CHAPTER I

THE PROBLEM

Statement of the Problem. The purpose of this study has been to write a history of the Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association.

Background of the Study. The Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association is a subsidiary of the Music Teachers' National Association and is composed of teachers of music in public schools and colleges and private music teachers. The Association was organized in 1915, and since that time annual conventions have been held with the exceptions of the years: 1934, 1935, 1942 and 1943. From these annual conventions and various board meetings, records, programs and minutes of the Association were kept. These data have provided the foundation for this study.

When the annual convention of 1916 was held, the motto, "Elevation, Not Elimination", was adopted by the Association, and from that time forward it has been the purpose of the Association to elevate the status of music in Arkansas in every possible area. The Association has been instrumental in establishing standards of music proficiency within the area of music teaching and has, greatly through its concentrated efforts, seen music become a part of the regular curricula of a majority of schools throughout the state.

The intent of this study is to provide a compilation of the past records of the Association into a history with the hope that it will encourage and enhance the work of the Association, as well as be a worthwhile contribution to the cause of music in Arkansas.

In order to glean information available concerning the history of the Association, each past president, now living, was contacted to determine if records, other than those in the files of the Association, existed. Additional records in the forms of convention programs, mimeographed materials and personal testimonies were received and incorporated into this history of the Association.

The following procedures were undertaken to determine the originality of this study:

1. Each past president of the Association, now living, was contacted to find out if, during his administration, such a study had been written. This investigation received negative reports entirely.

2. A review of master's and doctoral abstracts revealed no document within the area of this study.¹

3. A questionnaire was sent to the presidents of all forty-two state music teacher associations to determine if any other state had a historical document of the work of its association. Thirty-one of the forty-two state presidents replied negatively concerning the questionnaire, while one state, Florida, replied that its state music teachers' association did have a documented history of its work.

After having made such investigations, it became evident that a historical document of the Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association did not exist, and that such a documented history would place Arkansas among the very few states which possessed a history of its state music teachers' association. Further, it was felt that such a history would be a significant and worthwhile contribution to the Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association.

The data recorded in this study was taken primarily from collected materials placed on file by officers of the Association since 1915.
CHAPTER II

THE HISTORY OF THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE ASSOCIATION

The major premise for the organization of a music teachers' association in 1915 was the establishment of a standard of musical achievement whereby music teachers could be certified to teach. As it was, any person who desired might claim himself to be a teacher of some mode of musical expression and practice such.

The State Board of Education had established standards of educational preparation for other teaching areas, but music teaching had not been included in this group. Because there was no standard of educational preparation for music teachers and no governing body in the area of music in the state, the profession of the private music teacher was being practiced by some who were not qualified.

Early Years. Several conscientious music teachers became concerned about the prevailing condition of the profession of music teaching in Arkansas. In the summer of 1915, some of these music teachers submitted articles which were published in the Arkansas Federation of Women's Club's section of the Arkansas Gazette. The principal object of discussion in these articles was the formation of a state music teachers' organization.

As a result of these articles, a great deal of interest in such an organization was manifested throughout the state. In early October of 1915, a meeting of the local teachers and musicians of Little Rock was held in the Woman's Parlor of the Hotel Marion. There were twelve music teachers in attendance at this initial meeting.

These twelve music teachers formed the nucleus for the state music teachers' organization which later was named the Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association. The officers of the Association, which were elected from the original twelve members, were:

- Mrs. Emile Trebing, President
- Mrs. C. E. Whitney, Vice President
- Mrs. Guy Mathis, Secretary
- Miss Laura Longley, Treasurer

The major objective of the organization, as has already been stated, was to establish a certification and accreditation program for the music teachers of Arkansas. From the time of the initial meeting until the convention of 1916, Mrs. Emile Trebing, president of the Association, sought for a plan of certification and accreditation which would meet the needs of the Association. At the convention of 1916, with thirty delegates present, Mrs. Trebing presented the plan of certification and accreditation of the "Association of Presidents and Past Presidents of State and National Music Teachers' Associations." This plan was unanimously adopted by the Association.

This certification and accreditation plan included the Licentiate Degree and required all music teachers, in order to be certified, to pass examinations in general knowledge of music, history, theory, dictation and harmony. Before the plan of certification and accreditation could be used, the Association had to elect an examining board which would give examinations to prospective teachers and members of the Association. The Board of Examiners was elected and, by the end of 1916, examinations for certification and accreditation were being given to the music teachers of Arkansas.

The Association continued to examine and license music teachers of Arkansas and in 1918, the State Board of Education passed a resolution to cooperate with the Association and pledged its assistance in securing the certification of music teachers throughout the state. During the convention of 1918, the Association was officially incorporated and a constitution was adopted.

From the beginning of the Association, the purpose was to establish a standard for the teaching of music in the state. Through this standard the Association hoped to raise the status of music. The Board of Examiners of the Association had been functioning in the certification and accreditation of music teachers since 1916, and this action had received the approval of the State Board of Education.

There were no further records of the work of the Association until the fifth annual convention in 1920. The convention of 1920 was held in the Capital Hotel and the Auditorium of the School for the Blind in Little Rock. Since its inception in 1915, the Association had expanded its work in the following areas: (1) establishment of districts with vice presidents in charge of each district; (2) enlargement of the Board of Examiners of the Association; and (3) continuance of giving examinations for the Licentiate Degree.

The officers of the Association for the years 1919-1920 were:

Mr. Henry Doughty Tevey, Fayetteville, President
Mrs. A. L. Kinney, Green Forest, Vice President
Mr. Fred G. Smith, Fort Smith, Treasurer
Mr. Owen C. Mitchell, Fayetteville, Secretary

The only record concerning the 1920-1921 historical period of the Association was a listing of the officers. They were:

Mr. Fred G. Smith, Fort Smith, President
Mrs. Reah Jackson Irion, Dermott, Vice President
Mrs. Lewis Hutchins, Little Rock, Treasurer
Mr. Clarence Burg, Fort Smith, Secretary

The seventh annual convention of the Association was held November 9, 1922, in the session room of the First Presbyterian Church of Little Rock. Mrs. Reah Jackson Irion, president of the Association, presided at the convention. Other officers included:

Mr. Clarence Burg, Fort Smith, Vice President
Mrs. Lewis Hutchins, Little Rock, Treasurer
Mrs. O. F. Riggs, Hot Springs, Secretary

The Association, during the convention of 1922, took action in the following manner:

1. That all music teachers holding a Licentiate Degree from any other State whose State Music Teachers' Association is not only affiliated with the National Board of Association of Presidents and Past Presidents of State and National Music Teachers' Associations, but also requires its members to pass a State Board examination such as is demanded of our own Candidates—that these teachers be recognized by this Association and received as Accredited members without further examination under our own State Board.

2. That the Chairman of Piano, Violin, Voice, Organ and Public School Music be required to send scope of demonstration examination to President for distribution among the various examiners, specifying scales, arpeggios and composition to be read at sight. (b) That all District examiners send the President or Chairman report of this Demonstration examination.

3. That all Chairmen assume full responsibility for their particular department; papers to be sent to them direct; papers to be sent by them to the other two examiners; general averages to be summed up by them and sent to the President with the papers for return and report to candidates.

4. That the question be settled as to whether the resolution adopted by the S. A. A. last November relative to contests includes county and district contests. (b) That an active campaign be launched immediately to bring this matter before the school superintendent and non-accredited music teachers. (c) That it be fully decided whether teachers whose papers are to go into the hands of the examiners this month, are to be entitled to the privilege of entering their pupils in these contests, if teacher has given prescribed music course to pupils. (d) That some way of enforcing this rule be considered that will make the fewest enemies for the Association. Judges to be A. S. M. T. members.

5. That the semi-annual examinations be held in June and December, as so many teachers protest that April and November are their two busiest months.

6. That we include the names of deceased members in our official list of Accredited teachers, with the word "deceased" in Parentheses.4

It was recorded that the Association adopted all the preceding resolutions. However, nothing was recorded concerning the practice or effect of such resolutions. From the time of the convention of 1922, until the convention of 1925, nothing is recorded except a listing of the officers for each of the years. The officers for each of the years were:

1922-1923

Mrs. Reah Jackson Irion, Dermott, President
Mr. Clarence Burg, Fort Smith, Vice President

1Fifth Annual Report of the Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association (from the files of the president of the Association), pp. 7-9, 1922-1923.
Mrs. O. F. Riggs, Hot Springs, Secretary
Mr. Ben Brocchus, Treasurer

1923-1924

Mr. Henry Doughty Tovey, Fayetteville, President
Mrs. E. P. Coffey, Fort Smith, Vice President
Mrs. A. L. Kinney, Green Forest, Secretary
Mr. Ben Brocchus, Treasurer

The minutes of the tenth annual convention revealed that the convention was held in the First Baptist Church, Hot Springs, on November 12, 13 and 14, 1925. The reports of the vice presidents in charge of the various districts showed continued growth and interest in the Association.5

The following officers were elected by the Association to serve for the year, 1926:

Mr. Henry Doughty Tovey, Fayetteville, President
Mrs. F. W. Harwood, Arkadelphia, Vice President
Mrs. A. L. Kinney, Green Forest, Secretary
Mr. Owen C. Mitchell, Fayetteville, Treasurer

The eleventh annual convention of the Association met in the Second Baptist Church, Little Rock, November 11, 12 and 13, 1926, with President Tovey presiding. A significant step was taken in support of the work of the Association when, on June 2, 1926, the State Board of Education approved a resolution to issue State Licenses for the Association and place the State Board of Education's seal on the Licenses.6

5 Eighth Annual Report and Synopsis of Tenth Annual Convention of the Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association (from the files of the President of the Association), p. 7, 1925.

6 Ninth Annual Report and Synopsis of Eleventh Annual Convention of the Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association (from the files of the President of the Association), p. 4, 1926.
There was, at this point in the history of the Association, a dearth of information until the year 1931. When the records of the Association resumed in 1931, the principal action of the Association remained that of accrediting and certifying music teachers.

Depression Years. Just prior to the depression years, it appeared that the Association was well on its way to becoming a strong organization for it was continually growing each year. The Association had strengthened, in 1932, its program of certification and accreditation by passing a resolution requiring all music teachers, who were already licensed, to do additional study in music consisting of six hours every two years. This was necessary in order to retain a license to teach music. The Association had succeeded in taking the initial steps to elevate the standard of music instruction in Arkansas.

The depression, which was being felt by the country, was to have its impression upon the work of the Association. By March of 1933, the Association was in dire circumstances. There was little money to finance the work of the Association, and due to the difficulty in the travel media, the convention of 1934 was canceled.

It was impossible to determine the extent to which the depression affected the work of the Association. It was observed from the records, however, that many of the members of the Association were forced to withdraw from the Association because of financial reasons.

Re-Development Period. The Association suffered in many areas, especially in membership, during 1933 and early 1934. There was, however, to be a consistent program of re-development during the following years. This period of re-development was begun when the State Board of Education took official action, May 18, 1934, establishing the Association as the official accrediting agent for all music teachers in Arkansas. The resolution read as follows:

"The Arkansas State Music Teachers Association shall act as agents for the State Board of Education in examining and certifying all music teachers for the public schools of the state..."7

This action on the part of the State Board of Education was the needed stimulus to aid in rebuilding the Association. The Association had practiced accrediting private music teachers since 1916, but this resolution authorized the Association to accredit public school music teachers as well.

The primary function of the Association was soon to change, for in December of 1934, the State Board of Education proposed that the supervision of public school music, both as to certifying teachers and as to regulating credits for music in the high school, be centralized in the State Department of Education. Further, it was proposed that the State Board of Education determine the qualifications for the certification of all public school music teachers.8 In July, 1935, the Association voted to comply with these recommendations of the State Board of Education and ceased the certification of public school music teachers. The Association did continue its program of certification and accreditation of the private music teachers.

7Letter from Mr. Ed McCuiston, State Department of Education, to Mrs. Katherine Price Bailey, president of the Association, May 18, 1934.

8Proposal from Committee of Arkansas Education Association to State Board of Education, December 13, 1934.
In 1936, a new plan of certification replaced the practice of 'certification by examination' which had been used by the Association. The new plan of certification established college training as the sole basis for certification. The old-type certificates, which had been issued by the Association, were called for by the State Department of Education, and a new-type certificate was issued. This action was another step forward in centralizing the certification of music teachers in the State Department of Education and establishing higher standards of music instruction throughout the state.

The Association was invited, in 1938, to become a group affiliate of the Arkansas Education Association and responded positively to this invitation. The Association also became an affiliate member of the Music Teachers' National Association during 1938.

In the year, 1940, the Association was to realize the fulfillment of one of its highest goals. The State Board of Education passed a resolution requiring public school music to be taught in every school in the state by 1943. While this effort was stifled by World War II and was not fully realized, it was definitely a major step forward for music in Arkansas.

War Years (1941-1944). The Association had, until the outbreak of World War II, grown and expanded its work. The work of the Association was, nevertheless, hindered after the United States entered into the war in December of 1941.

The Association was not able to hold its annual conventions during 1942 and 1943 because of the war. In lieu of the annual conventions and in order to continue the program of the Association, district meetings were held during 1942 and 1943, but these district meetings did not prevent the Association from suffering a great loss in membership.

Reconstruction Period. The Association was able, in 1944, to resume its annual convention. The twenty-fifth annual convention was held at the Woman's City Club of Little Rock. Enthusiasm was high and interest was great as the Association enrolled 220 members at this convention. Though the past three years had stifled the progress of the Association, and every effort of the Association had been hindered by the war, Mrs. Ben Lincoln, president-elect of the Association at the 1944 convention, stated the following words of encouragement in a letter of communication:

"The war just finishing interrupted our work; shortages interrupted our communications; and so we have been in doldrums... waiting? Now, aren't we fortunate to be able to plan again? To meet together again? And to pick up and carry on at an earlier date than seemed possible six months ago. The opportunities awaiting us in this reconversion period, and in the future, are stimulating, intriguing, and challenging. Let us join together to make music in Arkansas the force it can be if we zealously exert ourselves in our chosen fields of activity."

"Re-conversion: Its Problems and Our Responsibility" was chosen as the theme of the 1945 convention of the Association. The enthusiasm among the membership was seemingly greater than ever before. The theme of the convention was developed by discussions such as:

1. "Social Security and the Private Teacher—Where do we stand?"
2. "The GI Bill and the Private Music Teachers"

3. "The Demand during the reconversion period will exceed the supply—What do we do about it?"

The primary objective of the Association during the reconstruction period was to increase its membership; therefore, it was voted that the theme for the annual convention of 1946 was to be "Guest Year".

Throughout 1946, the Association tried to emphasize the need for music in the post-war world. A special committee was appointed by the board of the Association to submit recommendations to the State Board of Education concerning music in every school in the state. The committee submitted the following recommendation to the State Board of Education for its consideration:

We request that such a directive plan by the State Board of Education be made that music in the public schools of Arkansas be given the same rating and emphasis as other subjects—that is; be made a part of the regular curriculum reaching every student...9

The State Board of Education had previously passed a resolution in 1940, which stated that music should be taught in every school in the state by the year 1943. Of course, the war years had somewhat hindered this objective; yet, the Association desired that a renewed effort to place music in every school be instigated.

The immediate post-war enthusiasm which had been prevalent in the 1944 and 1945 annual conventions of the Association had quickly died. The annual convention of 1946 registered only 117 members of the Association present.

9Report of Special Committee from Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association, January 20, 1946.
The Association held its annual convention of 1946 in conjunction with the Arkansas Education Association. The convention met in Robinson Memorial Auditorium, Little Rock, November 7 and 8. During the board meeting of the Association, a decision was made to pattern the districts of the Association after those of the Federation of Music Clubs. This would necessitate a revision of the districts from twelve to five. The board recommended this revision to the Association, and the districts were changed from twelve to five upon the approval of the Association.

Music Educators National Conference. The Association was invited to affiliate itself with the Music Educators National Conference in 1947. At the Executive Board meeting of the Association in 1947, it was voted that the Association secure individual membership in the Music Educators National Conference; and, that the Conference make a place in its organization for the Association. Prior to this time, the Conference had included only Band and Orchestra groups, Public School Music Teachers, and other individual members.

The Executive Board of the Association recommended to the constitution committee of the proposed Arkansas Music Educators National Conference that a fifth division of the Conference be formed to include applied music teachers. The Conference did revise its organization to include private music teachers, and the Association became an affiliate member of the Music Educators National Conference at the November convention of 1951.

Syllabus. Within the area of certification, the work of the Association continued as a syllabus committee was appointed in 1949 to develop a course of study for applied music teachers in Arkansas. By March, 1950, the Syllabus was completed and had been adopted by the State Board of Education for use by private music teachers of piano, voice and violin.

Dr. M. R. Owen, Division of Instruction, State Department of Education, wrote to Mrs. C. J. Giroir, president of the Association concerning the Syllabus which had been developed:

> We wish to compliment you and your group on the forward step which has been taken in outlining a state course of study in the field of private music.
>
> There has been an urgent need for this course for many years.
>
> Cordially,
> Dr. M. R. Owen

This Syllabus and the action concerning it taken by the State Board of Education represented a significant step forward in music instruction for the private teacher of music. The Syllabus was to serve as a guide for the private music teachers and presented some standard which could be used by the State Department of Education.

---

10 Memorandum to the Association from Mrs. C. J. Giroir, president of the Association, (mimeographed), 1951.

11 Syllabus included in Appendix A.

The action of the Association, at this period in its history, makes a considerable change. The Association had, since its beginning in 1915, functioned primarily as an accrediting agent for the private music teacher. However, the program of the Association was now to be channeled into areas of: (1) Elevating the teaching standards of its members through participation in the Association; (2) Presenting quality programs at the annual conventions which included renowned lecturers and performers; (3) Striving for increased membership in order to reach more people with its program of musical advancement; (4) Promoting student piano and voice contests; (5) Promoting student affiliate program; and (6) Promoting a spirit of enthusiasm and cooperation among the private music teachers and the public school and college music teachers.

In order to summarize the work of the Association during the past decade, the major programs of the Association throughout these years will be discussed.

Music Teachers National Association. The Association became an affiliate member of the Music Teachers National Association during the convention of 1951. The advantages accruing from this affiliation were presented to the Association as:

1. Each member will receive a magazine, AMERICAN MUSIC TEACHER, that keeps you abreast of musical thought and developments, and which in itself is well worth the $2.00 a year your membership costs you.

2. You will make possible the formation of a Divisional association whereby a meeting of national scope can be attended every other year without the necessity for traveling great distances.
3. You will be united with colleagues from other states in the cause of higher standards in music teaching and self-improvement.

4. Affiliation with other state Associations in one large national group will give you a mouthpiece and a voice that can speak with authority on legislation pertaining to music teaching and in combating subversive influences in the music field. (Witness Petrillo's advice to discontinue their children's music lessons.)

The terms of the new provision for the affiliation of the Association with the Music Teachers National Association were:

Any state music teacher's association may become affiliated with the Music Teachers National Association by:

1. Submitting evidence that it adequately represents the music teaching profession in the state making application;

2. Receiving the approval of the Executive Committee;

3. Guaranteeing that at least fifty percent of its total active and associate members become active or associate members in MTNA during the state's first year of affiliation. In order to retain its affiliation, a state must maintain this percentage during subsequent years. In referring to its affiliation, a state organization should use the phrase, "Affiliation with the MTNA."13

The Association continued its affiliation with the Music Teachers National Association with representatives of the Association attending annually the national conventions of the Music Teachers National Association. In 1957, the student affiliate program of the Music Teachers National Association was presented to the Association for its consideration. Positive action was taken by the Association concerning the establishment of a student affiliate program.

The Music Teachers National Association has provided the members of the Association with opportunities to share musical thought with other colleagues in the music profession and has provided a medium through which the state music teacher's organizations may have a unified voice of authority concerning legislation pertaining to music teaching.

Student Contests and Festivals. The Association voted in 1950 that plans should be made to hold festivals in piano, voice, violin, organ, solo and small ensemble work. The plan for the administration of such festivals was that they should be held on even numbered years in order not to conflict with the Federation of Music Club's festivals held on odd numbered years. In order for a student to participate in these festivals it was necessary that he be a student of a member of the Association and that he pay a small fee for entrance.

The festivals were held each year until 1955, when the festivals were replaced by student contests. The president of the Association, Mr. Kenneth R. Osborne of Fayetteville, stated in a memorandum to the members of the Association, "A convention high point was the contest for high school pianists and vocalists." There were four vocalists and nine pianists who entered the 1955 student contests.

The Association continued to promote the student contests until 1962, when the contests were changed to student festivals again, and the entrants were placed on a performance basis rather than a competitive basis. Each entrant would receive a personal rating of his own performance rather than compete for a prize.

Current Plan of Certification. For several years the Association had not practiced certification of its members. However, during the Executive Board meeting of 1961, there was some discussion concerning the need for a functional plan of certification. It was generally felt by the members of the Executive Board that a plan of certification was the only way the Association could raise the standard of music teaching within its membership. Therefore, Mrs. Walter Giller, president of the Association, appointed the following committee: Dr. James Luck, Chairman, Mr. Kenneth Osborne, Mr. Lyndell Watkins and Mrs. Lee Zachary. The function of this committee was to evaluate the condition of the Association and work out a feasible plan of certification. During the convention business meeting in Magnolia, November 4, 1961, the current plan of teacher certification was adopted.\textsuperscript{14}

The Association has sought, since the inception of this plan of teacher certification, to secure the certification of every member of the Association. As of December, 1963, twenty-five percent of the Association's membership had received certification.

\textit{Constitution.} Mr. Howard Groth, during his administration as president of the Association in 1960, appointed the following constitution committee: Miss Evelyn Bowden, Chairman, Mr. Carl Forsberg, Mrs. Klein Hood and Mr. Howard Groth. The purpose of this committee was to study the constitution of the Association and recommend to the Association any needed changes. The new constitution adopted by the Association became the 1961 Revised Constitution of the Arkansas

Performing Arts Committee. A significant action of the Association under the presidency of Mrs. Walter Giller of El Dorado, was the establishment of a Performing Arts Committee. The purpose of such a committee was defined to include the promotion of reciprocal music programs between private music teachers and pupils of private music teachers within each district. The committee was to promote and encourage both performing and listening. Mr. Bill Trantham, Arkadelphia, was named chairman of this committee.

Present Goals and Activities. In order to determine the present goals and activities of the Association, the work of the Association during 1963 will be discussed as a separate entity. Dr. James Luck, Arkadelphia, assumed the responsibilities as president of the Association for 1963-1964. At the very outset of his administration the following objectives were stated in hopes that the Association would be able:

1. To stimulate a resurgence of interest on the part of each member of ASMTA to recruit members for our organization. I am sure it is not news to you to know that our current membership is only a minute fraction of the total number of music teachers in the state. True, many of these teachers are not as competent as we would like them to be; but there are a host of excellent teachers that should be in our company giving of their wide experience and capabilities to the upgrading of music teaching and performance in the state of Arkansas. Every member must assume the responsibility and get out and "beat the bushes."

2. To clarify the responsibility of persons holding official positions in our organization. Too many times have I heard the remark "I would be happy to do something if I just knew what to do!" I shall attempt to eradicate this during my tenure in office.

3. To establish a central meeting place for our annual convention. It is hoped that a plan will be realized to provide a place for our meeting which will not necessitate undue traveling around from one building to another which in the past has seriously threatened the effectiveness of our convention program.

4. To encourage more of our members to apply for certification in our association. Believing that college music teachers are without a doubt the most obvious beneficiaries of the excellent teaching done by private teachers and that college music teachers, by virtue of their esteemed position in the academic world, should lead the way in our certification program.

5. To foster a better and more realistic relationship with the State Department of Education. The stronger our association is, the better our chances will be some day to have a relationship with the State Department of Education which will place a higher premium upon the accomplishments of our association and subsequently be recognized by the State Board of Education.16

The Association, in 1963, concentrated its efforts in the following areas: (1) the development of local organizations and workshops within each district; (2) the development of a program of exchange concerts among students of teachers within the districts; (3) the promotion of student festivals to be held in each district; (4) the development of a new plan of dividing the Association into regions rather than districts; (5) the promotion for the institution of student chapters of the Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association on all college campuses in the state; and, (6) the continued support of the current plan of certification.

Each of these areas will be discussed more thoroughly in order to present accurately the present condition and goals of the Association.

16 The Arkansas Music Teacher (quarterly newsletter of the Association), (mimeographed), Vol. IV, No. 1, Edited by Mr. William Gant, December 15, 1962.
Local Organizations. During 1963, a new emphasis was placed on the development of local organizations within the five districts; and, the promotion of district workshops in various areas of music. The district chairmen serving during 1963 were: Mrs. Conway Lane of Paragould, Northeast District; Mrs. C. C. McNeil of Hope, Southwest District; Mrs. A. A. Harris of Monticello, Southeast District; and Mrs. Kenneth Ballenger of Fayetteville, Northwest District.

Program of Exchange Concerts. The Association also promoted a program of exchange concerts among students of teachers within the various districts. This program has been administered by the Performing Arts Committee.

Student Festivals. Student festivals were held in each district and were directed by the chairman of the given districts during 1963. The festivals were open to junior and senior high school students of teacher-members of the Association. Entrants in the district festivals were no longer on a competitive basis, but were judged according to their performances. Each entrant received a criticism sheet and a certificate of participation. Mrs. Lela Johnson served as chairman of the 1963 festivals.

Division of Association into Regions. The Association had, prior to 1963, five districts which were headed by district chairmen. During the convention of 1963, the district plan was revised and changed from five districts to five regions. These regions were sub-divided into districts varying in number depending upon the
The philosophy of such a division in organization was stated in the Arkansas Music Teachers' Quarterly Newsletter by Dr. James Luck, president of the Association. The statement read:

"...I became convinced that one of the most important things which contributes to a real successful 'live wire' program is the organization and functioning of local associations. Several states have as many as twenty or thirty local associations contributing to the on-going of the affairs of the state association. It does not take too much imagination for one to conclude that if more people are involved in the activities of associational work on a local level, more people will be involved on the state level. Here, then, I recommend that some action be taken at our board meeting to instigate local associations for the new year."

The plan for the aforementioned regions and districts was propagated and, in 1963, received the approval of the Association.

Student Chapters on College Campuses. Mr. Glenn Owens of Texarkana was appointed by the president of the Association, Dr. James Luck of Arkadelphia, to serve as chairman of a committee whose function was to set in motion plans for the institution of Student Chapters of the Association on all college campuses in the state. Mr. Owen proceeded to send a questionnaire to all colleges in the state to determine if the colleges would be interested in such a program. Whereas the response to the questionnaire is by no means complete, nevertheless, the reports of those colleges received, to the date of this writing, have been most gratifying.

Plan of Certification. The current plan of certification,\textsuperscript{19} which was adopted in 1961 and was modeled after the Nebraska Plan of Certification, has received partial support of the members of the Association. The purpose of this plan of certification has been to strengthen the Association through higher standards of pedagogy and greater dignity within the teaching profession.

CHAPTER III

THE CERTIFICATION AND ACCREDITATION PROGRAM

A most significant purpose in the organization of the Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association was the establishment of a standard by which music teachers of Arkansas could be certified to teach music.

Licentiate Degree. When the Association had been in existence only a few months, Mrs. Emile Trebing, president of the Association, began an investigation of various plans of certification and accreditation. Frequent meetings of the twelve charter members of the Association were had during 1915. At each of these meetings, President Trebing discussed possible plans of standardization for certification and accreditation.

On April 26, 1916, at the first annual meeting of the Association, President Trebing presented to the Association the certification and accreditation plan of the "Association of Presidents and Past Presidents of State and National Music Teachers' Associations." President Trebing outlined the certification and accreditation plan to the Association as follows:

1. Adoption of the Licentiate Degree which required,

2. All candidates for certification and membership in the Association must pass examinations in general knowledge of music which would include questions in history, theory, dictation, and harmony.

3. Further, examinations would be given for each field of applied music to be taught by any given teacher.

4. Students of teachers not being certified by the above program would not receive any credit for music study toward graduation.

The minutes from this Associational meeting stated that after much discussion, the Association accepted this plan of certification and accreditation and voted to conform its constitution to that of the "Association of Presidents and Past Presidents of State and National Music Teachers' Associations."

President Trebing stated that because of the acceptance of this plan of certification and accreditation, "Many withdrew—did not believe in a standard by examination; they wanted only a social organization, etc; but throughout that year this plan of your association was held up and strived for."

Board of Examiners. Mr. Liborius Semman, Dean of Marquette University and Conservatory of Music, Milwaukee, was invited to discuss the plans of standardization further and to instruct the Association as to what should be done, now that the plan for the Licentiate Degree had been adopted. At the second annual convention in 1917, Mr. Semman instructed the Association that it was to elect an examining board. Each member of the examining board would then take prescribed examinations from the "Association of Presidents and Past Presidents of State and National Music Teachers' Associations." Having successfully completed these examinations for the Licentiate Degree, the examining board would then be qualified to give the teacher examinations for the Licentiate Degree and membership in the Association.

Through the assistance of Mr. E. R. Iaderman of Centralia, Illinois, the following musicians of national reputation were secured to examine the first Arkansas State Board of Examiners:

- Mr. E. R. Kroeger, St. Louis, History and Harmony
- Mr. Allen Spencer, Chicago, Piano
- Mr. William McPhail, Minneapolis, Violin
- Mr. Arthur Manchester, Georgetown, Texas, Voice and Public School Music
- Mr. Toscatta G. Cole, Chicago, Organ

The Arkansas State Board of Examiners of the Association was examined by the aforementioned persons on June 18, 1917. After successful completion of these examinations, Arkansas was among the first three states to have an official Board of Examiners for its state music teachers' association.

The Association was now ready to function as the accrediting agent for the music teachers of Arkansas. In 1918, the State Board of Education pledged to cooperate with the Association and to assist in securing the certification of all music teachers throughout the state. The State Board of Education also accepted the proposed plan of the Association whereby a high school student, who met the requirements of applied music study as outlined by the Association, would receive one half unit of credit per year to be applied toward a minimum of sixteen units of credit for graduation.

The Board of Examiners for the Association was elected during the convention of 1918. The examiners were:

2 year - Mr. L. H. Mitchell, Arkadelphia

2 year - Mr. D. J. Evans, Little Rock

As has been previously stated, the function of the Board of Examiners was to offer examinations in general knowledge of music as to history, theory, dictation, harmony and the applied music fields.

There were few records of the work of the Association available from the year 1918 until 1931. It was recorded, however, through various letters of correspondence, that the Association continued its program of certifying music teachers of the state through examination.

Relative to certification and accreditation, the Association took the following action during the convention of 1922:

1. That all music teachers holding a Licentiate Degree from any other state whose State Music Teachers' Association is not only affiliated with the National Board of Association of Presidents and Past Presidents of State and National Music Teachers' Associations, but also requires its members to pass a State Board examination such as is demanded of our own Candidates - that these teachers be recognized by this Association and received as Accredited members without further examination under our own State Board.

2. That the Chairman of Piano, Violin, Voice, Organ and Public School Music be required to send scope of demonstration examination to President for distribution among the various examiners, specifying scales, arpeggios, and composition to be read at sight. (b) That all district examiners send the President or Chairman report of this Demonstration examination.23

The above resolutions were adopted by the Association, but nothing was recorded concerning the application and effect of the resolutions.

A significant step was taken in support of the work of the Association when the State Board of Education voted to issue State Licenses for the Association and place its seal on them. This action took place in June, 1926, and made the Association a legal body.24

At this point, there was no further records of the work of the Association until 1931. The principal action in 1931 was that of certifying and accrediting music teachers.

Credit for Applied Music. There was a need for a system of accrediting private music study of high school students. In 1931, Mr. H. D. Tovey, president of the Association, in conjunction with the State Board of Education, decided upon the following system of accrediting private music study of high school students:

High School pupils may receive one high school credit in music per year. To receive this credit, the pupil must take two lessons of not less than thirty minutes per week for thirty-six weeks. He must, in addition, devote a minimum of an hour a day to practice, and also study Harmony and History of Music. This would allow the student to obtain four units of credit which, upon graduation, would be the equivalent of two university units of credit when presented for entrance.25

This system of accrediting high school music study was adopted by the State Board of Education and the Association and was placed in the High School Manual of 1932 in order to clarify any misunderstandings among the superintendents of schools throughout the state.

Revision of Licentiate Degree. The requirements for the renewal of the Licentiate Degree were revised in 1931. It was now required of each teacher, who did not hold a degree in music, to acquire a minimum of six credits of music study every two years in order to retain his license. Two of these six credits could be acquired by attendance at three consecutive conventions of the Association. Credits were to be earned on this basis until the 120 credits for the Bachelor of Music degree had been obtained.

a life certificate to teach music. The life certificate, however, was rescinded by the State Board of Education in 1934.

Official Accreditin Agency. The State Board of Education and the Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association had been working together for some time to secure the certification and accreditation of all music teachers in Arkansas. On May 18, 1934, the State Board of Education took official action in establishing the Association as the official accrediting agency for the music teachers of Arkansas. A resolution was sent to the Association from Mr. Ed McCuiston, Director of Teacher Training, and Commissioner W. E. Phipps, which read:

The Arkansas State Music Teachers Association shall act as agents for the State Board of Education in examining and certifying all music teachers for the public schools of the state. Each certificate must be signed by the Commissioner of Education and registered with the Division of Certification and Teacher Training of the State Department of Education before it is valid. 26

The Association had practiced the certification of private music teachers, but this resolution made it possible for the Association to certify and accredit public school music teachers as well.

Mrs. Katherine Price Bailey, president of the Association, began encouraging the superintendents of the schools of Arkansas to secure a certified and accredited teacher of music for their schools, and to acquire accreditation for the music courses already being taught in their schools.

26 Mr. Ed McCuiston, Director of Certification and Teacher Training, State Department of Education, (letter from Mr. McCuiston to Mrs. Katherine Price Bailey, president of the Association), May 18, 1934.
Letters of correspondence from the superintendents of schools throughout the state began to flood the office of the president of the Association, Mrs. Katherine Price Bailey. The superintendents were seeking information concerning the accreditation of music courses in the schools. This interest on the part of the school superintendents was the needed impetus for the Association to approach the State Board of Education in request for a plan of certification of public school music teachers and music courses which were being taught in the schools.

The Arkansas Education Association was then given the responsibility of formulating recommendations regarding the certification of public school music teachers. The committee appointed by the Arkansas Education Association to formulate these recommendations consisted of Mrs. Mildred McNutt, Mrs. Mary Wylie and Mr. C. F. Allen, chairman. Mrs. Katherine Price Bailey, president of the Association, and Dr. M. R. Owen, Director of High Schools of the Arkansas Education Association, were invited to meet in session with the committee.

The report of this committee was submitted to the State Board of Education on December 13, 1934, and included the following proposals:

1. That the supervision of public school music both as to certifying teachers and as to regulating credits for music in the high schools, be centralized in the State Department of Education.

2. That some provision be made for a system of permanent records of matters concerning the certification of teachers of music be prepared and kept available for reference in the State Department of Education (granting certificates, life certificates, renewal of certificates, etc.).

3. That the State Department of Education determine qualifications and other requirements for certifying teachers, and that the department arrange with the university and colleges of the state a curriculum that will provide the needs of teachers desiring to be certified.

4. That the certification of teachers of public school music be based on requirements similar to those required of teachers of other subjects. This includes credits, initial costs, renewal costs, life certificates, plan of renewal, method of accepting credits, and methods of examinations.

5. That certification fees collected from the teachers of public school music be credited to the same source as are fees of other teachers.

6. That four grades of certificates be authorized and indicated by the minimum requirements proposed in the accompanying proposed curriculum. These minimum requirements concern teachers of lowest grade certificates for grades one to eight, of teachers devoting fifty per cent or more of their time to teaching of music in grades one to eight, of teachers teaching not more than one year of accredited high school music, and of teachers teaching more than one year of accredited high school music.

7. That, if any board for administering matters pertaining to the teaching of public school music be authorized, a majority of the membership of such board is to be composed of teachers and administrators engaged in public school (or state supported) work.27

In July, 1935, the Association voted to comply with these recommendations and ceased the certification and accreditation of public school music teachers which it had begun in May of 1934.

National Association of Schools of Music. The public school music teachers of Arkansas were required, after July of 1935, to register college credits and pay fees directly to the State Department of Education. As the State Department of Education received college credits from various music teachers throughout the state, a misunderstanding arose between the State Department of Education and the Association concerning the accreditation of certain institutions from 27Proposal from Committee of Arkansas Education Association to the State Board of Education, December 13, 1934. which the State Department of Education was receiving credits of music teachers in the state. During the time in which the Association was certifying and accrediting public school music teachers, the Association had relied upon the National Association of Schools of Music to determine the accreditation of institutions from which the Association would accept member's credits for college work.

The State Department of Education did not, however, recognize the National Association of Schools of Music as an accrediting agency and therefore, was hesitant to accept credits from some of the institutions which the National Association of Schools of Music had accredited.

Nothing was done by the State Department of Education at this time to alleviate the aforementioned problem, but within a year the problem had been solved.

On March 15, 1935, the State Board of Education adopted an additional resolution to be applied to the requirements governing the training and certification of public school music teachers. This resolution was developed by the State Board of Education with full cooperation from the Association, the Public School Music Section of the Arkansas Education Association, and all colleges in the state interested in the public school music curriculum. The resolution read as follows:

1. There is no change in the present requirements for a state certificate to teach in the elementary schools.

2. In order to encourage public school music in the elementary grades, a minimum requirement has been established for teachers

28Initial requirements governing certification of public school music teachers are recorded in Chapter III, p. 40, of this study.
who teach music fifty per cent or more of the time.

3. As the number of junior high schools have increased, a special training program has been developed to meet the peculiar needs of these grades. The minimum requirements for teachers who teach only one year of high school music are designed to meet this need.

4. Twenty semester hours in public school music have been established as the minimum requirement for the teachers who teach more than one year of high school music.29

This resolution was supportive of the proposal of the State Board of Education which was passed in 1934, but it did not eliminate the problem which was again evident between the Association and the State Department of Education concerning the acceptance of credits from schools which were accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music but not the North Central Association.

In a letter of February, 1936, Mrs. Katherine Price Bailey, president of the Association, wrote to the State Board of Education stating that even though the rules of accreditation of the National Association of Schools of Music were different than those of the North Central Association, they were very strict. Mrs. Bailey then communicated with the State Departments of Education of Texas, Kansas, Mississippi, Arizona, Louisiana, Tennessee, Illinois, Missouri and Oklahoma. The contents of her communication consisted of the question, "Does your State Department of Education accept credits from institutions, colleges and universities, belonging only to the National Association of Schools of Music?"

Each state replied that its State Department of Education did

accept credits from institutions accredited solely by the National Association of Schools of Music. This inquiry resulted in the Arkansas State Department of Education accepting the credits of teachers who had studied in the schools of higher education which were accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music.

Revised Plan of Certification. The Association was still accrediting private music teachers as of September, 1936. The certificates of the teachers did, nevertheless, require the signature of the Director of Certification of the State Department of Education. This procedure for certification was changed in December of 1936, when a revised plan of certification was adopted. The points of significance in the revised plan of certification were:

1. Certification in music shall be based squarely upon approved college work, as are other high school teaching areas.

2. All teachers, now holding a valid certificate, except life certificates, issued by the Arkansas State Music Teachers Association, must return these old certificates to the Division of Teacher Training and Certification, State Department of Education, and receive the new type of certificate, valid for a period of six years.

3. Teachers holding less than 120 semester hours of approved college work will be certified to teach in high schools where a degree is not required.

4. Teachers holding certificates subject to additional college credits will have their certificates re-issued on presentation of additional college credits.

5. All certificates issued since September 1, 1933, will be exchanged without charge. Certificates issued prior to September 1, 1935, will pay the regular fee of $5.00 for the new certificates.

6. September 1, 1937, is the deadline for making this exchange of certificates. After this date, old type certificates will become null and void.

This plan of certification was amended in 1938 in order to provide an emergency teaching certificate for prospective teachers. This certificate issued on a tentative basis was valid for a period of one year.

Standard Curriculum Requirements. For some time there had been much concern among educators about the variations in degree requirements of the colleges and universities. On January 21, 1939, a meeting of all the heads of the music departments of teacher education institutions was called by Mr. T. M. Stinnett, Director of Teacher Education and Certification of the State Department of Education. The purpose of this meeting was to discuss the certification of music teachers, and to propose a four year curriculum for college students planning to enter the field as a music teacher.

From this meeting, the following outline of requirements for the various teaching certificates emerged:

There arose some dissatisfaction concerning the aforementioned outlines of study, and in early 1940, Mr. T. M. Stinnett, Director of Teacher Education and Certification, wrote to Miss Virgia Poynor, president of the Association, stating:"

"After the adoption of the new regulations for certification of teachers of public school music and applied music last year, some institutions felt that the requirements were too high. Especially in view of the fact that in practically all institutions music is on the fee basis and the cost, therefore, to meet the requirements would be relatively high.

Since limited time was available for a full consideration of these particular requirements at that time it seemed only fair to ask for a re-appraisal of the situation both by the music group and the Advisory Council. The Advisory Council of Fayetteville met last week with nine present representing six institutions and agreed to a revision."

The following revisions were included with Mr. Stinnett's letter:

1. It is proposed that the total hour requirement for certification in public school music be reduced from thirty semester hours to twenty-four semester hours. This reduction would be effected by reducing the number of hours required in applied music from twelve to nine and reducing the number of hours in appreciation from six to three.

2. It is proposed that the total hour requirement for

certification in applied music be reduced from thirty-nine to not more than thirty hours. This reduction would be effected by providing that an applicant who qualifies for certification in public school music proposal given above (twenty-four semester hours) may be certified in an applied field by presenting a total of twelve semester hours in that applied field. Presumably, this would not involve more than six additional hours in applied music (in addition to the nine required for public school music).32

A significant step forward was made in May, 1940, when the State Board of Education passed a resolution to require public school music in every school in the state. This objective was to be realized over a period of three years. The State Board of Education also recommended to the State Text Book Commission that free music texts be supplied to the schools having a qualified teacher of music. This recommendation was approved by the State Text Book Commission, and it appeared that the Association would realize one of its highest objectives. However, World War II prevented the realization of this goal due, mainly, to the shortage of music teachers.

Accrediting Music in High Schools. There had been misunderstandings between the State Department of Education, the superintendents of schools, and the Association concerning the system of awarding high school students credit for study with private music teachers. Miss Mae Whipple, president of the Association, wrote to Dr. M. R. Owen, Director of Division of Instruction of the State Department of Education, and asked him to make a statement concerning this matter of credit for high school students. In order to clarify this problem, Dr. Owen replied, the State Department, who are not members of the high school faculty, may be allowed local credit on music, provided such credit is in addition to fifteen units of credit earned in approved high school subjects offered as part of the high school curriculum. Pupils who may decide to obtain college entrance credit on music studied under private teachers may do so by passing an exam in music in the college which they seek to enter.

"High School pupils taking music with teachers certified by

One half unit of credit may be granted to high school students on each year's work satisfactorily completed. To receive this credit a pupil must take two lessons of not less than thirty minutes a week for thirty-six weeks or one lesson of not less than forty-five minutes a week for thirty-six weeks. A pupil must, in addition, devote a minimum of an hour a day to practice, and must study in addition harmony and history of music either in class or in private. On this course pupils may receive one-half unit of credit a year. According to this plan, it is possible for a pupil to earn a maximum of two units of credits in music in the period of four years and thus graduate from high school with seventeen units of credit, bearing in mind that the credit in music must be in addition to the fifteen units of regular institutional credit.\(^3\)

The aforementioned plan for high school credits in music was satisfactory to the Association, but the Association was concerned because the plan was not receiving practical application. Therefore, at the annual board meeting of the Association in September, 1943, Miss Mae Whipple appointed a committee to meet with the State Department of Education officials to discuss this problem. The committee consisted of Mrs. Ben Lincoln, Mrs. Earl Tye, Mrs. Addison Wall and Miss Mae Whipple.

This committee met with the officials of the State Department of Education in January of 1944. At this meeting, President Whipple pointed out that the State Board of Education had established a ruling concerning the accreditation of music in the high schools as early as \(^3\)Notice issued January 12, 1943, from Dr. M. R. Owen of the State Department of Education to the Association.

1937; but, that this plan had not been put into practice.

As a result of this meeting, the Executive Committee of the Association and the Division of Instruction of the State Department of Education presented the following plan for high school music credits:

When music is included in the high school curriculum it is accredited on the same basis as other high school subjects. The teacher of music must be certified by the State Department of Education and must be a member of the high school faculty, and must work under the general supervision of the superintendent of principal just as other members of the faculty.

So far as the accrediting of music is concerned, it makes no difference whether the music teacher receives a salary paid from school funds or from fees paid by the pupils.

High School pupils taking music with private teachers certified by the State Department of Education, who are not members of the high school faculty, may be allowed local credit in music, provided such credit is in addition to 15 units of credit earned in approved high school courses offered as a part of the high school curriculum.

Pupils who desire to obtain college entrance credit on music studied under private teachers should consult the registrars of the colleges which they desire to enter.

Amount of Credit

Music in the Curriculum: When music is included in the high school curriculum and the teacher is a member of the faculty, as previously explained, full credit is allowed on established theory courses in music meeting daily in a regular class period with outside preparation.

In applied courses in band, orchestra, and chorus, credit is allowed on the basis of one-fourth unit for groups regularly scheduled to meet two full periods a week for one school year.

Private Instruction: For two individual lessons a week in any branch of applied music, accompanied by the state approved theory study, one half unit a year is allowed.

Fifteen of the sixteen units required as a minimum for graduation from high school must be in subjects included in the curriculum.34

The above plan became the official ruling concerning the accreditation of music in the high schools. This represented progress to the Association, but the Association was not satisfied with the relationship of music to other subjects in the high school curriculum. As a result of this discontent, the following report was sent to the State Department of Education:

Report of Special Committee from Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association which met in Little Rock, January 20, 1946.

We submit the following recommendations to the State Board of Education and State Department of Education for their consideration and careful study.

We request that such a directive plan by the State Board of Education be made that music in the public schools of Arkansas be given the same rating and emphasis as other subjects—that is, it be made a part of the regular curriculum reaching every student.

We recommend a workshop this summer following the plan of other workshops during the emergency giving practical training for inservice teachers.

Reasons for Proposal

1. A limited time for theory teaching in applied music courses.
2. Present music program reaching too few pupils.
3. Teacher training requirements inadequate by State Department and higher institutions in their course of study.
4. State requirements lax as to background in music by certification.
5. Grammar school greatest need and answer to this problem is music for all.

34"Accrediting Music in the High School", Memorandum to High School Administrators from Division of Instruction of the State Department of Education, 1944.
6. Urgent need of specialized training by music specialist (a music supervisor).

Respectfully submitted:

Mrs. Ruth Klepper Settle, Supervisor of Music, Little Rock Public Schools; State President for National Music Educators Conference.

Mr. B. A. Short, Superintendent of Schools, Conway

Mr. Glen Metcalf, Member of Music Faculty, Hendrix College, Conway.

Mrs. Charles J. Giroir, Music Teacher, Pine Bluff Schools, Pine Bluff.

Mrs. Ben H. Lincoln, President of the Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association, Pocahontas.

There was no record as to what influence the previously mentioned proposal had on the State Department of Education and the status of music in the schools of Arkansas.

As of 1947, the issuance of teaching certificates was completely done by the State Department of Education. The principal action of the Association was that of examining those prospective members who desired to teach music. These examinations were later abandoned in 1948.

Syllabus. A Syllabus Committee was appointed at a called Association board meeting in 1949. The committee consisted of Mrs. Charles J. Giroir of Pine Bluff, Mr. Paul Shultz of Russellville, Mr. John Summers of Little Rock, and Mr. Kenneth Osborne of Fayetteville. The purpose of the committee was to develop a course of study for applied music teachers. Upon completion of such a course of study, the committee was to submit it to the State Board of Education for its consideration.

The committee completed the Syllabus\(^{35}\) and submitted it to the State Board of Education for its adoption. In 1950, the Syllabus was adopted by the State Board of Education and became the official guide for use by private music teachers of piano, voice and violin. The Syllabus contained suggested reference books for different areas of study, as well as steps for progressive studies in piano, voice and violin.

The examinations for certification had been abandoned in 1948, but there was, in 1950, a need for examinations for the in-service teacher who did not hold a degree in music. The State Board of Education, in 1950, took action to include in its program of certification the certifying of all music teachers and designated the Association as the official examining body.

Certification Centralized in State Department. The plan for certification which was in practice in 1950 was:

Teachers without college degrees who had been accredited by examination remained in good standing with the State Department of Education if they added six hours of work every six years. If not, their certificates were no longer valid and further accreditation must come on the basis of degrees since examinations have been discontinued.

Teachers with degrees in music may apply to the State Department of Education for certification. They, too, must be kept alive by adding six hours of work - either in residence or by correspondence every six years. A teacher with a degree may not give credit to his students unless he has been certified by the State Department.\(^{36}\)

\(^{35}\)Syllabus recorded in complete form in Appendix A.

\(^{36}\)Letter of Correspondence from Miss Evelyn Bewden, president of the Association, to a member of the Association, 1952.
Examinations had been resumed for a short time during 1950, but after the adoption of the above plan of certification, all examinations were discontinued. The certification program for music teachers was now centralized entirely in the State Department of Education.

Concerning the placement of music in the schools of the state, the Association had, as of 1955, realized the following objectives:

1. Almost every high school in the state supported a private music teacher.

2. A band instructor was employed by many of the schools of the state, and

3. A great number of schools employed on its regular faculty a public school music teacher.37

The realization of these objectives was a direct result of the adequate certification program which had been developed, and the willingness of the State Board of Education and the Association to work together in order to develop qualified teachers in the field of music.

Associate and Active Membership in Association. In 1956, a committee consisting of Mrs. Violet Giller of El Dorado, Mr. Glen Metcalf of Little Rock, Mrs. Charles J. Giroir of Pine Bluff, Mrs. H. E. Tye of Texarkana, Sister Rosarita of Fort Smith and Mrs. J. A. Jewers of Newport, was appointed to consider the clarification of the membership in the Association. The committee submitted the following report:

37Mr. C. J. Giroir, Report on the work of the Association, (mimeographed), 1951.
The Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association will accredit and recommend to the public by suitable certificate, those teachers of voice, piano, organ, single instruments, or families of instruments or in theory of music, who in the opinion of the accreditation committee, qualify under one or more of the following groups:

1. Those who hold degrees or are graduates of music, with a major in the specified branch of music, from standard recognized colleges, schools or conservatories of music. (The standard of recognition required membership in the North Central Association, the National Association of Schools of Music, or recognition by the State University).

2. Those with degrees in other subjects but with sufficient training in the particular branch of music and theory of music.

3. a. Those applicants (standards of competency to be established by the committee on accreditation) with college or conservatory credits, not graduates.

   b. Those whose training has been with private teachers, who can satisfy the Accreditation Committee as to their competency, by credentials or by suitable examination.

4. Those teachers of established reputation, who by virtue of five or more years of successful teaching, can satisfy the Accreditation Committee as to their competency by the results of their teaching. Applicants for membership must be sponsored by these active members.

5. Those teachers who hold a Life Certificate for the Arkansas State Board of Education shall be automatically accredited by the Association in the branch of music for which they are certified.

The committee also recommends that: In-study and Training of active members in the ASMTA shall be required on alternate years following certification, whereby members must participate in some form of study or professional activity, such as membership in study groups for professional and cultural improvements, travel, educational research, authorship, co-operating critic and demonstration teaching, occupational experience, leadership in extra school activities, leadership in professional associations and leadership in appropriate community activities - (Courses, studies and activities offered by teachers toward satisfaction of training requirement shall be submitted to the certification committee for prior approval). 38

38 Mr. Kenneth R. Osborne, "Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association", Memorandum to members of the Association (mimeographed), 1957.
The aforementioned proposal of the committee report on clarification and regulations governing the status of active membership in the Association was adopted by the Association in 1957. The report was sent to the State Board of Education for its approval and received such. This report then became the official revised standard of certification for private music teachers and status of membership in the Association.

This standard for certification and membership in the Association was to be the only standard used until 1961. The president of the Association, Mrs. Walter Giller, appointed a committee, in 1961, consisting of Dr. James Luck, Chairman, Mr. Kenneth Osborne, Mr. Lyndell Watkins and Mrs. Lee Zachary. The function of this committee was to work out a feasible plan of certification; on that would meet the immediate and future needs of the Association.

Current Plan of Certification. The committee on certification conducted an investigation to see if a plan was in existence which would meet the needs of the Association. At the convention business meeting of 1961, the committee presented its recommended plan of certification. This new plan of certification provided for three types of certificates: the Provisional Certificate, the Certificate of Experience, and the Certificate of Professional Advancement.39 This plan of certification was adopted by the Board of the Association and received the approval of the Association.

39Complete certification plan recorded in Appendix D.
Conclusion. The certification and accreditation actions of the Association have been traced from 1915 to the present. During the first three decades of the history of the Association, the primary function was that of certifying and accrediting private music teachers. This action became less important as music teacher certification was centralized in the State Department of Education. At the beginning of 1964, the Association had in practice a new plan of certification in hopes that "it may lift the standards of pedagogy; it will offer goals to persons who wish to become active members and learn and grow within the planned program; and to establish through certification requirements, a dignity which will lend respect to the teaching profession."

CHAPTER IV

CONVENTIONS OF THE ASSOCIATION

The activities of the Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association throughout the past years have included annual conventions. It was felt that a study of the convention programs in terms of themes, personalities, musical performances and officers would be highly significant with regard to the Association's history. Consequently, an investigation was initiated which revealed that annual conventions were held with the exceptions of the following years: 1934, 1935, 1942 and 1943.

The annual conventions of the Association shall, hereafter, be discussed in chronological sequence.

1915. The first meeting, of what was later to become the Association, took place in October of 1915. Twelve music teachers met in the Womans' Parlor of the Hotel Marion in Little Rock. The principal action of the Association was the election of the following officers:

Mrs. Emile Trebing, President
Mrs. C. E. Whitney, Vice President
Mrs. Guy Mathis, Secretary
Miss Laura Longley, Treasurer

At this initial meeting, from which the Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association was birthed, it was decided that the first annual convention would be held in Little Rock in April of 1916.

1916 Convention. The Association convened on April 26, 1916, with thirty music teachers present. During the convention the Association voted to re-elect the original slate of officers with the exception of Miss Laura Longley. Miss Longley had resigned and was replaced by Miss Sallie Peay.

The motto, "Elevation, Not Elimination", was selected as the primary objective of the Association and has continued to be the motto until the present day. The constitution of the Association, as adopted during the 1916 convention, was conformed to the constitution of the "Association of Presidents and Past Presidents of State and National Music Teachers' Associations." Of great significance during the convention was the adoption of the certification and accreditation plan of the previously mentioned "Association of Presidents and Past Presidents of State and National Music Teachers' Associations."

1917 Convention. The second annual convention of the Association met in Little Rock on April 25 and 26, 1917. The Association had voted in 1916 to adopt the plan of certification and accreditation as outlined by the "Association of Presidents and Past Presidents of State and National Music Teachers' Associations", and the Association was to fulfill all the requirements for such a plan during 1917. In order to practice the aforementioned plan of certification and accreditation, the Association had to elect an examining board within its membership, which would, in turn, be examined by selected musicians of national reputation. Upon successful completion of such examinations, the Association's examining board would examine all prospective members of the Association and certify such by the issuance of the Licentiate Degree.
The prospective examining board of the Association was to be examined on June 18, 1917, by the following renowned teachers and musicians:

- Mr. E. R. Kroeger, St. Louis, History and Harmony
- Mr. Allen Spencer, Chicago, Piano
- Mr. William McPhail, Minneapolis, Violin
- Mr. Arthur Manchester, Georgetown, Texas, Voice and Public School Music
- Mr. Roscatta G. Cole, Chicago, Organ

The examinations were successfully completed and the Association was prepared to certify private music teachers of the state.

The officers elected to serve for the year, 1918, were:

- Mrs. Emile Trebing, Little Rock, President
- Mrs. C. E. Whitney, Little Rock, Vice President
- Mrs. L. W. Harrell, Conway, Secretary
- Miss Sallie Peay, Little Rock, Treasurer

1918 Convention. On June 12 through 14, 1918, the Association met in Little Rock for its third annual convention with Mrs. Emile Trebing presiding. Prospects for the Association were bright for it had now established a standard for the qualifications of music teachers in Arkansas and was well on its way to bringing the music profession in the state to a dignified and respected recognition.

The program for the convention consisted of organ, violin and piano concerts, as well as a lecture given by Mrs. A. L. Kinney of Green Forest entitled "Music Credits in the Public Schools." The Association was now prepared to ask the State Board of Education to grant credits to the pupils of those teachers certified by the Association. This was placed in the form of a recommendation and was presented to the State Board of Education for its consideration.
The 1918 convention of the Association elected the following officers for the coming year:

- Mr. Henry Doughty Tovey, Fayetteville, President
- Mrs. A. L. Kinney, Green Forest, Vice President
- Mr. O. C. Mitchell, Fayetteville, Secretary
- Mr. Fred G. Smith, Fort Smith, Treasurer

The only record concerning the conventions of 1919 through 1924 consisted of a listing of the officers. They were as follows:

J. Keller of Little Rock; (4) Miss Evelyn Voyles of Little Rock presented a talk on "The Negro in the World of Music"; (5) a concert of piano, violin and voice was presented by Mr. Harry Shultz of Fayetteville, Mr. Henry Doughty Tovey of Fayetteville, Miss Katherine Lincoln and Miss Margaret Magna of Little Rock.

The high point of the convention was a concert given by guest artist, Mme. Orpha Holstman, soprano of Chicago.
The officers elected to serve for the coming year of 1926 were:

Mr. Henry Doughty Tovey, Fayetteville, President
Mr. F. W. Harwood, Arkadelphia, Vice President

1926 Convention. The Association held its eleventh annual convention in Little Rock, November 11 and 12, 1926. 1927 Convention-1930 Convention. There were no records in the files of the Association concerning the annual conventions of 1927, 1928, 1929 and 1930. Information was supportive, from later documents, that annual conventions were held each of these years, and that Mr. Henry Doughty Tovey of Fayetteville was elected life-time president of the Association at some period during these years. Mr. Tovey served as life-time president until his death in 1933.
1931 Convention. During the year, 1931, the Association held its sixteenth annual convention. The only record, in the files of the Association, of the convention consisted of a listing of the officers. They were:

Mr. Henry Doughty Tovey, Fayetteville, President
Miss Katherine Price Bailey, Fort Smith, Vice President
Mrs. A. L. Kinney, Harrison, Secretary
Mr. Russell A. Burnett, Fayetteville, Treasurer

1932 Convention. The Associational records contained no information concerning the seventeenth annual convention. However, it was known, through later enumerations of annual conventions, that the Association did hold its seventeenth convention during 1932. It can, with certainty, also be stated that Mr. Henry Doughty Tovey was president during the 1932 convention, for he was serving a life-time election to the presidency.

1933 Convention. The eighteenth annual convention of the Association met in 1933 with Miss Katherine Price Bailey as acting president. Mr. Henry Doughty Tovey, who had been elected by the Association as life-time president, was deceased, and the vice president had succeeded him. The most significant action of the 1933 convention was the establishment of the Tovey Memorial Scholarship in memory of the late Mr. Henry Doughty Tovey of Fayetteville.

1934 Convention-1935 Convention. No annual conventions were held during 1934 and 1935 due to the effect of the depression upon the country.

1936 Convention. In November of 1936, the Association was able to resume its annual conventions, and the nineteenth convention was held under the administration of its president, Miss Katherine Price Bailey. The Association elected the following officers to serve for the years 1937-1938:

Special features of the convention included guest artists, Miss Elaine DeSellem of the American Conservatory of Music, Chicago, and Mr. John Glazier, assistant professor of violin and theory at the University of Arkansas. Miss DeSellem presented a vocal recital and clinic at the close of the convention. Mr. Glazier, composer of works for piano, voice and violin, presented selections for the violin.

The officers of the convention were:

1938 Convention. The convention of 1938 represented the twenty-first annual convention of the Association since its inception in 1915. The convention was held in the Second Baptist Church of Little Rock with the theme, "Musical America." The theme of the convention was developed through the singing of songs of patriotism; through programs featuring compositions of American composers; and, through the presentation of a program entitled, "Musical America's Background." The convention of 1938 was held 'In Memoriam' to the late Mrs. Reah Jackson Irion of Dermott, who had served as president of the Association during 1922-1923. A program of compositions of Mrs. Irion was presented, which included vocal, violin, piano, operetta and musical readings by members of the Association.

One of the highlights of the convention was the lecture of Mr. Raymond Burrows of Columbia University, New York, who spoke to a joint session of the Association and the School Music Section of the Arkansas Education Association.

The officers of the convention of 1938 were re-elected to serve for the years, 1939-1940.

1939 Convention. The Albert Pike Hotel of Little Rock was the meeting place of the twenty-second annual convention of the Association on November 2 and 3, 1939. A special program of the convention was a Young Artist's Concert featuring pupils of teacher-members of the Association. The highlight of the convention was the lecture-demonstration on the "Technique and Materials for the Piano" by Miss N. Louise Wright, Teacher-Composer and Dean of Music, Central College, Fayette, Missouri.
1940 Convention. The theme of the annual convention of the Association held on November 7 and 8, 1940, was "American Music." The convention was the twenty-third annual convention of the Association and met in the Second Baptist Church of Little Rock. Of special significance to the convention was the presence of Mr. Dean E. Douglass, State Music Supervisor of Missouri. Mr. Douglass presented a lecture on "Duties and Benefits of a State Music Supervisor," and conducted a vocal clinic dealing with "Elementary, Junior and Senior High Schools." The 1940 annual convention was dedicated 'In Memoriam' to the late Mr. Emile Trebing of Little Rock, who had been a charter member of the Association.

Miss Mae Whipple, Arkadelphia, President
Mrs. Lois Wilson, Trumann, First Vice President
Mr. R. B. Watson, Pine Bluff, Second Vice President
Mrs. J. O. Plummer, Arkadelphia, Corresponding Secretary
Miss Virginia Holtzendorff, Little Rock, Recording Secretary
Mr. Addison Wall, Fort Smith, Treasurer
Mrs. Emile Trebing, Little Rock, Parliamentarian
Mrs. Flauke Gammill, Little Rock, Historian

The theme of the convention was "Ensemble Music" and was developed through a demonstration-concert by the Hendrix String Quartet, a concert of ensemble singing by the Arkansas State College A Cappella Choir, and lectures concerning "Ensemble Music." Special guest artists for the convention were Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Ringo of Tulsa University, Tulsa, Oklahoma, who presented a recital of music for two pianos. Mr. Ringo also presented a lecture to the Association concerning "Neglected Phases of Piano Teaching."

1942 Convention. At the annual board meeting of the Association in 1942, it was voted unanimously that the 1942 annual convention would not be held due to the war and the hardship of travel. Rather, it was proposed that district conventions be held. There were, therefore, twelve district conventions held in lieu of the 1942 annual convention.

1943 Convention. It was proposed by the board of the Association in 1943 that it would be unwise to have the annual convention of 1943, and that district conventions would again be held in place of the convention. The officers which had served during 1941 and 1942, remained in office during 1943 and 1944.

1944 Convention. The Association was able to resume its annual conventions in 1944 and the enthusiasm was high as the Association enrolled 220 members at the twenty-fifth annual convention. The convention was held in the Woman's City Club of Little Rock on November 13 and 14. A musicale featuring members of the Association was presented during the convention, as well as a concert entitled "Vignettes of Modern Pianism" by guest artist, Miss Cara Verson of Chicago, Illinois. Miss Verson also presented a lecture and round table discussion on "Modern Music for Piano Students."

The Association elected the following officers to serve for the years 1945-1946:

"Social Security and the Private Teacher—Where Do We Stand?" and "The Demand During the Reconversion Period will Exceed the Supply—What Do We Do About It?" were problems of major importance discussed during the convention.

The special guest for the convention program was Miss Maria Hussa, Viennese Soprano of Chicago, who presented a vocal concert. In addition to the concert, Miss Hussa presented a voice clinic for the convention. Another feature of the convention included a lecture entitled "The Need for Public School Music in Every School in Arkansas" given by Mr. Don Malin, Music Educator and Composer of Boston, Massachusetts.

1946 Convention. The keynote of the 1946 convention was: "Emphasize the Need for Music in the Post-War World." This twenty-seventh convention of the Association was held in the Robinson Memorial Auditorium of Little Rock on November 7 and 8.

CHAPTER V

CONTRIBUTIONS OF THE ASSOCIATION

The Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association, since its organization in 1915, has been an organization with high ideals relating to the cause of music. The Association has continually worked that music might attain the highest prestige within our society, and that music might be offered to every child with the best possible instruction.

Enumerated below are the areas in which the Association has endeavoured to affect the status of music and the music profession in Arkansas:

1. Established standards of musical efficiency within the music profession and promoted these standards through certification and accreditation

2. Continually supported the cause of music for every child in every school in Arkansas

3. Instituted the Tovey Memorial Scholarship in memory of the late Mr. Henry Doughty Tovey

4. Promoted a student affiliate membership program

5. Proposed establishment of Student Chapters of Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association on the college campuses of the state

6. Promoted student contests and festivals

7. Endeavoured continually to practice the motto of the Association: "Elevation, Not Elimination."

In order to adequately present the areas in which the Association has concentrated its efforts, each of these aforementioned programs shall be discussed briefly:
Standards of Musical Efficiency Through Certification. The purpose of the organization of the Association was to raise the standards of music teaching in Arkansas. When the original twelve members of the Association met in Little Rock in 1915, they desired to set a standard of certification which would govern the licensing of music teachers in Arkansas. The Association voted to adopt the plan of certification and accreditation of the "Association of Presidents and Past Presidents of State and National Music Teachers' Associations" in 1916. This plan of certification and accreditation proposed examinations by a qualified examining board of the Association for every person who desired to teach music. Upon successful completion of these examinations, a person was then certified to teach music in the state. The accreditation program was significant in that only those teachers certified by the Association could grant high school credit to their private music students.

The Association continued this program of certification and accreditation until 1950, when all teacher certification was centralized in the State Department of Education. The program of certification by the Association was begun again in 1961, when a revised plan of certification was adopted. The current plan of certification\(^{43}\) was one of the most significant steps taken by the Association in latter years. This plan of certification came as a result of an investigation of feasible plans of certification by the committee on certification. The committee consisted of Dr. James Luck, Chairman, Mr. Kenneth Osborne, \(^{43}\)Complete current Plan of Certification recorded in Appendix D.

Mr. Lyndell Watkins and Mrs. Lee Zachary. After completing a thorough examination, the committee decided that the plan of certification for the Association should be modeled after the Nebraska Plan of Certification. The certification committee presented the plan of certification to the Association and it received adoption in 1961. Since that time approximately twenty-five per cent of the membership of the Association has become certified through the current program of certification.

The program of certification has been one of the most significant and far reaching programs of the Association since its inception in 1915. It has been the means whereby the quality of music instruction throughout the state has been improved, and the prestige of the music profession has been heightened.

Music For Every Child. In conjunction with the certification and accreditation program, the Association has promoted the concept that music should be for every child in every school. From the very first convention in 1916, the Association became a constant agitator to the State Department of Education concerning this need. Consequently, in 1940, the State Board of Education passed a resolution to the effect that music should be required in every school in the state by the year 1943; this objective to be obtained over the three year period. This three year program was hindered by World War II and was not fully realized, but great strides were made toward having music available for every child.

The majority of the schools throughout the state now provide music training in various areas; areas such as public school music, junior and senior high choral programs, academic music study on the junior and senior high levels, instrumental programs, and others. This advanced program of music teaching in the state has resulted partially from the efforts put forth by the Association.

Tovey Memorial Scholarship. The Tovey Memorial Scholarship was instituted by the Association in 1933, following the death of Mr. Henry Doughty Tovey, life-time president of the Association. The scholarship fund has been obtained by the collection of twenty-five cents annually from each member of the Association. When $100.00 was received it was then presented to the senior piano student from the University of Arkansas deemed most deserving by the scholarship committee.

According to the records of the Association and information received through correspondence, the following persons have been recipients of the Tovey Memorial Scholarship:

- Miss Cecilia Frohlich, 1941
- Miss Francis Brigance, 1943
- Mr. Billy Paul Hays, 1949
- Miss Carolyn Rhodes, 1953
- Miss Francis Medaris, 1954
- Miss Carole Summers, 1956
- Mr. Frank Lynn Payne, 1958 (co-winner)
- Mr. James Spikes, 1958 (co-winner)
- Mr. Benny Selman, 1960
- Mr. Dale Millen, 1961
- Miss Nancy Miller, 1962

The recipient, in order to receive the Tovey Memorial Scholarship, appeared before the Association during the annual convention where he was presented the stipend.

Student Affiliate Program. The student affiliate program of the Association has been promoted through the teacher-members of the Association by enlistment of their pupils. The program for the student affiliate has provided each student with a membership card and either the Keyboard Junior or The Young Keyboard magazine. The student members also have been permitted the opportunity to perform in a special repertoire session of each annual convention. This program has been open to junior high, senior high, and college students.

The student affiliate program has been but another means of expanding the work and influence of the Association in the promotion of better music and music teaching throughout Arkansas.

College Chapters. In December of 1963, Mr. Glenn Owens of Texarkana College was appointed by the president of the Association, Dr. James Luck, to serve as chairman of a committee whose function it was to organize student chapters of the Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association on the college campuses of the state.

Mr. Owen has received encouraging reports from some of the colleges throughout the state concerning the establishment of such chapters. While this program has yet to develop into something of great magnitude, it has represented a step forward for the expansion of the work of the Association into new areas of endeavor.

Student Festivals. The Association had for some years sponsored student contests and awarded prizes to those judged as winners. Through the years, however, the program of student contests has been adapted to meet the particular needs of the program. As of 1964, the Association was holding annual student festivals encouraging all students to participate. The pre-requisites for participation were that the students be of junior or senior high level and be actively studying with a teacher-member of the Association. Entrants in the festivals, which were held on the district level, were not on a competitive basis, but were judged according to individual performance. Each entrant received a criticism sheet and a certificate of participation for his performance.

Elevation, Not Elimination. The motto of the Association has, through the years, expressed the purpose for its existence; that purpose being to elevate the status of music and the music profession to the highest level possible. By striving for such an objective, the Association could be assured that music would gain its rightful place in our society.

All of the efforts of the Association have, either directly or indirectly, been centered in this motto, "Elevation, Not Elimination." Music and the music profession has found its place in our society and has been elevated to a place of high prestige throughout the past forty-seven years of the existence of the Association. This advancement in the status of music has been due partially to the work of the Association.
CHAPTER VI

SUMMARY

The Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association was organized in 1915 for the purpose of elevating the status of the music profession in Arkansas. Several music teachers met in Little Rock in October of 1915 and formed what was later to be the Association. The first objective of the Association was to establish a certification program for the music teachers of Arkansas. During the convention of 1916, the certification plan of the "Association of Presidents and Past Presidents of State and National Music Teachers' Associations" was adopted. This plan of certification proposed examinations by a qualified examining board to be given to prospective music teachers of the state. After successful completion of these exams the teachers would receive the Licentiate Degree which authorized them to teach music in the state. By the end of 1916, the Examining Board of the Association was examining and licensing music teachers throughout the state. The work of the Association progressed in this area throughout the ensuing years as it continued to strive to raise the standards of music teaching through certification.

The progress of the Association was to be halted as the depression years made their impression upon the country. There was little money to finance the work of the Association and, therefore, the annual conventions of 1934 and 1935 were canceled. Following the depression years, the Association began immediately to reconstruct the organization of the Association. In 1934, the State Board of Education took action establishing the Association as the official accrediting agent for all music teachers of the state. This seemed to be the needed stimulus to aid in the rebuilding of the Association.

During 1936, a new plan of certification replaced the practice of 'certification by examination'. This new plan of certification established college training as the basis for certification. Later, in 1940, the State Board of Education passed a resolution requiring public school music to be offered in every school in the state by the year 1943. This was the realization of one of the Association's highest goals. The program was somewhat hindered by World War II but strides were made in the direction of the fulfillment of this goal.

During World War II the Association was affected greatest in the area of membership. It was virtually impossible to hold annual conventions during 1942 and 1943 and, therefore, they were canceled. In 1944, the Association began a period of reconstruction and, as a result of this renewed effort, enrolled 220 members at the convention of 1944. The Association was prepared to concentrate its efforts in the direction of a post-war reconversion program and did such.

A significant step was taken by the Association when, in 1950, the Association prepared a Syllabus to serve as a guide in the area of music. This Syllabus was submitted to the State Department of Education for its adoption and received such. The State Department of Education adopted the Syllabus and it became the official guide in the area of music for the private music teachers of the state and established a standard which could be used by the State Department of Education.
Since 1950, the action of the Association has changed considerably. The Association had, previously, functioned primarily as an accrediting agent for the music teachers of the state. However, the certification of all music teachers was now centralized in the State Department of Education. Therefore, the work of the Association was to be channeled into areas such as elevation of teaching standards in the state, presentation of quality programs during annual conventions, promotion for increased membership in order to try to reach more teachers with a program of musical advancement, administration of student piano and voice contests and student affiliate programs and promotion of a general spirit of enthusiasm and cooperation among the music teachers of the state.

More recently, the Association has concentrated its efforts in areas such as: (1) division of the Association into local organizations in order to enlist more teachers in a useful program; (2) promotion of a program of exchange concerts among students of teachers within the various districts of the Association; (3) continued administration of student festivals on the district level encouraging all junior and senior high school students of teacher-members to participate; and (4) establishment of a committee whose function has been to set in motion plans for the institution of Student Chapters of the Association on all the college campuses throughout the state. Each of these areas has served as a means of expanding the program of the Association into new areas of endeavour.

The most recent program of the Association has included the administration of a new plan of certification which was modeled after the Nebraska Plan of Certification. The purpose of this current plan of certification has been to strengthen the Association through higher standards of music instruction. This plan of certification has provided three types of certificates to the music teacher. They are: (1) the Provisional Certificate, (2) the Certificate of Experience, and (3) the Certificate of Professional Advancement.

When the scope of music instruction of today is compared with that of 1915, it can readily be seen that there has been advancement in many areas. The situation existent in the area of music instruction during 1915 provided music to the very few students. However, at present, music teaching, in various media, is offered to a majority of students throughout the state. The attainment of this goal has been due, in some measure, to the consistent effort and promotion on the part of the Association. The Association has, through the years, endeavoured to elevate the status of music in Arkansas and has sought to reach the objective as stated in its motto, "Elevation, Not Elimination."

APPLIED MUSIC

Piano—1st Year

Upon completion of first year's study of piano, the high school student should have completed material comparable to

Sonatina in C—Clementi
First Lessons in Bach—Volume I
Wagness Adult Book—No. I
Burgmueller Op. 100
Studies of Strebberg
All Major scales—2 octaves—both hands
Solid Chords

These requirements are in consideration of a student beginning

The theory and history would be applicable to students over a longer period of time as well as a shorter period, as this review is constantly necessary.

Theory courses for 4 year high school students should be approached and sensed by the student from the ear, the eye, the keyboard, and written example.

The minimum requirements are set forth below.

The members of the Voice Board of the Arkansas State Music Teachers' Association do not advocate this course for the student under fifteen or sixteen years of age, and then only with most careful restrictions. They feel that much injury is done the throat and voice of the child by overtaxing at this time, and that their education should follow the line of instrumental and theoretical work.

For the more mature boy or girl however (for there are cases when the pupil may safely study singing) we submit the following course, embracing work for two years in High School.

First Year

1. Instruction in the taking of an easy full breath, placing no strain on body or throat.

2. Drill of vowels in single tones and slow scales, teaching the pupil to recognize purity of tone. Use of tongue and lip consonants as an aid to freedom of enunciation.

3. Studies of the grade Sieber and some Concerte material.

4. Songs of smooth style-simple in construction and of great melodic value. No florid arias or attempts at music stressing the technical equipment of the young voice: Composers such as Hawley, Speaks, Neidlinger, etc.
Second Year

1. Same care as to easy breathing, Legato connection of tone-scale work, stressing smoothness, not tempo.

2. Insist on quiet body and quiet facial expression as means to avoid strain.

3. Sieber Opus 45 is suggested, or studies of like difficulty.

4. Songs of same grade and style—none that force the extension or range either high or low.

5. Theoretical work required for piano students is insisted upon.

These are the comments on our voice syllabus from a committee of college teachers of voice.

1. We find the Syllabus excellent as it stands; thoughtful and understanding of the problems connected with the "high school voice." Since very little can be done with the development of a voice of that age, particularly a boy's voice, we feel that the important thing is a careful nurturing of the natural beauty and freedom of the voice without forcing or ever-singing.

2. Two points we wish to emphasize:

a. No florid arias; no everstraining of the extremes of the voice. As college voice instructors, we receive far too many high school graduates who have wasted, and possibly seriously endangered, fine vocal talent with music technically too difficult for the young voice.

b. Theoretical work required: We wish to couple with this enough piano study to enable the student to play his songs; to make him independent; enable him to learn his own music. This is invaluable if the student is to continue in serious voice study.

3. We might suggest in the First Year some drill in Italian Pronunciation and use of Italian in Vaccai exercises. (The Singing Road by Arthur Ward, Ditson Publishers, is a good song collection which incorporates Vaccai vocalises.)

This may be followed in the Second Year with Italian Art Songs of the 17th and 18th centuries. There are fine editions published by Ditson Italian Art Songs, Glenn and Spouse, and also by Schirmer, the Anthologies. We feel there is great value in the use of Italian vowels, the "Cantilena Style", and acquaintance with the great vocal composers of that period.

If the student is familiar with French, we would suggest the Weckerlin Bergerettes; excellent for the young voice, of medium range, not profoundly emotional, light, yet interesting.

4. Above all, a constant, careful concentration by teacher and pupil on pure, free and lovely tone, perfect intonation, and correct rhythmic detail.

AN ABSTRACT OF A THESIS

This study records a documented history of the Arkansas State Music Teachers Association from its inception in 1915 to the present. It also presents significant areas in which the Association has contributed to music throughout the state.

Major sources of data were letters of communication, convention programs, the Arkansas Music Teacher publication, memorandums in mimeographed form and personal interviews with past officers of the Association.

This study has been organized into a chronological sequence of events which took place in the development of the Association, the program of annual conventions, significant contributions of the Association and a general summary of the work.

This study has revealed that the Association has aided in advancing the cause of music in Arkansas through certification and accreditation, through student contests and festivals, through student chapters and through the promotion of the concept that music should be provided for every child in every school in Arkansas.
