McBeth Recital Hall

Free and open to the public

Caitlin Jones has an active career as both a performer and educator. Currently, she is based out of Tennessee and teaches at Lee University and Southern Adventist University.

Caitlin has performed in a variety of musical settings including recent seasons with the Augusta Symphony, Charleston Symphony, and the South Carolina Philharmonic Orchestra.

As a soloist, Caitlin has presented recitals across the Southeast United States. In 2018, Caitlin was the marimba soloist for the American premiere of Roumen Boyadjieff, Jr.'s "Concerto for Marimba and Orchestra" with the Cleveland Orchestra of Tennessee. In 2020, she gave the world premiere of "The Long Road," a solo marimba piece by Andy Harnsberger, at Ouachita Baptist University, and later professionally recorded this work with GreenHaus Productions. She has presented clinics on various topics, including health and wellness for musicians, and has presented at PAS Days of Percussion.

Caitlin was noted as an "Emerging Leader" by the Percussive Arts Society in 2016 and is a member of the Percussive Arts Society Health and Wellness Committee. She performed at the Percussive Arts Society International Convention (PASIC) in 2019 and served as a front ensemble technician for the Sacramento Mandarins Drum and Bugle Corps in the 2020 season. Caitlin received her Bachelor of Music from the University of Florida, Master of Music from Lee University, and Doctor of Musical Arts from the University of South Carolina.
