

Eddie Clark's - 1981

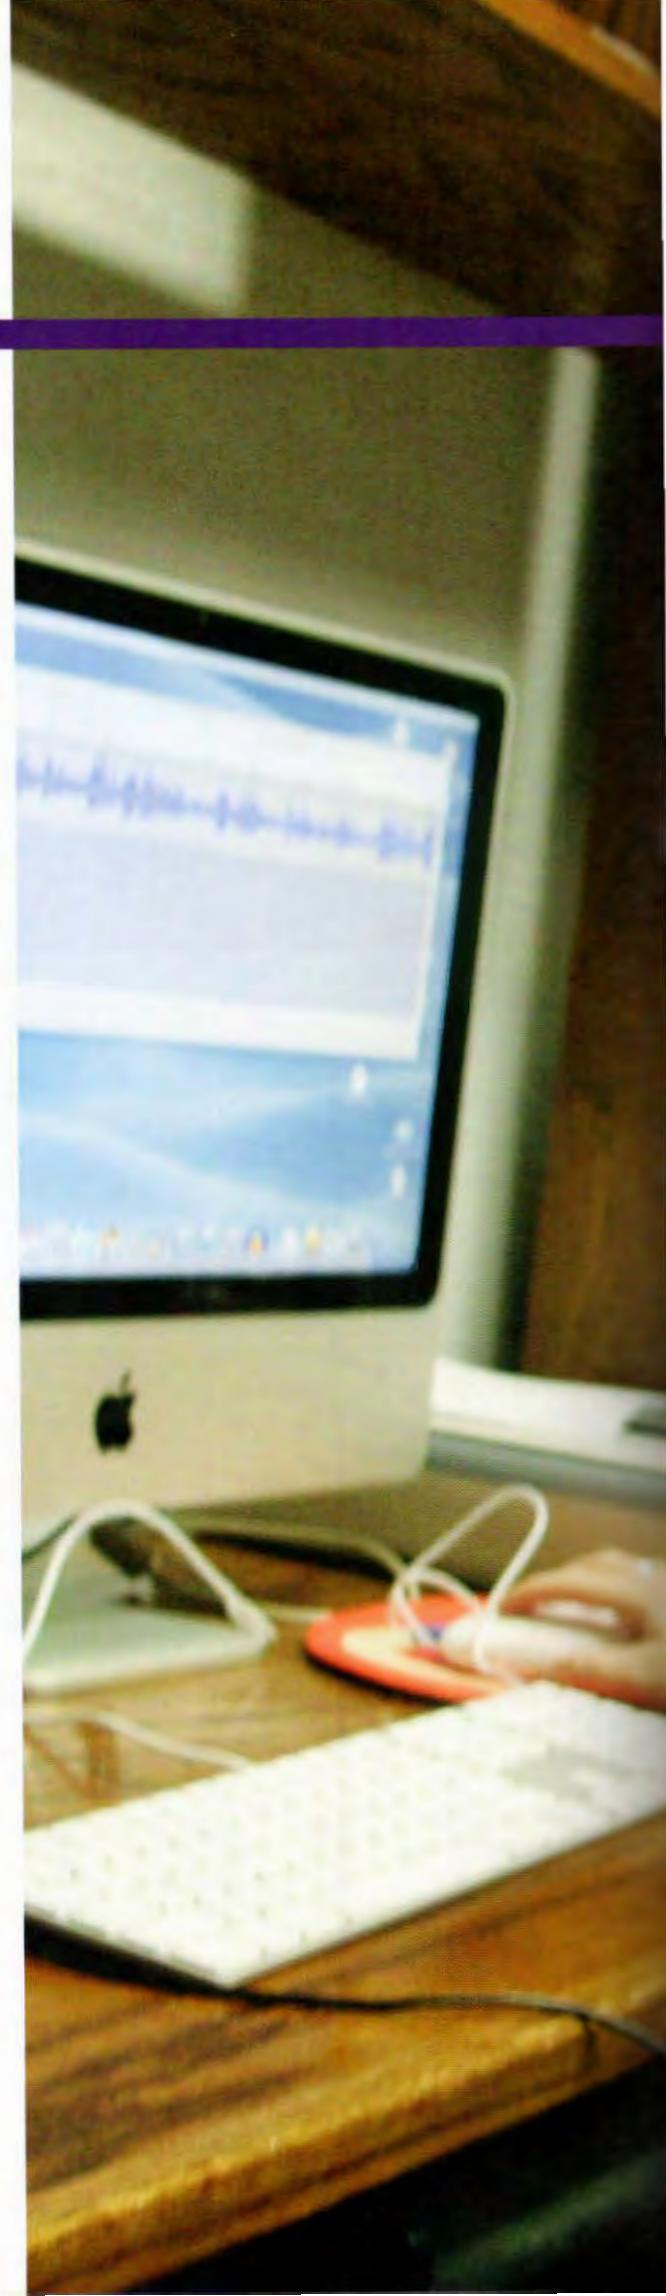

COMMUNITY

As part of a SMALL TOWN, community was important to students. The first community experience for most students included a trip down the SAME streets that Ouachitonians had driven for years to buy all their dorm necessities at WAL-MART.

As the semester progressed, students became members of the ARKADELPHIA community by attending local churches. Though TIGER SERVE DAY and other Elrod Center programs students were able to connect with community members and volunteer their time. Then, they were able to go to DINO'S Main Street Cafe where they were greeted by name while they waited for a LOCAL band to perform.

In the spring afternoons, just like students had for years, they went out to DEGRAY for swimming and beach volleyball.

Students were even clothed by some of the same stores that clothed students in the 1980s. Although the focus of EDDIE CLARK'S had moved from men's clothing to social club apparel, the store from YESTERDAY still remained an important part of TODAY.

Community Connection Junior Holland Powell and senior Caleb Case work on a soundslide for the online Signal. The new Web site proved to be a vital outlet for Ouachita news to reach the community and alumni.
