0:15		[music fades out and back in]
0:38	Leon	[music fades out] Well, what in the world is this country coming to?
0:41	Sam	Beats me. I didn't have nothing to do with it.
0:43	Leon	You're denying it, huh?
0:45	Sam	I-uh-I sure do. I ain't been out of the station all day.
0:47	Leon	Sam, I was just reading about a fellow that had his car stole but, but then his return was two tickets to a, to a football game in it. And while he was at the football game, well they stole all his furniture
1:00	Sam	Wh-who was playing?
1:02	Leon	"Who was playing," Sam?! That ain't important. The man lost his furniture!
1:05	Sam	Well, it serves him right.
1:07	Leon	Serves him right?! What do you mean by that?
1:08	Sam	Well, he had to know them tickets was stole, didn't he? Did he worry about the poor feller that bought them tickets and didn't go see the game? No, sir! He just worried about hisself.
1:18	Leon	Sam, that poor feller lost all his furniture.
1:20	Sam	What... was they good seats?
1:22	Leon	Well, yeah, they was. They was on the 50 yard line.
1:24	Sam	I ain't never set foot on the 50 yard line of a big game.
1:27	Leon	Sam, we was talking about a man losing all his furniture.
1:31	Sam	You reckon if we left the truck settin' out here an' the keys in it overnight, we-we could get some tickets?

1:37	Leon	Sam, I believe those thieves would probably turn down our invitation. I, I think you have to have real nice things to get in on their operation.
1:44	Sam	That's the story of my life. Now, now, I didn't gripe too much when I couldn't get in a country club or, or when my choir director asked me to drop out a' church. But, but being turned down by a thief, now that's going too far.
1:56	Leon	Now, Sam, you can't hardly blame them thieves. After all, they're in it for the money. Look around this place! What do you see in this here station that you could exchange for cash?
2:06	Sam	Well, now about the only thing that works here is a, is credit card machine.
2:11	Leon	Oh, Sam, thieves don't deal in credit. They, they're looking for cash!
2:15	Sam	Well, this really makes you humble, don't it?
2:18	Leon	Well, yeah. It really does, Sam.
2:21	Sam	I still don't even know who was playing.
2:23		[music]
2:41	Sam	I never realized how poor we was, Jesse. When you realize you ain't hardly got nothing worth stealing, well, it kinda makes you want to try harder.
2:49	Jesse	Yeah. It, it sure does, Sam.
2:51	Leon	You mean it makes you greedier?
2:55	Sam	Greedier?
2:56	Leon	Yeah, ma-makes you want more, don't it?
2:57	Jesse	Well, ye-yeah, but.. now... [overlapping talk]
2:58	Sam	But-but greed don't sound just right, Leon. Let's call it ambition.
3:03	Jesse	Yeah, yeah. Ambition! That-that's what it is.
3:05	Leon	Well, I never really understood the difference between them two things, Mr. Jesse.
3:08	Sam	Well, that's because you're unemployed, Leon. And if you're unemployed it's hard to understand business things.
3:14		[music starts]
