

Ouachita Baptist University

Scholarly Commons @ Ouachita

Student Concert Performances, Programs, and Posters

Division of Music

4-11-1967

The Third Annual Student-Faculty Symposium of Contemporary Music

The Ouachita Choir

The Ouachita Band

The Ouachita Concert Band

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarlycommons.obu.edu/music>

Part of the Music Education Commons, and the Music Performance Commons

Recommended Citation

The Ouachita Choir, The Ouachita Band, and The Ouachita Concert Band, "The Third Annual Student-Faculty Symposium of Contemporary Music" (1967). Student Concert Performances, Programs, and Posters. 302.

<https://scholarlycommons.obu.edu/music/302>

This Program is brought to you for free and open access by the Division of Music at Scholarly Commons @ Ouachita. It has been accepted for inclusion in Student Concert Performances, Programs, and Posters by an authorized administrator of Scholarly Commons @ Ouachita. For more information, please contact mortensona@obu.edu.

OUACHITA BAPTIST UNIVERSITY

Division of Fine Arts

THIRD ANNUAL
STUDENT-FACULTY SYMPOSIUM of
CONTEMPORARY MUSIC

April 10-11, 1967

Whatever else an institution of higher learning is supposed to do, it is, by its self-designation as a college or university, obligated to exalt academic pursuits, honor learning, respect intellectual achievements, preserve and add to the sum total of knowledge.

Dr. Ralph A. Phelps, Jr., President of Ouachita Baptist University (quoted from a 1965 address to the faculty)

Three people are essential for music to come into being. These three are the composer, the performer, and the listener. Music without any one of these three is incomplete. It is a rare privilege to bring the composer, the performer, and the listener into close proximity. This Symposium makes this cooperation possible. It is our pleasure to present it to the public.

William E. Trantham
Chairman, Fine Arts Division

The college music student spends years preparing exercises in the style of a predetermined period. In many instances this causes him to lose sight of the ultimate goal, and that is the creation of music. Students tend to approach theoretical work so academically that they sometimes forget they are studying how to compose in the styles of earlier periods. Our inclusion of freshman, sophomore, and junior compositions from harmony and counterpoint classes on this symposium has been done to help the students remain ever mindful that they are still actually composing. The works from the composition classes and graduates of these classes are to give these young composers the opportunity for public hearing. The inclusion of faculty compositions is to encourage continued faculty writing with the guarantee of a yearly performance of a new work in public.

W. Francis McBeth, Chairman of the Department of Theory and Composition,
Ouachita Baptist University

SCHEDULE OF ACTIVITIES

Monday, April 10

3:00 p.m. — Panel Discussion
Theory and Composition
Faculty

Tuesday, April 11

8:00 p.m. — Concert —
Compositions by faculty and students

All activities to be held in Mitchell Auditorium

CONCERT PROGRAM

Mitchell Auditorium

Tuesday evening, April 11, 1967

8:00 P.M.

1. Compositions from the Theory Classes

Choir

Chorale, Freshman Class

T.B.A.

Chorale, Sophomore Class

T.B.A.

Motet, Counterpoint Class

Ronnie Lewis♦

2. Doxology

Clark Crays♦

Choir

3. Billy in the Darbies

Francis McBeth*

Choir and Winds

4. The Sacrifice

John Floyd♦

Choir and Band

5. Phryambic

Maurice Barnett♦

Band

6. Chanson

Al Wetherington♦

Band

7. Treatise for Band

Michael Clippard♦

Band

8. Canticle for Brass

Thomas Cox♦

Band

9. Portico

John Hilliard♦

Band

10. Fanfare and Scherzo

Dr. Alex Nisbet*

Band

11. The Merry Dunn of Dover

Douglas Willis

Band

12. Cantique and Faranade

Francis McBeth*

Band

First Performance

♦Student

*Faculty

MAURICE BARNETT, from Marianna, Arkansas, is a junior student working toward a B.M.E.

MICHAEL CLIPPARD, from Dexter, Missouri, is a junior student working toward a B.M.

THOMAS COX, from Little Rock, Arkansas, is a freshman student working toward a B.M.

CLARK CRAYS, from Hot Springs, Arkansas, is a sophomore student working toward a B.M.

JOHN FLOYD, from Little Rock, Arkansas, is a graduate student working toward an M.A.

JOHN HILLIARD, from Hot Springs, Arkansas, is a sophomore student working toward a B.M.

DR. ALEX NISBET is an Associate Professor of Chemistry at Ouachita Baptist University.

ALLAN WETHERINGTON, from Arkadelphia, Arkansas, is a junior student working toward a B.M.

DOUGLAS WILLIS, from Strong, Arkansas, is a 1965 graduate of O.B.U. He is presently Bandmaster at Strong.