33:18-20; 35:1-7a,10-13,16-18

Central truth: There comes a time in our pilgrimage with God that our initial commitment finally becomes out total commitment to God's will and God's way.

Jacob has come from his wrestling match with his God, and his reconciliation with his brother Esau, back to Bethel. It was at Bethel that Jacob had his famous dream about the ladder to heaven in Genesis 28. It was there that he made his first vow to God: "If God be with me, and keep me in this way that I am going, and give me bread to eat and clothing to put on, so that I come in peace, then the Lord (Jehovah) shall be my God (Ge. 28:20.21 NKIV), Now Jacob went back to Bethel to build an altar to God "who answered me in the day of my distress and has been with me in the way which I have gone (Ge. 35:3 NKJV). Not only did Jacob build an altar to Jehovah, but he also buried all the idols out of his household and every reminder of the idolatrous world through which he had come. Jacob made a total commitment of himself to God.

There comes a time in our pilgrimage with God that our initial commitment finally becomes our total commitment to God's will and God's way. Jacob went back to Bethel where he had made that initial commitment to God.

Some years ago I met a marvelous soulwinning layman. He witnessed daily and frequently brought others whom he had led to Christ personally down the aisle at the church which I then served. When I asked him to share with me his testimony of faith in Christ he referred to two different dates of commitment to Christ. First, he told how as a teenager he made an initial commitment to Christ and was saved and baptized. Then he told how when he was a young businessman God had worked a fresh work in his life when he came back home to the church in which he had been saved. As a young businessman he thanked God for saving him as a teenager and keeping him all of those years. Then he made what he called a fresh and total commitment to the Lordship of Christ. Have you?

Sprouting in Israel

by Art Toalston SBC Foreign Mission Board

JERUSALEM (BP)—''I will never be a Christian,'' says a Jewish woman whose parents were killed by Nazis during World War II. ''I believe the same thing as a real Christian believes.'' But to call myself a Christian, no. The word has been too contaminated for us as a people.''

She is among some 3,000 Jews in Israel who believe the Messiah was revealed to mankind nearly two millenniums ago. Most of them do not call him Jesus. They use his Hebrew name, Yeshua (pronounced ve-SHU-uh).

Numerous believers came to faith years ago — some after immigrating to Israel. Many more, however, are native Israelis in their 20s and 30s. Some can list parents, grandparents or other relatives killed in the Holocaust, the Nazi campaign that eqadicated 6 million Jews — onethird of all Jews worldwide. A few believers are concentration camp survivors.

About 30 Messianic congregations exist in Israel. Most have sprouted since 1980. Most are small; only a few encompass 100 or more believers. Most are led by a small team of elders selected from the members. They usually meet in apartments or homes each Saturday, the Jewish Sabbath. In Israel, Sunday is one of six workdays.

One-third of the congregations are in the Tel Aviv area, where 40 percent of Israel's 4.4 million people live. Several congregations meet in Jerusalem.

Southern Baptists have nearly 50 representatives in Israel, and several worship with Hebrew-speaking congregations. Others worship at Narkis Street Baptist Church in Jerusalem or Baptist Village near Tel Aviv. Both are English-language congregations also attended by internationals working or visiting in Israel. Still other Baptist representatives are active in nine Arab Baptist congregations.

Israel's population includes about 750,000 Arabs. An additional 1.5 million Arabs live in the West Bank and Gaza, territories occupied by Israel since the 1967 Six-Day War.

Messianic believers voice appreciation particularly for Baptist Village, the largest Christian conference and summer camp center in Israel. And they hope its overnight capacity, now about 200, will be expanded someday to 500 or more. Such plans, however, are only on the drawing boards.

Messianic Jews meet at Baptist Village each Passover and other times during the year. One believer contrasts these times of fellowship and mutual encouragement with large churches in the United States, where "you can see more believers just by looking around than there are in the whole land of Israel."

Jewish believers were even a smaller minority 10 years ago, reminds Ilan Zamir, an elder in a Tel Aviv congregation. When he accepted Yeshua as Messiah in the mid-1970s, "I thought I was the only Jew who dared to think this way."

It was an unmentionable topic in Israeli society and media. Believers were called traitors to the Jewish people.

Such pressures still confront believers. But now, Zamir and others dare to dream. 'Lord willing,' he says, 'you come in 10 years, I'm sure you'll see much greater numbers of believers and much greater evidence of the act of God in this land.'' The Holocaust is an especially weighty matter for believers, because Orthodox Jews hold Christianity at least partly responsible. "Its preaching of antilewishness was a very significant cause in

... the most awful phenomenon in history against my people," says Pinhas Peli, a Jerusalem Post columnist and professor of Jewish thought and literature at Ben Gurion University of the Negev in Be'er Sheva.

Reformation leader Martin Luther, in his pamphlet, "The Jews and Their Lies," attacked Jews with "a venom that has rarely been equaled," says David Rosen, interreligious affairs director for the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith in Israel. Church history is stained with anti-Semitism, such as the Spanish Inquisition from the 15th to the 19th centuries and Russian pogroms, or attacks on Jews, in the late 1800s and early 1900s. And during the Holocaust churches failed to protest the attrocities.

"In the minds of most Jews," says Menahem Benhayim, an elder in a Jerusalem congregation, "Nazism was another phase of Christianity." Benhayim, who also publishes a Hebrew-language Messianic periodical, Return, notes some Jews "recognize that Nazism was anti-Christian and pagan. But they believe that Nazism was able to use traditional church hostility toward the Jews to effect its diabolical aims."

Christianity is not inherently anti-Semitic, believers contend. "You can take any religion and annex it to hate," says David Yaniv, who lives in a kibbutz-like community in northern Israel. "Christians can hate, Jews can hate, Moslems can hate."

Ya'akov Damkani, a Jaffa-based full-time Messianic evangelist, one of three in Israel, regrets the church had "no love ... no approach for taking the gospel to the Jews" for 19 centuries. "But there is a new development taking place. It's the first time in history that Israel is beginning to really receive love from Yeshua's followers."

Messianic believers are striving to avoid sectarianism. There are no Baptist congregations, for example, although they baptize by immersion. And Messianic congregations have no affiliation with the U.S. based Jews for Jesus organization. Congregations are influenced by various theological views, one leader says, but not enslaved to them.

Joseph Shulam, leader of a congregation in Jerusalem, says God has "collectively dealt with the Jewish nation" throughout its history — and today's believers are pivotal to God's plan. Denominationalism, he asserts, would tarnish believers with an "'allegiance to, and cultural identity from, some foreign group."

Some Messianic Jews, however, fear their movement is ignoring lessons from "2,000 years of Christian history," as Baruch Maoz puts it. Maoz, an elder in a congregation near Tel Aviv, says believers are groping with questions about Christ's deity and the Trinity that the church resolved ages ago. Although believers affirm the Bible's centrality, "when it comes to practical terms," in Maoz's opinion, some of them mold Scripture to fit their presuppositions. Cults could find fertile ground in some Messianic circles, he warns.

Some congregations are charismatic, with an openness to speaking in tongues, prayer for miraculous healings and revelation by dreams and visions. Other congregations are non-charismatic yet evangelical, emphasizing the new birth much like Southern Baptists do.

Charismatics and non-charismatics divide into three camps on observing rabbinic law, such as eating kosher foods. For many congregations the philosophy is, "Do whatever you feel convicted to do," Zamir says. In society at large, the attitude is much the same; 70 to 80 percent of Israelis do not strictly adhere to rabbinic law.

Some believers oppose the law, and Zamir shares part of their concern: "The more you observe the law, the less you see Yeshua in it. I've seen this happen again and again among believers."

Numerous other believers embrace the law. "We don't consider the law a bondage at all," says Martha Stern, a member of a Jerusalem congregation. "Believing in

The Peniel congregation, located in Tiberias, worships outdoors. One of the leaders, Shaul Zuela, left, says that the 3,000 Jewish believers in Israel bope their vibrant faith will draw fellow countrymen who, "are thirsty and their beart is open for the righteousness of God."

Yeshua doesn't mean you stop being Jewish." Dror Goldberg, also a Jerusalemarea believer, notes that in Matthew 23 Yeshua commended the Pharisees' teachings but not their hypocritical actions.

And Acts 21 counts thousands of Jews, all "zealous for the law," who were in the early church. "We're not saying we're under the burden of the law," Shulam qualifies. "Zeal for the law, in the right perspective, is a reliance on God's grace." At issue in the first century was whether Gentile converts were obligated to the law, he says. "There is no question that the Jews were."

Despite diverse convictions, Shulam reports, "All the believers in Israel, without exception in my opinion, see each other as brothers. We may disagree on the charismatic issue, we may disagree on premillenialism, we may disagree on the interpretation of any passage in the Bible, but we still have areas where we can cooperate without coercing each other."

Elders from about a dozen congregations have been meeting regularly for several years, and their evangelistic committee held its first-ever campaign in August 1986 in Tel Aviv. Volunteers used a questionnaire to spark conversations about Yeshua in the streets, and about 250 people gave their addresses for follow-up literature.

Other endeavors are afoot Zamir and Benhayim are part of a Bible society team working on a Hebrew-language New Testament with explanatory notes. Shulam has organized a team to write a multi-volume New Testament commentary in Hebrew. Maoz is one of the editors of a theological journal, Mishkan, on Jewish evangelism. Stern's husband, David, is publishing an English-language New Testament using Jewish words and concepts.

Efforts to train businessmen to build an economic base for Messianic congregations are in the fledgling stages. Says Arieh Klein, a member of a Jerusalem congregation, "God is telling us to prepare" for "rapid growth in the number of believers in the next few years."

Messianics bid like-minded Jews abroad to lend a hand, to make "aliyah," to join in world Jewry's return to Israel.

"If God prophesied that one day he will bring Jews back to their land," Zamir says, "he didn't mean they will be sitting in America or some other place."

But Benhayim laments: "American Jewish believers aren't too much different from their mainstream Jewish counterparts. They like the fleshpots of Uncle Sam better than the difficulties here."

Subscriber Services

The Arkansas Baptist Newsmagazine offers subscription plans at three rates:

Every Resident Family Plan gives churches a premium rate when they send the Newsmagazine to all their resident households. Resident families are calculated to be at least one-fourth of the church's Sunday School enrollment. Churches who send only to members who request a subscription do not qualify for this lower rate of $5.52 per year for each subscription.

A Group Plan (formerly called the Club Plan) allows church members to get a better than individual rate when 10 or more of them send their subscriptions together through their church.

Parks Urges Return Permission

by Mike Creswell SBC Foreign Mission Board

RICHMOND, Va. (BP)—Let Southern Baptist Convention missionaries return to Lebanon, SBC Foreign Mission Board President R. Keith Parks has urged Secretary of State George P. Schultz.

The plea, sent to Schultz in a letter, was made in late January, a year after the U.S. government ordered all U.S. citizens, including 24 Southern Baptist missionaries, to leave Lebanon because of the continuing strife there.

Parks wrote the letter on the first anniversary of the ban because of indications the State Department plans to review the restrictions on American citizens living in Lebanon. Currently only a few exceptions to the order are allowed, primarily Americans with family ties to Lebanon.

Parks urged Schultz to at least allow Americans to return to East Beirut, "if they are engaged in a charitable and humanitarian service."

Current policy, Parks wrote, "forces some to feel they must choose between civil disobedience and a superficial faith. Better options should be provided." He asked that missionaries be allowed to take risks for their faith, just as Schultz and other government leaders do for "those ideals in which you believe."

"What we're really appealing for is the same opportunity that we've exercised in other troubled spots through the years, where the missionaries had the freedom to seek individual leadership as to whether they felt the Lord was leading their family to be in that place at that time," Parks said later in an interview.

The board does not want missionaries to feel guilty if they believe they should not be in a dangerous place, he said. But if they felt they should be there, "we wanted to provide affirmation and support." Parks said the board's approach in such matters is consistent biblically and "baptistically."

Since leaving Lebanon a year ago, the Southern Baptist missionaries have moved to other places of service in the Middle East. Some have tried to maintain the Lebanon work from Cyprus, while others have begun new ministries in other countries. In a quirk of current events, several of the missionaries now serve in Gaza, another Middle East area stricken by violence in recent weeks.

"If they lift the ban, we'll all be on the first boat back to Lebanon," vowed Southern Baptist missionary Pete Dunn, currently on furlough in Mobile, Ala. While some of the missionaries have seen the wisdom of a temporary departure, they believe it is time to return to duties needing their attention, he said.

"We have a hundred things in the works," he said. One key element of Baptist ministry in Lebanon often overlooked, he said, is the humanitarian aid of food, clothing and blankets distributed by Southern Baptist missionaries.

Dunn, a media specialist, said the Lebanon work has been difficult to maintain from Cyprus "by remote control." Radio programs he helps produce for a Baptist-operated station in Beirut have a potential audience of more than 1 million listeners, he said. A literature ministry and other works also are based in Lebanon.

Ron and Jan Langston, missionaries to Zimbabwe, have completed furlough and returned to the field (address: P.O. Box 183, Stand Number 117, Beit Bridge, Zimbabwe). He lived in Etowah, Keiser and Osceola while growing up. The former Janice Wilmoth, she was born in Jonesboro and considers Etowah her hometown. They were appointed by the Foreign Mission Board in 1983.

Dirk and Libby Pearce, missionaries to Senegal, have arrived in France for language study (address: 15, ruede L'Onyx, 37300 Joue Les Tours, France). Son of Southern Baptist missionaries, he grew up in Nairobi, Kenya. The former Libby Tullos, she grew up in Texas. Both consider Monticello their hometown. They were appointed by the Foreign Mission Board in 1987.

Ed and Greta Pinkston, missionaries to the Ivory Coast, have completed furlough and returned to the field (address: BP 1424, Daloa, Cote D'Ivoire, Ivory Coast). He was born in Camden and grew up in Crossett. The former Greta MCFerrin, she was born in Hill Top and lived in Harrison while growing up. They were appointed by the Foreign Mission Board in 1966.

Hugh and Debble Redmon, missionaries to Venezuela, are the parents of Larry Alan, born Jan. 1. Currently in the States on furlough, they may be address at 717 N. Hughes St., Little Rock, AR 72205. He is the son of Southern Baptist missionaries in Costa Rica. She is the daughter of Southern Baptist missionaries to the Ivory Coast. They were appointed by the Foreign Mission Board in 1984.
