

:(Menage a Trois

by Jason Curlin

When I was barely one, I spoke but little and had my limitations as a speaker and what I said, I'm sad to say, was drivel, but I was young and time improves the reader.
So then I grew of age to go to school, where all one learns is indoctrinations the place where I was taught my language rules that are not used in casual conversations.
Then Lovely English stole my heart at University which taught me more of ingenuity and writing art in our evolving tongue than e'er before;
But th3n I s'rfd da w3bz & o.o that SME had t00k my <3 aw4Y fr0m Me. GG

*but then I surfed the webs and saw that SME had took my love away from Me. GG
