

Blue Roses

by Jenni Fogle

You're everything I wanted,
Everything I need.
If I lived forever,
I'd want you there with me.
I promise to always love you.
No matter what they say or do,
Cuz you're my baby. Baby Blue.

If I could paint the roses,
I'd paint them all blue.
Because blue is all I see
When I'm standing next to you.
And no matter how hard I try,
I could paint until I die,
Those roses will never be
As lovely as my Blue.

When things are bad,
I'll kiss your tears away.
When it gets hard,
I swear we'll find a way.
I'm always on your side,
Cuz you're always on mine.
My darling, Baby Blue.

If I could paint the roses,
I'd paint them all blue.
Because blue is all I see
When I'm standing next to you.
And no matter how hard I try,
I could paint until I die,
Those roses will never be
As lovely as my Blue.

Your eyes are green.
Your heart is gold.
Your ears turn pink
When it's cold.
Your lips are red,
And in my head,
Everything is blue.

Midnight, sky, and ocean waves.
It comes in many different shades,
But none of them will ever be
The blue I see when you're with me.

And if I could paint the roses,
I'd paint them all blue.
Because blue is all I see
When I'm standing next to you.
And no matter how hard I try,
I could paint until I die,
Those roses will never be
As lovely as my Blue.
